Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WADE, from the Committee on Labor and Industry, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr.

Kessler on March 15, 1955, reported the same without amendment as follows:

PLEDGING THAT THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY WILL ENACT CERTAIN UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION LEGISLATION AT ITS PRESENT SESSION

In the Senate, March 15, 1955.

While the danger is imminent that at the end of the current quarter all unemployment compensation contribution rates may be increased automatically to 2.7% and compensation payments reduced automatically to $20 a week and a total of twenty weeks or $400, whichever is the lesser, there is an extremely wide difference of opinion between the Department of Labor and Industry and employers as to the actual necessity for an increase in the schedule of contribution rates.

In order to resolve this difference accurately and intelligently a careful and time consuming study is necessary before a law removing the danger can be adopted; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (d) and (e) of section 404 of the Unemployment Compensation Law, as amended, limiting the amount of compensation payable to an employe for a week of unemployment, and the total amount of compensation payable during a calendar quarter, if on March 31, 1955, the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania falls below one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less refunds during any twelve consecutive months, the General Assembly authorizes that compensation shall be paid to each eligible employe in the full amount provided for in the "Tables Specified for the Determination of Rate and Amount of Benefits" set forth in section 404 of the Unemployment Compensation Law as amended September 29, 1951 (P. L. 1580), even though at the end of the calendar quarter the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any consecutive twelve months.

Resolved, That, notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (c) of section 301 of the Unemployment Compensation Law, as amended, fixing the rate of contributions for all employers at two and seven tenths per centum when the balance in the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Fund at the end of a calendar quarter is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any twelve consecutive months within the last one hundred twenty consecutive months, the General Assembly authorizes that contributions be received from employers entitled to an adjustment according to the schedule of rates provided in subsection (c) of section 301, without regard to whether or not the foregoing contingency has taken place.

Resolved, That the General Assembly pledges that it will enact at its present session appropriate legislation (1) removing the limitation on weekly compensation and total amount payable during a calendar quarter when the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania falls below one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less refunds during any twelve consecutive months, (2) removing, as of January 1, 1955, the provision for increase of the rate of contributions of all employers to two and seven tenths per centum when the balance in the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Fund falls below one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation, less any refunds during any twelve consecutive months within the last one hundred twenty consecutive months, (3) validating all payments made to employes and all contributions received from employers as authorized by these resolutions, prior to the enactment of legislation providing therefor.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, with reference to the resolution which was just reported out of the Committee on Labor and Industry, and after the remarks made upon its introduction today, it was noted that this was a very serious resolution dealing with a serious subject, and one that may cost the employers of Pennsylvania something like $230,000,000 and one that may cost the unemployed beneficiaries of the unemployment compensation act one-third of their weekly benefits.

Mr. President, facing up to this situation, I believe it is important that the Members of the Senate act immediately upon this resolution.

Knowing the rules of the Senate which require that a resolution be held for one day before coming up for a vote, I believe that the only action which this Senate can take, if we are to attempt to do something about this very serious matter, is to vote for the motion which I am about to make. If the resolution lays over and is printed and will be available tomorrow for action, I believe it incumbent upon us as Members of the Senate to stay here and take action upon that resolution.

Therefore, with that in mind, I move, Mr. President, that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, March 16, 1955, at 10:00 o'clock a. m.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Dent, do you agree then that if we stay over until tomorrow that you will agree to this resolution?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I agree with the gentleman that we vote upon the resolution.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, although I know that a motion to adjourn—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will state his point of order.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not think that a motion to adjourn is debatable at all.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken. A motion to adjourn is a preferred motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

MOTION TO AMEND ADJOURNMENT MOTION

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move to amend the motion to adjourn to the effect that we adjourn until Monday, March 21, 1955.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will state his point of order.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not believe that you can amend a motion to adjourn.

It is my understanding that under Roberts' Rules of Order we must act on the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease for a moment.

(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDENT. The Chair, after long deliberation, is ready to rule on the point of order raised by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, and the point of order is well taken. A motion to adjourn simply cannot be amended.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 3:08 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Wednesday, March 16, 1955, at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, March 15, 1955

The House met at 2:00 p. m.
The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, the Father of all ages, who art the same yesterday, today and forever, and to whom we owe the gift of this day's life, give to us, we beseech Thee, the spirit to use it as we ought. Let Thy truth inform our minds. Let Thy justice and righteousness make a throne within us and rule our wills. Let us learn of Thee, gentleness of bearing, modesty of speech, helpfulness of action and promptness in doing our Father's will.

We thank Thee, O Lord, that this land is still governed by the people's representatives. As these chosen men discharge their duties, guide them, O God, in the decisions they must make today. Shed Thy guiding light into every mind. Let them be swayed, not by emotion or ambition, but by calm conviction. Help them to be good men so that they may be good leaders. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections, the approval of the Journal for Monday, March 14, 1955 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

STUDENTS OF NEW OXFORD HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House a delegation of Senior students from the New Oxford High School of Adams County under the supervision of their teacher, Dr. Herbert Bryan. They are the guests of the gentleman from Adams, Mr. Worley.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. STONE, WILLIAM B. SMITH and ROBERT K. HAMILTON.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 41.

In the House of Representatives, March 14, 1955.

The New Cumberland Dam authorized by Congress to replace existing locks and dams, numbers 7, 8 and 9 on the Ohio River, is an emergency project.

The existing locks and dams, especially lock and dam number 7, are in such deplorable condition that failure is imminent. Due to extreme pressure from a hillside, the land lock wall at lock number 7 is gradually moving riverward. The situation is so very critical that it is feared the wall will collapse before the new dam can be built, even if the building program proceeds on schedule. If this happens, it will be a real catastrophe. Traffic will be stopped on the river for a period of a few months to a year or more, depending upon the seriousness of the failure.

When it is realized that more than 60 million tons of traffic moved over the Ohio River last year and that over a million freight cars would be required to handle this traffic, it becomes apparent that this is one of the world's most vital traffic arteries. If one of the locks were to fail, the result would be immediate shut-down of many mills and factories along the Ohio River. There are not sufficient existing rail or track facilities to handle the tonnage now moving over the Ohio River. Many of the plants are entirely dependent upon the river for the transportation of raw materials such as coal, petroleum and other bulk material, to the plants, as well as for the movement of their finished products to market. A failure in this system of river transportation would cause immediate unemployment of 30,000 persons in addition to the loss of production.

The estimated cost of the entire project is 46 million dollars spread over five-year construction period. The present appropriation of one million dollars will be sufficient to relocate a highway and purchase property in the project area. The amount required to carry on the actual construction program for the next fiscal year is about 13 million dollars. This money must be appropriated by the Congress of the United States before July 1, 1955 to continue construction.

It is estimated that the huge tonnage moved on the Ohio River last year saved shippers some 80 million dollars. This is nearly twice the amount required to build New Cumberland Dam. The ratio of benefit over cost is nearly 6 to 1 in benefit to the public, since the savings on this traffic is passed on directly to the consumer.

The project is vital to the economy of the United States and to the National defense. One of the heaviest concentrations of traffic in the world moves through the project area. Materials such as coal, coke, iron, steel, fluorspar, sulphur, oil, gasoline, sand, gravel, glass, stone, acids, solvents, benzol, scrap, slag, ore, and general freight comprise the tonnage through the project area. During World War II, actually billions of gallons of gasoline and oil which could not be moved by sea because of the submarine menace, came up the Ohio River to the North and East for both military and domestic use. Right in the Pittsburgh district there were literally hundreds of war vessels built and moved down the Ohio River for our armed forces. If we were to experience a failure of one of the locks or dams during such a war emergency, it would be a terrible disaster. The unsettled international situation today makes it imperative that construction of New Cumberland Dam be started at once and brought to completion with all possible haste.

When canalization of the Ohio River was begun, it was estimated that when the tonnage moved over it reached the figure of 15 million tons per year it would then be a self-liquidating proposition. This figure was passed before canalization was complete and today that much tonnage moves through just one of locks 7, 8 and 9. This traffic comes from many points. In the Pittsburgh District, which includes the three rivers as far South as mile 109 on the Ohio River, there are 47 terminals on the Allegheny River, 136 terminals on the Monongahela River, and 123 terminals on the Ohio River, including 9 river-rail terminals. It can be seen from these statistics that industry makes intensive use of the rivers. It is also noteworthy that, in spite of the fact that all of the locks and dams on the Ohio River were designed for downstream tonnage only, the upstream tonnage now equals that which moves downstream. There is a fine reciprocity of trade between Pittsburgh and lower river points.

It was not happenstance that industry located along the river banks. There are many advantages to industry and the public from a canalized river in addition to low-cost transportation. Water is a vital necessity to many industries. It requires about 30 tons of water to make a ton of steel. The City of Pittsburgh is a tremendous user of water for drinking purposes and sanitation, yet one plant such as Kobuta on the Ohio River uses more water each day than this great metropolis. The assurance of a stable and insured harbor for transportation and landings is a real advantage, but equally important is an assured supply of water for municipal and industrial purposes. All of these uses of water will be considerably enhanced by the construction of New Cumberland Dam.

The existing structures (Locks 7, 8 and 9) are completely worn out; they have paid for themselves in savings to the public many times over; they are incapable of handling modern transportation and unsuited to modern methods and traffic; their replacement is vital to the economy of the United States and to the National defense; their failure will put undue hardship on industry and the public and cause unemployment; whereas construction of a new dam will increase employment and further the prosperity of the entire valley. Congress was infinitely wise in canalizing the Ohio River. The investment has paid off in savings to the public and in the development of the entire river valley as a great industrial empire. The welfare of the Nation demands that Congress now invest once more in a replacement program on the Ohio River beginning with New Cumberland locks and dam.

The so-called New Cumberland Dam will consist of one entirely new structure consisting of a roller-gate dam and two sets of locks impounding a pool some 22.7 miles in length. The larger lock will measure 1200 feet in length and 110 feet in width and the smaller lock will be 600 feet long and 110 feet wide. They will accommodate a towboat and 22 barges carrying a cargo of some 22,000 tons at a draft of 8.5 feet; therefore be it

Resolved (The Senate concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact into legislation the necessary appropriation measure or measures for the next fiscal year to carry on the actual construction of the so-called New Cumberland Dam; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each House of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. DOUGHERTY. RESOLUTION No. 42.

In the House of Representatives, March 14, 1955.

The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is planning to construct an expressway between Front and Second Streets extending from Girard Avenue to Packer Avenue in the City of Philadelphia.

The construction of the expressway according to this plan will necessitate the demolition of old family homes which are the pride of the City of Philadelphia.

Thousands of Philadelphians will be rendered homeless by the destruction of these dwellings and in moving from this area may leave the City of Philadelphia, which would result in an economic loss to the community.

The proposed plan will cost thousands of dollars in property damages which will have to be borne by the taxpayers of this Commonwealth.

The construction and erection of the expressway will result in a "Chinese Wall" which is objectionable. The City of Philadelphia has exerted pressure for the removal of the "Chinese Wall" on Market Street between Fifteenth and Nineteenth Streets for many years and it was finally removed in the past year.

The erection of the expressway will also result in the isolation of thousands of persons living and working between Front Street and the Delaware River.

Delaware Avenue in the City of Philadelphia is a very wide street, being a minimum of one hundred fifty feet wide and in some areas, two hundred fifteen feet wide.

Delaware Avenue because of its width can easily be used as a "Skyway."

The erection of a skyway on Delaware Avenue could be accomplished at a tremendous saving to the taxpayers and all the objections resulting from the erection and construction of the expressway between Front and Second Streets would be eliminated; therefore be it

Resolved, That the State Highway Department in conjunction with the City of Philadelphia erect a skyway along Delaware Avenue from Girard to Packer Avenue in lieu of an expressway between Front and Second Streets; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the Governor of this Commonwealth, the Secretary of Highways, Joseph S Clark, Mayor of Philadelphia, the City Planning Commission, James Tate, President of City Council and Victor Moore, Councilman.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 7 act of May twenty-nine one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 280) entitled "An act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands and prescribing interest charges on non-payment thereof requiring the receivers and collectors of county city borough town township school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes and providing for the lien thereof authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances" amended August nineteen one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 1079) is amended to read

Section 7 The county treasurer shall advertise the fact of holding such sale once a week for the three successive weeks prior to the holding of such sale in at least two newspapers of general circulation in the county in which such seated land is located if there be two newspapers so published if there be only one then in such newspaper so published in the county

Such advertisemet shall set forth

(a) The purpose of such sale

(b) The time of such sale

(c) The place of such sale

(d) The terms of such sale

(e) A list of the seated lands affected and their location and the owner or reputed owner of each

(f) Amount of taxes and interest

In addition to such advertisement at least ten days before any such sale written notice thereof shall be served by the county treasurer by registered mail upon the owner of such land and if the whereabouts of the owner is unknown such notice shall be served by registered mail upon the terre tenant if any If such notice cannot be served in said manner on the owner or terre tenant then such notice shall be served by the county treasurer by posting the same in the courthouse and at a conspicuous place on the premises No such sale shall be prejudiced or defeated and no title to property sold at such sale shall be invalidated by proof that such written notice was not [served by the treasurer or that such notice was not] received by the owner or terre tenant as herein provided

The cost of such advertisements notices and the service thereof shall be taxed as part of the cost of such proceedings and shall be paid the same as the other costs

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

STUDENTS OF CARLISLE HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House a delegation of students from the Carlisle High School of Cumberland County under the supervision of their teacher, John Mountz. They are guests of the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. George.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 317 as follows:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for payments to school districts on account of rentals payable to municipal authorities and nonprofit corporations

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of eleven million seven hundred eleven thousand dollars ($11,711,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction for the two fiscal years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three for the payment of the deficiency in the appropriation for the payment to school districts on account of rentals payable to municipal authorities and nonprofit corporations as provided by law

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, with permission of the Chair, I would like to briefly discuss House Bill 317 and House Bill 318 on today's calendar.

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the gentleman may discuss both bills. The Chair hears no objection. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I am going to be very brief in my remarks against House Bills 317 and 318 because I believe we made the Republican position very clear a week ago.

These bills are called deficiency bills; but to be honest they are not true deficiency bills because of the $25 million which they would appropriate approximately $18 million do not fall due until the next biennium.

Your Majority Leader has admitted that this is true, that the major portion of this money will not fall due in this biennium. The Majority Leader told this House last Monday, and I quote: "it is true that we will not have to pay during this biennium more than $5 million," he was speaking at that time of House Bill 317, "and that the balance of this appropriation can be paid during the next biennium. However, the obligation is one which was created in this biennium and I think it is proper that the deficiency appropriation be made during this biennium, whether it is paid during this biennium or not." That is the end of the quote of your Majority Leader.

Now, I certainly cannot follow this reasoning on the part of the Majority Leader. He says that the obligation was created in this biennium and should be paid in this biennium. If he honestly believes that, why then is he turning right around and in the next breath asking this House to cut appropriations for teachers' salaries $25 million? That is what House Bill 506 does, and putting the obligation in the next biennium. Certainly that $25 million is an obligation belonging to this biennium if there ever was one.

The truth of the matter is that the Governor in his inaugural address made a statement that the Republican Party was leaving a deficit of $86 million. I believe that you need this bill to make his statement stand up. If you did not pass these deficiency bills, according to your own statement, with this $18 million in them, there would be no $86 million deficiency. It would be $18 million less.

Now this is just another attempt to play politics and to blacken the Republican party. If you did not pass these bills it would not be necessary to cut back the school appropriations by $25 million and you, yourself, admitted if you did, then you would have to admit that the Governor did not know what he was talking about, when he told the taxpayers of the state on January 18th that he had inherited at that time an $86 million deficit from the Republicans.

Members, the whole thing is political shenanigans from beginning to end and you know it.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, calling something "political shenanigans" does not make them so. I think we stated very clearly the other week when we debated House Bills 317 and 318 that these deficiencies arose and were created during the present biennium and therefore, the bills were being passed during this biennium because we believe they should be allocated to this biennium.

Now the Minority Leader stated a minute ago that I took the position, that the Majority side takes the position that they should be passed during this biennium and paid during this biennium. I did not say that. I admitted that some of these do not need to be paid during this biennium, and, no doubt some of them will not be paid during this biennium; but since the deficiencies arose under the Republican administration for whatever reason, it could have been in part a mistake in the estimate of their revenues, it could be in part due to over-spending and having estimated the expenditures too low, or whatever the reason, we believe that it arose under their administration and we are placing it right back on their doorstep. If that amounts to "political shenanigans" then that's what it is. We think the public understands. We think we understand and we know the Governor understands what he is talking about.

We are deferring the $25 million of Public Instruction Department money which would go to the school districts because we want to have funds to meet the payments that should be made during this biennium. Whether that will total $25 million or not, at the moment I don't know. But it is estimated that it might require that much in available funds to meet the deficiencies that are being passed at this session.

This is a matter of finance which I think the Minority as well as the Majority understand. If they see fit to complain about our deferring the appropriation of $25 million to the Department of Public Instruction until the next session, they will complain. But this is the way we think it ought to be done. We think it is an honest way to do it and this is the way we intend to do it. I cannot understand why it should be the subject of so much complaint on their side when we passed deficiency appropriations in this biennium for obligations which arose during this biennium. If that is wrong, then I do not know anything about state financing. We will pay these bills when we have the money to pay them and we are going to appropriate the money to meet the obligations which are now in existence and will be in existence during this biennium.

I am asking every Member of this House to vote for House Bills 317 and 318 on the ground that it makes good common sense to do it during this biennium.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I would just like to remind the Majority Leader of one more thing, if I may, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Regardless of what the Majority Leader seems to say, he admits in one breath—and I cannot be emphatic enough about this—that $17.9 million, which is almost $18 million, does not fall due in this biennium. He admitted it last week, he admits it this week. None of it comes due until next biennium and he is trying to push it into this biennium, and he says it, and he says it, and he says it.

Regardless of all the talk, it does not come due. He knows it does not come due, the budget office knows it and the Governor knows it.

Mr. READINGER. The Minority Leader insists that I am saying that something does not fall due. I say it is due during this biennium, but it need not be paid until the next biennium.

Many obligations fall due within a certain period, but for one reason or another they need not be paid. We are not going to pay certain ones because they need not be paid before the next biennium, but that does not mean they did not fall due.

They were appropriations made for expenditures and obligations arising in this biennium. We are appropriating deficiencies to meet these obligations. Whether they are paid this biennium or whether they are paid after June 1st is another matter; $6,711,000 of that money being appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction to meet the deficiency in rentals can be paid after June 1st, and I understand it will be paid after June 1st, but it is an obligation that is arising prior to June 1st and we have to meet it.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Leader?

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. May I ask the Majority Leader in plain yes or no, why, if it does not come due in this biennium, he should rob the schools of $18 million and get $18 million four monthe in advance to pay something that does not come due until four months or five months from now—in plain terms, without any lawyer's answers?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer that yes or no, as the gentleman well knows, but I will try to be as brief as I can.

Under the Law of Pennsylvania we are limited in the amount of our appropriations in any biennium by the estimated revenues to come in during that biennium.

We cannot, for example, appropriate a billion dollars if the estimated revenues are only $900 million. We are limited by law, by the decision of the Supreme Court of this state, in appropriating the amount of money that has been estimated to be coming in in that biennium as revenues. If we did not defer the $25 million, which has already been appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction, we could not legally pass these deficiency bills, because we would then be going beyond the estimate of revenues as submitted to the Governor by the budget bureau.

That is the simple, short answer to his question.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Will the gentleman again tell me about that $18 million that they do not have to appropriate now? You have not told me a thing about the $18 million.

Mr. READINGER. I have belabored the point, Mr. Minority Leader, by saying that we believe that the deficiencies arising in this biennium should be met during this biennium by deficiency appropriations.

The gentleman is speaking of two things, when they must be paid and when they are deficits. They are deficits in this biennium, they can be paid after June 1st, but we are passing a deficiency appropriation bill during this session so that the deficiency appears on the records in the place where it belongs.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. May I further interrogate the Majority Leader?

Mr. READINGER. He may, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Under that assumption am I to believe then that next biennium there will be a $25 million additional cost because of the borrowing of this $25 million in the budget?

Mr. READINGER. We will during the next biennium have to raise revenues to the extent of $25 million, or whatever amount is not lapsed in this biennium. If we are $25 million short of what we need during the next biennium, we are going to have to raise that much in revenues, that is right.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to be put on record that we are going to be rather upset if they come and tell us that the $25 million additional money that is going to be neded in the next budget will be due during this biennium.

I do believe you probably might come back and say that our costs of government are going to be $25 million more next biennium because of this $25 million. Keeping in mind that $17.9 million of the $25 million still does not come due in this biennium, you are going to have some rather difficult measures, I am afraid, trying to convince the public that you got this $25 million in this biennium and then we have caused your budget to be raised $25 million next biennium.

Mr. READINGER. Is that a question?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. It is rather a statement of fact so that we can get it on the record, Mr. Majority Leader.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, hoping to conclude this matter, whatever is necessary to be done we are going to do. Whatever moneys we have left over, if any, and I do not see how we are going to have any from the present biennium, will certainly be applied to the obligations of the next biennium.

It is my hope that we will have many millions of dollars available for use during the next biennium, but I do not see where they are going to come from since the deficiencies have been estimated to run anywhere between $70 and $80 million.

I assure the gentleman wherever funds are available from lapsed appropriations, or wherever is not needed, they will be applied to the next budget. It will be high enough as it is. We certainly are going to use all available funds that are not used for any particular reason during this present biennium.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 429, Printer's No. 98

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 506, as follows:

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-second day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Appropriation Acts page 54) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three" by changing the amount appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction

Section 1 The item making an apporpriation to the Department of Public Instruction for reimbursing school districts of section two of the act approved the twenty-second day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Appropriation Acts page 54) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 The following sums or as much thereof as may be necessary are hereby specifically appropriated from the General Fund to the several hereinafter named agencies of the Exective Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth for the purpose hereinafter set forth for the two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and for the payment of the bills incurred by said agencies and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three

For reimbursing school districts upon the salaries of school teachers and upon the basis of teaching units as prescribed by law for closed schools and for nonresident high school tuition and any other nonresident tuition as required by law and for the minimum salaries of teachers and supervisors of home bound children and extension class pupils the sum of [three hundred forty-eight million dollars ($348,000,000)] three hundred twenty-three million dollars ($323,000,000) Provided That the Superintendent of Public Instruction with the approval of the Governor may make payments from this appropriation in advance of the due dates prescribed by law to school districts which are financially handicapped whenever he shall deem it necessary to make such advanced payments to enable school districts to keep their public schools open

Section 2 The General Assembly hereby declares its intention to restore to the Department of Public Instruction by subsequent legislation the funds withheld from it by this act

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, His Excellency, the Governor, announced on Thursday, March 10th, that he had signed a contract with the Public Administration Service of Chicago. Evidently there was nobody in Pennsylvania that could do this so he went to Chicago, for a survey of Pennsylvania's sixty thousand employes. This cost was not to exceed $55,000.

The Governor's announcement said that the findings of the survey, and I quote, "are to be used in establishing uniform pay scales, job qualifications, job titles and job analyses."

I would like to quote briefly from Section 249 of the Administrative Code, and before I quote this I would like to again say that either the Governor does not know that we have an Administrative Code or he chooses to ignore it, or at least his advisers who write these statements for him have not been around in State politics long enough to know that we do work with an Administrative Code. Section 249 in the Administrative Code states that the executive board which consists of the Governor and six other heads of administrative departments, shall have the power:

> "* * * to standardize the qualifications for employment of all titles, salaries and wages of persons employed by the administrative departments, boards and commissions, except the Department of Auditor General, the Treasury Department and the Department of Internal Affairs. In establishing such standards the Board may (1) take into consideration the location of the work and the conditions under which the service is rendered;"—and this is all from the Administrative Code—"(2) establish different standards for different kinds, grades and classes of similar work or service."

Here again we find the Governor going out and hiring an out-of-state firm to do something which the law already provides for and states that he and his executive board should be doing—and let me be a little emphatic on this—without any extra cost of $55,000 to the taxpayers.

If this is going to be a sample of what the reorganization plan of the state government is going to cost under Governor Leader, I might say that here is $55,000 going to be spent when he is told he can not do it. I don't know what the taxpayers are going to do when it comes to saving money.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. WILLIAMS asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Mines and Mining to meet during the session of the House.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Pending delivery of parking identification plates by the Department of Property and Supplies the Chief Clerk has placed in the mail box of each Member a parking permit sticker.

These stickers are not transferable, except upon presentation and approval of the Chief Clerk.

Effective March 21, the Capitol Police will not permit the parking of cars in front of the Capitol without parking permit stickers.

The cooperation of the membership of the House is requested to further the convenience of all Members.

The SPEAKER. If there are Members of the House who, notwithstanding this arrangement, find it impossible to secure parking places, the Chair hopes they will notify the Chief Clerk and the Speaker.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 89.

An Act to further amend Section 15 of the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 626) entitled "An act providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of all subjects of taxation in counties of the second class creating and prescribing the powers and duties of a Board of Property Assessment Appeals and Review imposing duties on certain county and city officers abolishing the board for the assessment and revision of taxes in such counties and prescribing penalties" by changing the provisions concerning service of notice to taxables upon change of assessments.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 3, line 6, by inserting after the word "her" the following: "by registered mail with return receipt requested."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS SIGNED

The President (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 17, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the 7th day of March, one thousand nine hundred and one (P. L. 20), entitled "An act for the government of cities of the second class," establishing a department of water in said cities; providing for its officers and employees, and defining the powers, duties and jurisdiction of said department.

House Bill No. 89, entitled:

An Act to further amend Section 15 of the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 626) entitled "An act providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of all subjects of taxation in counties of the second class creating and prescribing the powers and duties of a Board of Property Assessment Appeals and Review imposing duties on certain county and city officers abolishing the board for the assessment and revision of taxes in such counties and prescribing penalties" by changing the provisions concerning service of notice to taxables upon change of assessments.

Whereupon,

The President (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR., from the Committee on Local Government reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 171, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 23, 1931 (P. L. 932), entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending, revising, and consolidating the law relating thereto," further regulating the power of the directors of the various departments to suspend certain employes, and providing appeals.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, March 21, 1955, at three-thirty o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. BANE. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Fayette will be so recorded.

Mr. CAMIEL. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia will be so recorded.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, before announcing the vote on the roll call, I have looked at the Rules of the Senate and the Rules of the Senate call for "the order to be observed in taking up business shall be as follows."

Mr. President, I would like to ask if the order of business has been taken care of.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, there is nothing before us except the announcement of the roll call. I suggest that the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, is out of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease for just a moment. (The Senate was at ease).

The PRESIDENT. On the point of order raised by the gentleman from Crawford, Mr Mahany, the only thing before the Senate is the roll call.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Beaver will be so recorded.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. I rise to a point of order, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I object to the gentleman from Beaver, Senator Miller, voting on this motion as he was not in the hall of the Senate when the roll call was taken.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order raised by the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, is not well taken. The gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Miller, was in the Senate during the calling of the roll.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and Mr. DENT, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—24

Berger,	Harney,	McPherson, Jr.	Wade,
Blass,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Wagner,
Chapman,	Kopriver, Jr.	Peelor,	Watkins,
Diehm,	Madigan,	Scott,	Watson,

Camiel,	Hays,	Miller,	Stiefel,
Dent,	Holland,	Mullin,	Toole,
Derk,	Lane,	Ruth,	Weiner,
DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Schmidt,	Yosko,

The PRESIDENT. A tie vote of twenty-four "yeas" and twenty-four "nays" having been received, the Chair casts a negative vote on the motion.

So the question was determined in the negative.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 116, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I call from the table for consideration at this time, Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 116, which was introduced by Senator Edward J. Kessler on March 15, 1955.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

PLEDGING THAT THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY WILL ENACT CERTAIN UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION LEGISLATION AT ITS PRESENT SESSION

In the Senate, March 15, 1955.

While the danger is imminent that at the end of the current quarter all unemployment compensation contribution rates may be increased automatically to 2.7% and compensation payments reduced automatically to $20 a week and a total of twenty weeks or $400, whichever is lesser, there is an extremely wide difference of opinion between the Departmnt of Labor and Industry and employers as to the actual necessity for an increase in the schedule of contribution rates.

In order to resolve this difference accurately and intelligently, a careful and time consuming study is necessary before a law removing the danger can be adopted; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (d) and (e) of section 404 of the Unemployment Compensation Law, as amended, limiting the amount of compensation payable to an employee for a week of unemployment, and the total amount of compensation payable during a calendar quarter, if on March 31, 1955, the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania falls below one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less refunds during any twelve consecutive months, the General Assembly authorizes that compensation shall be paid to each eligible employee in the full amount provided for in the "Tables Specified for the Determination of Rate and Amount of Benefits" set forth in section 404 of the Unemployment Compensation Law as amended September 29, 1951 (P. L. 1580), even though at the end of the calendar quarter the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any consecutive twelve months.

Resolved, That, notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (c) of section 301 of the Unemployment Compensation Law, as amended, fixing the rate of contributions for all employers at two and seven tenths per centum when the balance in the Pensylvania Unemployment Compensation Fund at the end of a calendar quarter is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any twelve consecutive months within the last one hundred twenty consecutive months, the General Assembly authorizes that contributions be received from employers entitled to an adjustment according to the schedule of rates provided in subsection (c) of section 301, without regard to whether or not the foregoing contingency has taken place.

Resolved, That the General Assembly pledges that it will enact at its present session appropriate legislation (1) removing the limitation on weekly compensation and total amount payable during a calendar quarter when the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania falls below one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less refunds during any twelve consecutive months, (2) removing, as of January 1, 1955, the provision for increase of the rate of contributions of all employers to two and seven tenths per centum when the balance in the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Fund falls below one and one-half times and highest amount paid out for compensation, less any refunds during any twelve consecutive months within the last one hundred twenty consecutive months, (3) validating all payments made to employes and all contributions received from employers as authorized by these resolutions, prior to the enactment of legislation providing therefor.

AMENDMENTS OFFERED TO SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 116

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I offered the following amendments to Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 116, introduced on March 15, 1955, by Senator Edward J. Kessler.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendments.

RECESS

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for five minutes in order that I may get the correct number of the Resolution in my amendments.

Mr. BARR. I second the motion, Mr. President.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 116, AMENDED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I offer the following amendments to Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 116, which was introduced by Senator Edward J Kessler on March 15, 1955, and ask for their immediate adoption.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

AMEND RESOLUTION NO. 116, INTRODUCED MARCH 15, 1955 by SENATOR EDWARD J. KESSLER, BY STRIKING OUT ALL OF THE SECOND RESOLUTION CLAUSE AS FOLLOWS:

"Resolved, That, notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (c) of Section 301 of the Unemployment Compensation Law, as amended, fixing the rate of contributions for all employers at two and seven tenths per centum when the balance in the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Fund at the end of a calendar quarter is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any twelve consecutive months within the last one hundred twenty consecutive months, the General Assembly authorizes that contributions be received from employers entitled to an adjustment according to the schedule of rates provides in subsection (c) of Section 301, without regard to whether or not the foregoing contingency has taken place.

"Resolved, That the General Assembly pledges that it will enact at its present session appropriate legislation (1) removing the limitation on weekly compensation and total amount payable during a calendar quarter when the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania falls below one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less refunds during any twelve consecutive months, (2) removing. as of January 1, 1955, the provision for increase of the rate of contributions of all employers to two and seven tenths per centum when the balance in the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Fund falls below one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation, less any refunds during any twelve consecutive months within the last one hundred twenty consecutive months."

AMENDMENTS ADOPTED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move the immediate adoption of the amendments just read by the Clerk.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, when the Republicans were in Caucus a short time ago, we sent the Majority Whip, Senator Pechan, up here to find out what amendments were being planned for this resolution by Senator Dent. He came back with the resolution that was introduced by Senator Kessler; that is, the original resolution, showing the latter part, I think it was subsection (c), of the original resolution marked out, and that is what we thought was going to be offered. Now we find that much more than that is being offered, and for that reason, before this resolution is finally acted upon, all I ask is that we be given an opportunity to have another Caucus so that we may consider these amendments to this resolution.

Certainly, it is only fair, Mr. President, that we consider in Caucus anything that is being offered here. We have always extended that courtesy to the gentlemen on the other side, and all we ask now is that they extend the same courtesy to us that we have extended to them over a period of years.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have in my hand a copy which was returned to me by the gentleman who is the Majority Whip on the other side, Senator Pechan. This copy, Mr. President, has been run on the same typewriter as the amendments which I have offered to the desk. Word for word, the amendments I have offered are the identical amendments which were handed to the Majority Whip.

Mr. President, in all fairness to everybody concerned, I have always tried to extend courtesy and consideration. However, this is not asking for courtesy and consideration in a true sense, because all that is being asked is that they have enough time to stall for the purpose of, perhaps, forcing a man unable to attend the Senate, because of his health, to get down here from Allentown. That is perfectly all right with me if they want to do that, but as of the moment they will have to find a more valid excuse. Therefore, Mr. President, I call for a roll call.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, may we be at ease a moment?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, first I want to put Senator Dent's mind at ease. We do not expect Senator Van Sant to come up here today or this week. Therefore, we are stalling for time to bring the Senator into this Chamber.

Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the genial gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Dent, briefly what do you intend to do by the amendments to this resolution?

Mr. DENT. The amendments to the resolution take out of this original resolution, submitted by Senator Kessler, the second and third resolve clauses which deal with the setting aside of what is known as the contribution peril point, which was the amendment made in 1951.

Briefly, Mr. President, a contract was made between the industry representatives and the Republican Members of the General Assembly in 1949 and renegotiated in 1951. The terms of that contract called for a greater contribution to industry of approximately $400,000,000 over the span of years. For this contribution to industry by the Republican Legislature, industry agreed that if this gift which was given to them caused any embarrassment to the fund reserve, that they would immediately start paying into the fund 2.7 per cent of payroll in order to reaccumulate the reserve fund in order to pay those payments which are described in the law as benefits. That contract is still, as I understand it, in force.

Mr. President, the resolution offered by Senator Kessler would have nullified the contract made between the Republican Legislature and the industry representatives in this Commonwealth.

Mr. President, the fund has dropped below that point of one and a half times a benefit year's payments in the reserve. As part of the contract, industry must start on April 1, to pay 2.7% of its payroll. Along with this particular phase of the contract, industry and the Republican Legislature decided that they would write in another section to the contract, dealing with benefits. This part of the contract was never agreed to by those who were affected. It was a two party contract, and they took it upon themselves to write into that same contract provisions dealing with the benefits to the unemployed workers. Labor at that time was not represented at the signing or at the negotiating of that contract, except by the voice of the Minority. The Minority, at that time, said that we hoped that we would never see the day when this contract would be put in force, and, particularly, we would not like to see the day when the unemployed worker in Pennsylvania would be submitted to a 33⅓% cut in compensation benefits at a time when he and his family were in dire need.

Therefore, these amendments, Mr. President, do only this. We remove from the contract that part of the contract which was never agreed to by the interested party; namely, the unemployed worker in the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, if the Democratic amendments pass here today and this resolution then passes, then come April 1 of this year, the unemployed worker will continue to receive the benefits as contained in the present law; namely, a maximum of thirty dollars a week and a maximum of twenty-six weeks. These amendments, if you vote for them, will stop the threat of cutting the unemployed worker from thirty to twenty dollars a week and from twenty-six to twenty weeks.

Mr. President, we ask you, in the name of common decency, to vote for these amendments.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Dent, when, under these amendments if we vote for them, does the employer contribution go to 2.7 per cent?

Mr. DENT. April 1 is my understanding of the law.

Mr. MAHANY. Thank you.

Mr. President, what the Senator is trying to do is to make a one-way street out of a two-way street.

Certainly, Mr. President, when this act was passed providing for the one and one-half times peril point, it provided that the employer's contribution would go to 2.7 per cent at the end of the next calendar quarter which would be, I think under the present law, July 1. By the proposed amendment you are providing that it shall go into effect April 1.

It seems to me, Mr. President, with that peril point in, which we are trying to remove by the original resolution, we make a two-way street both for the employer and employee. We have stated time and time again that we certainly do not wish to have any unemployed person suffer by reason of this one and one-half times peril point in the present law. We are satisfied that the unemployed person should continue to have maximum benefits of thirty dollars per week. On the other hand, until such time as we can sit down here and properly determine the appropriate change in the law, the Unemployment Compensation Law, we feel also that the employer should be allowed to continue his payment under the present table and not be put up to 2.7 per cent.

Mr. President, Governor Leader has stated time and time again, both in his campaign and I think in his inaugural that he wanted to make Pennsylvania a healthy place for industry to come into and expand and live. Certainly, if we, as part of our program, make it so unattractive for the Governor to obtain industry to come into our State, he is not going to be successful in carrying out his plans for industry.

Mr. President, we feel that we want to do the right thing in connection with any change in the Unemployment Compensation Law. We feel that the benefits should be increased, and we have so stated in the Republican Platform. We have continued to maintain our position, and right today we are willing to vote for a maximum benefit of thirty-five dollars per week, with a benefit time of thirty weeks. The only controversy that exists between the Democrats and the Republicans today is in connection with the effect of these so-called fringe benefits. The Democrats have certain figures which have been presented to them as to how much it will cost and we have other figures. We are trying to work this thing out, and I presume before the day is over that we will get into a long discussion about these fringe benefits.

Therefore, Mr. President, this amendment presented by Senator Dent certainly makes a one-way street out of it, and for that reason I cannot vote for this amendment.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, we are very much aware of the danger to the health and welfare of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in not acting too quickly prior to April 1 in behalf of industry in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, five weeks ago, the House of Representatives by almost a unanimous vote sent over to the Senate, House Bill No. 120 which will do exactly what the gentlemen on the other side say they want to do.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, we are not making a one-way street. We are simply wiping out of an act of the Legislature an inequity that should never have been in that act of the Legislature. This is the first time in sixteen years when, by the grace of God, we have sufficient votes under our command to wipe out an inequity that started back in 1939. We have never had the vote to do that before, and we want to at least make the record clear for this one brief moment on this day of our Lord 1955. We know that come Monday, come Tuesday of next week that the prevailing vote will be on the other side of the aisle. We know, too, that at that time they may undo this good which we are doing today. However, in good conscience and clearly knowing exactly what we are doing, we ask that there be a roll call on this amendment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. DENT. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, before asking for a verification of the roll, I would like to know how the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kopriver, voted.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I voted "no."

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to know how the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, voted.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I voted "no."

REQUEST FOR VERIFICATION OF THE ROLL

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. A request has been made to have the roll verified.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, with the permission of the gentleman who requested verification of the roll, I ask that the roll be not verified, and that the count be recorded.

REQUEST FOR VERIFICATION OF THE ROLL WITHDRAWN

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I withdraw my request for verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. A tie vote of twentyfour "yeas" and twenty-four "nays" having been received, the Chair casts an affirmative vote on this motion.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 116, ADOPTED AS AMENDED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 116, introduced by Senator Edward J. Kessler on March 15, 1955, be adopted as amended.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution, as amended?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, this resolution certainly affects business as well as the employees in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Perhaps, we Republicans, after this amendment has been placed in the resolution, may very well like to go along with voting for it. I, personally, right now do not want to take the responsibility of saying, "yes, we shall," or "no, we shall not."

Mr. President, some Republicans here have come to me and they said, "Well, perhaps we should vote for this." Others are not sure. So, for that reason, Mr. President, I think it is only fair to the Republican side that we have time to permit us to caucus now on the question of whether or not we should vote for this resolution as amended.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Therefore, Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for fifteen minutes for the purpose of having a Republican Caucus.

Mr. PECHAN. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I know that the Republicans have a Caucus Unit Rules, and I believe that they are entitled to that privilege the same as they would give us the same privilege.

However, Mr President, I want to announce to the Republican Caucus that at exactly twelve o'clock, which is fifteen minutes from now, we intend to go back into Session.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution, as amended?

Mr. KOPRIVER, Jr. Mr. President, regarding the remarks about the amendments just passed a short time ago, I want to make myself clear for the record.

Mr. President, I was not given enough time to go over the amendments. I am not making any excuses about how I voted, and I am not fearful of what they are trying to do to me in Allegheny County.

In all fairness, whether you are a Democrat or a Republican, I hope to see fair play in the Senate of Pennsylvania. I do not think that we were given, at least myself, a proper chance to study the amendments. That is why I voted "no."

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I have been in the Senate of Pensylvania now, this is my fourth session. Certainly, I do not think anyone would say that I have not voted as I though was right, and based on my conscience and what I though was fair for the people of Pennsylvania.

However, Mr. President, yesterday, due to business, I was unable to attend the Session of the Senate, and the procedure that is being used here today and was used yesterday seems to be the same. When I was here on Monday, I was informed that the Senate of Pennsylvania would adjourn on Tuesday. I so made my plans, based on the information that went over the desk. Now, I find again that I come back here today and the same irregular thing has happened and I have bills shoved under my neck and resolutions that I have not even seen.

Mr. President, this last resolution was voted on here and I made a statement that I thought we should vote for the amendment to the resolution. Certainly, I think no Senaor in this room knew exactly word for word what was in that amendment. I demand, as a representative from Delaware County, to certainly be shown the courtesy of knowing what I am voting for.

I also would like to request that when an adjournment resolution is made here, that we abide by the vote and not have to be accused of neglecting your duty through some foolish plan of someone.

Mr. President, I surely know that you have been over-indulgent with me in letting me speak of the adjournment resolution. I know that I have no right to talk about that at this time.

Certainly our request, Mr. President, for the right to study a resolution, or an amendment to a resolution, and know what we are voting for is in order. If I am not accorded that courtesy, then I feel as though I should not be in the Senate of Pennsylvania representing my people if I vote for something that I know not what I am voting for.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, when I was a small boy, I was playing with a group of kids in the neighborhood with a baseball bat and a hard ball. Someone in this group of little youngsters hit that ball through a window. All of us ran for home. When I got home, I ran straight to my father and I said to him, "Dad we were playing baseball and someone hit the ball, and it went through a window in Mr. Schultz's store." My dad said, "Johnny, let me give you a little advice. When you start to explain, it is bad already."

Mr. President, there is no explanation needed here for the action of this Senate in asking for a Session today, and it was not because the gentleman was absent. Very frankly, I never even knew the gentleman was absent until I was told after the vote.

However, Mr. President, there are certain rules and parliamentary procedures, and it is the duty of a minority party in any legislative body to use the legal parliamentary procedures at their disposal to do that which they think is right. I do not believe I have made a successful motion on this floor for sixteen years, and I never squealed once about being beaten. We were defeated so many times, and so often, that we were known at one time as the "thirty-two to eighteen club." We had eighteen votes and the Republicans had thirty-two, and we went through a whole Session on thirty-two to eighteen. That did not stop us from trying to do the things we thought were right, and we will not stop now. I am deeply sorry if the tender feelings of my good friend from Delaware have been injured. I, for one, would never, under any set of conditions, do anything that would in any way cause him to feel grieved at the action that I have taken. I want him to know, though, that we have no foolish plan; we have no foolish notion. The things we are doing are the result of long deliberation.

Mr. President, after the Session closed yesterday afternoon, the Democratic Members went up to their office, and they sat there for four hours deliberating every move that we would make today. It is not an ill-conceived or ill-planned expedition into the realm of do-nothingness. It is a plan that is conceived with the idea that we are trying to do good. We believe the amendments are good.

Mr. President, I understand that the Republican Caucus action is that they are going to vote for the resolution as amended. I compliment the Republicans for accepting that which we have done as being a good piece of work.

Mr. President, I call for the roll.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to disgress for just a moment or two here on the floor today and make a few observations.

Mr. President, it seems to me that the Republicans are in an unusual position. In the past years, I belonged to the "eighteen club." The Republicans have been so used to dishing this out for the past sixteen years that they find themselves in an unusual position. You know, I might say that circumstances alter cases. It all depends on whose ox is being gored.

Mr. President, after all, we are down here to do a job. Although the resolution said that we would adjourn yesterday, there is nothing in the rules which would prevent an amendment. In all sincerity, we are trying to do this job. I agree, too, that probably today is our last day in which we will be in the majority and, therefore, my good friends on the other side, we feel that we should have our day in court, too.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I listened to my distinguished colleague from Delaware County, Senator Watkins, concerning his absence yesterday and his recal today on this particular piece of legislation that is now before us.

Frankly, Mr. President, the situation that we are confronted with today can be blamed on the gentlemen from the other side, because House Bill No. 120, dealing with this entire problem, was passed by the House on February 9 by a vote of 207-3. It was referred to the Senate Committee on Labor and Industry on February 9, of this year. Everyone in this Senate had sufficient time to study the merits of that bill. Because of the emergency that exists and because of the effect that it would have been the employer and employee, this bill should have been reported from committee a long time ago.

Mr. President. the worker is concerned because the less action that is taken, the formula that is now under the law, as I understand it. would go into effect on April 1. The worker —

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I know that we are going to get a great amount of debate on House Bill No. 120 this afternoon, and I do not like to anticipate it now.

Mr. President, the gentleman from Northampton, Senator Yosko, will be given plenty of opportunity to state all that he would like to state in connection with House Bill No. 120 when we reach it on the calendar.

There is nothing before us now except this resolution as amended and, therefore, I suggest that the gentleman is out of order at the present time in talking about House Bill No. 120.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I am answering a statement that was made by a Member of this Senate. I think I am entitled to that privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Yosko, will confine his remarks to the motion before the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, before I was interrupted, I was trying to impress upon the Members of this Senate the importance of this legislation. I reached the point where I wanted to state that employees throughout this State, who are unemployed, are worried about what we are going to do about the proposed decrease in their weekly benefits from $30 a week to $20 a week, and the number of weeks from twenty-six to twenty. The employers are also worried, based on the number of letters I received and telephone calls, related to the formula under the law today.

Therefore, Mr. President, the action that we are taking today, I think, is proper; it is in line and it is in the best interest of both the employer and the employee and the people of this Commonwealth.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, having the opportunity to vote on this resolution is, in my opinion, a very poor substitute for an opportunity to vote on House Bill No. 120.

Mr. President, it seems to me that this resolution has no effect whatsoever. In my mind, it is the most flagrant violation of constitutional government and government by law that man could conceive. It amounts, in my opinion, to no more than a letter from each of us, or a letter signed by every Senator to a department head telling him to ignore statute laws that are on the books. Certainly, any department head would be a very imprudent man if he were to act on advice from us, and to ignore the plain meaning of the Constitution and the laws of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, this resolution is going to be no comfort at all to the hundreds of thousands of Pennsylvanians who are faced, within a few short days, of having their unemployment checks cut from $30 a week to $20 a week. I am sure it is even less comfort to every employer in Pennsylvania who faces the prospect of having his unemployment compensation tax raised to 2.7 per cent. It seems to me that what we should do instead of having to vote on this resolution is to come to grips with the problem and solve it as it can only be solved, and that would be by legislation.

I can only conclude, Mr. President, that this action on the part of the Republican Membership of this Senate is a very cowardly way of trying to meet the problem. It is, to my mind, obstructionism and/or irresponsibility.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution, as amended?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.) Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RECESS

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for forty-five minutes, for lunch.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

Which was committed to the Committee on Agriculture.

RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

URGING THAT THE DELAWARE UPPER MOUNT BETHEL BRIDGE BE RESTORED

Messrs. YOSKO and SCOTT offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Highways:

In the Senate, March 16, 1955.

The Delaware Upper Mount Bethel Bridge, built in 1890 as a railroad bridge, was purchased by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in 1932 at a cost of Two Hundred Seventy-Fve Thousand ($275,000.00) Dollars, and established as a free highway bridge. Since that time the bridge has been heavily traveled, and in 1952 over two million vehicles made use of it.

The Delaware Upper Mount Bethel Bridge, an east-west roadway 733½ feet long supported by five through truss spans, is still strong and capable of rendering many more years of service.

The Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission recently constructed two new bridges, and in order to finance this construction a $29,500,000 bond issue was floated, with all of the toll bridges pledged as security. It was agreed that the Delaware Upper Mount Bethel Bridge would be closed and demolished in order to remove competition from the new bridges, and litigation is now pending in the United States Supreme Court to determine the propriety of this agreement. In the meantime the bridge has been closed, but demolition has been temporarily enjoined.

The closing of this bridge is a great economic waste to our Commonwealth. Many residents of the area, and particularly farmers, are being deprived of a reasonable means of egress to nearby communities and markets. Furthermore, the Delaware Upper Mount Bethel Bridge is a facility which would be of invaluable usefulness in case of a national emergency; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania direct the Secretary of Highways to determine the cost of repairing the Delaware Upper Mount Bethel Bridge and restoring it to its former utility; and to make a report of his findings to the Senate within sixty days; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate sincerely request the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission to reconsider its action in closing the bridge and permit the Delaware Upper Mount Bethel Bridge to remain intact.

And be it further resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the parties involved.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 120, entitled:

An Act amending the Act of December 5, 1936 (1937, P. L. 2897), entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administred by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis; requiring employers to keep records and make reports, and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons; providing procedure and administrative details for the determination, payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" by redefining certain terms increasing minimum contributions providing for modification of the manner in which contribution rates are determined and redetermined shortening the period necessary to obtain a reduced contribution rate providing for modification of the manner in which eligibility for compensation is determined increasing the amounts and duration of compensation payments removing certain limitations on the amount and duration of compensation and extending the penal and related provisions of the act.

The first section was read,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I have here amendments to the title and to Section 1, Section 2, on through the bill to the final section. I would ask permission at this time to present all of the amendments as they are contained in the copies being sent to the Chair. However, I would request that we vote upon the section by section amendments.

Mr. President, I offer the following amendments and ask that they be read by the Clerk.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendments to Section 1.

The Clerk read the amendments to Section 1 as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4), page 4, line 4, by inserting after "ployer]": "Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, an employe who is unemployed during a plant shutdown for vacation purposes shall not be deemed ineligible for compensation merely by reason of the fact that he or his collective bargaining agents agreed to the vacation or on account of the receipt of payments other than directly from his employer."; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4), page 5, line 16, by inserting a bracket before "Remuneration"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4), page 6, line 6, by inserting a bracket after "fifty-one"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4), page 6, by inserting after line 6: "Remuneration paid by an employer in excess of the amount on which contributions are required to be paid may not be considered in determining the compensation rights of an individual under this act. Remuneration paid by an employer on which contributions are required to be paid shall be considered in determining the compensation rights of an individual and for such purpose may be allocated in accordance with rules and regulations of the department to any calendar quarter in which the individual earned remuneration from such employer, provided the sum of the allocation and the earnings reported with respect to any calendar quarter shall not exceed the remuneration paid for such quarter."; Amend Bill, page 6, by inserting after line 18: "Section 2. Subsection (a) of Section 201 of the act, amended September twenty-nine, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (Pamphlet Laws 1580), is amended to read: "Section 201. General Powers and Duties of Department.—(a) It shall be the duty of the department to administer and enforce this act through such employment service and public employment offices as have been or may be constituted in accordance with the provisions of this act and existing laws. It shall have power and authority to adopt, amend, and rescind such rules and regulations, require such reports from employers, employes, the board and from any other person deemed by the department to be affected by this act, make such investigations, and take such other action as it deems necessary or suitable. Such rules and regulations shall not be inconsistent with the provisions of this act, and shall be effective in the manner the department shall prescribe. The department shall submit to the Governor a biennial report covering the administration and operation of this act and shall make such recommendations for amendments to this act as it deems proper. The department shall also prepare and present to the Governor, on or before the thirty-first day of December of each year, an actuaral evaluation of the financial operations of the unemployment compensation program, together with its findings and recommendations for developing and improving solvency of the fund and adjusting and regulating income and disbursements in the fields of contributions and benefits. Such report shall include the presentation of the current economic trends, statistics and analyses on which the evaluation is based. In the discharge of the duties imposed by this act, the Secretary and any agent duly authorized in writing by him shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations, take depositions and certify to official acts. The department shall have the power to issue subpoenas, to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, correspondence, memoranda and other records deemed necessary in the administration of this act."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

MOTION THAT AMENDMENTS TO SECTION 1 BE ADOPTED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the amendments to Section 1, just read by the Clerk, be adopted.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Dent, are you going to justify these amendments by telling us why we should vote for them?

Mr. DENT. Well, if the gentleman deisres that I do so, I will be glad to give an explanation of what we are attempting to do. However, in so doing, I would request a consideration from the Members of the Senate that I be allowed to cover the field rather than be specific on the amendment before us, inasmuch as they all relate to the same particular subject. Therefore, we can have the complete run of the bill and the amendments during one discussion rather than having to get up on every amendment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

MOTION WITHDRAWN FOR ADOPTION OF AMENDMENTS TO SECTION 1

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, with the permission of the seconder of the motion, I withdraw my motion for the adoption of the amendments to Section 1 at this time, and ask that all of the amendments be read.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, agree to the withdrawal of the motion?

Mr. HALUSKA. Yes, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the amendments as presented by Senator Dent.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4), page 4, line 4, by inserting after "ployer]": "Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, an employe who is unemployed during a plant shutdown for vacation purposes shall not be deemed ineligible for compensation merely by reason of the fact that he or his collective bargaining agents agreed to the vacation or on account of the receipt of payments other than directly from his employer."; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4), page 5, line 16, by inserting a bracket before "Remuneration"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4), page 6, line 6, by inserting a bracket after "fifty-one"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4), page 6, by inserting after line 6: "Remuneration paid by an employer in excess of the amount on which contributions are required to be paid may not be considered in determining the compensation rights of an individual under this act. Remuneration paid by an employer on which contributions are required to be paid shall be considered in determining the compensation rights of an individual and for such purpose may be allocated in accordance with rules and regulations of the department to any calendar quarter in which the individual earned remuneration from such employer, provided the sum of the allocation and the earnings reported with respect to any calendar quarter shall not exceed the remuneration paid for such quarter." Amend Bill, page 6, by inserting after line 18: "Section 2. Subsection (a) of Section 201 of the act, amended September twenty-nine, one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (Pamphlet Laws 1580), is amended to read: "Section 201. General Powers and Duties of Department. The PRESIDENT. The question is on the adoption of the amendments offered by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent. It is the understanding of the Chair that these amendments are to be voted upon section by section.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I will agree with Senator Dent that they shall all be voted on at the same time.

The PRESIDENT. The question then is on the adoption of the amendments.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I hope that we can have a little discussion on this bill in order to clearly define exactly what we are trying to do.

First of all, Mr. President, there has been too much misinformation given to the public by certain agencies within the Commonwealth who have stubbornly refused to accept as bon fide the figures submitted to this General Assembly by the department of government responsible for information along this line. Yet, these same agencies have for many years used this very same bureau's figures in their calculations as they presented them to the Senate over the past sixteen years in supporting their amendments to the unemployment compensation law.

For instance, Mr. President, I have a very interesting answer to an item that was given widespread publicity over the week end and if you can follow me and believe with me that the version of this particular case that I give you is true, then, perhaps, it will allow you to look with a little suspicion on the so-called figures given out by this same group and the figures upon which I understand the opposition to House Bill No. 120 is based.

Mr. President, over the week and a story was given prominent play in the newspapers to the effect that a part time girl, working in a dry goods store for $6.00 a week, would be able to receive total pension payments, under House Bill No. 120, of $300 as against a wage-earning of only $312. Let us analyze that particular case that was given to the people of Pennsylvania as a bona fide condition that would result from the passage of this act.

The office of the State Chamber of Commerce is responsible for having released this particular story. Certain representatives of this organization have been fomenting a barrage of attacks against this administrative act. Of course, the evident purpose has been to confuse and distort the picture before the Legislature. In so doing, they distort it for the people of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, the latest tale is the one about which I talked to you, which was based upon a case of an unemployed high school student, drawing $10.00 a week in compensation after being laid off from employment in which she had earnings of $312 a year, paid at the rate of $6.00 a week as a part time Saturday clerk.

Now, the representatives from the Chamber of Commerce have not, of course, identified this case by number or by name. So, of course, we can only take the same hypothetical case that they had, and draw the conclusion that would result if you followed the provisions of House Bill No. 120. We find ourselves with this particular fact.

Mr. President, the statement released by the Chamber of Commerce misrepresents and conceals the facts and gives a distorted impression to this particular unnamed case. Under existing law, a person who earned no more than $6.00 a week could not qualify for any compensation. To meet the financial test of eligibility, an employee must have base earnings of at least $300, of which not less than $120 must have been earned in a single calendar quarter of thirteen weeks. Based on $6.00 a week for a thirteen week quarter, the most that that girl could have earned was $78.00 which would disqualify her as a claimant for unemployment compensation entirely.

Mr. President, these facts show conclusively that the story from the Chamber of Commerce is not true, has no basis of fact and certainly was timed to confuse the minds of the Members of the Senate.

Mr. President, if you are depending upon the figures that you are using for your opposition to this bill, coming from the same source as this story emanated from, then I am afraid you are not only doing a disservice to yourselves as intelligent men, but you are doing a disservice to the people. When I say people, I mean industrial workers, farm workers, telephone workers, every type of a wage-earning and salary-earning employee in the State and every type of employer in the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, this story was only told to you and analyzed to show you that under the administration's bill an employee earning $6.00 a week would have her weekly benefit rate computed at $18.00, based on a six-day week, and that takes into consideration the so-called Romig Decision that has been the basis of the full-time work week under Workmen's Compensation for so many years. In order to qualify for this rate, this girl would need an earning of $592 a year or more in her base year to entitle her to consideration.

So, Mr. President, the example used by the Chamber of Commerce was a poor choice of examples, because their men know that that was a dishonest, distorted and despicable trick to use that case in order to arouse the thousands upon thousands of honest storekeepers in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania who, because of the nature of their business, have to employ part time workers on the week ends and, particularly, through the holiday seasons.

Yes, Mr. President, we received thousands of letters this week from "Main Street" merchants, based upon that story which appeared over the signature of the State Chamber of Commerce which is supposed to represent, above everything else, integrity. I am not condemning the Chamber, as such, or belittling its services to its membership. I say that those who are responsible within the Chamber for distorting the facts to such an extent, that they have confused the merchants of this State to the point that they are ready at this time to request the defeat of this bill without knowing what is in it or caring what is in it. I have hundreds upon hundreds of letters, petitions and telegrams, asking me to vote against House Bill No. 120 in any form whatsoever.

Mr. President, let us go on to some of the other misinformation that has been given out. I understand that this is one of the serious bones of contention in this particular amendment which is contained in the group of amendments which I hope you will vote for today.

Mr. President, there has been a great deal of talk about pregnancy benefits. There has been a great deal of misinformation as to how much it would cost and as to just exactly what is being done during pregnancy layoffs.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, up until 1953 the law was not specific in the matter of payment for lost time because of pregnancy. However, review boards and the courts, in their interpretation of the unemployment compensation law, determined that certain periods of unemployment would be compensable, and included in this group of compensable periods was that time lost because of pregnancy. However, it is not exactly that simple.

Mr. President, when we amended the act in 1953, we specifically outlawed and made ineligible any person claiming compensation during the period of pregnancy. What really happened? A great many of the Members of this Senate believe that an expectant mother is being paid compensation because she is pregnant. I have heard the back-channel talk, and the sly and slimy remarks, about some of these mothers in industry. However, the truth of the matter is simple, the truth of the matter is logical, and I dare say that every fair-minded person in this room would say that the present amendments which I have offered to this bill will be a reasonable solution to the problem of unemployment due to pregnancy.

Under the present law, Mr. President, the employer can, after a six months' period of pregnancy, tell the employee that she is through and she cannot come back to work until at least thirty days after delivery. What we are saying in our amendments is this; that she can work so long as she is able to do her duties up until that moment during her pregnancy when she feels that it is impossible or contrary to her health to continue to work. If she leaves her job, under our amendments, she does not receive any compensation until she reports back for duty. You are not paying compensation during the period of delivery, as some men have said. You are not paying compensation while she is off becoming a mother or the immediate period afterwards when, because of her condition, she cannot return to her active duties. All we are saying in this amendment is that it is up to the individual person to decide how long they will leave their position during pregnancy.

I think that all of us are fathers, or most of us are, and we know that all women are not alike. Some women can carry children with the greatest of ease, and with a minimum of discomfort, while other women are deathly sick from the very first day of conception until the day of delivery. These things are human things which have to be taken into consideration, and no law which we write can say that every woman, after a six months' period of pregnancy, is alike and that they all must leave their jobs. In many of these cases, these women are the only bread winner in the family, particularly in your distressed anthracite regions where "king coal" has been dying a long and lingering death, and where chambers of commerce and other civic-minded groups have gone out and worked up public projects to bring into the anthracite region new industries to replace the life-giving coal. In most instances, these new industries have been related to the needle trade and they are, by the nature of their work, employers of female labor.

Mr. President, you are not doing anything unreasonable when you say that a woman may work until she feels that she can no longer carry on her duties, and you do not pay her any compensation from the day she leaves the job until she reports back that she is able and willing to work. However, under the trickery of the present law this is what happens.

The employer tells her that she is through. She leaves the job. She has the child and reports back for work in thirty days or six weeks, and the employer who has put someone else in that particular job tells here that there is no job available at the moment, and he denies her compensation although she is ready and willing to work. Do you want to be part and particle to that kind of trickery? That is what you are doing when you refuse these amendments. There is nothing unfair, nothing unreasonable in the proposition that when an expectant mother leaves her job to have her child, she is not paid unemployment compensation. However, when the employer of his own decision says you must leave the job today and you will not be paid compensation until I say that you can come back to work, that is a different matter.

Mr. President, I will leave it up to your fair judgment. I will leave it up to your own consideration. Keep in mind before you, at all times, that most women work because they have to work and not because they like to work. Women, in that respect, are no different than men. If we can earn it without digging, we will do it and so will they.

Mr. President, the second controversial feature is one which is difficult to explain unless you have absolute open-mindedness on the part of those who are really trying to understand the amendment.

I supose the most controversial of all considerations in unemployment compensation are the so-called vacation pay benefits. I want to again try to illustrate to you that it is no departure from what has been accepted in practice, and in the courts, as the proper base for eligibility for compensation. We are restoring in these amendments that feature of the law which gives justice to all claimants under the so-called vacation benefit clause. Let us understand what it does.

Up until 1949-1951, when a group of employees were given a vacation period by their employer, those who were eligible for vacation pay received vacation pay. Those who were ineligible for vacation pay made application for unemployment compensation for the time of unemployment and received that compensation. What did the spokesmen for industry do? I want to say right now that the industry representatives at that time were not too much sold on this amendment themselves, but were forced into it in a package deal. What did they do? Here is what they did, and I will leave this up to the fair-minded consideration of the Members of this Senate. They wrote an amendment and in so many words, this is what they accomplished with that amendment. They said that where there is a contract agreement on vacation between employer and a union, that when vacation time was given, all members of that union would be denied unemployment compensation pay but all nonmembers of the union would be paid vacation pay. This act of the Legislature should never have been allowed to become a wedge or a weapon, even in the remotest fashion, for those who will never accept unionism as the proper way of industrial life.

Mr. President, all that that amendment was aimed at was to discourage a union membership, because you said to Mac, "If you do not join the union in vacation time, you can have unemployment compensation, but if you join the union, and because of the contract which demands that you work so many months before you are eligible for vacation pay, you cannot have unemployment compensation." It is easy to see that the mere membership of the union was used as a criterion and a measuring rod as to the eligibility claims. How many Members of this Senate really understood and knew that that was what was done? How many Members of this Senate knew that we were voting, at that time, for a yellow dog union-busting contract? Whether a person belongs to a union or not has nothing to do with the economic need. This has been determined, in the first instance, that unemployment compensation is both an economic and a social law.

Mr. President, nowhere in the determinations of those who first introduced unemployment compensation in this State—and I proudly say that I was the original sponsor of the act in 1935 when I was a Member of the House—did the question of union membership or nonunion membership have anything to do with this act. When that amendment was introduced, I made a prediction. I explained to the committee, and to the Members of this Senate, that that particular feature in the act would cause conracts between employers and employees to be written in such a manner as to circumvent this feature of the act. That is exactly what has happened, and that is why you have such great agitation today to remove from the unemployment compensation act any reference whatsoever to vacation pay benefits.

Mr. President, the misinformation which the people have been fed has created the impression that when a working man or woman is on vacation that we, the Members of the General Assembly, have voted to give them unemployment compensation benefits at the same time. This is not true. The only persons on vacation who receive unemployment compensation are those who qualify under the act; meaning, those who do not receive vacation pay from their employer.

Mr. President, there has been some turmoil, and a few court cases, over the question of definition of vacation pay. The courts have held, and rightfully so, that certain funds are inviolate, that they belong to the employees, and that when they draw from this employee account, that it is not to be termed vacation pay. Now, let us see the justice of this.

During the last three or four rounds of pay increases in the various industries, we have seen a great deal of what they call fringe benefits being considered along with direct pay benefits in the union contracts. Among these fringe benefits are such things as vacation time, holiday time-off, retirement pay at certain age limits of certain specific amounts, health and welfare benefits, hospitalization and many of the other so-called fringe benefits. However, remember in negotiating a contract, the employer takes into consideration the total cost of all of the benefits which are contained in that contract, and the employee, in considering his end of the negotiation, considers what he is receiving by these fringe benefits to be the same as dollar raises.

Mr. President, we have, for instance, the steel industry. The steel industry has vacation, with pay, benefits in their contract. However, when steel is working at a ninety-four or higher percentage production, it is not always possible for the steel company to shut their plant down for a specific vacation period. Therefore, they have, within their rules and in their contracts, a consideration which is very important. They say to the employee, "Your vacation period is from June 1 to June 15, but you will work during that time because we have a production schedule which calls for work. However, we will pay you your regular earnings during the vacation time and your accumulated vacation pay." In this way, that steel worker receives his vacation pay even though he stays in the plant and works.

Mr. President, under the much publicized Garment Workers' contract, which appears to be the bone of contention in this legislation more than any other single item in the bill, you must remember that the negotiators for labor are in the main intelligent men and women. It may surprise the membership of this Senate to know that in the ranks of labor today, you find college graduates, university graduates, economists, attorneys men and women who are professional, and they approach the question of contract negotations from a professional viewpoint. If you, therefore, were representing the Garment Worker's Union, you would have to take into consideration the very thing which they had to take into consideration, and that is the fact that that paricular industry is a seventy-five to eighty per cent year-round working industry, which means that it is a good year in that industry when they work nine out of the twelve months. Knowing this, when the negotiators sit around the board, they have to take into consideration those periods of layoff, because, under the rules of nature, it is just as important that you eat when you are not working as it is when you are working. Fundamentally, all contracts start from the stomach and end with the stomach. The negotiators for the Garment Workers' Union, in determining their contract, came to this particular conclusion, that instead of accepting seventeen and one-half cents an hour, the employees and the operators agreed to twelve and one-half cents an hour, for direct pay raise.

Then they turned around and said, "Now, what we will do is this. We will take the difference of five cents an hour and we will put it into a welfare fund. When your periods of layoffs come, we will dig out of this fund and give you so much, according to your share in the pool or the fund, during your times of layoff." Someone conceived the idea that what they were receiving out of this fund was vacation pay and, therefore, not compensable. However, the courts have held that it was not vacation pay. This type of contract is the result of the so-called cleverness of certain industry representatives who sold a nonunion resolution, or nonunion amendment, to the Unemployment Compensation Law, denying benefits to those persons who joined a union and paying benefits to the nonunion members.

Now, Mr. President, when this became a part of controversy instead of paying out on a per week basis, in the next negotiations, the Garment Workers representatives, and rightfully so, worked out a new terminology. Instead of calling this five-cent pool a welfare and vacation fund, they called it a welfare and recreation fund. So, when the periods of layoff come, they now receive a check which is called a refreshment check. There is nothing dishonest about it. It is the share of earnings. If you force your amendments into House Bill No. 120 and reject our amendments, the next contract will not put anything into this fund. They will take it all on an hourly basis up here, and we will still pay unemployment compensation because there will be no excuse for getting any money during periods of layoff. So, you are not pulling anything except forcing people to use their wits to outdo people who have used them. Mr. President, that is your controversial section known as the vacation pay section.

Now, the other question that has come up many times is the question of full duration benefits. When you step into that particular phase of the law, you must hold before you the dual objective of this particular type of legislation. You must hold in one hand the economic, and on the other hand the social aspect. Now, we say, and remember this, it was no secret that we intended to amend the law to the effect that if a person once becomes eligible for unemployment compensation, he is deemed to be eligible for the entire period of payments of benefits, unless employed prior to that period running out.

Mr. President, in the Democratic Platform, last year, which was presented to the people of this great Commonwealth, we specifically stated that if the people gave us the reins of government, we would amend the Unemployment Compensation Act to allow for full period benefits or until the person is employed. Now there are those who say that this will cost, along with the $35 raise, or rather the $5.00 a week raise, and along with the so-called full work week base, some will say, and I believe it is the Chamber of Commerce figure, that it will cost $107,000,000, on a $180,000,000 base year. Now, just to show you how idiotic such a statement is, let me give you these figures.

The average unemployment compensation payment over a ten-year base, including the $267,000,00 year of 1954, shows that the average is less than $100,000,000 a year. That includes all of the unemployment compensation payments paid out to all of the claimants in any one given year in the last ten-year period. Now, a five-dollar raise and a four-week extension certainly is not going to cost anywhere near the amount in a given year that $30 a week and twenty-six weeks cost. Our Department, or Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, has under Civil Service nonpolitical employees who are guaranteed their jobs so long as they do their jobs right, who have no fear of political repercussions, and who will give to any Member of the Senate, Democratic or Republican, the same set of figures that they would give to the Chamber of Commerce or any citizen or citizens' group that asked for the figures.

Now, Mr. President, you would have a right to complain, and a right to object and a right to question figures that I would give you from any source, except the Bureau that is responsible for the setting of rates, the collection of contributions and the payment of benefits in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. So, I will give you their figures. If you want to vote against these amendments for any reason whatsoever, that, of course, is your prerogative and privilege as Members of the Senate. However, please do not vote against these amendments on the grounds that it is going to cost $107,000,000. If you determine that the figures I give you are too high, then, of course, that is a question of judgment. But, let us start out on the premise that the figures I give you are correct. Starting from there, your opposition then can at least be an honest opposition. If you do not accept these figures, and then, by some twist of your logic, come up with an opposition to the bill based upon a set of figures that you have received somewhere else, then you are not giving an honest consideration to the amendments in the bill, but are either being misled or wilfully being dishonest, intellectually.

Now, Mr. President, the figures are these and I want them contained in the record, because the Bureau will not move. It is important to me, as a Member of this Senate, to know that these figures are correct, and to have them in the record for proofing later. I stake my vote on this legislation on the facts that have been given me by the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, in the Department of Labor and Industry. The revised benefit formula, and there are only five money-costing benefits or amendments, increasing from $30 to $35 a week the maximum payment—and, incidentally, at this time, it is very good to at least clear the atmosphere a little.

You see, we do not guarantee every unemployed person $35 anymore than you guaranteed them $30 under the present law. It may be interesting to note that at the present time, although you have a maximum of $30 and a duration period of twenty-six weeks, the duration period of the average claimants of the year of 1954, which was the worst history year that we have had since the beginning of the fund, was thirteen and seven-tenth weeks duration, as against a possible twenty-six weeks under the law. Your benefit payment was averaged at $25.56, against a possible $30 as contained in the law. We have every reason to believe that under the $35 maximum, the benefit payment will average somewhere near $27.46 a week and your average duration period will be between twelve and five and twelve and seven-tenths weeks. These estimates are not taken out of the air. They are calculated from past experiences. Yes, we have to guess as to the future. But, you know coming events usually cast their shadows before.

If we go into the record over the past years and get a determination based upon that record, we certainly have some assurance that our figures are as near right as it is humanly possible to make them. Anyway, your revised formula from twenty-six to thirty weeks, from $30 to $35 a week, your full duration period of eligibility and your full work-week based for computation of payments, will cost on a $180,000,000 base year of payments a total of 19.66 millions of dollars or, for round figure purposes, $20,000,000. Your alternative privilege of having a fifty per cent of full time weekly wage used as a basis for establishing the weekly benefit amount, when the highest quarterly wage formula is used, will amount to 1.97 millions of dollars or, for our purposes, $2,000,000.

Now, Mr. President, we have a $20,000,000 cost which is the big bite. This $20,000,000 has been agreed upon, as I understand it from the Floor Leader's remarks on the other side. He said that the Republicans have accepted the $35 week and the thirty-week duration period. The $2,000,000 amount, which is a question of formula, has also been accepted by the other side because it is part of your formula now.

Mr. President, number three is your bump-back provision, which gives you the privilege of going back over the past benefit period and to qualify under the new revised formula, and this will cost approximately 4.59 or four and one-half million dollars. Now, we come to the only two amendments that will raise money. Here we have the formula that, as I understand it, you have agreed to, for twenty-six and one-half million dollars.

Now, what is all the hullabaloo about? What is all this misinformation that is going back to "Main Street?" Does industry know that we are quarreling here and creating a wind storm of untruths over an amount of $1,420,000 on the base year of $180,000,000? All of this fight, all of this argument, all of this personal bickering, misunderstanding, misinformation, distortion and confusion is based upon the figure of 1.42 millions of dollars, and that is based upon a $180,000,000 year which everyone agrees is high. That, my dear friends, is the amount that is calculated to be the amount that will be paid out for so-called vacation benefits and pregnancy awards.

Mr. President, now, if you are quarreling over the twenty million dollars, or twenty-six million dollars, then, perhaps, you have a basic logic in your statement that this bill will drive industry out of Pennsylvania. However, when the people of Pennsylvania know the true circumstances, that you have agreed to the $20,000,000, you have accepted by past performance the principle of the $2,000,000, and the question of the four and one-half million dollars is automatically accepted when you accept the $35 benefit and the thirty week duration period. The bump-back is automatic because it will go into effect when you increase the periods. So, we find ourselves at this moment down to the real meat of the entire argument.

Somebody has sold the people of Pennsylvania a bill of goods. When they open it up, they find that it is a big package but a little wee present in it. All you will save, if you turn down the amendments that we have offered here today, is approximately one and one-half million dollars and to be accurate about it, I will give you the exact figure. I want this in the record. You will save six-tenths of one million dollars on the pregnancy benefits, and you will save a total of 1.64 million dollars for vacation benefits or a revised figure, and an accurate figure, of 1.72 millions of dollars if you turn all of our amendments down and take the bill that you have put out for the people.

Mr. President, now and then it becomes an argument as to what we are trying to do. Since the question of cost cannot be the item of argument, since the question of the increase cost to industry cannot be the bone of contention, then what are the arguments? I think, gentlemen, that now comes the time when we should decide that the argument between us, the difference of opinion between us, is one of the social aspect of the law and not the economic aspect. Any reasonable person will accept, I believe, our proposal. In fact, we are no longer at odds over the cost of this legislation, but we are at odds over the social qualifications of the legislation. Therefore, you are stating to the people of Pennsylvania that you are willing to give them increased amounts in compensation and increased number of weeks. But, what are you doing? You are doing exactly what you have done for the past sixteen years and you forced us into the position of helping you do it, because you have always made it a package and we either had to buy the package or get nothing. Having at all times the interests of the people of this Commonwealth as our first and primary consideration, we took many bad things to get a few good things. What you are saying to the people is exactly what you have said in every instance; that unemployment compensation benefits or unemployment compensation—the law, itself, has been amended in this Senate of Pennsylvania. You are saying, "We will give you increased benefits." However, at the same time, we will make more of you ineligible for benefits. Sure, you are willing to say to five men and women who have been receiving unemployment compensation in the State of Pennsylvania—you say to them, "Yes, we will give you $5.00 more a week." That is what the Republican Floor Leader said. "We have agreed to give you thirty weeks and we are going to give your $5.00 more a week, but all five of you will not get it. Two of you have to stand aside. We are making you two ineligible." That is exactly what you are doing with the amendments that you put into House Bill No. 120.

Mr. President, I think that so far as that particular phase is concerned, we have covered what I think is the economic phase, and we have tried to determine the social phase. Now, the real honest-to-goodness bone of contention that is underlying all of the arguments against this bill has to be brought out into the open. Let us see what that is.

Mr. President, in 1935 we passed the first unemployment compensation law. It passed the House and was defeated in the then Republican controlled Senate. In the year 1936, many Members of the House at that time decided to run for the Senate, and they ran on a platform that if elected they would go to the Senate and pass the unemployment compensation bill. Two of the men whom I know rather intimately were candidates at that time, my colleague, Senator John Haluska, and your humble servant. We won our elections on November 4. of the year of our Lord 1936. On December 6, of the year 1936, a month after the election, we were called into Special Session here in Harrisburg, and Senator Haluska, myself and thirty-four other Democrats were sworn in and immediately went into a Special Session which lasted six calendar days. We passed one bill, and that was the Unemployment Compensation Act.

Mr. President, I am bringing up history because coming events cast their shadow before, and I hate to say good-by to so many of my Republican colleagues today.

The reason we had to act at that time, Mr. President, was because the Federal Social Security Law was to go into effect on January 1, 1937, and the leadership of the Republican Party was willing to let the great State of Pennsylvania out of the benefits of the Social Security Law, because some person had misled them just the same as you are being misled today on the Unemployment Compensation Law.

You have heard it said, "Why, if you give them money for not working they will never work." I do not know what kind of people live in Republican controlled counties, but I do know what kind of people live in my county, Mr. President. I have yet to have ever had jobs available and unable to find persons to take them. If in any of your counties you have jobs available and if your people in your counties, your Republican friends, would rather stay on unemployment compensation than go out and work, I will send you enough Democrats from Westmoreland to take any job that you can offer them. If you think Democrats do not want to work, just talk to the State Chairman of the Democratic Party.

Mr. President, we come to what is called the schedule of payments. Let us see what happens. After we passed the first bill it was known as a common pool bill, a common pool for a common reserve, and the rate of contribution by the various industries was established by the relationship between the common pool and the benefit payments.

Mr. President, there was a great deal of agitation under the leadership of a man by the name of Clift, who came to Pennsylvania fresh after a victory in that great and illustrious State of Texas. He had succeeded in putting over the General Electric sponsored plan, known as the Clift Plan in the State of Texas, and he came to Pennsylvania with unlimited financial reserves and started a drive to make Pennsylvania a Clift Plan State.

Now these statements which I am making today, I want it clearly understood, are statements of fact and I know them to be, and without any idea of speaking disparagingly of any industry or group of industries in this State. If I am to explain to you what we are attempting to do, I have to tell you the facts as I know them. The Clift Plan was conceived in the minds of those who wanted to place a premium on steady employment. They shifted from the common pool base for contribution rate purposes to an individual employer base. In so doing, they established a schedule of payments.

Let us take and call this line a base year. A base year is a year of unemployment benefit payments as against the taxable payroll. The Clift Plan divided by one-tenth of a per cent the base year. This particular base year was divided into three groups, without so doing in specific language, but it was done by the formula itself. They took the one-third practically out of the employer group in Pennsylvania, and then a two-thirds grouping and finally a third.

Now, let us take the base year and figure the cost in Pennsylvania for unemployment benefit payments against a base taxable payroll over a ten year period. When we do that, we find that 1.1%, one-tenth of a per cent, is the chargeable payroll tax on every employer in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania if we are to pay the benefits in any average base year in the ten year period. Now, I ask you, if you are an industrialist or a banker or a businessman of any kind, is it not fair to assume that you have to establish a base year in your business for costs. and then take from that figure any additional costs which might be added because of extra duties or extra work that you perform or extra problems? In other words. this can be called the breaking point of the payroll contribution.

What did the Clift Plan do, Mr. President? Did it take into consideration this 1.1% breaking point and say that all employers must pay that amount, and then go into the proposition that if this employer has a bad employment record, he pays in addition to the 1.1% up to the top of 2.7%. No, they did not do that. What the Clift Plan did was this. It took, what I want to term, just because of the lack of a better word, what I call the parasitic industries. The parasitic industries are those industries which follow a production industry in their own community. In other words, gentlemen, if you start a factory right in the middle of this desert and you put 1,000 production payrollers in that factory, within a period of one decade you will have 6,000 parasitic workers employed in that community. Basically, this is an industrial State or a production State when we consider the products of the farmer. The Clift Plan gave consideration first and foremost to the parasitic industries, and they said you will pay five-tenths of a per cent payroll tax. In order to meet the 1.1% point which is needed to pay your employees we will go over here and in this middle we will take that type of employer that is, in most instances, a production employer, but his production is based, too, upon the main item produced, and, in other words, he is a fabricator and takes from the steel mills certain tonnages and reproduces it into forms that are saleable. So, in that particular group the rate of tax ranges from about 1.0% to about 1.7%.

Then, over in here, we took all of those employers because of the nature of their industry, not because of a fault of their own to maintain steady employment but because of the nature of their industry, and we said you all must pay 2.7% with no hope of reduction. In this group you will find the contractors, you will find the garment producer, you find the sporting goods producer and you find all those production employers who produce items that either, because of weather or season, are limited to around nine months a year in production.

What did we do in our formula? It is not new; those whose minds go back to the days of the Earle fight against the Clift Plan will remember that upon this Senate Floor I tried time and time again to have the formula which is contained in House Bill No. 120, or somewhere near that formula, accepted as the formula for the contributions. What did we do? We took the base year, which is established by record at 1.1% and we started off with 1.0% and from there we took a gradual scale to this one-third, to this one-third and to this last one-third to 2.7%. This particular line, we straightened this line out a little, and we continued on to where now every employer in Pennsylvania will be contributing to the base year 1.0% and then their own individual employment record will determine where they lie between this and the 2.7%

Mr. President, let us see what else is happening in this particular bill. The Republican committee said, "No, we do not want your formula; we want to maintain the present formula." You are going out to the people and saying that the Democratic formula costs too much. Let us see what it costs.

The Democratic formula is estimated to cost $140,000,000 in this year. Why is it that the Republican Members of this Senate are refusing Governor Leader's industry-wise formula for contributions which will cost $140,000,000, and are trying to pass their formula which will cost $170,000,000? Why are you saying to "Main Street" that the Democratic amendments will cost too much money? You refuse to allow us to pass a bill which will charge contributions in the amount of $140,000,000, and you are trying to give us a bill which will cost $170,000,000. Let me explain why you are doing that.

Last year's contributions amounted to, for round figure purposes, $88,000,000. Under your formula contained in the present act, three-fourths of this money was paid by one-fourth of the employers. I may be off on my percentages because of the nature of the task which I am trying to perform. I do not want to get into 26.2, or 24.7 or something, because you can understand that with the limited abilities which I have it would be too hard for me to figure. However, this is close enough to give you the reasoning behind the amendments the Republicans have offered to House Bill No. 120.

Mr. President, one-fourth of the contributors in Pennsylvania paid $66,000,000 of the $88,000,000 paid last year. Now, if we take Governor Leader's bill, we reduce the amount that this one-fourth will pay to the total, to approximately 55% and we spread over the other 75% of the employers, 45% of the cost of the $140,000,000. It means this, that somewhere in this figure approximately $80,000,000 will be paid by 55% of the employers, and approximately $60,000,000 will be paid by 45% of the employers. Let us take up the Republician formula, and to show you that you are not serving the best interest of the Commonwealth, let us just take exactly what is happening.

Supposing now that you pass your bill and you have a total payroll tax, under your bill, of $170,000,000. If you use the present formula, which is what you are trying to do, 25% of the employers in this Commonwealth will pay 75% of this amount or, let us take what it is, approximately $42,000,000 in rough figures from $170,000,000, leaving eight-two-one or $128,000,000.

What is happening? If you allow your formula to go into effect, which is what you are trying to do if you do not vote for these amendments, 25% of the employers in this State will pay $128,000,000 out of the $170,000,000 collected; 75% of the employers in the Commonwealth will pay approximately $42,000,000. Now do you see why certain employers in this Commonwealth have confused you with figures, have distorted the facts, and have led you to believe that you are serving the best interests of the Commonwealth by passing their interpretation of an Unemployment Compensation Act?

We claim, Mr. President, that the Leader bill, which is before us, fulfills our campaign pledge to the people, keeps our promise to industry in the Commonwealth and will build, for Pennsylvania, the reputation that this is a healthy climate for industry. We honestly and sincerely believe that this will be the outstanding piece of unemployment compensation legislation in the entire Country.

In order to close my remarks, Mr. President, with a little bit of Republican advice, I would like to present, for the record, a letter from the United States Department of Labor, signed by James P. Mitchell, Secretary of Labor under President Eisenhower, in which he gives to all the States the President of the United States' position on unemployment compensation and in which he calls for a greater number of compensable weeks and a greater amount of weekly benefit. State by State, he gives you the program in the other States; what they are trying to do about unemployment compensation legislation.

For instance, the State of Missouri passed legislation this year raising the maximum from twenty-five dollars to thirty-five dollars a week; the State of Connecticut—I do not know whether this is a result of the fact that they finally elected a Democratic Governor or not—raised theirs from thirty dollars to thirty-six dollars a week; the State of Wisconsin raised theirs from thirty-three dollars to thirty-six dollars a week; and the State of Washington raised theirs from thirty dollars to thirty-eight dollars a week; Idaho from twenty-five dollars to thirty dollars a week; and Arizona is jumping from twenty dollars to thirty dollars a week. Certainly, in the roll call of States, Pennsylvania does not belong lower on the eschelon of state governments than the States whose names I have read.

Mr. President, I ask for a roll call on all of the amendments at one time, if the Republican-Majority is satisfied to vote that way.

"U. S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR
"James P. Mitchell, Secretary

"USDL—1012

"FOR RELEASE: Monday a.m.'s
"February 21, 1955

"29 STATES INITIATE IMPROVEMENT IN UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION LAWS

"Reports from States to the U. S. Department of Labor indicate that good progress is being made in bringing about President Eisenhower's recommended improvements in the unemployment insurance program, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said today.

" 'These reports show that there is more action now toward improving the unemployment compensation programs of our nation than there has been since the law was passed 20 years ago', Secretary Mitchell said.

"The Secretary said that since the first of the year, legislation to improve State unemployment insurance laws has been prepared or introduced in 29 States, and has been acted on favorably already by at least four State legislatures.

"In two States legislation increasing benefit amounts has been signed by State Governors. These are Rhode Island and Idaho where the weekly maximum benefit amount was increased from $25 to $30, effective January 1, 1956 and July 1, 1955, respectively. In Vermont and New Hampshire, legislation increasing the maximum benefit amount has been approved by the State legislatures and is before the Governors for signature. In Vermont, the maximum is being increased from $25 to $28 and in New Hampshire from $30 to $32.

"Secretary Mitchell wrote to all State Governors on November 27, 1954, urging them to seek unemployment insurance legislation providing for increases in both benefits paid and the duration of benefit payments. The Department's Bureau of Employment Security receives periodic reports on State activity in this field.

" 'These reports indicate that the effort to improve unemployment compensation programs through State action is meeting with considerable success,' Secretary Mitchell said. 'It is clear that generally the present maximum benefits are too low and the duration of these benfits too short. I hope that benefit maximums will reach the level recommended by President Eisenhower so that the great majority of beneficiaries will receive payments equaling at least half of their regular earnings and that the laws of the States will provide all eligible workers with protection for at least 26 weeks.'

"The latest reports, the Secretary said, show that all but two (Florida and Hawaii) of the 47 State and Territorial legislatures which meet in 1955 had convened by January 31. Legislation increasing the maximum weekly benefit amount was introduced in 24 States and proposed in five others. In 10 of these States, legislation has been introduced or proposals have been made calling for an increase in the duration of benefits.

"In three of the States, the pending bills would increase duration to thirty weeks. In Pennsylvania a measure increasing benefit duration from twenty-six to thirty weeks for all eligible claimants has passed one house. A bill introduced in the Indiana legislature provides for increasing duration from twenty weeks at present to thirty weeks. In West Virginia, a measure has been introduced which would increase benefit duration from twenty-four weeks to thirty weeks. An Iowa bill would increase duration from twenty to twenty-four weeks.

"Bills to raise benefits to twenty-six weeks have been introduced in Arizona, Missouri, and Vermont. In Vermont the bill has been approved by both houses.

"Legislation also has been introduced in Arkansas increasing duration of benefits from sixteen weeks at present to eighteen weeks. This bill has passed one house. In three other States proposals have been made to increase benefit duration.

"The reports indicate the following increases in maximum weekly benefit amounts are being sought through legislation:

"Illinois—from $27 to $40
"Kansas and Utah—increase to an amount equaling one-half of average covered weekly wages in each State.
"Washington State—from $30 to $38
"Wisconsin—from $33 to $36
"Connecticut—from $30 to $36
"New York—from $30 to $36
"West Virginia—from $30 to $36
"Indiana—from $27 to $35
"Missouri—from $25 to $35
"Pennsylvania—from $30 to $35
"New Hampshire—from $30 to $32 (approved by both houses)
"Idaho—from $25 to $30 (already enacted)
"Arizona—from $20 to $30
"Iowa—from $26 to $30
"Rhode Island—from $25 to $30 (already enacted)
"South Dakota—from $25 to $30
"Massachusetts—from $25 to $30
"Tennessee—from $26 to $30
"Nebraska—from $26 to $28
"Vermont—from $25 to $28 (approved by both houses)
"Montana—from $23 to $26
"Arkansas—from $22 to $26
"Texas—from $20 to $25
"Minnesota—(proposed but not introduced)
"Delaware—(proposed but not introduced)
"Hawaii—(proposed but not introduced)
"South Carolina—(proposed but not introduced)
"New Jersey—(proposed but not introduced)"

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, if I was a little reluctant to try to respond to the Minority Floor Leader earlier this week, I am more so now, particularly in view of what happened to my well-intentioned resolution earlier today.

I feel a little like what Maxey Baer must have felt when he was boxing with Joe Louis. I think Jack Dempsey was his trainer. In the first round, Joe landed a couple of hefty blows and when the bell rang, Max went back in the corner and Jack said, "Keep it up boy, you are doing fine." He said, "He can't hurt you so you just stay in their plugging." At the end of the second round, after a few more hard blows by Joe, when Maxey came back to his corner he was encouraged again to keep in there fighting, that Joe could not hurt him at all, and then Jack said, "You are putting up a great fight." At the end of the third round, and it was kind of tough, too, in that third round, and Maxey Baer, who always was a joker told Jack Dempsey, "Well, Jack," he says, "you had better keep your eye on the referee because somebody is knocking the hell out of me."

Mr. President, I certainly appreciate your indulgence. It seems to me that we have been under quite a strain here for an hour listening to a very heavy subject, done very capably and would that I had the fluency of, and the command of, the English language to respond in kind. I think that it was former Senator Taft who said that there were three types of liars; there were damn liars, after dinner speakers and expert witnesses. I am not an expert witness, but I want to try to make a few comments on the Minority Leader's remarks.

Mr. President, while this question is still fresh in our minds of the letter from Secretary of Labor Mitchell, I would like to correct what I believe is a misimpression that might exist as a result of Senator Dent's comments. I quote from the letter of Secretary of Labor Mitchell and he says this, in part:

"The reports indicate the following increases in maximum weekly benefit amounts are being sought through legislation." They have not been obtained, but they are being sought in these various States. They list the various States and a few of them have already been approved, such as Idaho which has gone from twenty-five to thirty dollars, and New Hampshire has gone from thirty to thirty-two dollars. However, these others are still in the same state as those in Pennsylvania, and they are still subject to legislation to bring them about.

Perhaps the best way to respond to the Senator from Westmoreland is to follow the outline that he followed, Mr. President. He spoke first about the misinformation which has been given to the public. Whenever you deal with figures, whenever you deal with a great many intangibles, you are bound to get differences of opinion. It is only natural, I think, that if you take two statisticians and give them the same set of facts and figures, they will probably come up with different conclusions.

The first point which the Senator brought up was the release by the Chamber of Commerce last week, or over the week end, where this high school girl was supposed to have received unemployment compensation benefits after working only one day a week for a period of time. I do not know the full details of that story, Mr. President. I think this is possible, whether it applies or not I do not know, but that young girl may have worked for three months or so during a summer vacation, and when high school started she worked only Saturdays for awhile and then when she was layed off she would have earned enough money to qualify. Suppose she earned twenty-five dollars a week for twelve or thirteen weeks, and her earnings would have been $300 or $325 and she worked one day a week while she was in school at six dollars a day, she still would have qualified for unemployment compensation.

Mr. President, this may be an unusual case. I do not think that it is one that was drawn out of mid-air, but I think it is one that could have and possibly did happen.

The second matter which the Senator brought up, Mr. President, was this matter of pregnancy, a very delicate subject. I remember hearing a story of this foreigner who was at a dinner one night. He did not speak English too well, and the lady next to him was trying to make conversation and she said, "Do you have any children?" He said, "No, my wife is unbearable." The lady looked quite concerned and he said, "I mean inconceivable." The lady was still more embarrassed and shocked, and then he said, "I guess I have the wrong word, I mean impregnable."

Mr. President, nobody can foretell what nature will do when it comes to the successive generations or the rate at which the human race will reproduce. We can only go on past figures. One large employer of women, not too far from Harrisburg, indicated that their force of women is depleted by ten per cent on the average because of pregnancy leaves. Another large employer of women in the State, a very large employer of women, last year had something like 1,300 and some women off for pregnancy leave. It figured out to be between five and six per cent of the payroll.

Mr. President, it is very difficult to dispute the figures of the Bureau, but it just does not seem reasonable that, when you take the total number of femals employees in the State, of approximately 1,500,000, that in the year 1955 only 720 of those women are going to have compensable pregnancy leaves. The figure which the Bureau arrived at amounts to $60,000, a mere pittance I agree, if that is what it is. The best guess we can make, using what we think are equally reasonable figures, it comes to $11,700,000 as the outgoing payment.

We are just as much interested in the welfare of the human race, I think, as any member of any other political party, labor organization, industrial group at what have you. Mr. President, there are some considerations which I think have to be taken into account. For example, here is a restaurant owner operating a high class restaurant. He likes to have his waitresses look neat and trim. One of his waitresses becomes pregnant, and after a period of time it is very obvious to the public. The manager decides that he would rather not have that young lady in the establishment and he asks her to leave. Under the present law, after six months she would be just not eligible for benefits, but under the proposed law she would be eligible if she said she was willing and able to work. Certainly she might be willing and able to work but, under the circumstances, the employer may not have want of her in that particular situation.

Mr. President, it seems to me that we are stepping on dangerous ground when we transfer the decisions from the employer to the Bureau, and that is exactly what we are trying to do here. We are saying that the Bureau shall decide, after questioning the party involved, whether she is fit for work or not fit for work, when the Bureau has nothing to do as far as her ability to work is concerned. All they have to do is to determine whether or not she is eligible for benefits.

A further point which I think cannot be overlooked, Mr. President, in connection with pregnancy, as the Senator mentioned, is the great wide variation among women. Some women do become ill and have a great deal of difficulty, while others seem to have an easy time of it. However, remember this, that we do have in the State also some laws which try to protect the employees from being injured on the job. I think that it is a much more likely case for compensation when you have a woman carrying a child working on certain occupations; even waiting on a table where you have tile floors, perhaps, instead of the floors that you customarily have in the home, where a woman might slip and either have a miscarriage or other serious difficulty, is costly also for then the employer is held, by law, to be responsible and you have a compensable case.

I do not want to cite any more figures to support our conclusion on the cost of pregnancy, Mr. President. I do want to say honestly that there is room for a real difference of opinion as to the total cost of this proposed amendment which the Senator plans to include in that group of amendments.

Mr. President, let us talk just for a bit on the uniform duration of benefits. The Senator has mentioned that we are in agreement with the $19,000,000, roughly $20,000,000, which the Bureau estimates. I have to differ with him on that, because I think we are in agreement to go along with the thirty-five dollars a week and the thirty week maximum duration, but we have not agreed, so far as I know, on the total estimated cost. The Bureau estimates, as the Senator mentioned, that this combination of the uniform thirty weeks and the thirty-five dollar maximum will cost, on a $180,000,000 benefit year, 19.66 million dollars, roughly $20,000,000. How the Bureau arrives at that figure, I must confess I do not know. We estimate the figure at nearer $30,000,000, and if you throw in the uniform weeks, then we get an estimate of $40,000,000 or $50,000,000.

Mr. President, let me just try to explain briefly how we arrive at these figures. First, on the thirty-five dollars a week, we have gone back to 1950 when the range of benefits was from ten dollars to twenty-five dollars. The maximum benefit was twenty-five dollars. In 1950, the average weekly benefit check was twenty dollars and forty cents; in 1951, it was twenty dollars and eighteen cents; in 1952, the law was changed to bring up the benefit check to thirty dollars. In 1951, it was changed and became effective in 1952, so the maximum payment was thirty dollars and then the average weekly benefit check amounted to twenty-three dollars and ninety-two cents. In 1953, it climbed to twenty-four dollars and thirty-one cents and, according to the Bureau's figures of 1954, it was twenty-five dollars and fifty cents.

Mr. President, if we raise the maximum benefits to thirty-five dollars a week, the Bureau says that that cost will only go up about two dollars and twenty-five cents, to twenty-seven dollars and seventy-four cents a week. On the basis of the figures which we have, when we increased from twenty-five to thirty dollars, the average weekly benefit check gradually climbed until it reached twenty-five dollars and fifty cents or about four dollars and twenty-five cents. We then arrive at a figure of twenty-nine dollars and seventy-five cents. In other words, just two dollars a week more. When you consider that there were ten million and some odd thousand checks paid out last year, you get to at least $20,000,000 just from that difference of opinion alone.

Mr. President, now how do you estimate, for example, the effect of the uniform duration to give everybody thirty weeks? The only way in which we know how to do it is to take the number of people who exhausted their benefits. In 1954, the Bureau says that there were 200,000 unemployed persons who used up all their benefits. Some of those were entitled to only thirteen weeks, some were entitled to fifteen and some up to the maximum of twenty-six. Therefore, if you extend the duration to thirty weeks, those who before got only twenty-six weeks of benefits will now get four additional weeks. Those who got only thirteen weeks of benefit can go to as high as seventeen weeks. Let us assume that we will only take four weeks as an average. There were 200,000 people; under the proposed law, House Bill No. 120, there will be four more weeks on the average let us say, and that is the very minimum at an increased cost of twenty-five dollars and fifty cents a week, and you arrive at approximately another $20,000,000, $19,200,000 roughly.

Mr. President, the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, mentioned that maybe we are at loggerheads on the social phases of this legislation. I do not believe we are, because you cannot separate the economic from the social and the moral. All three have to go together. What is economically sound is going to be morally and socially sound and sooner or later, I suppose, we will find that out.

It is difficult for me to understand why we would call some of these industries parasitic. We must have an awful lot of parasites in our community, if all of these so-called service industries are going to be called parasitic. Do you call a truck driver a parasite? Yet, he exists only to transfer products that are produced. Do you call a merchant a parasite only because he tries to distribute what is produced to the consumer? It just does not seem that that is a right definition. However, what the Senator from Westmoreland proposes to do is to tax more heavily these parasitic industries, which are the ones that are the stable employers. If you have a merit rating system, and you want to reward the guy who is doing a good job of employing people and giving them steady work, and penalize the fellow at the other end of the scale who is doing a poor job and disregards his employees and lays them off without regard to their welfare, then you should give the guy who does the good employment job a benefit in his rate. But, what we are doing on these new tables that the Senator from Westmoreland was trying to describe is to practically double the rates of the small employer and lower the rates of the fellow who is doing a poor job today.

In many instances, the man who pays today the maximum rate of 2.7 per cent is going to be dropped to 2.4 per cent, and the man who is doing a good job today, and at the minimum rate of .5½ of one per cent, is going to have his rate doubled and more than doubled. Now, it does not only affect these so-called parasitic industries. I want to give you the figures on the largest employer, one of the largest that we have in Pennsylvania. One of the largest employers that we have in Pennsylvania today is at a contribution rate of .7 of one per cent. Under the present existing law, because of the drop in the reserve fund or the fund balance, his rate is going to go to 1.2 per cent this year. Under the law proposed by the Senator from Westmoreland, his contribution rate is going to be 1.6 per cent. Let me repeat those figures. He is at .7 now; in April, he goes to 1.2 because of the fund balance of the present table. Under the new law, he will go to 1.6. Now, that is not a parasitic industry. That is a productive industry.

Mr. President, let me give you another productive industry, perhaps the third largest employer in Pennsylvania. His present rate is .5½ of one per cent. In April, his contribution rate will be .9, not quite doubled. However, under the proposed schedule, he goes to 1.5 per cent, practically three times as much as he is paying today. So, while we can talk glibly about taxing these fellows who are parasites, who have stable employment, actually we are hooking some of these productive industries as well when we just haphazardly change these tables by saying we will take this third and do this, and another third and do something else and then run the line straight out to catch the last third.

Mr. President, the total estimated cost which the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, kind of belittles by saying it is only twenty-seven or twenty-nine million dollars, is subject to a great deal of question. I can only submit that by equally careful calculations, based on the Bureau figures, based on 1954's experience, there is every evidence that that cost will mount tremendously. Of these eight provisions which this law contains, eight liberalizations you might say, only two of the eight affect the employees who are permanently or, you might say, definitely attached to the labor market. Those two are the increase of the weekly benefits to $35 a week, and the increase of the duration of thirty weeks. All of the other benefit provisions, liberalizations, increased costs. are due or will go to the people who are not semi-permanently even attached to the larbor market.

The whole purpose of unemployment compensation, as I said earlier this week, is to tide over individuals until they get another job. If you have a part time worker that comes into the labor market when labor is scarce and wages are fairly high and then drops out and only works occasionally, I would not say that those people are entitled to unemployment benefits. We are trying to protect these men and women who are continually engaged in constructive and productive work for this Country.

I might say this, that of these 200,000 exhaustions that occurred last year, the Secretary of Public Assistance said that only 16,000 of those people applied for relief after they had used up their unemployment benefits. What does that indicate, other than that the remaining people were married women whose husband's were working or unmarried sons and daughters, living at home, who did not have to have this employment compensation or it was not intended for people of that kind?

Mr. President, it does seem to me that we can do one of two things. We can liberalize the payments out of the unemployment compensation fund to the point where we are just throwing money away recklessly. We can continue to tax and increase the taxes on the employer to try to rebuild this fund, with the result that industry will gradually disappear and we will not have new ones coming in and even the ones which we have here will tend to drift away. Or, we can administer the law with a little more care, as is done in many other States, and preserve our fund by careful administration. There are two ways, as I understand it, to save money and one is to spend less than you earn and the other way is to try to raise your income. What we seem to be doing is wanting to raise the income coming into the fund, and at the same time spend more money as it goes out. I do not think it can be done.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President—

Mr. BARR. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if Senator Barr wants to alternate, it is all right with me.

Mr. BARR. I am like my wife. I am trying to get the last word in.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, in order to save time, it might be that Senator Barr will bring out something that was not touched upon by Senator Dent, so I will yield to Senator Barr at the present time and then I might be able to answer both gentlemen on anything that has not been answered up to the present time.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I think that the gentleman is using good judgment, because what I am answering is a statement that he and Senator Berger issued today to the press of the State.

Mr. President, it seems to me that the utility lobby is doing an effective job of master-minding Republican opposition to the administration bill on unemployment compensation. While Republican spokesmen in this Senate are shedding crocodile tears for Pennsylvania's unemployed men and women, utility representatives are fighting desperately to hold the line on the .5 of one per cent ratio their companies are required, under present law, to pay into the unemployment compensation fund.

Mr. President, there is a very strong, materialistic urge on their part to prevent a hiking of that rate and, to disguise their real intent, they are hiding behind agile Republican statements in which we are urged to act on this issue in a sensible and rational manner. That apparently means giving Republicans and the utility lobby their own way.

Mr. President, a statement issued today by Senator Mahany and Senator Berger, obviously at the bidding of the utility strategists, contained a high-sounding, emotional appeal to approach this problem without bitterness, and it offered a peek into Utopia by promising high employment and increased job opportunities for our people. The statement expresses great interest in the need for an expanding economy and it further states, and I quote:

"We Republicans believe it is high time that consideration be given to the people who are working as well as those who are out of work."

Mr. President, the fallacy of that syrupy statement is that when the last Republican administration went out of office, we had 377,000 unemployed men and women in Pennsylvania. Apparently, by its failure to develop an expanding economy and to give consideration to men out of work, the Republican Party is actually little interested in any economic disaster that might overtake the unemployed. Its attitude now on unemployment compensation is a weak attempt to window-dress the traditional indifference of the Republican Party toward people who want to work at good pay instead of being required to drag along on unemployment compensation benefits. And the utilities, which have reaped fabulous profits under the paternalistic benevolence of succeeding Republican administrations, should be the last to oppose any system which seeks to equalize the employer payment load in relation to a building up and strengthening of the unemployment compensation fund.

Mr. President, I would like to digress from my prepared statement to say that they are the favorite few whose profits are guarded by the laws of the Commonwealth. And I say further to you, Senator Mahany, that I happen to own utility stock and the dividends come in very regularly.

Mr. President, if the Republicans are sincerely interested in doing something for the working people of Pennsylvania, I would suggest that they take off the political ear-muffs they are now wearing to drown out all logic on this subject. The Republican attitude that some unemployment compensation payments are free handouts reveals more than anything I might say the true Republican sentiment when it comes to choosing sides between industry, as one class, and working men and women, as another class. This conception stems back to the ox-cart thinking of what I had hoped would be outmoded Grundyism, but, apparently, there are some Republican Senators among us today who still subscribe to the reactionary philosophy of the Grundy machine and its antipathy toward an economic system which permits men and women to make more than a dollar a day.

Mr. President, I, for one, am not deluded by mock Republican concern for the unemployed. I do not believe that any of my Democratic constituents are being put to sleep by that off-key lullaby. The Democratic side of this Senate has no cloak and dagger scheme to make the cost of unemployment compensation perpetually high and we do not believe, contrary to utility propaganda, that an equalized system of employer payments, based on the ability of business to pay, will cause a mass exodus of industry from this State. That is nothing more than a political wolf-cry from the Republican defenders of the special privilege boys, and the sooner we place this issue out in the open and act on it in the light of what will do the greatest good for the most people, the sooner we can adopt a fair and equitable unemployment compensation law devoid of all political trickery.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, surely, Senator Barr, those words are the voice of Jacob, but the words of Esau. Whoever wrote that speech was certainly uninformed, but I would say that he deserved a very high salary and, perhaps, office space in the office of the Lieutenant-Governor and telephones at his disposal.

However, Mr. President, I want to assure the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, and all the rest of my colleagues here in the Senate, that when we prepared this statement, we did not see or listen to any representative of any utility. The fact of the matter is that Senaor Berger and I got together after the Session last evening, and said we thought we should certanly make our position clear as it related to our stand on these amendments which we understood were going to be offered today. Our only concern was that industry in the State of Pennsylvania remain in a healthful condition so that it may expand here and also that under the tax laws, the unemployment compensation laws in the State of Pennsylvania, this would be a place which would attract other industries from other States to locate here. That is our only concern. Certainly, we do not concern ourselves over the stockholders.

For instance, if the stockholders of Westinghouse, or the stockholders of General Electric, have their factories moved from Pennsylvania to Kentucky or some other place, perhaps they would make more money than they do in Pennsylvania. So, they are not concerned. We are only concerned with the workingman. I say that honestly, Mr. President. For the workingman in Pennsylvania who has his little home here, we will say in a town such as Harrisburg or my home of Titusville, it is not easy for him to uproot his family and all his belongings and take them to Kentucky, to follow the industry in which he is employed. So we are concerned about him. We do not want that industry to move out of Pennsylvania and go to Kentucky, or Alabama, or Mississippi or some other State. We want it to stay in Pennsylvania. That is our only concern.

Mr. President, certainly if we were only fighting over a million and one-half dollars, or some small amount such as that, some comparably small amount such as that. I do not believe that the industry of Pennsylvania and the merchants and everybody else would take so much time to write letters to us saying that this bill, which would be exacted upon them by the passage of House Bill No. 120 as it left the House, would be so bad, so tough, that they certainly would not have any inclination to expand in Pennsylvania and might very well, a great many of them, move their factories out of the State.

So, Mr. President, I think we want to make it crystal clear to the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, who also serves as the Democratic State Chairman and I can presume that some of those statements that he made are supposed to be used for the political effect that they might have—I want to say to him that we do not have any ulterior motives. I, myself, would wager that I do not have as much utility stock as Senator Barr because I, at the present moment, only have a very few shares of United Gas, and I expect to dispose of that very soon if the market gets right. However, Senator Barr has stated that he has quite a few shares and he is right in saying that under the law, we insure certain income or profit of these utility companies. We guarantee them a certain return on their investment. If we raise the cost or the cost load to them, then they only have one place to get that and that is to go back to the Public Utility Commission and ask for increased rates for their telephones, and their electricity and all the other things. Certainly, the stockholders of the utilities are not being injured by that. The only people who are going to be hurt are the customers of the commodity or the services which these utilities are selling.

Mr. President, I regret very much that Governor Leader has not seen fit to give us a report from his man who was going to Washington to interview people who he thought might locate in Pennsylvania, corporations which were going to locate here. I hope he has hired that fellow. He has hired a lot of people since he took office and, certainly, that would be a very important position to give to someone. I think whoever goes to Washington for that purpose surely should be a very top-flight individual.

Mr. President, I would like to find out, through the Governor, what report he has received back from that individual. I am pretty sure that when he contacts representatives of industries from other States, to see whether or not they might be interested in locating in Pennsylvania, he is going to get the same answer that I got when I, as a representative of the Titusville Chamber of Commerce, interviewed some representatives of industry from out of the State who were thinking about coming here. The only question that they asked me was how much it was going to cost them to do business in Pennsylvania. That was their chief concern. They even sent for a representative of the Department of Commerce, of the State of Pennsylvania, to ascertain what the tax load on them was going to be. They are certainly not going to come into Pennsylvania, Mr. President, if they cannot compete with similar industries in other States. Their costs that they will have to pay in unemployment compensation, and corporate taxes and all the other loads that we put on them is certainly going to reflect itself in the price of their product. If they add that to the price of their product, then they certainly are not going to be able to sell it in competition with similar products made by other industries in other States upon an open market.

Mr. President, we have talked quite long and at length about this, and I say to you that this bill is going to be considerably higher than what Senator Dent has indicated. I think that—I am willing to predict right now that before very many months, this fund is going down to the point where every contributor in Pennsylvania is going to have to pay 2.7 per cent contribution.

As far as Senator Dent saying that the State Chamber of Commerce misrepresented some case, I do not believe that they did and it so happens that one of the representatives happened to be here and I asked him whether or not he could give me the name of the case which they based that information on. He has supplied it to me. Senator Dent, between now and next Monday, I wish you would look it up, or have one of the department heads look it up, to see whether or not it is true. I shall give you the name of the case. The case is the case of Maudie —M-a-u-d-i-e—Calhoun—C-a-l-h-o-u-n. The decision on this case was rendered on February 28, 1955. It was out of the Connellsville, Pennsylvania local office. Her high quarter earnings were $140.00; her total earnings in the base period were $320.00. She was laid off on February 7, 1955, and she did work some extra time during the Christmas Season.

Now, if Senator Dent will check that case and by next Monday he tells me that the facts as set forth in the Chamber of Commerce release were not correct, then I certainly shall apologize to him. However, on the other hand, if he finds that they are correct, then I shall expect him to apologize to the representatives of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. President, the feature of these amendments which bothers me most is this vacation pay. I took this matter up with some of the representatives of the industry in my area who called upon me the other night, and I told them about this new wrinkle which they seem to have had worked out by some smart Philadelphia lawyer, so that employees down there could obtain some kind of a vacation pay and at the same time receive unemployment compensation. The representatives of industry stated to me that they certainly did not want to go along with that proposal. If that sort of thing were true, they stated they would be against it.

You can call it what you want to, Mr. President. The fact of the matter is that that employer put money into a fund. Instead of giving that money directly to the employee, he put it into a welfare fund. The employer paid the money some place, but instead of paying it directly to the employee, he paid it to another source and then that other source, which was the welfare fund, paid it to the employee. Now, certainly that person should not receive a check indirectly from the employer and also receive unemployment compensation. The people up our way just do not do that sort of thing. They pay directly to the employees certain vacation moneys if the employees are entitled to it. When the plant shuts down for a vacation, the employees then have their money and they do not get unemployment compensation in addition to that vacation pay.

Mr. President, certainly if somebody down in Philadelphia, and I understand they have many smart lawyers down there,—they always refer to being as smart as a Philadelphia lawyer—worked out some new kind of a wrinkle such as that, I do not think we should put it into the statute law so as to call it to the attention of all the other people in the State, because they would then run and have their lawyers write up the same type of a contract. Also, at the same time, there would be many of these employees in these various stores who do not have such benefits as welfare funds and they would be out entirely. If this were done all over the State, this fund would drop down much faster than it has during the past year or so.

I want to conclude, Mr. President, by asking the allowance of my colleagues to place into the Legislative record a copy of the talk which was made by my good friend, Melvin Blair, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce for the City of Meadville, and this talk was made before a Rotary Club. I want it to go into the record so that those who may be interested in it will have the benefit of reading it. It shows our place, in a list of States surrounding us, on the average growth. The National average is 58% and many of the States around us have an average growth from 79% in Delaware, 68% in Ohio, to a low in Pennsylvania of 37.2%. We seem to be the low man on the totem pole under the laws which we already have, because it has been brought to my attention that industries in other States do not begin to pay the tax load we have here.

Another important thing for us to consider, Mr. President, is the fact that we have not as yet received either the budget of the Governor or his tax program. We know that he is going to have to raise a whole lot more money. He has pretty much thrown out the window all the suggestions which have been made to him for some type of a broad base tax; he has committed himself to discontinue the sales tax when it expires; and he has thrown out such things as the head tax and various other suggestions which have been made to him. Therefore, there is only about one place where he can go to pick up this extra money under his type of a program, and that would be to the industries of the State of Pennsylvania. We do not know yet just how much he is going to need and until we do, certainly should not add it now onto that load because, together, they might be so staggering that we will drive industry out of Pennsylvania. We do not wish to do that. However, that is what did happen, Senator Dent, when you were riding high, wide and handsome here, when you told about your Special Session and so forth. You were riding high, wide and handsome, and all those laws where were passed in the Earle Administration I think were largely the reason why many of our industries in Pennsylvania left the State and shut down here.

You say that you do not like to say good-by but as I remember it, the result of all those sessions and all your work during that time was that the Republicans did not say good-by. The Democrats said good-by and very shortly after you had that large number of Democrats, the Republicans came in and took over and we have had a large number of Republicans in the Senate since that time. We, therefore, do not like to have you say good-by, because we do not feel that we are going, but we feel that you might be going and we are certainly going to miss you. However, we do hope you will be around for some time for we do enjoy your speeches.

Mr. President, I want to put this talk on "The Challenge to Pennsylvania" into the record, but I will not take up the time of the Members by reading it now.

"THE CHALLENGE To Pennsylvania

"A boat propelled upstream by a motor developing six miles per hour against a current of 15 miles per hour, is going nowhere very rapidly. Unless the pilot happens to compare his progress with the shore-line he may feel satisfied that he is moving satisfactorily.

"We Pennsylvanians may have been too preoccupied with the sputtering sound of our economic motor to look at our 'shore-line',—in this case the neighboring states around us. For at least 15 years we, as a state, have been drifting backward against the national average gains in employment, manufacturing and population. By the law of diminishing returns this loss will be even more accelerated in the future if we do not soon turn the trend in an opposite direction.

"From 1939 to 1952, the United States average gain in non-farm employment was 58.2 per cent. Pennsylvania, in the same period, had a gain of only 37.2 per cent. While she gained nearly a million jobs, she would have gained 560,000 more, if she had maintained the national average growth.

"The first impulse of a proud Pennsylvanian is to leap to the conclusion that the great development of the southwest and far west over that period may be responsible for our plight. But let us look at the gains in non-farm employment right around us in our neighboring states in that same 13-year period. Stack these up against the national average of 58 per cent.

"Delaware	79	West Virginia	47.5
"Ohio	68	New Jersey	43.8
"Virginia	64.7	New York	40.4
"Maryland	55.2	Pennsylvania	37.2

"Obviously to be low man on the totem pole in employment gains among these states is an unpleasant distinction. There are reasons to account for such gains as Utah's 193%, Texas 106% and the Pacific states' 94%, because non-farm expansion there is comparatively new. But this is not so true of our adjacent states, whose gains ranged from around 11% to 104% greater than Pennsylvania.

"For decade after decade we kept all of these nearby states at either a respectable distance in the rear, or within a nose in front. In the 13-year period from pre-World War II to post-Korea, we trailed the field.

"If there are those who want to blame it on depleted mines and oil wells, there is still no substantial comfort to be found. In 1939 only 7.5% of our state's non-farm employment was engaged in these pursuits, so even our state's drop to eleventh place in this category makes few percentage points of difference in the whole.

"Of the eight major industry divisions the three Middle Atlantic states—Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey—lag far behind the average national growth. The U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics in a report by Seymour L. Wolfbein, issued in December, 1953 says: 'For year x x x these three states had the largest single concentration of non-agricultural employment in the U. S. Thus, in 1939, (they) accounted for the largest proportion of employment in every one of the eight major industry divisions. By 1952 this region had lost its leadership in three important industries. The growing importance of petroleum and gas has put the South Central States x x x ahead in the field of mining; the Great Lakes States of the East North Central region (Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin) have taken over the leadership in the number of employees in construction; and these same Great Lakes States have also gone ahead in the most important area of manufacturing jobs.'

"To put it another way, the Middle Atlantic States in 1939 held 28.9% of all manufacturing jobs in the U. S. while the East North Central states trailed with 27.6%. By 1952 the Middle Atlantic trio had slumped to 26%, and the East North Central had risen to 29.1%—a vital switch in positions.

"Even though 'westward the course of empire wends its way'—as badly as that affects Pennsylvania—it is even worse when our state goes to the bottom of the list among even its eastern neighbors!

"Pennsylvania enjoyed for decades the advantage of being the center of distribution or consuming population of the nation. It still retains, by a narrow margin, the center of population east of the Mississippi River. But this advantage is rapidly slipping away and may well be gone by 1960, at the present rate of decline.

"There can be no remdial measures taken until people in position of leadership in the state are fully aware of the facts presented above. That they are not aware—at least so far as our law-makers are concerned—is evident in the fact that a sharp cut in funds appropriated for the industrial development program of the Department of Commerce were made for the current biennium. Because of apparent disagreement over HOW the job was best to be done, the legislature reduced funds by a net of about 30% thus almost certainly insuring that an even poorer job WOULD be done. In contrast, North Carolina, whose 13-year gain in non-farm employment stood at 61.2% (three points above the national average), doubled its budget for industrial development last year.

"We are all becoming aware of the procedure in many southern states where industrial local bond issues have been used to lure industry from the north. This and other subsidization, has been matched thus far in Pennsylvania only by threats of local machinery tax, stiff corporate net profits taxes, and stock franchise taxes. We are not only beginning to resemble a man standing on the corner blithely ignoring the picking of his pockets, but we are practically inviting all comers to join in the looting, and waving the policeman away!

"Pennsylvania's condition as of right now is not one to inspire rejoicing. When one five-county area in the east has almost 200,000 unemployed and scarcely one of the remaining 62 counties is without a labor surplus ranging from moderate to severe, it is time to give the patient a very thorough diagnosis.

"The 1940-50 decennial census revealed that Pennsylvania had gained a scant 6% in population against a national average of 14.2%. This should have been stern warning that we had not yet began to cope with the basic problem, despite the war-swollen activity of 1940-45. While we were being called 'the arsenal of America', we should have made great strides in manufacturing employment and expansion. That we failed dismally to build a sounder economy is now evident.

"The purpose of this treatise is not to solve the problem. It is only to put it in bold relief so there will be more general recognition that it IS a vital problem.

"Experience has taught us that industrial expansion and relocation goes in 'waves'. When the next major one will come in unforeseeable. But Pennsylvania's house MUST be in order if we are to share in it to any appreciable degree.

"This objective will take vision, courage and initiative on the part of the state administration, to the extent that the problem can be solved by government or its agencies. Intelligent leadership, in my opinion, will win wide support from residents of the state in all walks of life. Without it, our Commonwealth faces a declining economy which will grow more and more acute, more and more painful, with each passing year. It need not happen. We can muster the power to prevent it, if we have the collective will. This is the biggest challenge before us in this decade."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am not worried particularly about our saying good-by because we have a funny situation in our county. The only ones who get elected out in our county are the ones who get the majority vote.

Mr. President, it may interest all of the Members of this Senate to know that although we passed all of the laws under Governor Earle, the passage of those bills was not the reason that we lost the election in 1938. When Governor James came into office, if all of you will remember, he kept all of Governor Earle's tax bills; he kept the unemployment compensation bill, he kept all of the bills. The only thing that he did, he did not give enough money in the appropriations to make the bills effective.

Mr. President, in order to clear up one particular item which is important, I want to state, for the benefit of all of the Members of the Senate, that the Democratic publicist who has worked hard and diligently and honestly for the Democratic Party does have a telephone on the Hill, but that all of his calls are paid for by the Democratic State Committee. Further than that, I am not so sure but what my good friends on the other side had a little help in the statement which was prepared for him. It is perfectly all right. I think that it is very good, and

I hope someday to be able to afford someone to do my writing for me. My trouble is, I do not have so much trouble with writing; it's reading that gets me.

They tell the story about the Spanish-American War when one of our well-known cititzens out home was a General, and had a command over in the Philippines, General Colter. He had in his command a captain who is now our President Judge in the courts, Captain Laird. You see, in those days when you wanted to become a General you just provided uniforms for your own company. Colter, being the richest man in the community, of course, could afford a company, and when he went over to the Philippines he took his colored chauffeur with him as his orderly. It was notorious that the colored chauffeur could not read or write so, in order to play a joke on him one day, the General took a piece of blank paper, and took out a pencil and wrote something on the paper and he folded it and handed it to his colored orderly, He said, "Mose, I want you to take this important message over to Captain Laird." He said, "Now, you may be captured by the Moros on your way over, so you better read the message, memorize it and if you get captured, swallow the message so that they will never know what I wrote. This is high military stuff." The poor, old darkie took the message and he was looking at it, and he turned it over two or three times, and the General said, "What is the matter?" "Well," he said, "I will tell you the truth, General. I can't read readin', let alone read writin'."

Mr. President, I am sorry that my good colleague, Senator Kessler, decided to use the word parasite and in any way infer that I had at any time indicated that persons who worked in service industries are parasites. They are just as important to the general welfare as the man who produces steel, as the man who produces automobiles, as the man who produces the food that we eat. The service industries are an honorable industry, and the people who work in these industries are honorable people. When I used the word "parasitic," it was because it is descriptive of the nature of these industries. It was never meant—and I think at the time when I used the term, I said I was doing so without casting any reflection or meaning any disparagement. A parasitic industry is one which would not be in existence were it not for another industry that produces tangible goods. I was not in any way intending that there is anything dishonorable about it. It is just that that is a particular term which is contained in Webster's Dictionary and is one which is descriptive of the nature only of the work.

I am sure that Senator Kessler, who is a gentleman in every sense of the word, did not intend to create the impression that I was in any way terming any group of industries, or group of workers, as parasites.

Mr. President, I do not intend to answer any of the statements made by Senator Kessler. We are, both of us I believe, entitled to our opinions and entitled to present them in a manner that we see fit. I think it is good and healthy that we have this discussion today, and for the benefit of Senator Watkins, I want him to know that this was one of the reasons why we held a meeting today. We know that the deadline is coming close, and we know that we have to provide some kind of legislation between now and the end of the month. We felt that today would be a much better day to carry on this lengthy discussion of the merits or demerits of this legislation, rather than let another week go by without any action.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, I am sure that my colleague, Senator Mahany, fully realizes that when he gave us the case of Maudie Calhoun, he made my point for me. If he wishes, I will give him the complete story as it was contained in the newspapers, at which time there was no mention whatsoever of any employment other than the part time six dollar a week job. I believe that every person who read that particular article was under the same impression that I was under and still am, that this particular worker earned six dollars a week for certain part time work, and had earned $312 and would be paid $300 in unemployment compensation. It might be clearly understood now that she was not paid compensation, this Maudie Calhoun, based upon the six dollar a week part time job, but that she was paid compensation because she lost the job which she had on a full time basis, and that formula is in your present law. That payment was paid under the terms of the present law. It has nothing whatsoever to do with House Bill No. 120. House Bill No. 120 has not become effective, and unless you gentlemen on the other side open your minds and give us some votes, it may never become effective.

Mr. President, let us clearly understand that when I tell an untruth, I expect to be called on to answer for it, and the statement made by the Chamber may have had behind it a factual case, but the statement itself did not carry out in the release the facts as presented to the floor by the leader of the Republican contingent. So, we will do without requesting my apologies to the Chamber. I will, of course, apologize to anybody if I knowingly ever do anything which is not the right thing to the best of my knowledge. However, I do not believe an apology is due from me to the Chamber, but I do believe that a public statement is due from the Chamber to the people of Pennsylvania. Explain to the people that this case was born under the old act. Do not create the impression in the minds of the thousands of merchants that their part time employees are going to become a millstone around their necks.

Mr. President, I do not intend to go on to a lengthy discussion of the merits or the demerits of the bill. The amendments are before us, and I would like at this time to have a roll call to determine how we stand upon the amendments.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I do not care to prolong the discussion on these amendments or upon this bill. I believe that almost everything has been said that should be said up to this time concerning it.

Mr. President, I want to take just a moment to say to the Minority Floor Leader, Senator Dent, that in all the meetings that we have had in connection with this subject of legislation, I have had nothing but admiration for his comprehension of unemployment compensation. I repeat that now. I only regret that the tremendous knowledge that he has, and the ability to expound it, is channeled entirely in one direction. That may be the weakness of the approach which we on the Republican side have toward this subject. We do try to look upon both sides of it.

Mr. President, there is just one amendment that I believe should be pointed out to the people which is contained in House Bill No. 120, one of the provisions of House Bill No. 120, and which we in our amendments in committee removed. That deals with unemployment compensation being paid for marital and filial reasons. Mr. President, that was not touched upon either by Senator Dent, to my recollection, or by Senator Kessler. But, very briefly, that in operation means this.

If two people are employed and drawing wages, and the husband of the family or one of the employed members of the family has the opportunity to go to a distant point for a better job at higher compensation, and the other one very naturally feels that he or she must follow, under the proposal of House Bill No. 120 the following spouse would be entitled to the full term of unemployment compensation as written in this bill. I am not going to say any more about it, but that is one of the amendments to which we object. We do not believe that it is equitable.

Mr. President, I believe that it is incumbent upon me to say a little bit concerning the remarks made by the gentleman from Allegheny County, Senator Barr, relative to the release that went out today under the names of Senator Mahany and myself.

It so happens that I had a brief but very interesting discussion with the eminent Speaker of the House, Mr. Andrews, just awhile ago during one of our recesses. One of the things that he said was that he realized the difficulty that the Minority Leader in the House had because he did not have access to a great many sources of information which he, the Speaker of the House, had. Senator Mahany and I, following the Session last evening, were alone in our respective offices. Senator Mahany said to me, "I wish that we had some means whereby we could get our position presented properly. We do not have anyone to write up our stuff or to put it out in the form of releases. As a matter of fact, the only release that we have been able to put out was one that you"—meaning me—"had written out in longhand and had my stenographer write out and send up to the newspapers."

So, what we did, Mr. President, without the aid of any high-priced or high-powered utility publicity man or a man representing any industrial organization in Pennsylvania, is to ask the girls to remain and we whipped up in substance the newspaper release which appeared today and which I hope is printed in the record. If it is not, I so offer it.

"Newspaper Information
"Immediate Release

"Office of "Majority Floor Leader
"Senate of Pennsylvania

"March 16—Senator Rowland B. Mahany, Republican Floor Leader of the Senate, and Senator James Berger, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Labor and Industry, today issued the following joint statement on unemployment compensation:

" 'What we do here today on unemployment compensation may decide whether the man or woman in the mill or in the factory, the mine or the store will be gainfully employed a year or two years from now.

" 'If the General Assembly acts on unemployment compensation in a sensible and rational manner, we can look forward to high employment, increased job opportunities for our people in an ever expanding economy.

" 'If, on the other hand, we approach this problem with emotion and bitterness, we can do irreparable harm not only to those who are employers, but also to those who work for a living.

" 'We, Republicans, believe it is high time that consideration be given to the people who are working as well as those who are out of work. The unemployment compensation bill, as it was reported from the Labor and Industry Committee, provides unemployment compensation at a maximum rate of $35 a week which is well above the national average. It also provides that such benefits shall continue for as long as 30 weeks.

" 'There is every safeguard in this bill that when disaster strikes and a man or woman loses their job through no fault of their own, for financial help to tide them over until new jobs can be found. After all, our people want work at good pay and not subsist on unemployment benefits. This law was intended to be insurance against economic adversity. It must be kept that way.

" 'Right now we are faced with the grave possibility that present benefits will be reduced becaues of heavy payments from the unemployment compensation fund during the recent business downturn.

" 'This must be avoided at all costs, not only now but in the future. If we write into this law provisions which provide "free handouts" through a lot of trick clauses, we will be endangering the reserves set aside for those who are really in need.

" 'How can anyone justify the payment of unemployment compensation to those on vacations? or to have babies? or to students doing part time work with no intention of seeking full employment?

" 'The proponents of these provisions try to justify them on the grounds that the cost will be insignificant, but all our information is that the cost will total milions.

" 'There is not one iota of doubt that if such provisions are written into the unemployment compensation law, 2.7 per cent of every covered employe's wages must be paid into the unemployment compensation fund by employers. This will go down on the books as a labor cost, that will reduce the number of available jobs.

" 'Unemployment compensation is job insurance and it should be treated as insurance. We must never permit wholesale raids on this insurance fund which will so deplete it that there will be no money for the benefits when they are really needed.

" 'The important task ahead of us in Pennsylvania is the expansion of our industrial potential. We want more people working, and to have more people working, we must have more industry.

" 'If we persist in writing into this law a lot of trick clauses to satisfy special groups, we will make the cost of unemployment compensation perpetually high and drive industry out of Pennsylvania instead of bringing it in.

" 'This is just as important to the welfare of those who work for wages and salaries as it is to the owners and managers of our mills, factories and stores. It will be the little fellow who is hurt first, and hurt badly. It is time we were thinking of the greatest good for the greatest number, instead of free handouts for the few.'"

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. DENT. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DENT and Mr. BARR, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—24

Bane,	Donolow,	McGinnis,	Seyler,
Barr,	Haluska,	McMenamin,	Silvert,
Camiel,	Hays,	Miller,	Stiefel,
Dent,	Holland,	Mullin,	Toole,
Derk,	Lane,	Ruth,	Weiner,
DiSilvestro,	McCreesh,	Schmidt,	Yosko,

NAYS—24

Berger,	Harney,	McPherson, Jr.	Wade,
Blass,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Wagner,
Chapman,	Kopriver, Jr.	Peelor,	Watkins,
Diehm,	Madigan,	Scott,	Watson,
Flack,	Mahany,	Stevenson,	Whalley,
Fleming,	Mallery,	Taylor,	Wolfe,

The PRESIDENT. A tie vote of twenty-four "yeas" and twenty-four "nays" having been received, the Chair casts an affirmative vote on this motion.

So the question was determined in the Affirmative.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

RECESS

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for thirty minutes, for the purpose of holding a Democratic Caucus.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Thursday, March 17, 1955, at 12:01 o'clock, a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the Democrats have stated many times that they would not take advantages of acts of God. Therefore, I intend to vote "no" on this motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:15 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Standard Time, until Thursday, March 17, 1955, at 12:01 o'clock a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, March 16, 1955

The House met at 10:00 a. m.
The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God who hast been the hope of many generations, let us now go forth to the work of another day, surrounded by Thy wonderful loving kindness and standing alone in Thy strength. Help us this day to be a Christian not only in words but also in deeds. Let there be no self-pity or self-indulgence in our lives. Let our thinking be keen, our speech frank and open and our actions courageous and decisive.

We would pray not only for ourselves but for all the household to which we belong; for all our friends and all our fellow workers; for all who will today be engaged in settling affairs in the lives of men and nations; for all who are moulding public opinion; for all who are holding aloft the lamp of truth; and for all the unemployed. To Thee we now commend our loved ones and ourselves. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, March 15, 1955 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 89.

An Act to further amend Section 15 of the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 226) entitled "An act providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of all subjects of taxation in counties of the second class creating and prescribing the powers and duties of a Board of Property Assessment Appeals and Review imposing duties on certain county and city officers abolishing the board for the assessment and revision of taxes in such counties and prescribing penalties" by changing the provisions concerning service of notice to taxables upon change of assessments

Whereupon,
The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

The SPEAKER. The day will probably come when the Members of this House will be saying, "Madam Speaker." We might as well begin trying to get used to the idea. Coming events cast their shadows before them. The Chair requests the lady from Northampton, Mrs. Reibman, to preside during today's session. The lady will please come to the Chair.

Mrs. REIBMAN IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. I give the lady from Northampton her choice (of gavels). The lady desires to operate on the basis of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Sewing Circle.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. O'NEIL (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 43.

In the House of Representatives, March 15, 1955.

The destruction of soil fertility by open pit mining has become a weighty problem in many areas of the Commonwealth. The top layers of soil frequently are not replaced in such a way as to be of use for future crop raising. The resultant cost in rebuilding of soil fertility after the close of open pit mining operations, is so great as to make uneconomical the use of the land for grazing of cattle, growth of fruits or vegetables, or other farm uses.

The appearance of the land surface after open pit mining is completed, is frequently of such an aunattractive nature as to be an eyesore and a mar to the appearance of a large area. This occurs to such a great degree as to deter the building of homes and to prevent the development of large areas for residential purposes.

Acid mine drainage from open pit mining operations have long been a problem due to its destruction of waters for industrial and home use. This destruction is contrary to the best interests of the residents of the Commonwealth in that a lack of a good water supply prevents the growth of industry, causes unemployment and if continued, may eventually lead to large segments of the population migrating to other States due to their means of livelihood being abolished as a result of the lack of a supply of wholesome water; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That a committee of the General Assembly, consisting of three members of the Senate to be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate, and three membrs of th House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, shall thoroughly investigate the soil, surface and water destruction in Pennsylvania due to open pit mining operations; and be it further.

Resolved, That the committee shall report to this session of the General Assembly its facts and findings together with such recommendations as it shall deem necessary as to the ways and means of correcting this destruction for the future welfare of the people of Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. AGNEW, GOLDSTEIN, SARRAF, OLSEN, RIGBY, WILT, KAMYK, THOMAS, DONALDSON and LEONARD.
RESOLUTION (Not Printed).

In the House of Representatives, March 15, 1955.

Mr. Sherley Uhl, a reporter connected with the Pittsburgh Press, and assigned to the Harrisburg News Bureau of that newspaper, celebrated his thirty-sixth birthday yesterday, March 14, 1955.

Mr. Uhl, who is the proud father of two children, came originally from Lexington, Kentucky. His happy home life is reflected in his straight-forward and friendly manner towards his friends and acquaintances.

Mr. Uhl's previous experience as a legislative reporter has included the coverage of the sessions of the Legislature of Indiana. His long experience and his fair and impartial coverage of issues before the Pennsylvania General Assembly, as well as his courteous and honest appraisal of the work of the individual legislators, has earned for him the respect and gratitude of the entire membership of the General Assembly as well as the commendation of his readers, who enjoy and benefit from his adequate, competent and complete coverage of legislative happenings in Pennsylvania; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby extends its sincere and hearty congratulations to Mr. Sherley Uhl on his thirty-sixth birthday anniversary, and expresses its hope that he may long continue to give his services to the public in the essential job of informing it, fairly and impartially, of the activities of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Mr. Sherley Uhl.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The SPEAKER pro tempore laid before the House a communication in writing from His Excellency, The Governor, pursuant to House Resolution No. 22 adopted March 7, 1955.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The communication, together with the report concerning the contract with Laventhol, Kerkstein and Company and Price Waterhouse and Company will be printed in full in the Legislative Journal.

Exhibits 2, 3 and 4 filed with this report and the communication from the Governor are referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Commonwealth of Pensylvania Governor's Office
Harrisburg

The Governor March 14, 1955

Hon. Hiram G. Andrews
Speaker, House of Representatives
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Mr. Speaker:

In accordance with House Resolution No. 22, I transmit herewith the desired report covering "all details concerning the contract entered into with Laventhol, Kerkstein and Company, and Price, Waterhouse and Company."

The further report requested in the Resolution, namely "a report of these firms as a result of their work," will be made as soon as this report becomes available. I am happy to advise you that preliminarily, unofficial reports indicate that savings in one year under procedures now being established by these consultants will far exceed the entire cost of installing the system.

Sincerely yours,

GEORGE M. LEADER (signed)

REPORT CONCERNING CONTRACT WITH LAVENTHOL, KIRKSTEIN AND COMPANY AND PRICE, WATERHOUSE AND COMPANY

The general background of this contract is reviewed in considerable detail in the Governor's Office Press Release No. 44 dated February 15, 1955. This release, which is attached as Exhibit 1, contains in full the proposal and text of the contract.

Late in 1950, the Laventhol, Kerkstein Firm was engaged without compensation to study certain aspects of the Commonwealth's accounting system. This was done as a result of numerous criticisms of accounting controls. Typical of these criticisms was one made in 1950 by Honorable Weldon B. Heyburn, then Auditor General, who sharply criticized "the inadequacy of the system of internal control" in the Department of Revenue. The report made by the Laventhol, Kerkstein Company at the time indicated that the Commonwealth's acounting system was outmoded; that the ledger system was a relic, and that responsibility was diffused. The report further criticized the system because it failed to provide information essential to management and budgeting, because it led to uncertainty concerning who had and who had not filed tax reports, and what acounts were settled and what were not. It pointed out that the State had no knowledge of taxes receivable or of refund claims outstanding. Likewise, that there was no automatic system of bringing delinquent acounts to attention.

Specifically, on page 39, the report stated:

"The general design of the accounting system does not stress the importance of separating the duties among the personnel so as to create the maximum degree of internal check. There exists not only numerous possibilities for ordinary error but also the possibilities of planned irregularities without adequate safeguards nor sufficient means of prompt detection."

This report is attached hereto as Exhibit 2.

In 1951, a report was made to the General Assembly by the Joint State Government Commission with respect to the State's acounting system. In the summary of findings on page 1 of that report is the following statement:

"At present the acounts of the Commonwealth are kept on a cash basis but, by virtue of the use of different codes and conventions, reconciliation of the statements of elected officers is difficult; and adequate apprasial of the financial condition of the Commonwealth is impossible.

"Reconciliation difficulties aside, the cash system of accounting not only permits but actually requires the preparation of statements which are at variance with the facts."

On page 32 of that report is a letter from the Pensylvania Institute of Certified Public Acountants relative to the recommendations made in the committees report. The Institute's letter states on page 62:

"Two vitally important objectives will be attainable if these recommendations are adopted:

"1. Prompt and reliable financial statements adequate for administrative decisions will be available to the Governor and other administrative officers and to the General Assembly, and appropriate reports will be available for publication at least annually to the public.

"2. The presently existing possibilities for the manipulation of accounts and for the misappropriation of Commonwealth funds will be substantially reduced."

The Joint State Government Commission's Report is attached as Exhibit 3.

No action was taken to remedy the deficiencies brought to light by either the Laventhol, Kerkstein or Joint State Government Commission's reports. They still remained when the State Government Survey Committee, headed by Francis J. Chesterman, made its report on February 11, 1953. A copy of the Chesterman Report is included as Exhibit 4. Particular attention is directed to page 63 of this report with special reference to the following statement:

"At the present time neither the State's administrative and legislative officials, nor the citizens have available to them adequate financial statements of the State's operations for any period or of the State's financial condition at any date. Furthermore, we are satisfied that it is impossible to prepare such statements under the existing acounting organization and procedures. Special efforts have been made from time to time to endeavor to obtain understandable and comprehensive statements of the State's financial affairs. We are satisfied that no such statements are available and furthermore that they cannot be prepared from the type of information now available."

It was upon the basis of this historical background that the two accounting firms were retained to modernize and strengthen the Revenue Department's collection system.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. READINGER from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, House Bill No. 645, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 27, 1923 (P. L. 858), entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system, and creating certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes, defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom, and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds; imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve; excepting annuities, allowances, returns, benefits, and rights from taxation and judicial process; and providing penalties," defining annual salary and providing for superannuation retirement of members of the General Assembly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WATERHOUSE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Madam Speaker, I have been delegated by the other 209 Members present to compliment Madam Speaker on the maner in which she has handled the Chair and the fact that she has kept exceptionally good order in the House, and has put at least one gentleman in his place who has the habit of roaming around quite a lot, I notice.

We also wish to compliment the pinch-hitting Reading Clerk, and I mean this very, very seriously, as I have what I said about Madam Speaker. He certainly has done a very fine job.

I would also like to suggest to the Speaker of the House, now that it is coming Spring and we have a lot to do on the farm, that we turn the House over to Madam Speaker, that we give leaves of absence to those who are not present today, that she just run the House from here on and let the Speaker of the House and myself go out and get our crops in.

INTERROGATION

The Speaker (Mr. Andrews). I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Erie.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Erie permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I shall, Madam Speaker.

The SPEAKER (Mr. Andrews). Madam Speaker, does the gentleman from Erie present his idea concerning the well-deserved vacation in the form of a motion?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Well, I would.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. I think he had better not.

The SPEAKER (Mr. Andrews). Madam Speaker, I presume that the gentleman from Erie would desire to defer offering the motion until some of the absent brothers are present.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The motion will be filed with the Clerk of the House.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman from Westmoreland rise?

Mr. LOVETT. To ask Madam Speaker to be fair to the gentlemen Members of the House.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. PURSLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, March 21, 1955 at 4:30 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 10:38 a. m.) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 1955. No. 26.

SENATE

THURSDAY, March 17, 1955.

The Senate met at 12:01 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. JOHN C. MOORE, Rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Coudersport, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Who hast given us this Commonwealth for our heritage, we humbly beseech Thee that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of Thy favor and glad to do Thy will. Bless our land with honorable industry, fruitful farming and sound learning. Save us from violence, discord and confusion; from pride and arrogancy and from every evil way. Defend our liberties, and fashion into one united people the multitudes who dwell within our borders, brought hither out of many tongues and lands.

Endue with wisdom those now assembled in Senate Session, to whom Thy name we entrust the authority of government, that there may be justice and peace among us through obedience to Thy law.

In the time of our prosperity, fill our hearts with thankfulness, and in the day of trouble suffer not our trust in Thee to fail; all of which we ask through Thy help and to the glory of Thy Holy Name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. PECHAN, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. VAN SANT, due to illness.

He also asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. PROPERT, due to illness.

CALENDAR

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 14, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 120, entitled:

An Act amending the Act of December 5, 1936 (1937, P. L. 2897), entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis; requiring employers to keep records and make reports, and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons; providing procedure and administrative details for the determination, payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" by redefining certain terms increasing minimum contributions providing for modification of the manner in which contribution rates are determined and redetermined shortening the period necessary to obtain a reduced contribution rate providing for modification of the manner in which eligiblity for compensation is determined increasing the amounts and duration of compensation payments removing certain limitations on the amount and duration of compensation and extending the penal and related provisions of the act.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am only going to speak very briefly in relation to this bill. I think most of the debate on it, pro and con, took place yesterday afternoon.

Mr. President, Governor Leader, at the C.I.O. convention, at the Bellevue-Stratford, in Philadelphia, has pretty much stated my position, and perhaps the position of the Republican Party in relation to unemployment compensation in a speech he made there to that convention, as carried by the Philadelphia Inquirer of Thursday morning, March 17, 1955. Mr. President, I quote from that article:

"Leader said he would propose to the State Legislature 'every measure we can deevlop which will bring the State's assistance to our Pennsylvania economy. He asked that the economic program be approved and supported by labor and management, and the Republicans as well as the Democrats'."

Then, Mr. President, he adds this, which is really the meat of it:

" 'But you will realize," he said, "that there are limits to what can be done in a single State—even in a State so large and so diverse as Pennsylvania . . . We are in a strong competition—hard, difficult competition—with other areas for growth and employment opportunities'."

I think, Mr. President, that that about epitomizes what I said yesterday afternoon when we were debating the amendments to this bill. That is, certainly, we cannot place burdens on the industries of Pennsylvania which similar industries do not have in other states. If we do that we surely are not going to be able to attract industry to our State and, certainly, we will not give the industry which we have here an inclination to expand.

Mr. President, for some reason or other, this bill, when it reaches the Calendar, seems to be hurried up. Over in the House, House Bill No. 120, when it was introduced by its sponsor, Mr. Lopresti, at the very time he introduced it, the bill, for some reason or other, was in print. Immediately upon its introduction, the printed bills were delivered to the desks of the Members of the House. It passed First Reading, as I remember, on that Monday and, then, the following Tuesday, it passed Second Reading, and Third Reading and Final Passage on Wednesday. I thought that was somewhat of a record. However, we certainly outdid that record when it hit the Calendar of the Senate.

Mr. President, this bill was reported out of committee on Tuesday, after eleven o'clock. I believe we met at eleven o'clock on Tuesday morning. It passed First reading on Tuesday; yesterday, being Wednesday, we debated the bill at length and it passed Second Reading and, then, a few hours later, we are now considering it on third reading and final passage.

It is a very complicated bill, Mr. President. It comprises forty-nine pages; it has been amended and then the amendments taken out and then amendments put back in. I will venture to say, Mr. President, that right now there are very few, if any, of the Senators here present who know all of the provisions of this bill, its ramifications and the affect that it might have both on industry and on the employees of Pennsylvania.

Therefore, Mr. President, I feel that the just and honorable thing for us to have done was to have left this bill on our Calendar until we could come back next Monday. In the meantime, we may have had the opportunity of conferring with some of our constituents, with the storekeepers, with some of the industries, with certain employees and leaders so that they might give us the benefit of their thoughts on this very important and vital piece of legislation to the people of Pennsylvania.

Also, Mr. President, it is disconcerting to me to see the great drive which the Democrats seem to be putting on to put this bill across. For some reason or other, there is a great hurry. I have been in the Legislature since 1943 and I believe this is the first time I have been here, this early in the Session, that we have resorted to a midnight Session in order to act upon a bill.

Mr. President, we Republicans have tried to work with the Democrats in relation to this bill. We have tried to show them that there is no particular hurry. We surely could act on this bill next week. However, they have not heeded our advice in connection with it, or our request to leave it go until next week. For some reason or other, they do not wish to have the majority, which we theoretically have on this side of the aisle, act on this legislation. They are very fearful that next Monday we are going to have one who got into an automobile accident come back up here and vote. Suppose we did, Mr. President, suppose we had both Senator Van Sant and Senator Propert here. After all, we are supposed to have the majority. Certainly, the Democrats should not take advantage of any act of God in order that they might have the majority instead of our side. We are the Majority Party in the Senate, theoretically anyway, and surely we will take the obligation for anything that we do in relation to this bill.

For that reason, Mr. President, the fact that we have not had proper time to study all of the amendments which were placed in the bill just a few hours ago, and because of the fact that we desire to wait until next week when we can have, perhaps, another of our Members present, we on this side of the aisle have decided that we must necessarily vote as a unit against the passage of this House Bill No. 120.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it is difficult to again review the many features of this bill. The Membership of the Senate has not changed since yesterday afternoon. Therefore, anything that I might say relative to the subject matter of the bill itself would be superflous.

However, Mr. President, the arguments advanced by the leader of the opposition are not particularly contained in the legislation itself, but rather in the realm of political consideration. Inasmuch as we have reached that stage which is the final stage which most legislation finally arrives at in a legislative body, I think it would do us all good to consider the political aspect now. Since yesterday afternoon we discussed the bill itself, let us take a little time this morning to follow the cue of the opposition leader and talk about the political aspects.

First of all, Mr. President, let us straighten out for the record the inference, thrice repeated, that the Democratic side is taking advantage of the acts of God. I am sure that the minister who prayed over this body tonight would be in a much better position than any of us to discuss the works of God. However, the works of God sometimes are upset by the strategy of the devil. So, let us not tonight, in considering a mundane matter, get ourselves confused on the questional of Biblical propriety of what we are attempting to do.

Mr. President, we have tried in our way to emphasize to the Senate of Pennsylvania, and to the people of this great Commonwealth, that in our brief moment of glory we wanted to wipe out the inequities which have been built up over the years.

The day before yesterday, in discussing the peril point amendments, I called attention to the fact that a contract had been made between the Republican Party and representatives of certain industries. In this contract, representatives of certain industries had willingly signed an agreement in which they said that if you, the Republican Party, allow us to take from the compensation reserve fund some four hundred odd millions of dollars by special consideration in our contribution rate, we will protect you, the Republican Party, in case we have a catastrophic year in which unemployment will reach the point where it may amount to more than one and one-half times as much as we leave in the fund by the way of benefit. payments. We willingly will come forward and say to you that we will pay the top limit of 2.7 into the fund to replenish the moneys that we have haken out. The Republican Party gleefully accepted this contract.

Mr. President, we on the Democratic side pointed out at that time that within a decade we might be faced with the very situation that confronts the State of Pennsylvania today. Not being satisfied with that, they accepted a long-standing rule that had been written in under the leadership, I believe, of the present Treasurer of the Commonwealth, the then Majority Leader, Weldon Heyburn, in which it was determined that labor, receiving benefits amounting to a maximum of so many dollars, would, in case the fund reached the point where it was in peril, have to take a cut, a reduction in its benefits. Labor was never considered a part of the agreement. It was never asked to sign the contract. It was brought into the contract without their permission. Labor never accepted the termrs of the contract. Labor never participated in the agreement.

Mr. President, tonight we find ourselves up against a situation where the Republican Majority has made up its mind to operate on a unit rule and under a Caucus agreement. That is not strange and it is not new. The unit rule is always invoked and always prescribed when there is a fear that independence may crop up and assert itself. The most cowardly device, the most cowardly device in legislative action, is the action known as the unit rule because you have on one hand an individual who happens to have within him a spark of responsibility to his constituency, and in order to keep that individual from exercising his personal prerogatives, a unit rule is invoked. I would venture to say here on the floor of the Senate tonight that if the Republican Party, as represented in this Senate by the so-called theoretical majority, would call a Caucus at this minute and lift the unit rule, we would receive upon a final vote on this legislation at least six votes on the Republican side.

Now, you are told your Members, and I am sure you have, that you can vote under the unit rule tonight; the bill will be defeated by your action and on Monday evening, when by the grace of God and with all our good wishes, one of the Senators who has been incapacitated because of an accident may be with us. When he comes here, you have told these Members who want to vote for the bill, we will revive the bill, reconsider our action and then we will re-amend the bill, put it back into the position that it was in before this Democratic practical majority amended the bill, and then you will be out in the clear because you will have an opportunity to vote upon the bill again.

Mr. President, in order that there be no misunderstanding on the part of any individual in the Senate of Pennsylvania, let us now place before the Senate the actual facts of what will happen. We, on the Democratic side, are no longer going to be intimidated into a position of taking a bad bill because there are some good features in it. We are not going to allow you, under any conditions, to say that we will grant the $5.00 raise and an extension of four weeks more of benefit payments and, at the same time, cut the eligibility to two out of five claimants in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We will not take that kind of a compromise any more. Compromises, as I have said so many times on the floor of the Senate, are a sign of weakness. If you are right, stand up and be counted upon what you think is right. We have had to take compromises in the past sixteen years. We have had to take them to save, for labor and the working people of this Commonwealth, even the few crumbs that were given from the tables of the Republican Majority. However, no longer will we take that or stand for that type of compromise with our conscience. Either we give to the people of Pennsylvania a piece of legislation that has honor and merit to it, or we are willing to stand by your decision tonight to let you defeat the bill. Better to have no legislation at all in unemployment compensation than to have a bill that is fostered by illegitimate parents. We will not, under any conditions, allow ourselves to be inveigled into the position that we will compromise on what we think, on this day of our Lord, is the proper and decent type of legislation for the unemployed in this great State.

Remember, Mr. President, that unemployment is a constant condition in an industrial State. It is no longer a matter that you can write off of the books during times of great prosperity. During the great six years of the highest income which this State has enjoyed, we paid out an average of $85,000,000 a year in unemployment compensation. That proves beyond a shadow of a doubt that unemployment is a constant occurrence in this great Commonwealth. Having the constancy of unemployment, we must as a legislative body enact legislation that takes care of that type of a perennial problem.

Mr. President, the gentleman who is the leader of the opposition read from today's newspaper. This afternoon I told all of you that I was not so good on reading reading let alone reading writing. So, I am never confused by newspaper stories. I read them and I enjoy them. However, I do not let them influence my thinking because if the people of this great Commonwealth intended that we legislate by what is contained in the newspapers, they would not have elections; they would just buy the daily newspapers.

Confidentially, for the interest of you men on the other side, if we paid too much attention to the newspapers, George Leader would not be Governor of this great Commonwealth. I read this paper while the gentleman from Crawford was reading it, and I just want to note for his interest that he did not read all of it.

Mr. President, there is a fellow by the name of Dewey, from the State of New York, who by back-stage maneuvering was twice able to get the Republican nomination for President and was twice defeated. You know, he had a favorite trick that he used. He used to take a story or a release by a Democrat, and he would read out of context. He would make it suit his purposes. Do you know that if you read the Bible wrongly, you can sin all you wish because it forgives you? You cannot do that; you must read the whole story. Let us see what the Governor did say. It might be interesting to the Republican Members to know what the Governor did say.

" 'After all,' said the Governor—I hope this is a factual representation of what he said—'why should an unemployed worker be treated differently from State to State? Unemployment is the same hardship—whether it occurs in Pennsylvania or Louisiana, in New England, or the Pacific Coast.'

"Leader said he would propose to the State Legislature 'every measure we can develop which will bring the State's assistance to our Pennsylvania economy. He asked that the economic program be aproved and supported by labor and management, and the Reublicans.

" 'But you will realize,' he said, 'that there are limits to what can be done in a single State.'

"He urged a legislative program that has the energy, the foresight, and the courage to realize the physical and human resources of this Commonwealth as a solution to the problems."

Mr. President, the Governor said that the unemployment compensation in this Commonwealth must be an outstanding piece of legislation that will set this State number one in the Commonwealth of States.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, if the gentleman on the other side—and I personally got the distinct reaction from the remarks of the opposition leader that he wanted to please the Governor. If you want to please the Governor of this Commonwealth—thank you, Senator DiSilvestro, I will quote your words, "Vote for the bill." This is an administration bill, sponsored by the Leader Administration.

I do not want to discuss the very weak argument proposed by the oposition leader when he said that we have not had time to study it. Is it not true that the bill appeared on our calendar after careful consideration by the committee for five weeks? Is it not true that the committee placed as many amendments into the bill as we placed this afternoon? Is it not true that you were ready to vote upon that bill as it was amended by the committee? Was there any discussion upon the floor that you were unable to consider the vote because the committee had amended it?

In order to make it easy for you to understand, in order that those of you who may be a little slow in gathering the facts that are contained in the bill, all we did this afternoon was put it back into the same condition that it was before the committee emasculated it. Now, for five weeks, the bill has been in the possession of the Senate. All we did was give it to you in the same form because we were disturbed, too, the same as the Republican leader, that maybe you did not understand it the way the Senate committee had amended it. In order to keep you from being confused and disturbed, we decided to give it to you in the same manner that it came from the House, which was a simple form.

Mr. President, all it does now, all that the bill does now is give to the people of Pennsylvania an unemployment compensation bill that does this. It increases the benefits from $30 to $35 maximum; it increases the duration period from twenty-six to thirty weeks; it allows the payment of compensation for pregnancy up until the moment that the pregnant person decides that she no longer can work or handle her job. It pays for those who belong to unions compensation during a vacation period when they are ineligible for vacation rights, the same as the present law says to nonunion members. It pays for the voluntary quits when such voluntary quits are based upon personal and family good. It wipes out, if you please, the inequities that have been instituted in this bill since the year 1939, and gives back to the people a bill based upon a dual function. It gives the people of Pennsylvania a bill that has, as well as an economic aspect, a social aspect.

You know, Mr. President, it is interesting to me to note that when this bill was before the House, made up of 210 duly elected Members of the General Assembly, 207 Members voted for its passage and only three voted against it.

Now, you Senators who come from districts where your entire House Membership voted for the bill, and are of the same political faith as they are, will have to do some explaining somewhere along the line as to who was right. Was the House Member right or was the Senator right? Or, do you really believe those fairy tales about Senators being Supreme Beings? Certainly, you cannot believe that you have more intelligence than your House Member. I would resent very much, if I were a Member of the House, to believe that my action in the House was questioned by my Senator. Confidentially, I always look at the vote my House Members give in order to guide me as to what to do. They are very close to the people, you know.

You Members of the Republican Senate are hiding behind a unit rule tonight. No individual can hide behind that. This vote will be called, and this vote will be recorded and this vote will be verified. Each and every Member of this Senate will be recorded as to his desires, his wishes upon this piece of legislation. This is the most important piece of legislation that will come before the Members of this Senate during this year of our Lord, because it deals with those who are unfortunate enough to be out of work.

Mr. President, my father used to say that a man with a full belly could never sympathize with a person begging food. That is true. We Members of the Senate, and we are grateful for it, most of us spent more tonight for dinner than these unemployed persons will spend for meals for their entire families. If you think $35 is too much money for a week, try to live on it. If you think that when you are unemployed thirty weeks is too long to be paid out of the fund, which you have contributed into, just try being unemployed. Try having the man come around to collect the gas bill, the electric bill, the water bill, the payments on your home, the payments on your car; try having them come around on $35.00 a week.

Mr. President, this particular piece of legislation is no longer to be decided by a unit rule. You cannot hide behind the subterfuge of party loyalty. We have had no caucus action. We forced no Member on this side into the position of voting for or against this bill. I realize that that is humorous to you fellows because you do not know how we Democrats operate. You know, notoriously, the Democratic Party has more chiefs than Indians. Each one of the Members on this side takes himself seriously. You know, they think they are Senators. They believe that in being Senators, they were elected in their particular Districts and, under the Constitution, they are supposed to represent their districts and the people of Pennsylvania. I could never go back to my District and say that I voted against you because we had a unit rule. You know what they would say to me back home? They would say, "Well, we had better send a unit to Harrisburg."

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, nothing I say will change a vote. They know that and I know that. However, in order that we all understand each other, let us understand this. This is for publication; this is for the record and this is for the Members of the Senate. I hope you comprehend fully what I am about to tell you.

If you defeat this bill tonight, industry in Pennsylvania will pay 2.7 contribution rate. Nothing you do after tonight will change that. If you defeat this bill tonight, the fault and blame will be upon your heads. We have tried to show industry that we have a feeling of good will, a feeling of understanding of their problem and we have cut down the possible cost of $230,000,000 a year to a maximum of $140,000,000 a year. When you vote tonight in your unit, you are passing upon industry in this State a 2.7 contribution of approximately two hundred and thirty odd millions of dollars, on a possible chargable payroll of eight and one-half billion dollars and there is nothing you can do Monday night, Tuesday night, next week or the week after to change that. We are determined to stand upon the position we have built and allow the results to be measured by the people.

We say to you, in all sincerity, that those of you who have a feeling for the labor in your district, for the merchant in your district, for the industry in your district, you are passing upon them a sentence that they, themselves, contracted for and we are willing to amend for them. You are saying to them tonight that you are willing to have industry pay that high rate of compensation. If you believe we do not mean what we are saying, just continue your unit rule tonight. You can revive the bill Monday night; yon can send it back to committee Monday night; you can amend it in committee on Tuesday; you can bring it out emasculated as you have before; and then you can pass it. You can bring those who, unfortunately, are incapacitated at the moment back into the halls. We know you will.

Mr. President, during one of the Sessions of this Legislature, the wheel chairs were busier than the bicycles. You will bring those men back and we know that. However, when you do, remember this. We are not going to back down.

Mr. President, either the people of this State are going to get a good bill or they get no bill at all. This is not a threat. This is a simple statement of a simple fact. Have your unit rule if you so desire and then we, as individuals, without a unit rule, without caucus action, will stick together to do that which is right for the people.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, during the last two months I have listened to the gentleman from Crawford talk about acts of God. I am proud to be a Member of this body as I am tonight. I am proud of my Republican colleagues and my Democratic colleagues.

Mr. President, I have been here for twenty-one years and I cannot say that I have been proud of this body at all times throughout those many years. However, I am getting somewhat tired of sitting here and listening about the acts of God which the Democratic Party is taking advanage of. I do not know where or how. We could, if we so wished tonight, fall back on that act and take charge of the Senate. We have not done that. We realize that the Republicans are in the majority. We know it is their responsibility to answer to the people.

Mr. President, I can go back fifteen years and paint a different picture, a different scene, and it was not an act of God either. We had twenty-six Members in the Senate, and the Republicans had twenty-four. The people had spoken. What happened that day? Some day I may tell the true story, if I have to sit back and listen to references to acts of God, of which we are taking advantage.

Mr. President, I want to say tonight that I was one of the two men who was contacted by Republican powers, not for one moment, not for one hour but for weeks. I was offered plenty. I was offered cold cash if I changed my vote and helped the Republicans organize the Senate. Was that an act of God? The other Member is sitting in this body tonight and he was with me. He was offered a like amount to double cross, to sell our souls and sell our intelligence, our integrity.

Mr. President, we believe that the people have spoken. In 1939, the Republicans were in the minority and we were entitled to organize the Senate. You know, Mr. President, I was happy last November, when I came to Harrisburg after the election. What I first did was to talk to this young man sitting here, our colleague, Senator Barr, our Democratic State Chairman. I said, "Joe,"—I had my good friend, Senator Lane, with me—"is it possible for us to organize the Senate this year? We have a Democratic House, a Democratic Governor but a Republican majority in the Senate." I was proud of his answer. He said, "John, we shall make no attempt to buy one vote. If any of the Republicans come over with us, they are welcome. But, as Chairman of the Democratic Party, I will not permit anyone to negotiate a deal of any type which will involve money or promises." That, to me, showed his manhood. I will respect him forever.

However, Mr. President, they stopped myself and another Member of this Body that night and we said, "No, we do not want your money. We cannot take it. We must live with ourselves." Then I was told definitely and clearly that, "If you two do not take it, we have two other Democrats who will." That morning I told my Democratic State Chairman, then David Lawrence, that we were being sold down the river. He said, "John, I cannot believe it." Right in this body, you saw a sight and as John Dent said, "an act of the devil." Right here, two men were dragged out of the barber shop, highly intoxicated, with liquor pumped into them by the hour, left back in that room and we were innocently waiting for them. They were missing. Then, after those persuasive powers and any offers they may have made to them, they walked up to their seats and double-crossed the people of Pennsylvania. They sold out their souls for a piece of gold.

Mr. President, the Republicans talk about acts of God. I do not want to hear anymore of it. If I do, Mr. President, I may unravel a story that will rock this State.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, it seems that Senator Haluska is always charging that somebody is trying to bribe someone else. It was not very long ago, I believe it was in the last Session that he made a charge—or was it two Sessions ago—that one of his colleagues here in the Senate offered him a bribe to vote for certain legislation. After investigation, we found out that no such offer was made, and the result of the investigation is in the record and shows that the Senator from Cambria sometimes has hallucinations.

Mr. President, I am not going to go back to 1939 to find out what happened. I was not a Member of this body then, and I do not want to go clear back to then or what has hapened since, how to get eople from one side of the aisle to the other. One of our fellows came in here as a Republican and happens to be over there. I am not going to go into all that. I hope he is over there because he wants to be.

I want to say this, Mr. President. I do not think we should go back into history in order to dig up a lot of stuff, because that certainly is not pertinent to what we are discussing here tonight. I do say that the decent thing would be to allow us a few days to bring in a Member or two, if we can have them here, so that they may vote for the constituents who elected them.

Mr. President, I am going to leave that subject right now. Perhaps, I am out of order in so doing. However, I want to talk on the bill and I want to answer some of the statements made by Senator Dent.

First, Mr. President, Senator Dent brought out that somebody or other made a contact with the Republican Party to put in certain terms of the present Unemployment Compensation Law. I do not know how you enter into a contract with the Republican Party, even if you wanted to. There are certainly millions of Republicans in the State of Pennsylvania and how you enter into a contract with all of them, I do not know. I do know, however, Mr. President, that back in 1941 the Joint State Government Commission made a certain study relative to the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law. I hold in my hand now a copy of that report. In that report, they recommended that the one and one-half times factor be put in on the benefit side, and also would affect the contributions when it reached the peril point.

Now, when I opened up the cover of that pamphlet and looked at the early pages of it, I found the Joint Legislative Committee, which was apointed to study the employment compensation provisions and made the recommendation to the Legislature that they pass that provision, and among those distinguished gentlemen, of which Weldon B. Heyburn was the Chairman, the very next name I saw was the name of the Honorable John H Dent. I presume—I do not find any dissenting report here or minority report—that he must have gone along with those recommendations. Therefore, if any contact was made with anybody, I think he was probably a party to it.

Now, Mr. President, the gentleman from Westmoreland talks about compromises being a sign of weakness. Bless his heart, almost every bill we have here is a compromise of some kind, including the present bill, House Bill No. 120. The fact of the matter is, I believe that the gentleman was present when the Governor told me that this was a compromise bill. It compromises certain things with labor representatives. Labor wanted more. They came up with this and it was give and take, back and forth, for a good long while until they finally compromised and came up with this bill. If the gentleman is correct in saying that compromises are a sign of weakness, then this is a weak bill. He knows that we have compromised on just about every piece of legislation. For instance, we tentatatively agreed the other day here in connection with House Bill No. 1 on a compromise in the Conference Committee. The gentleman has been on many Conference Committees, and he knows about the give-and-take in connection with the work of the conference committees. He also knows that they come out nine times out of ten with a compromise bill.

Mr. President, the gentleman also talks about the unit rule and looks down his nose about us enforcing a unit rule. He does remember much about what his father has told him, and I often marvel at how he remembers those things. I think that he sometimes digs up a lot of stuff and blames it on his poor old father.

I think if you would search the Legislative Journal of the last session, Mr. President—and I remember a bill which Senator Dent and I put in dealing with abolishing the Tax Equalization Board—you will find that the unit rule was used by the other side. I remember the gentlemen from Westmoreland getting up over there and saying, "I am sorry, I am very sorry that I have to vote against this bill,"—it was his own bill, he co-sponsored it—"but, we have adopted Caucus action on this bill and, therefore, I am forced to vote against it."

Mr. President, we probably would not be here now if they had not adopted some kind of a unit rule over there. It has not been many hours ago when I thought that we were going to get on our way home. I get rather mixed up, and I have to stop and think whether today is Wednesday or Thursday. I guess this is Thursday, early in the morning.

Yesterday, Mr. President, when we were back in the back rooms having lunch, we asked the Senator about what we could expect to do in relation to our hotel rooms. We said we would like to get out and go home, and we wanted to know whether he was going to hold us over another day. In reply, he not only told me but several others—I do not think that I am betraying any confidence, it was not told in confidence—that Wednesday would be the last day. I said to him, "I am asking this so that I may tell the other Members of my Caucus here what they should do in relation to making plans for going home, getting checked out of their hotel, etc," and he said, "Well, we will put these amendments in today, pass it on Second Reading and then we will take it up on Third Reading next Monday." I told my people this, and so they checked out of their hotel rooms and made plans for going home. Two or three hours later after we had debate on the amendments, however, I went over and I said, "What hapened?" "Well," he said, "I could not hold my Caucus and we all decided that we would have to stay here tonight and vote on this bill on Final Passage."

Mr. President, the gentleman soon forgets. However, I am glad that he remembers all the nice things that his father told him. I wish that my father had given me all the advice that his father has given him.

One thing which bothers me more than anything about this bill, Mr. President, is that the gentleman, in all of his long debate in connection with this bill yesterday afternoon, using the blackboard and going on for an hour and one-half, I think at no time gave any inference where any other State in the United States had adopted one of these fringe benefits which he is trying to put into this bill. He told us about how legislation is being introduced in some of the other States to raise the benefits from twenty-five dollars to thirty dollars, and some from thirty dollars to thirty-five dollars and still others from thirty-five dollars to thirty-eight dollars. I want to call his attention to this fact, that in some of those States they have dependency benefits. If you have one, two or three children, they give you more money than if you do not have children. Under the circumstances, you just cannot roughly say that such and such a State has thirty-eight dollars of benefits. Pennsylvania is only now considering thirty-five dollars because you have taken into consideration whether or not these other States have dependency benefits and what other things of a benefit nature are contained in their laws.

At no time did he state, Mr. President, that New York has a bill which provides for unemployment compensation for women in industry who become pregnant, nor can he state that they have an act there which provides for vacation pay and also provides for unemployment compenstaion at the same time. The gentleman from Westmoreland did not state any of the things which New York, Ohio, Maryland or any other State in the Union provides in comparison with what he is trying to make Pennsylvania put on the statute books.

Mr. President, I would like to have some time, between now and next Monday, to find out what New York pays, what Ohio pays, Maryland and these other States. If Senator Dent, in all of the study which he has made of the unemployment compensation law, has not been able to find out what these other States pay, he certainly should not ask us now to vote on this bill without our knowing whether we are a way high over those States or whether we are a way low.

Mr. President, referring to my previous remarks, of course, I did not put in all that the Governor stated. I thought I would put in the context of it, the meat of it, and that was that he certainly did not think that we should have much higher compensation costs here in Pennsylvania than what they have in the other States. He thought we should try to be equal with the other States. Otherwise, Mr. President, as I stated yesterday afternoon, you cannot attract industry into Pennsylvania, or have industry expand here, if the other States are not in line with our charges on industry.

Mr. President, I want to make it crystal clear—and I want to close with this—to not only the Members of this body but also to all of the people of Pennsylvania, the employed as well as the unemployed, that the Republicans here are ready and willing, and have been so, to amend the unemployment compensation law so that the maximum benefits will be raised to thirty-five dollars and also that the coverage shall be increased to a maximum of thirty weeks. The only thing with which we are not satisfied at the present time are these fringe benefits. We do not feel, at the present time, that we know sufficiently about them and their affect upon industry and this fund to pass them. Therefore, for that reason, we expect to vote "no."

Mr. President. I do not know what kind of a threat that was when the gentleman made a statement over there saying, "It was not a threat," but we expect to stand by our guns, too, Senator, and then next week if you still stand by yours, well, perhaps, we will not be able to get anywhere. We will have to let the chips fall where they may.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, first of all, I think that it is only proper that we clear up one particular thing. If the gentleman will look again at that book which he was reading from a minute ago, the Report of the Joint State Government Commission, he will find that the committee is named there of which I was a member, but he will not find at the end of the book any signature of mine okaying the report. They listed the committee members who served upon that committeee. If you will look back also at that time, 1941, you will find that the membership of that committee was eighty-five per cent Republican and fifteen per cent Democrat.

Mr. President, under the Republican rule in this State, we have not had too much say on any committee. It might also be interesting to note that although we have twenty-four votes in the Senate and the Republicans have, theoretically, twenty-six, most of the committees give them sixty-five per cent of the membership on a committee and the Democrats thirty-five per cent. They take no chances on "acts of God" when it comes to committee membership.

Mr. President, the leader on the other side said that he had not had a chance to study just what the bill does and what these amendments do. That is not quite true, because I have before me a portfolio which was presented to the leader of the other side, to the chairman of the committee, and to all other interested parties, made up by the Department of Labor and Industry, Bureau of Unemployment Compensation. These reports and descriptive folders take each and every amendment, describe what the amendment does, what its effect upon the total bill is, what the affect upon the economy of the Commonwealth are, and compares the features with the features in other States.

For instance, Mr. President, I do not want to take one or two hours today to explain to the members on the other side of the aisle the contents of our amendments, because it would not affect the vote. The Majority Floor Leader has said that they have declared a unit rule, and under that there is no argument which can change the vote. However, just to let the record know one thing, the most controversial issue before us has been that dealing with pregnancy.

Mr. President, let us look at the laws in other States. We find ourselves in a position where Pennsylvania is ranked with two other States. Now, let me read, for the information of the Senate, the facts as they are known to be:

"Thirty-three States have no special provision for disqualification of workers. Of the eighteen who do have such a provision, seven provide for determination of unavailability rather than disqualification. Only three states, other than Pennsylvania, contain a blanket disqualification."

Mr. President, I can take every feature of this bill; I can name the States which have laws concerning the "personal good" clause, which is one of our amendments; I can tell you the States, one by one, who have outlawed the features that the Republican Party wants to outlaw. If you pass your type of a bill, we will be classified with States such as Nevada, Nebraska, Montana, New Mexico, Mississippi, Utah, Washington, Wyoming and Rhode Island.

Mr. President, this great Commonwealth of ours has gone through many days, days of pride, days I can imagine of despair, but never has the State of Pennsylvania gone through days of degradation. Let us not degrade this State of ours to the point where its laws dealing with the welfare of the people of this Commonwealth are compared to the States, in the firmament of States, who have nothing in common with us. They have not the industrial power; they have not the financial power; they have not the things which we so proudly talk about upon the platforms and which we so proudly represent when we attend meetings all over this Country of ours as representatives of the great State of Pennsylvania.

If the gentleman from Crawford failed to read the reports which were given him, Mr. President, then I would like for a Page to come up now and I will give him my copy, because I have read mine and I know I believe what is in the reports.

Mr. President, during the days when we were fighting the battle in the minority, we were never given the comprehensive, detailed information which has been provided by the Department of Labor in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, provided to you, the Republicans, the same as it was provided to us the Democrats. We have no fear of knowledge. The only fear that we have is the fear of ignorance. However, if we give you the benefit of the facts and you do not care to learn them, then do not stand up and say that you need time.

Mr. President, no Members of this Senate will be better qualified to vote three months from now than he is tonight. Every Member of this Senate has heard both sides of the argument. I am sure that the gentleman on the other side realizes that what I lacked in formal education, I made up by the careful attention to the advice of my father, and may God bless him and keep him.

My father was a great fellow. Of course, I could tell you some of the stories he told me, but I will not take your time tonight because it takes a little time to translate them. You know, in his own way, he anticipated many of the problems that I might be faced with as I went on through life. I remember one thing he said to me a long time ago. He used to say to me, "Johnny, the emptiest barrel makes the loudest noise," and I have learned that to be true. He also told me once that when you are in a crowded room and somebody hollers "thief," and claims that there is a thief in the room, grab him for he will probably have your pocketbook.

Mr. President, I say to the Members on the other side that we are not trying to do anything tonight which is not right and reasonable. The duty of a minority group, and we are reminded so often that we are the minority, is to use every legal, every parliamentary strategy that is available under the law and under the rules, in order to proceed with the purposes in mind. The gentleman said, "Why do you not wait and give us a chance to bring back our members?" It would not make any difference. You would only vote one vote any way, whether you had twenty-six or thirty-four or fifteen. You are not individuals; you are a unit. I do not know why you call the roll. When you call the roll, Mr. President, call our names on this side and on the other side say, "How does the unit vote?"

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I want to be very brief but I wish to say that the gentleman from Crawford is very inconsistent. He rose in place and said that he does not think that we should go back to yesteryear and discuss legislation or other matters which have happened here of importance, but in the same breath he took the opportunity to remind this body of certain charges which I made and he proudly boasted about the results appearing in the records, which is true.

Mr. President, the Johnstown papers, which were never friendly to me, best analyzed my answer. They covered the hearings very, very carefully and on the final day wrote an editorial and said:

"It appears to us that the State Senate who investigated the Haluska charges," and they quoted Julius Caesar and said, "They came down to bury the charges and not to listen to them."

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, for about one minute I would like to address a few remarks to the bill before us this morning.

Mr. President, there are two things in this bill which I think Governor Leader was speaking of when he said that it is designed to make Pennsylvania attractive to new industries. The first thing is the fact that, under this bill, the tax rate on employers is estimated to be 1.65%. I think that this point, on the amount of the tax, has not been fully understood and discussed here or reported in the papers.

Last year, Pennsylvania's tax for unemployment compensation purposes was 1.1%, Mr. President. This bill is calculated to raise it to 1.65%. Under the present law, even if the so-called one and one-half times peril point is taken out, and assuming that it is taken out, if the present tables are allowed to remain in it, the employer's tax will be approximately 2.0%.

Mr. President, Senator Dent, in his very able presentation yesterday afternoon, pointed out that the present law, if it is allowed to remain in effect, will bring in next year from employers approximately $170,000,000. That figure itself came from the representatives of the State Chambers of Commerce who testified at a hearing, at which I was present, last week. That is not our figure, that is not the Department's figure, but it is the Chamber of Commerce's figure.

Mr. President, it is the Administration's estimate that House Bill No. 120 will bring in $140,000,000. That means that this bill lessons the tax on employers by approximately $30,000,000, or approximately .35%.

The second feature which is designed to attract industry into Pennsylvania, Mr. President, is something that has not yet been mentioned, and that is the provision in House Bill No. 120 which allows a new employer coming into Pennsylvania to qualify for merit rating after one year in the State. Under the present law, an employer, after coming into the State, must wait four years before being able to qualify for a merit rating.

Mr. President, certainly these two features, the lowering of the tax on employers by $30,000,000 and the liberalization of the merit rating system so as to allow new industry in Pennsylvania to qualify after one year, should be an inducement to new industries.

It seems to me, Mr. President, that every representative here tonight from a distressed area should be happy to vote for this bill, if for no other reason than that these two features are in the bill. It may not be a perfect bill but I think that it is, all in all, a good bill and, apparently, it is the best bill we can get under the circumstances.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I wish to thank the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, for sending over this folder. The last time he called a Page and sent something over to me, which was not quite two years ago, it was a nice shirt. It was on the closing night of the Session and I certainly enjoyed it, and I enjoy having this folder. However, he certainly does not expect me and the rest of the Senators here to read all this material.

I admit, Mr. President, that I did receive such a folder from the Department of Labor two, three or four weeks ago. There was no need to go through it then, because I knew that the Committee on Labor and Industry was studying this bill, and they were going to try to make some changes in it and I thought I would get a chance to study it all when it came out of committee. Just because you know that I had that opportunity and, perhaps, did not exercise it, does not mean that all the rest of these Senators here had the same opportunity. Not all of us are Members of the Senate Committee on Labor and Industry. Perhaps that committee had an opportunity to go into all of this matter, but the rest of the Senators here, who are not on that committee, and had this bill flung at them only a few short hours ago, certainly are not now prepared to vote on it.

I want to bring out, Mr. President, what some of the other States are doing in connection with these fringe benefits. This was given to me by Senator Kessler; I do not know his source but I take it that he got it from an established source which would be accurate.

Mr. President, in connection with pregnancy, the Ohio law is "Disqualification under law for any week of unemployment due to pregnancy until after employment and wages equal to weekly benefit amount."

The State of New York: "Disqualified for any week caused or arising out of pregnancy."

New Jersey: "No specific provision except requirements of able to work and availability for work."

Indiana: "Absolute disqualification during pregnancy."

Maryland: "Disqualified at least two months before two months after child birth."

West Virginia: "Disqualified until employed 30 days in insured work."

Mr. President, in connection with domestic circumstances—I think that we all understand that this is where the father or the husband leaves for employment in some other place and the wife and daughter or son has to go along—I want to state what other States are doing. If we pass this bill, the father in domestic circumstances would be entitled to unemployment compensation even though he may have withdrawn from his employment voluntarily.

In Ohio: "Disqualification under law for unemployment due to quitting to marry or because of marital, parental, filial or other domestic obligations and until after earnings equal to weekly benefit amount."

In the State of New York: "Individual leaving work for domestic circumstances generally held to be not available for work and hence disqualified."

The State of New Jersey: "Disqualified when availability is limited because of domestic reasons."

In Indiana: "Disqualified until they have earned $200 in covered employment." In West Virginia: "Disqualified until employed 30 days in insured work."

I want to say again, Mr. President, that when Governor Leader's representative in his Department of Commerce goes to Washington, or New York, or wherever he goes to attract industry into Pennsylvania, those are questions which the representatives of that industry are going to ask the Governor's representative. "What do you do in relation to these problems in Pennsylvania? How much is it going to cost us to do business in your State?" Whether the industry comes into Pennsylvania, or whether the industry which is here expands, is dependent upon the answers to those questions.

Now, Mr. President, in answer to Senator McMenamin's point about the amount of percentage of our contribution rates, I say this and I want to predict this, that if House Bill No. 120 passes with all of these fringe benefits in it and with all the other things in connection with it, the fund will go down to a point within a very few short months—I would make it a year from now anyway—where every employer's contribution will go up to 2.7%. I know that I have no facts with me to make that statement, but I know that the fund has been going down under the present law. The fund, I think when we came in here in January was around $390,000,000 and it is going down everyday to a point where now I understand that it is only around $353,000,000. If the fund goes down under the present law at that rate, and we put in all this other stuff, certainly it is going to go down to where the peril point is reached under the provisions of House Bill No. 120, and at that point the employers' contribution will go to 2.7%.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I think that the Majority Leader is confused. I remember President Roosevelt's Inaugural Address in 1933, in which he said that the greatest fear we have is the fear of ourselves. I think that they are fearful, on the other side, to vote on this bill tonight, because they know the consequences of what is going to happen to individual members on their side. I think that, possibly, next year you may see some Members from the House move over to the Senate, because I think they probably have keener and better judgment.

I do not want to read out of context, but I do want to read an editorial which I just happened to pick up, which is from the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin. This may be a shock to you gentlemen on the other side, because the article is headed "Shock Treatment" and reads as follows:

"Vice-President Nixon applies the shock treatment to the Republican Party in telling it that it is not strong enough to elect a president. It must have a powerful candidate to pull the party through to victory. The Vice-President clearly believes the GOP's best and perhaps only plan for 1956 is to ride on the Eisenhower coattails.

"This ice-water thrown on the hands of the national leadership of the party might awaken it to political realities. For it means that the principles that the party has put into its platforms year after year no longer appeal to the majority of voters.

"The Vice President breaks the news that no stalwart Republican need expect to be elected to the White House.

"President Eisenhower recognized the situation early in his administration, and since that time has been busily engaged in introducing progressive ideas into old Republican heads."

Now, may I just digress for a moment by telling the Majority Leader that under the present unemployment compensation we are working on, any new industry coming into this State must go under a tax rate of 2.7% for three years? Do you think that you can attract industry in that way? Under this bill before you now, industry will pay 2.7% for one year and that will set the rate. May I continue.

"The President's foreign policy is the opposite of isolationism. He has recommended and secured from the GOP a broadening of social security." That is one of the things we are talking about tonight. "The Eisenhower tariff reciprocity program, now in the balance in Congress, smacks more of the policy of the Democrats than of the high protectionist GOP."

Mr. President, I might remind the gentlemen that the only ones who saved that program in the Congress, that is in the lower House, were the Democrats and the Grundyites were the ones who tried to defeat it.

Continuing, Mr. President, the editorial reads:

"The personal popularity of the President is unquestioned, but Mr. Nixon is of the opinion that he has not yet been able to convince the country that he has succeeded in making the GOP acceptable to the voters. The resistance and criticism which the President has encountered from the reactionary Republicans has"—as is happening here tonight—"much to do with creating the impression that the GOP is still unregenerate.

"No party completely dependent on the popularity of one man is in a healthy condition. Its future depends on its ability to face up to present conditions and to present itself to the voters as a party no longer looking backward."

Mr. President, I just happened to pick that editorial up and I thought it was just fitting for the discussion here this evening.

Mr. President, the Republican leader mentioned the Joint State Government Commission. We passed here last week a deficiency appropriation in the amount of $35,000 for the Joint State Government Commission. As I understand it, that bill has to be signed by the Governor in order to pay some girls who work up in that Department.

Mr. President, I want to say that that Commission has become a travesty. It is the most asinine expenditure of one-half million dollars which this State has ever spent.

I was appointed this year, Mr. President, to a committee in the Commission dealing with the axle per mile rate. They called one meeting and said, "You will hear from us later." They called another meeting, and I wrote and said I could not be there that day. My name appears now on the committee report in the Senate. How silly can we get? Mr. President, the shadows of 1935 are hanging over the Senate tonight.

We in our county, Mr. President, and I come from a rather large county, will hang on what is done in this Senate tonight by the Republican and Democratic Parties. Mr. President, our leader in the Senate has spoken as to what the Democratic position is. We will not take the watered-down version that you people tried to present out of the Committee on Labor and Industry yesterday.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, I really did not intend to enter into this discussion this morning, but there were some statements made which I think need clarification.

Unfortunately, Mr. President my father died when I was a very young child and I did not have the benefit of his advice, but my mother did tell me that I should read the Bible occasionally. It so happened that last night, before I crawled into bed, I picked up the Gideon Bible in the hotel and just opened it up. It happened to come to Isaiah, and it was Chapter 6. I made a note of this because I felt it might be appropriate from what had happened the day before.

Isaiah was a prophet, you recall, and it was in the time and year I think when King Uzziah died that Isaiah had his vision of the Lord, and the Lord told Isaiah, "Go and tell the people." Then, in the tenth verse it says, "Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes; lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart." It seems to me that what we have been trying to do will certainly make the ears of the people heavy, but I suppose that is the only way in which it can be done.

Mr. President, the Senator from Lackawanna made some comments about the estimated contribution rate. I would like to just cite a few figures to show the difficulty which we are getting into. First of all, let me give you the fund balance in the Unemployment Compensation Fund for the past few periods.

On December 31, 1954, there was 391.7 million dollars in the fund. On January 31, 1955, there was 374.2 million, a drop of 22.8 million dollars. On February 28, 1955, the fund contained 364 million dollars, and February was a short month. The estimate for March 1955, of outgo, is 23 million dollars, so that the fund at the end of March will probably be down to 341 million dollars.

Mr. President, according to House Bill No. 120, whenever the fund gets below between $450,000,000, under $450,000,000, but not below $350,000,000, then we get into a different schedule. I think it is Schedule B. We will be in that Schedule B as soon as this House Bill No. 120 becomes law. At the rate we are going with those payments, the next month or two would bring us into a further shortage of fund balance, to the point where we will be in Schedule C under the formula, at which most every employer, if we take the average, will be up around 2.7%.

Mr. President, here is the situation, and I would like to direct this directly to the Senator from Lackawanna. The Bureau estimates that in 1955 they will pay out in unemployment compensation benefits, under the present law, $180,000,000. The Bureau also estimates that House Bill No. 120 will bring in only $140,000,000. These are figures which you quoted, Senator. That means that the contributions by employers, under House Bill No. 120, will be $40,000,000 less than the Bureau estimates will be paid out this year.

Senator Dent, yesterday afternoon, used the figure of approximately $30,000,000 in round figures, as the added cost of these fringe benefits and the increased duration and the increased amount as the estimated cost to the Bureau. You have to add this to the $40,000,000 shortage, giving a total shortage of $70,000,000.

Now, if our figures are right or more nearly right than those of Senator Dent's, then we will not only add $30,000,000, but we will add another $70,000,000 to the outgo or shortage. If we split the difference in half, the outgo is going to exceed tremendously the amount of income from contributions, and the fund balance cannot help but drop. Just as the Majority Floor Leader pointed out, before long every employer in Pennsylvania is going to pay the 2.7%, and that will not meet the figure with a covered payroll of 8.2 billion dollars or 8.5 billion dollars. Even at the rate of 2.7%, we will not meet the outgo if our estimates are correct under this House Bill No. 120.

Mr. President, there was another question that was brought up which we did not discuss yesterday, and I think it bears a little discussion. The attempt is made in House Bill 120 to induce new employers to come into Pennsylvania. The proposal is set forth by saying that the first year the new employer comes into Pennsylvania, he pays the maximum contribution rate of 2.7% into the Unemployment Compensation Fund. At the end of that time, he then goes on the merit rating basis.

Mr. President, I would like to ask you, what happens to the present employer who has given employment to Pennsylvanians for many, many years, and who might be because of unfortunate circumstances perhaps at a contribution rate of 2.5%. He might have been here for thirty years or more, and just because of a little bad experience in the last few years, his contribution rate is raised to, say, 2.5%. At the end of the first year, the new employer who comes into the State has his rate dropped down, because he was just building up his force and had no unemployment, to the minimum contribution rate that is permissible under House Bill 120. Is that fair competition to the employer who has been established here and given employment over a period of time to Pennsylvanians? It hardly seems so to me.

Mr. President, there are several other features about this bill that are difficult for me to understand—and maybe I am wrong in my interpretation—but if a new employer is going to have the advantage of lower rates after one year, then many concerns now which might be partnerships or holding companies will change their name or re-incorporate, and will be eligible after one year for a reduced rate. There is nothing illegal about a corporation changing its name nor a partnership forming a corporation and becoming a new entity, so to speak, technically at least.

Mr. President, it seems to me that it is going to be very difficult for the Bureau to try to police these changes that are bound to be made by certain employers in order to have the advantage of these lower contribution rates which will apply to new employers. I could not help but think, what we were discussing this particular bill, that we have going up over here near the Capitol Building, a large, tall office building which is to be used by the Department of Labor. Suppose a contractor outside of the State had the job of building this building. The first year he might have done certain necessary engineering work, preparation work, getting his materials into Pennsylvania, building up perhaps his force to build the building. Therefore, he pays 2.7% on a relatively small number of people, a relatively small payroll while he is getting ready to do the construction work. After the first year, then he moves in his construction gang, hires some of our Pennsylvanians to do the work, but the second year, because of his low unemployment record for the first year, he is brought down to the minimum rate. How in the world could a local contractor compete in a situation like that?

I cannot help but agree with the Majority Floor Leader, Mr. President, that many of us—and I, myself—do not understand many of the provisions of this bill. I want to repeat again that I, with the most honest intentions, introduced Senate Bill No. 55 very early in the Session in the hope that we might remove the peril point. We do not want to see benefits drop, nor do we want to see the maximum contribution rate go into effect. However, such action would give us time to study this and work out perhaps some of these compromises, whether they are right or wrong. This would result, I am sure, in a much better piece of legislation than we have today.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "aye."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Beaver will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 211, Printer's No. 41, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 92, Printer's No. 33, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. I object to the bill going over in its order.

Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I stood here patiently listening to speeches. I heard about the fact that certain Members did not have a chance to read the bill because it was too long and they wanted to study it a little longer. The bill before us is a little turkey of three lines and I do not know what study we have to have on this bill.

Mr. President, this is a referendum to be given to the people, and it is the American way. I think that the people of Pennsylvania should tell us what is moral and what is immoral. It is the American way of life, and anybody suppressing and preventing this piece of legislation from going through should never talk about totalitarian countries and Mussolinis and Hitlers and communists and this and that. If we are going to be dictators, and dictate to the people instead of having them dictate to us, I do not think it is fair.

Mr. President, I think that this piece of legislation should be considered, and if you think it is fair to give the people the opportunity of telling us what to do, then I think that this is the proper time to do it. This is a harmless little turkey of three lines. There is nothing to study, nothing to memorize but just to visualize. What does it do? Do you want to vote or do you not want to vote for it — X or O?

Mr. President, I do not think that this action is fair. Is it going to die?

Unless it is going to inconvenience my co-sponsor, with whom I have not discussed it yet, I would like to interrogate him.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Watkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATKINS. I will certainly try to be careful, but anything that he would like to ask me, I would like to reply to.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Senator, do you feel softened now, as compared to the vigor we had a few weeks ago, about putting this bill across?

Mr. WATKINS. Senator, the only thing that I can tell you about this bill is that I was advised by the Minority Leader of the Senate, my good friend, John Dent, that his people could not vote for a bill which would bring a referendum up at the general election. It is my understanding that there will be no votes for the general election.

I know there is a change of heart at different times, and perhaps there might be a change of heart, but I do not know it as of now, and that is why I thought it best to carry the bill over.

I have been too filled up with House Bill No. 120 today and I still do not know what is in that bill, do you?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Do you think that if you study this bill a little more until Monday, you might have a change of heart?

Mr. WATKINS. I think, Senator, that would be the right thing to do.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. In other words, this bill is a little ambiguous?

Mr. WATKINS. Well, Senator, I would not say that the bill is ambiguous, but I can say very frankly that from what I understand. Congressman Green, who is a gallant Democratic leader in the city of Philadelphia, and for whom I have very high respect and regard, is very much disturbed about this bill. It seems as though he is afraid that if it goes on the machines in November, too many Republicans will come out to kill it.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Well, Senator, do you think that by insisting on the referendum in November it would benefit your party if they would come out and vote?

Mr. WATKINS. I would suggest this; yes, it would benefit our party very much.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Well, you had better think it over from now until Monday, then. I will not waste any more of our time.

Mr. WATKINS. I would like to make one other suggestion to you, Senator, and that is if you have conversation with Congressman Green, try to state the Republican Party's feeling to him and see if he will not give in.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Senator, I have four telephone numbers of different places where I can reach him, and I am expecting the fifth one to be at the shore, because I think we will be here until summertime.

I will, therefore, withdraw my objection.

Mr. WATKINS. Senator, will you be at Reverend Forney's in case I want you over the week end?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I did not really hear that; repeat it, I did not hear it. Honestly, I did not hear it. What did you say?

Mr. WATKINS. I am sorry, Senator, but I said would you by any chance be at Reverend Forney's house over the week end should I want to contact you?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. I am going in training tomorrow, and I will be there.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia having withdrawn his objection, Senate Bill No. 92, Printer's No. 33, will go over in its order.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 112, Printer's No. 34, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate Senator Barr.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. BARR, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARR. I am very happy to, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Barr, this bill has been on the Calendar for some time now, and I would like to know if we can count on having some action on it during the first part of the week, or are you studying this bill, too?

Mr. BARR. I have studied the bill and I know exactly what it says. It says it is to increase the payment back to the county commissioners from two and one-half cents to six cents. I remember when legislation such as this type was passed here in the last Session and it was vetoed by the Republican Governor. I also know how much it is going to cost the State. I also know that the different heads of the departments must appear before the Secretary of the Budget Bureau and give their estimates of what they will need next year, and this is not included in the bill.

Now, does that answer your question?

Mr. MAHANY. No, Senator, it was not responsive, but the question I had was whether you would like to debate this bill the first part of next week.

You certainly are not going to kill the bill by keeping it on the Calendar from now until we adjourn sine die.

Mr. BARR. Well, do you want me to make a motion to send it back to committee? I will be very happy to.

Mr. MAHANY. No, let us do that next week.

Mr. BARR. Everything is next week.

Mr. MAHANY. That is right, Senator. I am not asking for any action on the bill tonight. I would just like to know whether we can expect some action on it next week. If you want to kill the bill, you can do it by voting "no" on it when it gets to Final Passage.

Mr. BARR. Well, Mr. President, since the gentleman wants to be informed about the bill, I will read this to him. I will read from a letter sent to Honorable Samuel M. Jackson, Deputy Attorney General, Department of Justice, by Maurice K. Goddard:

"This refers to Senate Bill 112 introduced February 14 by Senators Berger, Stevenson and Lane,"—three fine gentlemen—"and scheduled for second reading in the Senate on Monday, March 14, which amends the Act of May 17, 1929 (P. L. 1798) by increasing the amounts of payments from the Commonwealth to counties. The amendment, which is contained in Section 1 of the Act, applies to lands acquired by the Commonwealth and the U. S. Government for Forest Reserves, etc., and increases the annual charge from two and one-half (2½¢) to six cents (6¢) per acre for the benefit of the county in which such lands are located.

"For your information, the Department is opposed to Senate Bill 112 for the following reasons:

"1. The additional money required under the provisions of this legislation is approximately $65,000 per year or $130,000 a biennium,"—

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. MAHANY. I hope, Senator, that you are not starting a filibuster this early in the morning.

I will withdraw my objection to the bill going over in its order.

Mr. BARR. I want to know where the appropriation is in the bill.

Mr. MAHANY. As far as I am concerned, Senator, I will withdraw my objection to your request that the bill go over, and I hope that we can get together on it next week.

Mr. BARR. Okay, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears no objection and this bill will go over in its order.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 171, Printer's No. 42, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 219, Printer's No. 43, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 236, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 27 1923 (P. L. 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" defining annual salary and providing for superannuation retirement of members of the General Assembly

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 242, Printer's No. 43, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I do not suppose it will do me much good to object, but I want to point out to the gentlemen on the other side that they agreed with me yeserday afternoon that if we left this bill go over, then we would have some action and get it moved up today.

Mr. President, I would like to go along with agreements when we have them. I like to stick with them. If there is some reason why they feel now that they want to abolish the agreement which they made yesterday, why did they not tell someone about it?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I understand that today in the Republican Caucus, there were six gentlemen who oposed the unit rule and they were not upheld by the rest of the gentlemen. I think that several of you gentlemen sitting around in your chairs have probably talked about this same thing. We thought that people were going to be allowed to vote as they thought and as their conscience dictated to them today. My conscience dictates to me tonight that we should ask that House Bill No. 242, Printer's No. 43, go over in its order.

Mr. MAHANY. I want to say, Senator, that your conscience is becoming quite elastic.

Mr. President, I would like to withdraw my objection.

The PRESIDENT. The objection by the gentleman from Crawford being withdrawn, the bill will go over in its order.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the motion which I am about to make, I made yesterday and it did not go through. However, I hope that the gentlemen will now give me the opportunity of voting "aye" on this motion.

Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, March 21, 1955, at 3:30 o'clock p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in a spirit of harmony, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 2:20 o'clock a. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Monday, March 21, 1955, at 3:30 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MARCH 21, 1955. No. 27.

SENATE

MONDAY, March 21, 1955.

The Senate met at 3:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. JOHN C. MOORE, Rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Coudersport, offered the following prayer:

O Lord, our God, we need Thy wisdom and Thy guidance now as this Senate begins another day faced with many oportunities to know and do Thy will.

We pray Thee that Thou wilt bless these Thy chosen servants for Thou knowest them, their needs, their hopes, their fears. Given them strength for the multiple tasks set before them. Enlighten them with the truth in Thy wisdom, greater than their own. Give them spiritual understanding in their thinking, charity in their deliberations and mercy in their judgments.

Let them not be shaken by the problems that confront them, but rather uphold them by Thy strength. We give Thee thanks that Thou hast matched us with Thy power for this hour to the duties of the day.

We ask that Thy Will be done to the glory of Thy Holy Name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. TOOLE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. PROPERT, due to illness.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, on behalf of one of my colleagues, who represents the neighboring District of mine, Senator John Van Sant, I have been requested, as a courtesy to him, to present this bill.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. YOSKO, on behalf of Mr. VAN SANT, read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 245, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Justice for the payment of cerain moral claims against the Commonwealth.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, the two bills that I am about to present have been prepared some time ago and have been in my desk for about two weeks. The reason for doing that was to allow a duplicate copy to be made, so that they could be introduced by the Members of the House who are interested in this type of legislation.

Mr. President, what these bills do is they give to the Korean veteran a bonus.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am very happy, on behalf of my colleagues, Senator Wolfe, Senator Dent, Senator McMenamin and myself, to present these bills.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. PECHAN, WOLFE, DENT and McMENAMIN read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 246, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, authorizing the creation of an additional debt by the Commonwealth for the payment of compensation to certain veterans.

Which was committed to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 247, entitled:

An Act providing compensation to certain persons who served in the military or naval forces of the United States or of any of her allies during the Korean Conflict; providing the method of making payment to representatives of persons who, becauseof death or incapacity, cannot personally receive compensation; imposing certain duties on the Adjutant General; making an appropriation, and providing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, in the early morning hours of last Thursday, we witnessed a drama of seeing twenty-four Republican Senators vote against an Unemployment Compensation Bill that was fair and just. On Wednesday, these same Republican Senators voted against amendments that the Democratic Senators offered.

Mr. President, this act of theirs was in keeping with the acts of the Republican Party of the last sixteen years. During that time, the Democratic Senators of the Senate have had to vote on the final passage of Unemployment Compensation Bills that gave a few paltry dollars in increases, but took off the rolls of unemployment thousands of others who should have received unemployment.

Mr. President, we had to vote for these Republican bills, because through the newspapers the Republican Party has sold the bills to the public as giving increased unemployment compensation but, at the same time, others were denied unemployment compensation. However, due to the false impression given to the public, we had to vote for the bills or be painted as being against an increase.

By the vote of the Republican Senators last Thursday morning, Mr. President, they were in favor of removing 60,000 applicants from qualifying for unemployment compensation.

Mr. President, I want today just to take up one amendment, as I do not believe that twenty-four Republican Senators, at heart, were not in favor of their own amendment which the Democratic Party took out of the bill on Wednesday. This amendment was against working mothers who are forced to work, due to the economic plight of the community in which they live.

Mr. President, the Republican amendment was a direct attack on married life in Pennsylvania. The action of the Republican Senators forced the working mothers into an economic position that those living in married life must break all the laws of God and man by preventing child birth.

Is the Senate of Pennsylvania telling the working mothers of Pennsylvania that they must practice birth control or their families must go with out food? The vote taken against this amendment, I believe, is a vote against God and nature. The conditions existing in our economic system today force them to work so that their families might eat.

Mr. President, a number of the Members of the State Senate made speeches about bringing industry into the coal regions to relieve unemployment and the plight of those working in the coal regions. However, you Members of the Senate did not state that the new industry brought into the coal regions will employ mostly women. So, instead of putting to work the unemployed miner, you put to work the miner's wife and make her the bread-earner of the family. After you forced the wife to be the family provider, the Senate of Pennsylvania says to her, "Now, don't you dare to have any children, or you will not get your job back."

Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I am ashamed of the action of this Senate of Pennsylvania. Everyone of the twenty-four Republican Senators puts a dollar mark before decency and humanity when dealing with those less fortunate than we are here.

Mr. President, there is a lot of talk about destroying communism by dropping a hydrogen bomb on Russia, China or any other soviet form of government. Guns and bombs will not win this war of ideas. However, what you did here last Thursday will help the communist cause more than anything else you could do.

Mr. President, the Demcoratic amendment does not affect the enlightened employer who permits the pregnant mother to work as long as she is physically fit. The employer does not pay unemployment insurance to an expectant mother as if it is a bounty for having a child. Being pregnant does not make her eligible for unemployment compensation.

I am afraid that there are those lobbying here who are purposely making false and misleading statements to confuse the public. Here is how the amendment acts.

Mr. President, it permits the mother with a child to work as long as she is physically able. She gets no unemployment compensation when she quits work. She has her child and she gets no unemployment insurance. After recovery, she reports that she is fit and qualified, after a certain period of time, to go back to work. If her employer will not take her back, then and then only would she be qualified to apply for unmeployment insurance—and I say apply.

Mr. President, certainly, the good employers of Pennsylvania do not object to this amendment. It costs them no money, no unemployment compensation. I want to feel that the greater number of employers of Pennsylvania are fair and just.

Let us not look upon the expectant mother as though she were a criminal or a thief. You furnished the best propaganda for the communists. They will point out how, in a cold-blooded way, industrialists in America treated motherhood. You are unwittingly being a tool to help communism spread abroad. The way to destroy communism is by establishing here in America an economic way of life that will be the envy of all the countries of the world. The people of these countries will demand that their governments copy our system. We must not only talk about our great economic system, but we must work to make it better and better.

Mr. President, ideas have legs and can get under any iron curtain. When that idea is good, it can destroy any Godless country much faster than bombs and guns. How can we call communism Godless when we pass laws to destroy the sacred sacrament of marriage by forcing mothers to give up the right of having children?

Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I ask all of you on the other side of the aisle to reconsider your action, to re-examine your conscience and put God's love and the love of humanity before those of the money-changers who are opposing this amendment.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, after listening to that speech which Senator Holland made just a moment ago, I wonder if the Senator was here the other night and the other day when we debated the amendments to House Bill No. 120 and when we debated House Bill No. 120 itself.

Mr. President, I strongly suspect that Senator Dent, who was very active in the debate on that occasion, would not have made the same statement that Senator Holland made.

I noticed in one of the papers, Mr. President, that it was stated that some of the Senators at the midnight session, held last Thursday morning, were asleep at their desks. I do not know whether Senator Holland was in that category or not, but I certainly now wonder how he could state the things which he did if he had been listening attentively to these amendments.

Mr. President, the statement which the Senator has made distort the truth of our position in relation to the pregnancy benefits.

Under the present law, Mr. President, after the first six months of pregnancy, the expectant mother cannot be laid off by the employer unless for cause. In other words, after six months, the employer cannot lay off the employee if she is pregnant because of her condition.

Mr. President, the reason for that, of course, is not because we are against mothers having children. This law, evidently, was put on the stateute books so that those mothers who are pregnant for more than six months will not jeopardize their health in industry. If they are working at a machine or in some dangerous capacity in industry, they will not have to undergo that danger when they are in that condition. However, Mr. President, there is nothing in the present law which makes it mandatory for the employer to discharge that person if she happens to be pregnant for more than that period. In fact, many of the pregnant employees work up until a week or so before they must go to the hospital for delivery.

Mr. President, this is a delicate subject but we are going to try to work out something which will be equitable and fair for both the employers and the employees. We are now in the process of trying to arrive at some amendment which will be agreed upon by both sides so that we can be obsolutely fair in relation to this subject.

Although, Mr. President, the bill was defeated when we last met here, we expect today to make a motion to reconsider it, so that we may again consider the bill either on the floor of the Senate or in committee. This pregnancy feature is one of the fringe benefits on which we, no doubt, will be able to arrive at some agreement. Perhaps, the time limit of six months is too short. We might make it either seven months or eight months.

Mr. President, certainly we do not want to prevent women from having children by our laws. We want to be fair about this matter but, on the other hand, the unemployment compensation law was not intended to take care of people who are not available for work. If a persons is not available for work, either because of some physical condition or for some other reason personal to him or her, then the Unemployment Compensation Law was not intended to take care of that individual. As I see the Unemployment Compensation Law, it was only intended to take care of people who, through no fault of their own, are unemployed. If we can stick to that philosophy, I think that we will have much less difficulty with this problem.

Mr. President, statements and speeches such as we have just heard now, instead of helping us to clear the air so that the Democrats and Republicans can get together on a compromise, just tend to confuse the issue. These speeches, rather than being made from the desk of the Democratic Floor Leader, would sound a lot better if they were made from the top of a manure pile. That type of speech is certainly not designed to get the Democrats and the Republicans in the Senate together to work out legislation which is for the benefit of all of the Commonwealth and the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I do not have to explain to the people here how the Majority Floor Leader stands on the subject of mothers who are with child. He voted on this floor to prove how he stood, and he was counted with those who were against having pregnant women handled as they should be handled.

Mr. President, I also want to say to Senator Mahany that no speech made by me was ever made on the same manure pile that he has been making his on all this Session. I resent that statement, and I think it comes in very bad grace from the Majority Leader of this Senate.

Mr. President, I believe that he has debated time and time again the different questions on this unemployment compensation and he has hid behind false isues. He has had good prompters over there on his side. I see that the Bell Telephone Company man has been over there practically all of the time. The utilities of Pennsylvania have been fighting everything that is good for women because they are the largest employer of women, and Senator Mahany has taken their advice. For the benefit of the people, I have offered a bill which will put on record the expenses incurred by these representatives in lobbying on bills.

The Majority Floor Leader said that these women cannot be laid off except for good cause. I might tell you, Mr. President, that there were thousands of women who could have continued work, but they were laid off and denied unemployment compensation because there were high priced lawyers representing the companies and not high priced lawyers representing these employees. I speak of people who do not belong to organized labor, because when they belong to organized labor, they have a chance of having someone represent them. There is no form of organized women in the State of Pennsylvania and, therefore, they have been taken advantage of by being denied unemployment compensation when they should have received it.

Mr. President, I want to repeat that Senator Mahany has already put himself on record as to how he stands on this matter, because he voted against the good amendment, and also favored the bad amendment which would deny pregnant mothers the right to unemployment compensation.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, heat, when it is applied a little externally, does not do anything except create discomfort. Therefore, I do not think that we want to go into the question as to the proper platform from which to make speeches.

Mr. President, years ago they tell the story—I do not know how true it is, because I have not reached the age yet where I can remember for sixty years—about William Jennings Bryan, the great hope of the Democratic Party through many a campaign, who, in swinging on a tour throughout the midwest, arrived at a small town outside of St. Louis. He arrived the day before he was scheduled to make a speech, and the local Democratic Committee was caught short. They had failed to build the proper stand from which he was to make his speech. As you all know, William Jennings Bryan was never at a loss for words to cover a situation. It seems that the handiest thing that was around for him to stand on which would elevate him above the crowd a little, was a farmer's wagon that most of us, who have been raised on the farm, call a manure spreader. William Jennings Bryan, rising to the occasion, got up and said that in his campaign for President he had made a great many Democratic speeches, but this was the first one he ever made from a Republican platform.

Now, Mr. President and Members of the Senate, there is a great deal of heat which has ben generated on the question of compensation payments to pregnant women. For some reason or other, a misconception is in the minds of the peoples of Pennsylvania. I have received countless pieces of mail dealing with this subject and another controversial amendment, and all of the letters, petitions, and telegrams are written in the same vein. They want to know why the Democratic Party in Pennsylvania wants to saddle the employer in this Commonwealth with contributions to the unemployment compensation reserve fund for the purpose of paying women during their period of pregnancy.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, in order that there be no misunderstanding, whatsoever, at least in the minds of the Members of this Senate, nothing in the amendments offered by this side of the Senate, and accepted by this side, contain provisions wherein any pregnant woman will receive compensation from any employer when she is disabled and unable to work because of her pregnancy. The bone of contention here is that in 1953, against the opposition of the Democratic Minority, the Republican Majority passed amendments to the U. C. Law in which they gave to the employer, and the employer only, the right to establish the fitness for work of a female employee.

Mr. President, the gentleman who spoke from the other side put his finger upon the very weakness of their position. He said that it is not mandatory that a woman leave her job at the end of the six months of pregnancy; that she can and does work, in many instances, up until the week before delivery of the child. Mr. President, do you not see exactly what we are fighting for? We are fighting to give that woman in industry the right to determine for herself, with her doctor's advice, her ability to perform the duties that she is performing in her job, and not to have the employer have the sole right to determine her ability to work solely upon the basis of his need and not her health. If he needs her bad enough, he will work her until the day of delivery, and it has happened in industry, but if he does not happen to need her, then at the end of a six months period, he says, "You are through."

Further than that, Mr. President, even if that were the case, and the employers of Pennsylvania were all honorable men,—and I say to this Senate that the vast majority are honorable men—and they said that all women must stop at the six months period and not return to work until thirty days after delivery, then you might have some plausible excuse for the position which you have taken. Let us see what happens in practical operation in industry in this State.

A plant manager finds that he has to close down because of seasonal conditions in his industry or because of the normal reaction of the law of supply and demand, and he is going to shut his plant down for three months or four months or six weeks, but for a definite period. He searches out, if he is an employer of female labor, all of the women in his particular plant or industry who are pregnant and he says to them, "You are going to be laid off because of your pregnancy," and the day afterward, he shuts down the plant and all the other employees receive unemployment compensation, but these women are denied their unemployment compensation. However, if he were going to stay in production, Mr. President, the women would have been allowed to continue to work. That is the practical operation of your amendments in 1953.

Mr. President, what does the Democratic Party say? We say that all women are created perhaps in the same pattern, but not with the same physical attributes. Some of them can work and bear children as an ordinary matter. Others, because of the nature of their own nature and composition, find it very difficult to get through the trying stages and days of pregnancy. Therefore, Mr. President, we believe that it is within the woman's personal right to determine when she must leave her job. Hearkening back to some of the words uttered by Senator Holland, "let us always remember that women work in industry because they have to work," and in many instances, and in too many instances, women in industry are the breadwinners for their families, particularly in the distressed anthracite and bituminous coal regions of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I also heard the Republican Floor Leader state that he intends to ask for a vote of reconsideration whereby House Bill No. 120 fell and failed to receive the number of votes for passage last week and, by so doing, he will revive the bill and put it back upon the Calendar. I have also heard him state that he intends to make a motion to the effect that the bill be sent back to committee. In talking to the gentleman on the other side—I believe that it is not improper to divulge the subject of our conversation—I have notified him that we, on the Democratic side, will not oppose a motion to reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 120 failed, that we are satisfied to bring the bill back upon the Calendar but we will oppose, however, to the best of our ability, a motion to send the bill back to committee.

I believe that there has been so much misinformation given to the people of Pennsylvania about the intent of the legislation that we have had before us, that the proper place to discuss the amendments offered by both the Republicans and the Democrats is upon the floor of the Senate.

When we get back into committee, Mr. President, we lose our numerical strength that we enjoy upon the Senate floor and although you may out-vote us by one vote on the other side on the floor, when we get into committee we are out-voted two to one. We do not have then the opportunity of telling the people of Pennsylvania just what your amendments intend to do and just what our amendments intend to do. We say to you now that we will not oppose your motion, or your request, for unanimous consideration on the part of the Senate to offer amendments to the bill on Third Reading. By the same token, we, too, will ask for unanimous consent to consider amendments. We, too, have some amendments. We are willing to establish for the people of Pennsylvania a positive position on the question of pregnancy payments and on the question of vacation payments. We stand ready to accept certain criticisms that have been handed out without foundation and yet in the interest of giving to many small employers in Pennsylvania that peace of mind which is necessary to the well-being of the employer.

We will offer amendments to clarify the position of the Democratic Party in Pennsylvania on these two controversial amendments. If the Republican Majority is not fearful of what they intend to do to the bill, they will let the bill ride upon the calendar, offer their amendments for public debate, allow us to offer our amendments for public debate and allow the majority of the vote of the Senate to decide which amendments will be accepted and which will be rejected.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, when we get to the point where I make a motion to recommit this bill to committee, I will go into further discussion in answer to Senator Dent's statement concerning the question as to whether the bill should ride on the Calendar or go back to committee. I do not want to go into that now, because I do not think this is the proper time.

SENIORS FROM COLLEGE OF EDUCATION, PENNSYLVANIA STATE UNIVERSITY, PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, someone has said that "Education is the cheap defense of nations."

I am happy to present, therefore, a teacher of teachers, Doctor Donald G. McGarey, and his class of twenty seniors in the College of Education of The Pennsylvania State University. They are now doing student teaching in nearby high schools in Dauphin and Cumberland Counties.

These prospective teachers come from all parts of the Commonwealth and next year they will all be good, inspiring, full-fledged high school teachers. May we hope they all stay in Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair welcomes the students, and the students' teacher, from Pennsylvania State Unisersity. We hope that you will come back and visit with us again.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. WHALLEY offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 21, 1955.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, March 28, 1955, at three-thirty o'clock p. m., E. S. T.; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, March 28, 1955, at four-thirty o'clock p. m., E. S. T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE RESOLUTION

ADJOURNING THE CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD TO GIVE CONSIDERATION TO THE NEED FOR PROVIDING SCHEDULED AIR SERVICE BETWEEN ERIE, PENNSYLVANIA AND DETROIT, MICHIGAN

Messrs. DENT, MADIGAN, BLASS, BERGER and DERK offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, March 21, 1955.

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Cities of Erie, Bradford, Williamsport—are presently without benefit of direct scheduled air transportation to the major industrial center of Detroit, Michigan; and,

Whereas, These Pennsylvania Cities are presently making substantial and determined efforts to strengthen and supplement their industrial facilities; and,

Whereas, The industrial growth and well-being of these Pennsylvania cities would be greatly benefited by the provision of scheduled air transportation directly between Erie, Pennsylvania and Detroit, Michigan; and,

Whereas, The Civil Aeronautics Board presently has before it under Docket Number 6927 a Petition by Erie, Pennsylvania for immediate investigation as to the need for direct scheduled air transportation between Erie, Pennsylvania and Detroit, Michigan which Petition is actively supported by Bradford, Williamsport, Scranton, Wilkes Barre and other Pennsylvania cities to be benefited; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the Civil Aeronautics Board is hereby adjured to give immediate consideration to the need for providing scheduled air service directly between Erie, Pennsylvania and Detroit, Michigan by granting the Petition of the City of Erie in Docket Number 6927; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this Resolution be sent to the Secretary of Commerce of the United States and the Chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board of the United States.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL No. 120

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which House Bill No. 120, entitled:

An Act amending the Act of December 5, 1936 (1937, P. L. 2897), entitled "Unemployment Compensation Law," by redefining certain terms increasing minimum contributions providing for modification of the manner in which contribution rates are determined and redetermined shortening the period necessary to obtain a reduced contribution rate providing for modification of the manner in which eligibility for compensation is determined increasing the amounts and duration of compensation payments removing certain limitations on the amount and duration of compensation and extending the penal and related provisions of the act.

failed of Final Passage in the Senate on March 17, 1955.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

HOUSE BILL No. 120, PRINTER'S No. 129, TO APPEAR ON THIRD READING CALENDAR ON MARCH 22, 1955

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 120, Printer's No. 129, be printed and appear on the Third Reading Calendar tomorrow.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion that House Bill No. 120 be printed and appear on the Third Reading Calendar for tomorrow's session.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I want to say that the reason I seconded Senator Dent's motion, and voted for it, is because there was some question as to parliamentary procedure as to whether we would be in a position to do anything further with this bill until such time as it appeared on the Calendar. Rather than take any chance that something might be wrong in connection with this, we decided to have it on the third reading Calendar so that it might be there for us for consideration tomorrow.

Mr. President, we want to be fair about this bill, and want my colleagues to know that we are doing everything we can to see to it that this bill is treated absolutely fairly. That is what we are trying to do at the present time.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes to state that the bill would automatically appear on the Calendar without the motion, but that assures it now that it will appear on the Third Reading Calendar.

SENATOR JOHN T. VAN SANT WELCOMED TO SENATE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, before we consider the first bill on the Calendar, I would like to call to the attention of my colleagues the fact that one of their beloved colleagues is now in the hall of the Senate, Senator John Van Sant.

Mr. President, I, personally, would like to welcome him here as he has been absent for many weeks, and I know all of my colleagues are glad to see him here in as good health as he appears to be. He seems to be well accompanied by one of his constituents who, I think, is certainly beautifying the Senate today. We are not only glad to see Senator Van Sant, but also his very nice-looking nurse who is along with him. We hope that we can look forward to seeing him now and in future Sessions as we go through the rest of this laborious Session, shall I say.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, on behalf of the Democratic Senators, I too, want to join my colleague, Senator Mahany, in welcoming back our colleague, Johnnie Van Sant.

Mr. President, I am sure that Johnnie realizes now that while he was gone we never took advantage of the situation. We, at all times, acted just as though he were here and we will continue to do so. There are no thoughts in our minds, other than to try to advance the good of the people of the Commonwealth and I know that Johnnie will join us on many an occasion to help us do that.

Mr. President, I am glad Senator Van Sant is back because he will be a stabilizing factor on the other side. He will help them to see the errors of their way, and will allow them to vote with us many times in the future to see to it that the poor people of the Commonwealth are given consideration on every occasion. I am sure that all of us will be happy to see him every day in the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I want to suggest to Senator Dent that no doubt Senator Van Sant will vote quite often in the days to come. However, I do not think he will be quite as regular with your side as the Lieutenant-Governor has been.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 1, on third reading, entitled:

An Act providing for anthracite mine drainage contingent on Federal aid; and making an appropriation.

be recommitted to the Committee on Mines and Mining, for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Section 2 Section 7 of the act is amended by adding at the end thereof a new subsection to read

Section 7 * * *

(7) A member of the General Assembly may pay to the retirement association a sum equal to the difference between the sum of the amounts that would have been deducted from his payroll each payroll period since he became a member if he had contributed on the basis of his compensation received for each two year period of service plus the allowance for clerical assistance and other expenses incurred during his term in connection with the duties of his office for each two year period of service and the sum of the amounts actually deducted or in lieu of the payment of a lump sum a member of the General Assembly may pay such sum in installments through payroll deductions Such back payments may be spread over a period of years by having such regular payroll deductions of such persons increased by not less than one-third of the amount thereof which deduction increase shall be credited to such back payments owing and shall be continued until the amount thereof shall be paid in full unless such member is retired under the provisions of this act before such back payments have been completed Any such deduction increase may be anticipated in full by the member at any time and shall be anticipated in full at the time of retirement before a retirement allowance is granted and if not so anticipated then the member's annuity shall be calculated on the total accumulated deductions standing to his credit and his State annuity shall be reduced by an amount equivalent to the reduction which occurs in the member's annuity due to the amount of the back payments not so anticipated

Section 3 Subsection (1) of section 13 of the act amended May 18 1937 (P. L. 683) is amended and a new subsection is added at the end of the section to read

Section 13 Retirement for superannuation shall be as follows

(1) Any contributor who has reached the superannuation retirement age and any member of the General

Assembly who has served as such for twenty years or more regardless of age may retire for superannuation by filing with the retirement board a written statement duly attested setting forth on what date he or she desires to be retired Said application shall make the superannuation allowance effective on the date so specified if such application was filed in the offices of the board or deposited in the United States mail addressed to the Board before the date specified in the application and before the death of the contributor Provided however That the date so specified in the application shall not be more than thirty days from the date of filing or depositing the application in the mail

(3) Any member of the General Assembly who has served as such for twenty years or more shall receive a retirement allowance which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his or her accumulated deductions and a State annuity equal to one-half of his or her final salary

Section 4 This act shall take effect immediately

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 92, entitled:

An Act providing for a referendum to determine the will of the electorate in regard to horse racing with legal wagering within the State.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

MOTION THAT SENATE BILL No. 92 BE RECOMMITTED TO COMMITTEE

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 92, on second reading, be recommitted to the Committee on Law and Order, for the purpose of further study.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, on February 8, Senate Bill No. 92 was read in place and on March 8, this bill was reported from committee as committed.

Mr. President, since that time we have had a lot of criticism from one side of the aisle and certainly a lack of agreement from both sides. I would like to personally oppose the recommitment of this bill, because I feel as though we are doing something, in my opinion, that is wrong. I surely think there is a lot of misunderstanding about this bill, in the form in which it appears, and notwithstanding that some people think that this is legalizing horse racing in giving the people a right to wager within the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, this bill in no way legalizes horse racing in the State of Pennsylvania. It is merely a referendum, asking the people to vote "yes" or "no" in November, as to whether they wish horse racing with legal wagering within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I certainly see nothing wrong—whether it be horse racing or whatever the issue might be—to give the public their due and just right to say whether they wish something or whether they do not wish it. In no way does this bill, Mr. President, legalize horse race betting or permit horse racing within this Commonwealth. I just cannot, for lack of understanding, find in my mind, after searching everywhere possible, any reason why the ministry would stand on the pulpits and tell the people that if this bill passes that it is a sin and that it is morally wrong. I cannot understand why statements like that have been made to the public and why they have been misled.

Mr. President, this bill only permits the people to say how they feel on this subject. Certainly, as Legislators, I think that is how we should think. We should always permit the public to vote on any controversial issue. In denying them this privilege, I feel as though we are making a tremendous mistake both as Democrats and Republicans.

There has been a lot of undue criticism, and unfair criticism, of one of our Senators, Senator DiSilvestro, whom I respect most highly as the rest of us in this Senate respect and admire him. Mr. President, I think that the attack made upon this Senator by Reverend Forney was outrageous, unfair, unjust and unpopular. I say this to Reverend Forney, that I feel as though an apology is due to the great Senator from Philadelphia. The Senator, at no time, was deserving of the criticism and the unfair treatment which Doctor Forney dished out to him. I demand of Reverend Forney, if he wishes to continue to have respect from me—and I think some of the other Senators feel the same way—that an apology is in order and that it be made.

Mr. President, Senator DiSilvestro has said nothing about how he would vote on horse racing. He has only wanted to clear up a question which has been in demand in the State of Pennsylvania for many years. I feel as though the Senator is entitled to an apology, and certainly if I am to deal with Reverend Forney, I shall demand it in the future.

Mr. President, there is another issue before the Chair today which might be causing some of the people to ask for the recommitment of this bill. Politics again has creeped into the picture, as usual. Some politicians feel as though it would be disadvantageous to their party to permit this matter to be voted on at a general election. They feel as though it would be damaging to their party.

I say this, Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, it would be most unfair to put any referendum vote before the people at a primary election. In my county, approximately twenty-five per cent of the people go to the polls to vote at a primary election. Certainly, it would not be a fair vote, and it would not be fair to hold an election where you have to ask people to go out and vote for this one issue. I do not think that this referendum should be campaigned upon. I think the people should be allowed to vote with an open mind, "yes" or "no."

Therefore, Mr. President, I say this, that this bill should be sent before the public in a general election. I want to say this, too, today, and I say this to my friends from the press. I, at no time, have said that I was for recommitting this bill. I do not want anyone to think that maybe someone outside of this hall got close to me, and gave me a proposition which would cause me to recommit this bill. There have been some very nasty rumors with reference to horse racing, and why the Legislature in the State of Pennsylvania has repeatedly ignored it and whenever it came up it fell.

Mr. President, I shall pursue further, if this bill is recommitted, with my committee, to bring it back to life. I shall also demand from my committee, if possible, a public hearing.

Mr. President, I do not think that this referendum should be just forgotten and laid away to die forever. I think that when we kill this referendum, then we kill all referendums. If we say to the people of the State of Pennsylvania that, "You are not entitled to say what you think about any legislation," then I think it would be a distasteful, disgraceful situation to have the people think that.

I respectfully request the Members of the Senate to vote against the recommitment of this bill, Mr. President, and hope that they have been enlightened to the fact that this is not legalizing hose racing. This is not doing anything but giving the people of Pennsylvania the opportunity to vote "yes" or "no" on this very controversial subject.

Mr. DISILVESTRO. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, if it were not for my clear understanding as to the position of every Senator on this floor, I believe that I could speak for about five hours on this subject. I could read the letters which I have received throughout the period of time that this piece of legislation has been in committee and on the floor. I say to you gentlemen that, out of every twenty-five letters which I received in favor, I received one or two opposed. However, the ones which were opposed seemed to be written on the same typewriter or the line of thought was similar. The ones which I received in favor of the referendum were written by honest-to-God citizens who, for once, had to speak out of their soul. It seems as though they must have said to themselves, "Oh, thank God, that I have an opportunity to go to the polls and express myself on this or any other piece of legislation."

I would like to read one letter, handwritten, beautifully written, to show you—I do not know this person from Pittsburgh. I have been in Pittsburgh for many years in the past and I do not know this person. This is someone who is speaking exactly how they feel, and the letter reads as follows:

"The people of Pennsylvania deserve the right to express their opinion over an important issue by the democratic process of voting. Myself, my friends, both in Pittsburgh and other places, and everybody I have talked with, are 100 per cent in favor of a referendum."

All of these letters go along the same thought because that is the American way of thinking. I cannot believe it, for the life of me, how any individual in this room could affix their vote on the column which does not give the people the right of expressing themselves in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I say to you gentlemen, and this is no threat—so help me God, I do not mean it as a threat—but as I said when I got up the first time, "God help those who get in the way." Now, I do not mean the Senators and I do not mean certain other groups, but I mean if some people would be clear-minded they would not impose upon me the ugly function of really putting into execution what I said. I say right now, I do not care how many years it will take, but I will dedicate myself to the theory and to the position that anybody who is against the right of the people to vote on a referendum is against the people, and I shall campaign throughout Pennsylvania—and not running for State office, remember that—to see that this league of people who insist that their thoughts and their ideas on legislation, or anything that pertains to their welfare, is enforced, and that they are given the right to vote on a ballot. So help me God, gentlemen, I was not kidding when I got up. I meant it. I would love that idea.

Mr. President, now how does anybody know how I would vote on the racing bill? I might have voted "no." The referendum has nothing to do with racing. It has been confused into the issue. It might have been Democrats and Republicans who created this confusion, I do not know. I just know that one block of people who are the minority in Pennsylvania, 2,242,000 from one religious group, have amalgamated forces to fight this, and yet there are over 870,322 of another group who have been inactive and there are 450,000 of another group who I feel have been inactive. In other words, the minority has to rule the majority. This minority is well organized and their machinery is well oiled. They have been able to spread literature and misconstrue the facts and create Pandemonium and anarchy throughout Pennsylvania by showing to the people that there is a race track bill. However, the people have been smart. The letters which I have received are unsolicited, and you can see that they understand the issues and they are sick and tired. I do not want to become personal, but some of these letters take awful raps and some of them take raps at me, too.

Mr. President, this is the way I feel about it. It is a sorrowful condition today, the first day of spring, to register in the annals of the history of Pennsylvania the fact that we will not give the people of Pennsylvania, those who send us here to the Legislature, the opportunity to register their approval or disapproval of any matter which might come before the public.

Mr. President, I dreadfully regret this moment, and I am not full of fire because I know that, in all the eighteen years that I have been here, I have always tried to keep away from being too aggressive. I love my colleagues and I think that they are all nice men, but the fact that some are going to take a position which, in my mind, in my thought, in my heart and in my soul, I think it un-American makes me regret that such a condition should arise in this Hall.

I regretfully oppose the recommittal of this bill to committee, because, even though it has a chance of coming out again, this procedure is usually the happy hunting ground of any bill in this Senate or in any other Senate.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I rise to support the motion of Senator Fleming to return this bill to the Committee on Law and Order.

Personally, Mr. President, I have no quarrel with the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Watkins, who has been a grand chairman in the consideration of this proposal, and he was fair to everybody. Nobody in here has any quarrel with the genial Senator from Philadelphia, Senator DiSilvestro, but I think it is time now that something other than abuse be dished out regarding the moral forces of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, the difference in the philosophy expressed here today is that some take the position that you can get off of the spot by a referendum. There were some men sitting here at two o'clock, a. m., Thursday morning who, no doubt, would have enjoyed the opportunity of akaying a referendum on unemployment compensation, particularly as it applied to certain features. However, a moral issue is something you have to meet and face where it confronts you. That might be at the ballot box, it might be on the floor of the Senate, it might be in the confines of a committee room, but let me develop, if I may, and this is entirely my own thinking at the moment, the philosophy of those who ask that this bill go back to committee.

To start way back, Mr. President, two weeks ago tomorrow, in a thoughtless moment, Senator Dent wandered over here among the Republicans and happened to be sitting beside my desk when the President called the Session to order and introduced the Chaplain for prayer. The Chaplain prayed very effectively that day for the Almighty's guidance and direction of our deliberations, to help curb our tempers, to give us confidence in one another and trust, and at one point in his prayer I opened my eyes for a moment and looked at Senator Dent and he opened his and looked at me. After the Amen, he said to me, and I agreed very heartily, "Without God, we would all be lost. It would be confounding added to confusion."

Mr. President, there is a lot of talk about "Back to God." Winston Churchill, the Prime Minister of England, and Dwight Eisenhower, the President of the United States, have been quoted recently as saying that probably the one last hope of world preservation is the return to dependency on God. I think that there is a resolution in the House commending the movement to return to God and giving Him the place which He should have in our lives.

I seem to recall that William Penn, the father of this great Commonwealth, said on one occasion something to the effect that, "Most assuredly people who refuse to be governed by God, must be eventually ruled by despots." If we could stand on that part of Penn's Woods where William Penn stood when he made that statement, and look all the way back in history to the days of the Pharaohs and the Egyptians' enslavement of the Israelites, all the way up to Mussolini and his treatment of Ethiopia, Hitler's persecution of minority groups, and Stalin with his enslavement of entire nations, we would certainly have to subscribe to what William Penn said.

Mr. President, now what form does this "back to God movement" take? Some of us, including myself, never miss an opportunity when it is afforded on a Tuesday night to hear Bishop Sheen, and, regardless of our denomination or beliefs, we are impressed by his reminding us week after week that we citizens have an obligation, by example, to the generation coming up which we are not sufficiently mindful of most of the time. We read of Billy Graham packing Madison Square Garden to overflowing in order to deliver a religious message, which is something that the prize fighters cannot do even when it is a championship match. We presume that Bishop Sheen speaks for God. We presume that Billy Graham speaks for God, and Norman Vincent Peale and many outstanding spiritual leaders speak for God.

Mr. President, there is in Pennsylvania, a Pennsylvania Council of Churches, representing twenty major denominations whom, we presume, try to represent God in their thinking and in the things for which they ask. They wanted a public hearing on this bill and all of this flurry, and skirmish, and backbiting and bitterness could have been avoided if the committee has seen fit to grant a public hearing. I asked for a public hearing in the committee meeting. I asked for the exact thing which the chairman now declares he is going to seek to achieve when he again gets possession of this bill. When I suggested it, the comment in committee was by a number of people that, "You cannot have a public hearing. It is too much bother and it would take special trains to bring in all the people who are in favor of horse racing." Well, I say that it would take still more trains to bring in all those who are opposed to horse racing. However, that should not be necessary. Other committees just schedule appearances of representatives of each group. If there is a representative of the Horse Breeder's Association, let him come in and tell the committee what this means to his particular industry. If there is a representative of manufacturers of pari-mutuel machines, let him come in and tell us what that would mean to Pennsylvania. If the gamblers want to be heard, let them send a reputable representative in to tell us the virtues of gambling as it applies to horse racing. If there is someone in here who has a brother who speaks to horses, let him talk to some of the horses and tell us what they think about this.

Above all, Mr. President, that is all any of us has asked for up to this point. Above all, let the moral forces of Pennsylvania be heard. I think it was the Y.M.C.A., that great institution that is doing such a magnificent job for the young people of Pennsylvania and everywhere —I think it was in one of their folders, a month or so ago, that broadcast the idea that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is our boys and girls. Let us hear from that institution on what they think the effect upon our youth would be.

The whole point of this thing, Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, is that the proposal—even a referendum on betting on horse racing—is something revolutionary for this great Commonwealth, which has more churches than any other State in the Union and more and better institutions of higher education than any other State, largely because of our concern for boys and girls who are coming up to take up tomorrow where we leave off.

Mr. President, let us evaluate this thing and let us make certain, regardless of any personal animosity that may have developed between one side and the other, that we understand before this proposal is passed what the sum total effect is going to be, not only dollar-wise but on the moral and spiritual future of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I support Senator Fleming's motion to recommit.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I have had the privilege of serving on the Committee on Law and Order for quite some number of years. Generally speaking, I imagine, in most cases, any legislation pertaining to legalized gambling or horse racing was generally killed in committee.

Mr. President, last year when I was campaigning for re-election to my seat in the Senate, I talked with quite a number of people who are interested in horse racing. Quite a few of them thought that something happened in the Committee on Law and Order when it came to horse racing bills. Some of them seemed to think that probably we were pulling something unlawful by killing these bills. I made up my mind that whenever the time came when a bill like this was before me in the committee, I would vote to report it out and let the Members of the Senate express their sentiments.

So, I believe it was my vote, Mr. President, that reported this bill to the floor. However, in committee, I made the statement that when the bill did come to the floor that I would vote "no" on its passage because I do not believe in this type of legislation. However, Mr. President, I say to you that a vote today, if there is a roll call vote on this motion to recommit, will be the sentiment of the Membership of this Senate in regard to pari mutuel betting. When they vote to recommit this bill, they are opposing pari mutuel betting. Therefore, we can secure the sentiment of the Members of the Senate.

Mr. President, it has been said on many occasions that committees kill bills which would actually pass the Senate if brought out. So, that is the reason I brought this bill out. It was my vote that brought it out and I will vote to recommit it.

I would like to see a roll call vote, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, the debate on this topic and other topics which have been presented to this body has seemed, in the last two or three weeks that we have been here discussing some of these vital issues, to have gotten down to the problem of personalities and one of the Members of the Senate even got into the personal invective and even reached to a new low by insulting the Philadelphia lawyers.

Mr. President, the issue here in this bill, and the problem involved, is a very simple one and one which I think it unworthy of us to sit in judgment upon.

Mr. President, we are merely saying to the people, "Do you want horse racing or do you not?" We are putting it up to the people. Why should we waste the time of the Members of the Senate, and other persons in the State Government, with sitting and listening to long and tedious public hearings of the pros and cons of this problem? Why not present it on the ballot, and let us have our public hearing by people going in and voting "yes" or "no" on this referendum?

Mr. President, the issue is a simple one. We are the trustees of this corporate body of the State. I think the stockholders have a right to vote on this important issue. If they decide that they do want horse racing, then it will be up to us to then put the machinery into effect that will give the people what they are asking for. I think it is wrong for us to sit here and vote for the people, and tell them that they have no right to go to the polls and vote on an issue that they think is important.

Mr. President, I do not know how I would vote on this issue, finally. I do not know whether I would be for horse racing or against horse racing. However, it seems to me that as long as we have horse racing all around us, and everyone of the States which surround the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has horse racing, there is no reason why our people should not have the opportunity, along with the other citizens who live alongside of us, to vote and decide whether we do or do not want horse racing.

Mr. President, the problem of the revenue that it would raise, the problem of whether our people do or do not go to those tracks and help those other States maintain certain functions and ease their tax burden because of the money they raise, is not in the issue. Whether we do or do not have pari mutuel betting is not in the issue either. The issue is a simple one. Do the people, who are deciding for themselves, want or do not want this horse race betting? I think it is wrong for us to decide what the morals of the people are. I think it is also a little beneath us to look down our noses and say, "You are not smart enough or clever enough to decide this issue for yourselves." I do not want to sit in judgment.

I believe this is a problem for the people as a whole to decide. I think we should give them that opportunity, and not use a device of sending a bill back to committee where all of us know it will die and will take all of us off of the proverbial spot.

Mr. President, I urge the Members of the Senate to vote on this bill, and let the people have the opportunity to decide for themselves what they do or do not want and what their morals will or will not stand.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, you have often heard me say on the Senate floor that coming events cast their shadows before.

Mr. President, back in 1935, along with a Member of the General Assembly from Philadelphia, Charles Baldi, a respected Member of that House of Representatives, registered as a Republican, and myself, registered as a Democrat, sponsored the first referendum pari mutuel bill in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to my knowledge. The bill passed the House of Representatives and came over to the Senate. At that time, there was a similar bill which had been presented to the Senate by the distinguished gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, and the Senator from Philadelphia, Senator Max Aron.

The bill came out of committee in the Senate and passed Third Reading. On Final Passage, a gentleman from one of the southwestern counties arose and called attention to the fact that there was a typographical error I believe on page 4, if my memory serves me right. So, the bill was held up until the next day for printing and correction. During the night, remembering that the bill had passed with a bare majority of twenty-six votes, one of the sponsors of the bill suddenly found that he had business to attend to in Philadelphia. The next day, with that man missing, the bill only received twenty-five votes.

At that time, Mr. President, the only State touching upon the fair borders of this Commonwealth that had pari mutuel horse racing was the State of Maryland. Its racing dated back to the days of Washington and Jefferson. I got on the floor of the Senate and made the comment that within the next generation, we would become an island in a sea of horse racing States. I predicted that Pennsylvania would find itself the only State in the eastern United States denying its peoples the privilege, as it were, to see a horse race, as such.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, I would not have been too disturbed except for the fact that a friend of mine—incidentally, I have some friends who do not go to races and I have some that do. I have some friends who are Members of the Senate here who will vote to send this bill back to committee and with whom I have been to race tracks. If you men put a bill on the floor denying the people the right to go to horse races, then vote against it. However, that is all right. Each individual to his own conscience and his own term of human relationship.

Mr. President, a friend of mine happened to be in a nearby neighboring State. One of the mutuel clerks, in selling him a ticket, said to him, "I understand that you have another horse race bill up in Pennsylvania." This friend of mine said, "Yes." "Well," said the ticket clerk, "we in this State do not worry about it too much. Those fakers in Pennsylvania just put the bill in to collect and then kill it.'

Mr. President, I have been a sponsor of horse racing legislation for a good many years. I live in a room without a transom; maybe that is the reason I have not collected.

I believe, Mr. President, that this vote is very very important to the individual Membership of this Senate. Let me read to you a paragraph from a letter from a church in one of the neighboring counties. I will not read the name of the church nor the minister, because I do not believe that he would want to be publicly known as the man who wrote this letter.

Mr. President, this minister said:

"Dear Senator:

"I am writing to voice my opposition to Senate Bill 92, due for consideration this week. While it appears to be a Democratic procedure to permit the voter to enact legislation by means of a referendum, I would call to your attention the fact that the voter is not laways capable of exercising sound judgment where moral issues are involved."

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, if, after twenty centuries of Christian and moral teachings, the majority of the people of this great Commonwealth haven't the fiber to vote upon a moral question, then somewhere along the line the teaching has been wrong. I do not fear the constituency that I represent or their capabilities to make up their own minds on moral questions. I believe that the vast number of ministers, preachers and priests and rabbis in this Commonwealth have a greater regard for the ability of the people to determine that which is good or bad morally than the minister who wrote this letter.

Mr. President, if we, as the representatives of the people, hide behind a false and overloaded bush of political fear, let us not lack the courage to at least say to the people, "You make up your own minds."

Mr. President, what it will do for the people of Pennsylvania in the matter of finances becomes a secondary consideration here today. This is not a Democratic measure; it is not a Republican measure. It is the measure to determine whether men in this Senate regard their constituency as intelligent, forthright Christians and citizens, with the ability to decide for themselves that which is good for themselves, their families and their State. Are we to assume that all of the people in the surrounding States are condemned forever to the briny pits of hell because they allow racing in their States? Or, are we to believe, in good conscience, that there are many Christians, good citizens, in those States surrounding us?

Mr. President, let me read another little interesting item. It is only a headline, but it tells a very vicious story. I do not say this out of disrespect, because I count among my friends many Members of this Alliance. I try always to render unto Caesar those things that are Caesar's.

"The Lord's Day Alliance to Fight Horse Race Bill."

Mr. President, that is all right. That is their perfect right. However, this is not their right when they go on to say, "They warned the Legislators of reprisals at the polls."

Mr. President, for twenty years I have stood publicly in this Senate and have advocated a referendum on horse racing. For twenty years, I have been condemned by some and complimented by others. Every day in the General Assembly there is a new crisis. Today, we are damned to perdition and political oblivion if we vote our conscience on this particular legislation. Tomorrow, we will be damned to the same infernal spots if we vote our convictions on pregnancy and vacation payments in unemployment compensation. Later on in the week, we will again be called upon to make a decision on F.E.P.C. legislation. Perhaps, later in the Session, we will be called upon to decide, as a group, how we feel about Workmen's Compensation benefits and liberalization of the same. Then, too, we will be condemned no matter how we vote.

Mr. President, a man who lacks the intestinal fortitude to stand up for that which he, in good conscience, knows to be true, has no right in a legislative body. If courageous men had not met in the city of Philadelphia in 1776, we would not be meeting here today. The reprisals which are threatened to us are as of nothing compared to the reprisals not only threatened but meted out to that great group of valiant men. Throughout the days of history, we found that every time any question of personal privilege came up before the people, a certain group would demand the closing of the doors.

Mr. President, I sat in the House of Representatives and voted to give the people the right of a referendum and a local option on Sunday movies. I do not believe that in the twenty years that they have been in effect that I have seen over five Sunday movies in my entire lifetime. I voted, as a Member, to give to the people the right to decide whether they ought to enjoy sports spectacles on Sunday afternoons and, to the best of my knowledge, I have not witnessed a whole dozen in the twenty odd years of its existence.

Mr. President, this does not compel the people of Pennsylvania to vote for it. I have also answered my good friend, Reverend Forney, and in my letter I have said to him—in a letter than can be used publicly—and I wish you would bear with me a minute:

"My dear Reverend Forney:

"I need not tell you that I was very pleased to receive your letter. I assure you that most of us are fundamentally Christian in our beliefs and behaviors. As you know, my position as a Member of the Senate compels me to fulfill the duties of my office which are, namely, the passage of legislation affecting all of the people of Pennsylvania, its institutions, civic, public and religious activities.

"For a great many years, there has been much agitation in this State for the passage of a legalized racing bill. I have always maintained the position that I would support a bill only if that bill was passed onto the people by way of a referendum vote.

"I have a great deal of faith in the judgment of the people as a whole and in a matter that deals with their personal privilege, I believe the decision should come directly through a vote in an open election.

"I assure you that I do not intend to make any effort whatsoever for the passage of the referendum, or for the defeat of the referendum, at the polls. In the interest of clearing up this matter, I believe that I will have fulfilled my duty once the legislation is passed giving the people an opportunity to vote for it.

"I also assure you that I know litle about the motives of others. I do know that I believe the public has the inherent right to express their opinion on a matter dealing with their personal privileges. I would always take that position.

"I thank you for your kind expressions contained in your letter and my close personal friendship with the representatives of the churches who attend the Sessions at Harrisburg. It has always been a source of great satisfaction to me and I assure you that I respect their desires and their efforts in behalf of the good people of the Commonwealth.

"I regret the incident which you covered in your recent letter. I do not believe that this type of expression is becoming or is it proper. We have long ago decided that each of us has a right to our own opinion. We have also learned to respect each other's opinion, and upon this groundwork we can always come to some sound judgment that is mutually accepted.

"I want you to know that you will always be welcome any time you want to discuss with me any problem that your group has any legislation on the floor of the Senate."

Now, Mr. President, one of the sad things about this legislation is that we say here today that we are sending it back for a public hearing. What greater public hearing can this type of legislation get than a referendum upon the ballots of the people of this Commonwealth? Those who have the arguments against horse racing, and there are many, will have an opportunity to put their arguments publicly. Those who believe that they favor, will also be given that opportunity. I, for one, will oppose, as I have always opposed, tying the hands of the electorate. Let them vote to suit themselves. I cannot subcribe to the philosophy that we are in any way endangering our standards as Christians, when we fellow the concepts of the Constitution that we are sworn dutifully to obey, in giving to the people, under the Constitutional rights that we have, the opportunity to accept for themselves or reject for themselves this personal question.

It would be presumptuous on the part of any Member of this Senate in a question of this kind to vote for a bill of a postive nature. It would be wrong for us to inflict upon the people of Pennsylvania a bill decreeing that horse racing and legal betting will be allowed in Pennsylvania. However, we would be derelict in our duties, as Members of this Senate, if we denied to the people of Pennsylvania the opportunity to vote upon this legislation.

Mr. President, might I say in closing, that when you say that you are sending this back for a public hearing, remember this; that the many little citizens are not organized to come to Harrisburg. If you do not fear the judgment of the people, you will allow them to vote on it. If you feel that the so-called moral values of this legislation are so low that the people will defeat it, why do you hesitate to give them an opportunity to vote upon it?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I entertain the idea that we have a representative form of government in this Commonwealth. Surely, I would be remiss, in view of the fact that I have received only one letter asking me to vote for pari mutuel betting. That letter happened to come from a member of the Bar in Blair County. I have discussed the matter with him on numerous occasions. I know that his opinion would not be supported by any Member of this Senate. He thinks that legalized betting would help to solve our financial problem in the Commonwealth.

Now, Mr. President, I know that I have, in both Blair and Huntingdon Counties, churches that exist like in any other county in the State. As I have said, and repeat now, I have received only one letter asking me to vote for the bill. On the other hand, I have received thousands against the bill, and I know of no two letters that are phrased in the same verbiage.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would be most remiss and certainly would have no knowledge of the thinking of my constituents back home, were I to vote for the bill.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, we have now reached the point that I said awhile ago that I hated to reach.

Mr. President, in 1937 I had the opportunity to meet the fine gentleman who just preceded me, and I remember his concern when the flood struck his town and many other towns in Pennsylvania. I could see then that he was a man of feeling and the blood was withdrawn from his face and he looked like a white sheet, because he had the interest of his constituency at heart.

Now, Mr. President, I ask you to give me an opportunity to interrogate the gentleman from Blair, Senator Mallery.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Mallery, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MALLERY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I am sure that the good Senator knows the difference between theocracy and democracy. Would the gentleman from Blair like to explain the difference between theocracy and democracy?

Mr. MALLERY. Well, I have an idea myself, Senator, but I do not think that we have a democracy in this Commonwealth. We never had since Colonial days, when people met out in the commons to decide what their laws should be. I think that the people in the various Senatorial Districts of the Commonwealth felt when they voted for the Members of this Senate that in doing so, the Members would vote according to their thinking.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. In other words, Mr. President, my good colleague feels that the latter is what rules, theocracy and not democracy.

Well, Mr. President, if that is so, let us ask these people of the theocracy party to put morale patrols near Ohio, near the Delaware River Bridge, near the Baltimore border line and preach morality to all the outgoing hundreds of thousands of people who frequent tracks. Then I would say they are doing a great thing. Then I would say that this group, who is particularly interested in opposing this measure, would be doing a God-given good thing. Put the morale patrols at every border line, and then I will vote for it one hundred per cent.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, since I am a member of the Committee on Law and Order, which reported this bill to the floor of the Senate, and since I voted to report the bill from committee, I feel that I must be consistent and vote against returning it to committee.

Mr. President, when the committee meeting was held, this bill was fully debated. Every phase involved in racing, its merits and demerits, were discussed by the members of the committee. Finally, a vote was taken. On the roll call, the vote was seven to five, and the bill came from committee to this floor. When it came on the floor, there seemed to be a lot of sentiment for it. However, in the past few days, that sentiment seems to have changed. I do not know whether it is politics; I do not know whether it is because of the racing interests that surround Pennsylvania; I do not know just what the reasons are, but the sentiment has changed. I certainly would like to know the reasons for it.

Mr. President, I voted for this bill to be reported from committee because I am convinced that it has become a major issue in Pennsylvania. The people of Pennsylvania realize that every State surrounding our Commonwealth has horse racing. There are thousands of people who go to these tracks, an they drive their automobiles to these tracks. When they park their cars, they have a chance to see just where all of the cars in the huge parking lots are from. I would say that the greater majority of those cars are from Pennsylvania, which means that millions and millions of Pennsylvania dollars are being poured into other States while Pennsylvania is not getting a nickel.

Mr. President, I just want to give you one example of those States. I have a summary here before me from the State of New York, which indicates that since 1940 New York collected $376,858,251.83. Just last year, this State of New York took in close to $51,000,000, $50,734,000. How did the State of New York get legalized horse racing? New York got legalized horse racing just as we are attempting to solve that problem now, by referendum. The Constitution of the State of New York was amended to permit horse racing. That is all we are attempting to do now. By referendum, by the voice of the people, we are trying to find out whether or not they want legalized horse racing in our State.

Mr. President, what do those who oppose this bill do about gambling generally? I think everyone in this Chamber will admit that in almost every nook and corner of Pennsylvania you have bookies who take bets on horse races. You have slot machines in many localities. Number writers are everywhere in evidence. Lottery tickets you can buy in every store, on every corner, in almost the whole State. The racketeers are reaping a harvest while the Commonwealth does not get a nickel. What do these people who oppose this bill do about it? I do not see them do anything on a local level to get rid of the slot machines, get rid of the number writers and the bookies and everybody else who is gambling illegally in our State.

As a matter of fact, Mr. President, I think at the last Session of the Legislature I introduced a bill that would prohibit race charts and other data having to do with horse racing in Pennsylvania. I did not see Reverend Forney and his group come up here in droves or write letters to the Members of the Legislature and say, "Adopt that bill." It passed the Senate,and it died over in the House and not one finger was lifted.

I can say to you, Mr. Prsident and Members of the Senate, at least I am consistent by favoring this bill, because for the four Sessions that I have been here I have introduced, or caused to have introduced, a race horse bill. Reverend Forney and his organization, before the elections, passed out pamphlets against me before all the churches on the Sunday before the election. However, the people did not vote me down because of it. I was reelected each time, and I was renominated each time. That speaks for itself.

Mr. President, the Allentown Morning Call, which is one of the leading newspapers in this State, made a broad survey of the people in the entire area in which I live on this question. They devoted quite a bit of space in their newspaper to give the answers to questions from peoples of all walks of life, all sorts of organizations. I would say that the majority of the answers favored submitting this question to the people, so that they could decide once and for all whether or not they want legalized horse racing in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I am going to take just a minute to read an editorial from that newspaper, which I am assuming was based on the answers that were given by those who were interrogated. The title of this editorial is "Referendum on Horse Betting." I quote from the editorial:

"It is easy to understand the hard fight which the foes of betting at race tracks are putting up to prevent passage at Harrisburg of a bill which would put this matter of pari mutuel betting up to the voters of Pennsylvania at a referendum, perhaps in November. Organizations and individuals who are dead-set against what they consider a vice and a serious social evil would like to have the State Senate say so in effect by refusing to agree to such a referendum.

"Furthermore, if such a measure is adopted by the Legislature, it will require that fight against it be organized in every county in the State by the forces which oppose it. That can be an herculean task.

"Our elected representatives never can be chided for submitting any question to the people. They still are the sovereign force in this our democratic government.

"It is true that the people themselves do not wish to have every problem of government tossed into their laps at election times. Our Legislators are chosen to separate the wheat from the chaff. We expect them to use their best judgment in the enactment of laws or in discarding measures which have been proposed, but have little or no merit or might actually be harmful to the people.

"However, there come times when issues become so acute and are so widely discussed that a public decision, arrived at through referendum vote, is desirable for an enduring settlement.

This matter of pari mutuel betting has been bandied around in Pennsylvania for so many years that it may have reached the stage where the people desire to make a decision that shall govern for a long time.

"Certainly no Americans ever should fear the voice of the people. If and when we no longer can trust ourselves to do the right thing by our democratic institutions and by our people who must live under them, it will be time to admit the failure of our system and look around for a new one. That, of course, is unthinkable.

"The church groups of Pennsylvania for years have opposed this extension and encouragement to gambling in this State with entire consistency. Their representatives are fighting to have the Legislature reject a referendum and, thereby, put an official stamp of disapproval upon the idea.

"But, the church people should not fear a referendum. Certainly, that will demand battle in every election precinct of Pennsylvania, but there are church people in every such precinct. The church never has been weakened through battle. Instead, its fibre has been strengthened. It should have no fear of a referendum on a question that will concern the morality of our people, as well as the economic welfare of our society. Always, it can be known where the Church will stand and what its voice will be on those vitally important matters."

Mr. President, I am completely in accord with the sentiments expressed in this editorial. This editorial, in my opinion, calls upon this Senate to approve this bill so that the people of Pennsylvania will have a chance to pass upon the question involved.

I say to you, Mr. President, that by placing this question on the ballot, all forces in Pennsylvania, the church forces and other forces, will have a chance to express themselves and settle this question once and for all.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I would ask the indulgence of the Chair. I would first like to say to the Chair that I believe we are all out of order, that a motion to recommit is not debatable, that we have been debating it at quite some length and I hope you will indulge me and permit me to take at least one moment to make a few brief remarks.

When I made the motion to recommit, as several Senators have suggested, they did not quite know how they might vote on the issue if and when it was placed before the people. There is no question in my mind at all how I will vote on it if it goes before the people. I am unalterably opposed to legalizing gambling in any manner, shape or form in Pennsylvania. I think it is morally and econmically wrong and, for that reason, I moved to recommit the bill to committee. I did not say for a public hearing, but certainly if that committee on Law and Order sees fit to have a public hearing on it, that is there privilege and if they feel that that is right, then that is what they should do. However, I would like now, Mr. President, to suggest that we do have a vote on this motion to recommit.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, before I vote upon this motion, I want to clear the atmosphere somewhat. It so happens that I was born in Washington County, and I have the deepest respect for my colleague from Washington. The record shows that throughout the years we have seldom disagreed. This afternoon, however, the Senator from Washington County, Senator Lane, remarked that those who vote against this motion to recommit are actually voting for the bill.

Mr. President, I have not made up my mind as to how I should vote for the bill. However, it should not be construed that if I vote not to recommit, that I am voting for a measure calling for legalized gambling in Pennsylvania.

Secondly, Mr. President, I have always been taught that democratic government is for the people and by the people. Once we lose faith in letting our people decide an issue on a referendum, we have lost faith in ourselves.

This reminds me of an incident back in my county. Up until two years ago, I happened to be the manager of a brewery and every afternoon we had open hours for our friends. However, I had a secret office for certain ministers who came down on Tuesday and deasons on Wednesday. We were closed one Tuesday, and this caused a little mix-up in the visiting days. The ministers then met with us on Wednesday afternoon in the same office, and I was somewhat embarrassed when one minister said, "Boys, we are all here together so let's have a drink." It appears to me that it is not what they do, but what they say.

Mr. President, I have seen two horse races in my life. However, Mr. President, every Session there are members of this body soliciting me to join them in going down to see the Derby. If my memory serves me correctly, several years ago they planned a special train from this body to go and see the Derby. Until today, there were again certain members of this body who were soliciting their fellow members to attend the Derby and to go down on the same train. I am going to watch and see how these men vote. After they come back from the Derby, I shall make my talk, Mr. President.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, it is a bit discouraging to me to find the disagreement which people have about this bill. It seems to me to amount to a misunderstanding of what the bill does. I find that opponents of the bill are saying to us that a vote for this bill would be a vote for legalized betting and horse racing. I think that is wrong; I think that they are mistaken. I find on the other hand, people who are in favor of this bill saying that this is a way of submitting the question of horse racing to the people. I think that is wrong.

Mr. President. I have read the bill very carefully. I have checked my own impression by referring it to eminent counsel. I have interrogated two sponsors of the bill, and from all of that it is my impression that this bill does nothing more or less than ask the people to register their opinion. I do not find that if that opinion is in the affirmative, any legislation will be accomplished thereby. I do not find that the results of this proposed referendum will be binding upon this Legislature, on any future Legislature, on any present legislator or on any future uegislator.

Mr. President, some people are certain that a moral issue is involved in this question or horse racing. If it is so, I would presume that people who are so sure, as one of the Senators on the other side is sure that a moral issue is involved, would have the moral stamina to vote against horse racing regardless of how the people in his area felt about is. If he would have that moral stamina, he could display it regardless of the effect of this bill, and would be showing real moral stamina then, perhaps, instead of hiding behind his lack of information in assuming what the people think.

Now, to my mind, gentlemen, the effect of this bill would be nothing more or less than if the Legislature would ask Doctor Gallup and his organization to come from Princeton, and take a poll in Pennsylvania to find out how the people think about it and report to the Legislature. The results of this referendum would be no more binding than Doctor Gallup's report would be, Mr. President. Are the gentlemen who are opposing this referendum bill seriously going to tell us that it would be immoral for Doctor Gallup to come into the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and make a study on this question and report to us?

Mr. President, I have an exhibit here which I think will be of interest to the Senators. I have shown it to some of them and found that they were interested, and I would like to share it with all of us. I might call these Exhibit A and Exhibit B. These are two letters which I received on the same day, and which present an interesting point in this controversy. I am going to read the letters, but I am going to substitute "X, Y, and Z" for the persons and places named in order to protect the writers in both cases.

This letter I received last Monday morning, which is Exhibit A, and Exhibit B I received last Monday evening when I returned home from my attendance in the Senate, Mr. President. Exhibit A, reads as follows:

"Dear Sir:

"I have never written my Senator before, and this is an experience. May I express a thought of mine. I belong to the 'X' church here in 'Y' borough. In other words, if you receive a letter from a Reverend 'Z,' our Pastor, stating that all of the members of 'X' church are against the allowing of the people of this State to vote on the question of horse racing, disregard it. Many members think it should be put to a vote. That is the democratic way. We need no one to bully us."

Signed, "Mr. W."

Now, When I returned home, gentlemen of the Senate, I received this letter which I will read in part:

"Dear Senator:

"It has been requested that I, as the Pastor of 'X' church write to you about certain bills that are now before the Legislature, and we do want you to know that this letter is not a part of the so-called 'organized effort' as referred to by some proponents of these bills, but this letter represents the 'personal attitude and sentiment' of the members of 'X' church which comprises nearly half of the population of this borough of 'Y' and who are your constituents."

Mr. President, I will not read the rest of the letter, for it simply tells me that they are opposed to the referendum bill. I think this makes an interesting point. I do not think that it is true that there is any discrepancy between church membership or real religious sentiment in this bill. As a matter of fact, I believe that there is a real moral issue involved in this question. I believe that religion and democracy are very close. I do not think that democracy can really exist without deep religious belief and conviction. Certainly, the one thing which joins them in my mind is the belief in the dignity of the human individual; that he has a God-given ability to make free choices; that he is allowed to have free knowledge of the subject; that he is able and endowed by his Creator with the ability to make good, intelligent choices. I believe, in that sense, that there is a moral issue involved in this matter. I also believe that anyone who takes the position that it is somehow wrong to find out how people think about things, to give them an opportunity to express their desires to the legislators or to anybody else, it seems to me that that person had better check pretty carefully his basic religious belief and also his basic ideas about democracy.

Mr. President, I feel the weight of the argument that this is a representative form of government but, bear in mind, we are not, by this bill, submitting this question to the decision of an electorate. That is not true. If this bill passes, no horse racing bill will be legislated. We are simply putting on the ballot this question. As I said before, we are getting the same result as we would if we had a Gallup Poll except for two things. First of all, you have a bigger sample and, therefore, a more accurate judgment; and, secondly, it is a lot cheaper than if you have Doctor Gallup come over here and put on a poll.

Therefore, Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, I submit, in view of the facts, let us stop this can't which we have been expressing about the moral issue on horse racing applying to this bill. Let us stop thinking that we are abrogating representative government by submitting the question to the people instead of taking our own stand on it. We simply are asking for information.

I personally do not feel the need of information. I feel that I am ready to vote on the horse racing bill right now, but some gentlemen are not and I, as a member of this Senate am willing to let those gentlemen have the benefit of learning how the people in their Districts think about this question.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I am hungry, too. However, I think that the editorial from the Allentown Morning Call, which was read by the distinguished Senator from Northampton a few minutes ago, is an excellent summation of the issues involved in this piece of legislation or this referendum resolution.

One thing I do not appreciate, Mr. President, is the implicit assumption that those who might vote for this resolution are necessarily immoral. I do not know any of my friends or associates at home who is not a member of a church. I have found that without regard to denomination, there are some in each category. There are some members of the same denomination who are for a referendum on horse racing and some who are against it.

Mr. President, it seems to me that this has been an issue in Pennsylvania for a long time. I think it is time that the Legislature took some affirmative action. This referendum is merely a matter of information or merely advisory, as the Senator from York has pointed out. However, it seems to me that there has been too much rumor and conjecture in years gone by as to why horse racing legislation always seems to have a way of dying in the State Legislature. I believe that the people are entitled to vote on this question. I do not have the slightest idea how the people in Lackawanna County would vote, but it is my opinion that they are entitled to be heard and to have a chance to say "yes" or "on."

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes to announce that the next race is about ready to start.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I did not want to speak the second time, but since my statements have been questioned, I feel that no matter what we do it is wrong. I say, too, that I am ready to vote on legislation legalizing pari mutuel betting here in Pennsylvania right today. My vote would be "no."

Mr. President, when I made that statement, I am convinced that I am right. I feel that what we are looking for is justification for passing pari mutuel betting legislation in Pennsylvania. Therefore, we are using this referendum as more or less of an excuse, if you please. So, I still think that my position is correct because I, for one, am not interested in horses. I think I have been to two races. I do not have the time. I do not criticize those who go; that is their business. However, I think it is the wrong thing for Pennsylvania.

As far as the sponsors are concerned, I want them to know that they are my best friends and I hope they will be my best friends after the vote is cast.

Mr. President, I think it would be a good thing if this bill could be acted upon now and not recommitted. If we could vote here today whether or not we approve or disapprove a referendum, then I think the people would be convinced as to the position of the Members of the Senate.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, how did the gentleman from Dauphin County, Mr. Taylor, vote?

Mr. President, how did the gentleman from Crawford County, Mr. Mahany, vote?

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman from Allegheny wish to have the roll verified?

Mr. DENT. No, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DENT and Mr. BARR, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—23

Bane,	Harney,	Mallery,	Taylor,
Berger,	Hays,	McPherson, Jr.	Wade,
Chapman,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Wagner,
Diehm,	Lane,	Peelor,	Whalley,
Flack,	Madigan,	Scott,	Wolfe,
Fleming,	Mahany,	Stevenson,

NAYS—25

Barr,	Haluska,	Miller,	Stiefel,
Blass,	Holland,	Mullin,	Toole,
Camiel,	Kopriver, Jr.	Ruth,	Watkins,
Dent,	McCreesh,	Schmidt,	Watson,
Derk,	McGinnis,	Seyler,	Weiner,
DiSilvestro,	McMenamin,	Silvert,	Yosko,
Donolow,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 112, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 17, 1929 (P. L. 1798), entitled "An act providing a fixed charge, payable by the Commonwealth, on lands acquired by the State and the Federal Government for forest reserves, or for the purpose of preserving and perpetuating a portion of the original forests of Pennsylvania, and preserving and maintaining the same as public places and parks; and the distribution of the same for county, school, township, and road purposes in the counties, school districts, and townships where such forests are located; and making an appropriation," increasing the amounts of payments from the Commonwealth to counties.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. LANE offered the following amendment:

Amend Senate Bill No. 112 Printer's No. 34, Section 1, page 3, line 4 by striking out after the word one-half: "six" and inserting therein the word: "four"

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 171, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 23, 1931 (P. L. 932), entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class and amending, revising and consolidating the law relating thereto," further regulating the power of the directors of the various departments to suspend certain employes and providing appeals.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 219, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 17, 1921 (P. L. 682), entitled "An act relating to insurance; amending, revising, and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies, and the regulation, supervision, and protection of home and foreign insurance companies, Lloyds associations, reciprocal and interinsurance exchanges, and fire insurance rating bureaus, and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies, association, and exchanges, including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund; providing penalties; and repealing existing laws," extending the purposes for which certain companies may be incorporated.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 242, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 28 1953 (P. L. 723) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second class amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" changing provisions relating to incompatibility in office of civil service commissioners.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, for the purposes of explanation, we have a bill over in the Governor's office, Senate Bill No. 15, dealing with the matching of funds for an inventory of existing hospitals and in connection with a survey of the need for additional hospital facilities. In this bill, we failed to put an effective date in it, and we are going to recall it, with the permission of the Senate, to place and effective date into the act.

RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 15, PRINTER'S No. 5, FROM THE GOVERNOR

Messrs. DENT and MAHANY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 21, 1955.

RESOLVED (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 15, Printer's No. 5, entitled "An act to provide for an inventory of existing hospitals; for a survey of the need for additional hospital facilities; and for the development and administration of a hospital construction program, which will in conjunction with existing facilities, afford hospitals adequate to serve all people of the State; and appropriating money; establishing methods of administration and control; providing for compliance with the requirements of the Federal Hospital Survey and Construction Act and regulations thereunder authorizing the acceptance and expenditure of Federal Funds in accordance with such requirements; and placing additional duties upon the Department of Welfare," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of the bill reported from committee for the first time at today's session.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 192, entitled:

An Act providing for and regulating the licensing and practice of practical nursing; imposing duties on the State Board of Nurse Examiners and imposing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, March 22, 1955, at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 6:31 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Tuesday, March 22, 1955, at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, March 21, 1955

The House met at 4:30 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse offered the following prayer:

Grant us, Almighty and most merciful God, fervently to desire, wisely to search out, and perfectly to fulfill all that is well pleasing unto Thee this day.

O God, as Thou hast guided men and women in the past, so guide these Representatives today. Whisper in their ears Thy counsel. Help our leaders to consider thoughtfully what they say and then to say it bravely. Give them good intentions and help them to live in good deeds.

Thou, O God, has the answers. If we are right with Thee we will be right with our fellow-men. Therefore, make us willing to listen to Thee.

Hear our prayer, Thou God of all nations, and grant unto the members of this body Thy guidance, we humbly beseech Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journals of Monday, March 14, Tuesday, March 15 and Wednesday, March 16, 1955? If not, and without objection, the Journals are approved.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. POLASKI and ROBERT K. HAMILTON.

HOUSE BILL No. 675.

An Act to amend the title and further amend the act, approved the fifteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 534), entitled "An act relating to motion-picture films, reels, or stereopticon views or slides; providing a system of examination, approval, and regulation thereof, and of the banners, posters, and other like advertising matter used in connection therewith; creating the Board of Censors; and providing penalties for the violation of this act," by authorizing the disapproval of any reel, film or view which is obscene or incites to crimes of violence and by repealing certain sections of the act.

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 116

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

Serial No. 116. (Not printed).

In the Senate, March 15, 1955.

While the danger is imminent that at the end of the current quarter all unemployment compensation contribution rates may be increased automatically to 2.7% and compensation payments reduced automatically to $20 a week and a total of twenty weeks or $400, whichever is the lesser, there is an extremely wide difference of opinion between the Department of Labor and Industry and employers as to the actual necessity for an increase in the schedule of contribution rates.

In order to resolve this difference accurately and intelligently a careful and time consuming study is necessary before a law removing the danger can be adopted; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That, notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (d) and (e) of section 404 of the Unemployment Compensation Law, as amended, limiting the amount of compensation payable to an employe for a week of unemployment, and the total amount of compensation payable during a calendar quarter, if on March 31, 1955, the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania falls below one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less refunds during any twelve consecutive months, the General Assembly authorizes that compensation shall be paid to each eligible employe in the full amount provided for in the "Table Specified for the Determination of Rate and Amount of Benefits" set forth in section 404 of the Unemployment Compensation Law as amended September 29, 1951 (P. L. 1580), even though at the end of the calendar quarter the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any consecutive twelve months.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House fo Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGES

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the Senate:

Senate Bills for concurrence 136, 199, 200 and 203.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM GOVERNOR

The SPEAKER laid before the House Exhibit No. 1, submitted by His Excellency, The Governor, pursuant to House Resolution No. 22, adopted March 7, 1955.

Exhibit No. 1 referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILL No. 89, Printer's No. 103.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, Pa., March 18, 1955.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Bill No. 89, Printer's No. 103, entitled "An Act to further amend Section 15 of the act approved the twenty-first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 626) entitled 'An act providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of all subjects of taxation in counties of the second class creating and prescribing the powers and duties of a Board of Property Assessment Appeals and Review imposing duties on certain county and city officers abolishing the board for the assessment and revision of taxes in such counties and prescribing penalties' by changing the provisions concerning service of notice to taxables upon charge of assessments."

GEORGE M. LEADER.

RESOLUTION—PRESBYTERY OF PITTSBURGH

The SPEAKER laid before the House a Resolution adopted by the Presbytery of Pittsburgh, commending the Governor for his support of FEPC legislation and urging the Senate to act favorably upon Administration Senate Bill 74.

SENATE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 321, entitled:

An Act prohibiting the publication distribution or sale of certain comic books and publications imposing duties on the Pennsylvania State Board of Censors and on law enforcement officers and imposing penalties

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mrs. VARALLA. Mr. Speaker, many newspapers that I have read in the last few days contain these reports—I quote:

> Lady-like Wrangle Flares Over Comic Book Bill
> Comics Ban Bill Stirs Row——End of quote

I wish to say in reply: There is no "wrangle," and there is no "row" over the objectives of the bill—because my intentions always have been and always will be to take care of the public demand—by the sponsoring of a bill putting under censorship comic books and other publications. This I did. And I introduced it prior to the bill now under consideration.

There are several solutions to the problem of control and censorship of comic books. My bill presents one solution. The bill which was reported out presents another solution which has considerable merit. However to obtain the best results all bills should be considered and the best features of all be advanced for the benefit of the public.

Where the people are vitally interested in any question you will always finds me on their side. I have sponsored similar legislation in prior sessions and if this bill has the same aim in curtailing the horror out of the comic books then the bill under consideration has my full support, regardless of its sponsorship.

Mr. READINGEB. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take just a few minutes of the Members' time today to get myself out from the middle of the pile of women in this House.

Last week we had a sort of a powder puff tempest around here, because this bill was reported out with certain sponsors on it. I had not had an opportunity to read the bill at the time when all this arose, and I did my best without success to persuade the original sponsors to allow some additional sponsors to be added to the bill.

That did not meet with their approval and at the time I mentioned the fact that it might be necessary to recommit the bill because of this mix-up on sponsors or lack of sufficient sponsors. However, when I finally got a chance to read the bill today, thoroughly, I was forced to the conclusion that there is a very, very serious doubt about its constitutionality.

As you know the duty to administer the bill relating to comic and horror books, which are banned for children and so forth, by an amendment in the Committee has been imposed upon the Pennsylvania State Board of Censors. I have no objection to that but if any of you have read it you will see on page 3 that it makes it a crime to sell or distribute certain types of comic books or publications devoted to the fictional deeds of crime, bloodshed, lust or immorality, which would tend to corrupt or debase the morals of children, and so forth.

Now, certainly none of us have any objection, I am sure, to eliminating the type of comic and horror books they are trying to eliminate under this legislation. But you must remember that when we write a law and say it is a crime we should in some way define the limits of it, we should set up some standards by which the administrative body can be guided, otherwise we are saying to every person who publishes a book or phamplet, "You are liable to be guilty of a crime."

That is my main objection to the bill as it stands at the moment. I greatly fear if this thing is passed in its present form and goes before the Courts nobody will ever be convicted because he will say "I had nothing by which I could guide my conduct."

For example, in my opinion the way it is written now, if somebody publishes and distributes Robert Louis Stevensons' Treasure Island, and a copy should be sold to a child, a person could be held guilty of a crime, depending upon the way this bill would be interpreted, because there certainly was a lot of bloodshed and plenty of crime in that famous story.

My objective today in taking your time in speaking about this is to assure you that when I make a motion in a few minutes, asking that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary, no, it didn't come from that Committee, it came from Child Care, but I will ask that it be recommitted to Judiciary. I do so with only one purpose in mind, not to have it killed, not to change any sponsors or even add any sponsors, but solely to have the members of that Committee, which I believe is best equipped to consider this phase of legislation, determine whether or not it will meet the legal standards and stand up in court. If we are going to have legislation that is worthwhile along this line, let us be sure when we finally pass a bill it will have teeth in it, that it will get rid of the type of comic and horror books that we want to get rid of, and will not be thrown out by any court in this Commonwealth on the ground that it isn't constitutional. When I do make the motion to recommit I want you to know that I have every intention of using my own influence, whatever it might be, in getting the bill reported back from Judiciary for final consideration by this House. But I do think our best plan would be to send it to Judiciary.

I have no intention of curtailing debate on this bill in any way and that is the reason I have not made the motion up to this time. I do not want anybody to be restricted technically to the question of whether it should be recommitted or not and if anybody wants to debate the merits of this bill today before I make my motion I will be glad to withhold it and will raise no objection. I am sure nobody on this side will object to a full discussion of the bill.

With that understanding, Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill 321 be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary for the purpose of further study and consideration.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I do not rise at this time to fight the recommittal motion and I, and we on this side, sincerely believe the gentleman when he says he is honest in his endeavor to make this a good and constitutional piece of legislation. We certainly agree with him because we know this legislation is needed. It is something we should have in Pennsylvania and I believe that all of us on both sides of the House feel that comic books misused and written in the wrong way have caused a great deal of our juvenile delinquency. But as all of us know, recommitting a bill sometimes to a Committee is the death of the bill.

I know it is not fair to ask the Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, who I understand is Mr. Lopresti, to guarantee that this bill will come out in a constitutional manner, but to show sincerity on both sides with such an important piece of legislation, I would like to request the gentleman in whose care this bill is going to be placed, under all the circumstances not to pickle this bill. It is too good a bill. It is a good bill whether you are a Republican or whether you are a Democrat. It is a bill that should be given very serious consideration, and if there be a doubt as to its constitutionality I would still say to report it out of Committee and let us vote on it, let the Senate vote on it and let the Atorney General himself have he final say as to its constitutionality. This legislation is needed today in Pennsylvania and all over our country.

Mr. PETROSKY. Mr. Speaker, on the same subject matter discussed by prior speakers, I have worked very deligently upon this problem. Not being one of the sponsors and not wanting to be one of the sponsors, I am primarily interested in seeing that a good piece of legislation is worked out, becomes enacted and placed upon the statute books so that the evil which confronts us now in this field can be eradicated.

I, like the Majority Leader, feel that were we to pass legislation that was not drawn up properly it would be a shame, for two years from now we would be confronted with the same problem and then we would have to go to work and draw up a proper piece of legislation. We can gain two years by submitting this to the proper committee, drawing it up properly and attacking the problem that must be attached in a short period of time.

I believe the Majority Leader has suggested a very good procedure. We can adopt it and, I know, enact proper legislation at this session to curtail the evil that confronts us today on this bill.

Mr. WATERHOUSE. Mr. Speaker, I just don't quite like to take the bait on this one. It kind of makes me think of the time I was trading horses with a guy. I looked this horse over pretty well and I said, "Are you sure this horse doesn't have the heaves?" He said, "No sir, Doc, that horse just breathes that way."

If there is any question about the constitutionality of this bill, I believe the proper procedure would be to amend the bill on the floor of the House. I have been here a good many years and I have seen a lot of bills go back for possible amendment and further study, and you know and I know what happens to them.

When I look at the sponsorship of this bill, namely, the ladies, Mrs. Henzel, Mrs. Markley and Mrs. Munley, I could not think of any finer sponsors, so I would like to see the bill stay on the floor and amendments offered. I think if it is not a good bill now, it can be made a very good bill with a few simple amendments.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, since the horse trader from Erie County is still in grave doubt, perhaps it will ease his mind if I say that I will join with the Minority Leader in a motion to discharge the Judiciary Committee from further consideration of this bill if after due time they see fit not to report it out.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, since attention is called to the fact that there might be possible amendments to the bill, it is very obvious to those who have read the bill that Section 6 on page 4 provides for a penalty for the violation of Section 4, which does not contain any reference to any provisions of the bill at all other than the fact that a board shall administer the act.

In other words, this bill was so hastily changed last week from the bill which provides for the appointment of a commission, to the bill which provides for the activity of the State Board of Censors that it was not properly written. It is quite true that there may be some amendments. After the Judiciary Committee gets it we might be in a posiion to straighten it out and report it back to the floor at least in such shape — — — —

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I believe we were not talking on the bill but only on the recommittal motion. If I am wrong, I am at the mercy of the Chair; but I do not believe it right at this time to debate the merits of the bill. I do not believe the Majority Leader and myself got into the actual merits of the bill itself. I think the gentleman is out of order when he debates specific things in the bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. It is the Chairs understanding that before the motion is put, and the motion has not been put to recommit, there would be a discussion of the bill. There is nothing before the House now but the discussion. The motion to recommit has not been put as yet.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I thought the motion to recommit had been put, Mr. Speaker. I did not know you were going to get into the merits of the bill at this time.

The SPEAKER. The motion has been made, but the motion has not been put and it is not yet before the House.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I thank the Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, to allay the fears of some of the Members that this bill may not be considered properly before the Judiciary Committee, I wish to make the statement at this time that if this House sees fit to recommit this bill, it will be discussed in the Judiciary Committee. It will be brought before that Committee and every attempt made to get a good bill on the floor of this House.

Of course, I do not speak for the membership of that Committee, I can speak only for myself. Personally, I will see that the bill is given consideration.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, over the weekend I consulted with two of three attorneys relative to the merits of this bill, as to whether or not it would be constitutional. They seemed to feel that the intent of the bill is right, but the bill in its present form would not be of any value. It would be declared out in court in case they had a contest on it.

I think the intention of the bill is wonderful. I think we ought to go along with it if it is amended to bring it up to where it should be and make it legal all the way through. However, under the present setup I think the bill is out.

I also disagree with the setup of introducing a measure of this kind in the House without giving it the proper study, and I do want to say now for the benefit of any of the Members who are new Members, who do not know that I have introduced session after session legislation covering this subject and it never got any consideration. That same legislation is introduced now and it has not been given consideration.

I am not asking to be a sponsor of this bill. If the bill were to come up today even in its present form, I would vote for it. The aim is right, but the bill in its present form is not right. Therefore, I am going to vote to recommit the bill with the understanding that it will be reported from the Committee in proper form.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion to recommit House Bill 321 to the Committee on Judiciary?

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 354, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 14 1923 (P. L. 710) entitled "An act allowing and regulating boxing sparring and wrestling matches and exhiibtions establishing a State Athletic Commission making an appropriation therefor and appropriating moneys received for monument and memorial purposes and prescribing penalties" clarifying its provisions relative to women wrestlers

The first section and title were separately read and agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I wonder if I may interrogate the sponsor of this bill, it is a peculiar bill to be following—we just had woman trouble.

The SPEAKER. Who does the gentleman from Philadelphia desire to interrogate about woman trouble?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. The sponsor of the bill, Mr. Muldowney, from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman from Philadelphia willing to be interrogated? Is he an expert upon the subject?

Mr. MULDOWNEY. I am, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed with his inquiry.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I was wondering first of all, Mr. Speaker, if I could ask the gentleman, in lines 12, 13 and 14 where it says, "Nothing in this or any other Act shall be construed to authorize the commission to prohibit wrestling matches or exhibitions in which women are participants." Now, is that restricted strictly to women?

Mr. MULDOWNEY. Mr. Speaker, in Pennsylvania the Athletic Commission has the sole ruling whether a woman is allowed to wrestle or not, and if they did not like the promoter of wrestling matches where women perform they would be the sole judges whether this man is going to operate wrestling matches where women are going to wrestle in their bouts. I think the bill will take a lot of power away from the Commission and it will give the Legislature a chance to vote on whether they think it is right or not.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, it is not quite clear to me whether women are going to have to wrestle with each other or with other individuals such as men. It just says in which they are participants, it does not say it has to be 100 per cent participation.

I was wondering if I could go a little further, the Majority Leader just said that he was under a pile of women on Bill 321. I have seen wrestling matches where there have been four, or five, or six people involved, but I was wondering—

The SPEAKER. When the Minority Leader gets them in piles, it is going pretty heavy.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I was just wondering if there were six people and only one man involved would that be legal? Would they still be under the pile of five women?

Mr. MULDOWNEY. No, it would be women wrestling against each other.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Then we would have no interest as the male sex, we could not enter into this?

Mr. MULDOWNEY. No, you could not.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I am rather disappointed, Mr. Speaker. We will probably have to vote against the bill tomorrow because of that, unless the gentleman would like to amend it.

Mr. MULDOWNEY. I do not see where it could be amended.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 404, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1 1933 (P. Amend Bill, page 6, by inserting between lines 10 and 11, the following "An injunction granted without a hearing as provided under general equity practice in any of the above cases shall be subject to immediate review by a Justice of the Supreme Court."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The SPEAKER. Might the Chair inquire as to whether these amendments are to be integrated and to be discussed as a whole, or whether the bill is amended section by section and the amendments do not tie together?

Mr. TOMPKINS. No, they integrate, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 429 in its present form merely strikes out the provisos of the Act of 1937 which was amended by the Act of 1939.

As a matter of fact, what this present bill does in its present form, House Bill 429, is merely to provide that the provisions put in the 1937 Act by the 1939 amendments be stricken out and restore the Act to its 1937 position.

The reason which has been given heretofore by the administration according to quotations in the paper is that injunctions of an ex parte nature, that is to say, where there is no preliminary hearing, shall be subject to immediate review, which is not presently in the Act.

What these amendments which I have offered will accomplish will have the provisions of the 1939 amendments, but will allow an immediate appeal for which there is no such right at the present time. Simply stated, that is what the amendments provide and the purpose is to save the provisions of the 1939 amendments, which related principally to sit-down strikes, but to give them the right of immediate appeal rather than the processes that operate at the present time where appeals are delayed for an unnecessary length of time.

Mr. READINGER. I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman whether under his amendments there is any assurance that a review, which is supposed to be immediate, by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania would be given within, say, ten days of the time application was made for it?

Mr. TOMPKINS. The present bill does not provide for appeals except under the usual processes, which are sometimes delayed. Now the provisos of the 1939 amendments were exempted from the bill which did not give the right of immediate appeal. The Act in other respects provides for the right of immediate appeal to the Supreme Court. This will be an amendment to sub-section D of that Act which relates entirely and exclusively to the provisos in that section, and will give the right of immediate appeal in those cases the same as in all other cases in the injunction Act.

Mr. READINGER. Is there any assurance under the amendments offered by the gentleman that if an ex parte injunction is granted the party against whom it is granted will have a chance of having a review within, say, two months?

Mr. TOMPKINS. It is my understanding, Mr. Speaker, not being an expert labor lawyer myself, that these amendments are designed to accomplish that purpose, yes, sir.

Mr. READINGER. They are designed, you say, to allow the person or the organization against which the injunction is issued to immediately make application for review by the Supreme Court. Is that correct?

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is my understanding, sir.

Mr. READINGER. But there are no clauses in your amendments which would assure such a party of a hearing within any length of time, is that correct?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Other than is contained in the injunction bill itself, which is a ten-day limitation.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I am asking the membership of this House to vote these amendments down.

The bill before you now eliminates the exceptions which were inserted in this law back in 1939 and which in effect said that in certain cases, despite the anti-injunction laws, the common pleas courts could issue injunctions simply upon the sworn affidavits of somebody who said his rights were being wronged in some way. If after these injunctions were issued and a hearing held two, three or four weeks later, perhaps longer, the court determined it should not have issued the injunction, it immediately dissolved it, but by that time the entire purpose of the person or organization which sought the injunction would have been served.

All we are trying to do under House Bill 429 is to put the law of Pennsylvania in such position that before any court issues an injunction in one of these labor disputes it fixes a date for a hearing and has a hearing—and I say that a hearing of that kind could be held in one day —and then the court would have some facts based on testimony on both sides before it in order to make a determination as to whether the injunction should issue or should not.

We want to remove from the law of Pennsylvania the chance of an improper injunction being issued. I use the word "improper" in the sense that a court examining affidavits might think one should issue, but if a hearing were held on the matter the court might feel quite differently. There are plenty of instances in which an employer, if he so desires, can rig the type of testimony which he thinks he needs in order to get a sworn affidavit that certain things are being done which are wrong and upon which he could get an injunction in a labor case.

It is to eliminate the chance of that happening that we are asking that this House Bill 429 be passed, and we certainly are not accomplishing that if we accept the amendments offered by the gentleman from Cameron. I think it is a good thing to provide for an immediate review, but I think it is a great deal better thing to provide that these injunctions shall not issue ex parte and that there should be a hearing before they are issued at all.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if the provisos contained in the present law do not relate principally to sit-down strikes.

Mr. READINGER. I do not think they relate principally to them, but I think they relate to sit-down strike cases in which damage might be inflicted upon property, cases which involve a breach of contract between employers or employes. They relate to more things than sit-down strikes.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I thank the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

These provisos generally were intended to protect management from threatened damage. If these provisos are stricken out of it Bill 429 is passed, it means that management cannot do anything until such time as damage has been inflicted upon them, and in those circumstances we are granting to one class of our people, I believe, rights which were not given to all of our people. It places itself somewhat on a class legislation basis. Now labor has every right to be protected, to get its rights protected, to have its rights enforced in Courts the same as everybody else, but when they are asking for a special privilege where irreparable damage might be done, and management must wait until after that damage has been inflicted upon them, we don't think it is right.

In the last twenty years labor and management have come a long way. There is a friendly feeling developing between them and they are showing a disposition to want to get along. Sure, they have their differences, they have them now and they will always have them, the same as individuals have differences. But, we have come a long way, we made great strides under the provisions of our present law, and to turn back the clock twenty years now and put us in a position to say that we are going to bring about conditions that required or brought about the passage of these amendments, I don't think it is right for our society or for the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We want to try to give labor the right of quick decisions and so forth, but I don't believe we should go so far as to say that management should be subjected to having injury inflicted upon it before it does something to protect itself.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I concur in part with what the gentleman has just said, but when he infers that by changing this law back to the way it was written in 1937, we have a desire to inflict upon management or people that own property undue harm, I think he is entirely wrong in making that statement.

All this bill does, without his amendment, is to say to the people of Pennsylvania and to the people involved in these matters, that before the Court shall issue the injunction, there shall be a hearing. Now, he speaks about threatened damage and so forth. Management need not wait until damage has been inflicted, if there is threatened injury and damage and the matter is brought before a Court on an application for an injunction. All labor asks for is the right to have a hearing before an injunction is issued.

Let us assume a case where a certain employer wants to prevent the organization of the employes in the plant into a union. He can, if he wants to, employ people to get into a picket line, to cause damage, to start fights, to throw rocks through a building and so forth. Perhaps the union members hadn't a thing to do with it, it could very easily be employes under the employer, and then the employer could go into Court and say, "Here my plant is being damaged; I want an injunction." Perhaps the Court will believe that union members in their zeal, or whatever you want to call it, were doing these things and issue the injunction. Perhaps there wouldn't be a hearing for a month. Perhaps the whole plan of unionization may have been defeated by that time, based on the fact that somebody, not connected with the union, was creating damage. All these people are asking for is their day in Court before an injunction goes out and upsets every plan they might have made for peaceable organization of a certain plan. If it is right to give to the applicants an immediate review by the Supreme Court, may I ask you why it is not right that the local courts review these matters by having a hearing before they grant an injunction?

I agree with the gentleman when he says that labor relations today are better perhaps than they have been for many, many years and we are all glad to know that, because labor strikes between management and labor usually result in a loss to everybody. The relations are better today, we probably won't ever see another sit-down strike, but this bill we are asking you to pass, 429, certainly does not allow sit-down strikes. It simply says that before injunctions are issued there shall be a hearing, and the local courts can have hearings on very short notice, and then they will make a proper determination as to whether an injunction should issue or not. Injunctions will still issue if someone is doing something illegal or wrong.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I would like to ask the Majority Leader one question?

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I understand the gentleman gives us his assurance that the sole and exclusive purpose of this bill is to prevent ex parte injunctions upon affidavits only. Is that the sole, exclusive purpose?

Mr. READINGER. It is to eliminate the issuance of injunctions by ex parte affidavits.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. That is the only purpose of the bill?

Mr. READINGER. That is the only thing the bill does. The injunction Act prior to that time provided for the issuance of injunctions in a certain way, but then in 1939 they said except in these cases, in these four instances you don't need a hearing, you have an ex parte injunction.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. The reason I asked that is because it refers to conformity with the act and I wanted your assurance in that respect. That is all.

Mr. READINGER. I so understand it.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to further interrogate the Majority Leader, if I may?

The SPEAKER. Will the Majority Leader permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Majority Leader if in a dispute that exists between him and myself, which has no relation to labor disputes, if I cannot today go into court on an affidavit of mine and get a preliminary injunction without the necessity of having a hearing, which then must be heard within a period of five days?

Mr. READINGER. You can.

Mr. TOMPKINS. That applies then to all the other classes and organizations in the State of Pennsylvania, does it not?

Mr. READINGER. It does, to the best of my knowledge.

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is under your equity practice in the State of Pennsylvania, as I understand it.

Mr. READINGER. That is right.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Then why are we asking that this privilege be given to just this one classification rather than putting them on a par with all the other people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

Mr. READINGER. Well my answer to that would be that the Norris-LaGuardia Act was passed in Congress years ago, and many of the States passed anti-injunction acts relative to labor disputes. But those acts were passed because history had indicated that there was a great abuse in the issuance of injunctions in labor cases. In other words, they were used many times to break up a strike, to break up organization of union people and for many other reasons which were anti-labor. The labor people were trying to organize, they were trying to be recognized, they were seeking what they considered to be the rights of the working man and history indicates very clearly that in many instances the courts were abused by getting injunctions issued and this whole series of bills, federal and state, was designed to break up that abuse of labor injunctions. It was stated as a public policy in this State and many other States that the purpose for the anti-injunction bill was to accomplish just that, and if we are going to go back to the law as it was, and the law as it still is in many equity cases, then we may as well forget the past history because we would have it back on our doorsteps again some day. All of these things were designed to eliminate labor unrest, labor disputes, friction between management and labor, and I think they have had that purpose in mind and they still do. This is a socially equitable bill that we are asking you to pass and I think the gentlemen from labor and industry will agree that there have been many abuses in the past which should never come about again.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

On a rising vote, sixty-four Members having voted in the affirmative and one hundred fifteen Members having voted in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the number of reasons that might be raised and debated on this bill were covered in the amendment. I would merely like to read a statement in connection with this bill in order that we have something for the record.

If this bill is passed it will return the Anti-Injunction Act to its 1937 status. Under the 1937 Act (as it stood before the 1939 amendments), no ex parte injunctions can be issued. As a matter of fact under the 1937 Act no injunction can be issued except under those conditions cited in Paragraph 206 i of 43 Purdons. The conditions are (1) an unlawful act has been committed, (2) irreparable damage will result, (3) greater harm will result by denying the relief than granting it, (4) no adequate remedy at law, and (5) that public officers can not furnish adequate protection. In these cases injunction can be issued but only after notice of hearings, etc.

The Governor's statement of March 4, 1955, in substance is correct. That is, the 1937 Act did not permit the issuance of ex parte injunctions. It might be added that the 1937 Act still prohibits ex parte injunctions. It is only in the four cases covered by the proviso of 1939 that ex parte injunctions are permitted.

When they state to you that the repeal of the 1939 amendments would permit a quicker appeal to the appellate court in injunction cases, they are probably correct. By striking out the proviso in the 1939 amendment, the law will then provide that all injunction cases must be processed in strict conformity with the 1937 Act. The 1937 Act then provides that an immediate appeal can be taken to the Supreme Court by either party. The lower court is ordered to forthwith certify the record as soon as the request is made. Obviously if injunctions can only be issued under the 1937 Act, then, of course, appeals to the Supreme Court are available to either party.

In the final analysis, if the 1939 proviso is repealed, the Courts of this Commonwealth for all practical purposes have their hands tied so far as issuing an injunction in a labor case is concerned. A careful reading of Section 206 f in 43 Purdons makes it obvious to anyone that the Court has practically no authority to issue any injunction. For the sake of argument however, either you, I or anyone could cite a set of facts under which a possible injunction could be issued, but for all practical purposes it is almost impossible. On the other hand they may argue that with a speedy appeal to the Supreme Court, the employer's rights are fully protected. That does not work out in practice. If the Court takes the position he can not issue the injunction because of the restriction in the Act, then the only thing the employer can do is wait until irreparable injury becomes evident and then he can proceed for an injunction. In other words the complainant must suffer injury before he has a remedy. He can not go into Court and try to prevent the injury before it occurs.

It is my own opinion that the mere fact that the proviso of 1939 was on the Statute Books and has itself prevented considerable violence and property damage from occurring in labor strikes. I think it has been a deterrent especially since the decisions of the Westinghouse case and the Carnegie-Illinois Steel case of 1946. Those cases have pretty well laid down the rule as to how far strikers may go in their picketing at plant gates and on plant premises. As the law is at the present time, the Unions are not in any way interfered or restrained from carrying on what might be termed a legal strike. The only place the Unions are curbed is in committing violence, and damage to property and injury to persons. When they go that far they should be rstrained. Every reasonably minded Union representative thinks along the same lines.

I think we should also keep in mind that times have changed over the past ten years. Both labor and management are learning to live together and any of the early animosities are no longer present. Both sides now respect each other. At least more so than they did twenty years ago.

Mr. LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to support the bill. In listening to the gentleman, Mr. Tompkins, speaking about protecting management from damages, to me in my experience in life that is the biggest joke I ever heard. I do not propose to ask if he was active in organized labor prior to 1934 when Pennsylvania was one of the worst states in the union for a workingman to get a square deal. I know he knows that, and everybody within the hearing of my voice knows about it, with the Coal and Iron Police, the private guards, the state militia, and finally in many cases the State Patrol, which is now known as the Traffic Patrol.

They tell us at this late date that we Americans who have to work for a living, who make it possible for the wheels of industry to turn, who make it possible for these big plants throughout the state of Pennsylvania to be the biggest in the country, who are the spenders and keep the big stores rolling, are not entitled to a hearing before we are found guilty.

I would like to know if anyone within hearing of my voice would like to be arrested, brought before the judge, and only the prosecutor be allowed to talk, and he shall not say anything in his defense. There is no reason why a hearing cannot be held; held immediately as far as that goes, both sides would be there, and the judge will have both sides of the story.

Do you know what I think, and I am not a lawyer, I think it is an imposition on a judge to say, "You give us that injunction, you do not know whether it is right or wrong." Bingo! That is the way you want it done, don't you? You have been doing it all your life in Pennsylvania and many of the other states, and, as you have said, we are getting along good now, we believe in progressivism, go ahead, improve as we go along. That is the reason why I am talking in favor of the bill and asking all Members of the House to support a bill that I know they would want if they should happen to be caught in this particular situation. I am sure of that.

Let us not kid ourselves. Why should the worker be picked out as the guy to make a fool out of? He is the big guy in the country—you know that, everybody knows that. Without him where would you be? You would not exist, because many of the boys who piled up their millions at the expense of the worker could not even go down in the kitchen and make coffee if the worker decided to take a twenty-four-hour recess. If there is anybody entitled to a square deal, if there is anybody that should be given first-hand consideration, it is the worker, the important guy in this great state of ours and in this great country of ours.

Please consider it from the standpoint of your own position in case you would be trapped according to this law.

One more word, something was said about destroying property. As I said a while ago, that was a big joke. How many of us would get up there that would know that the employer was responsible for the damage done to the company. So you get the militia, so you get the State Police, so you get all the police powers of the state to come in and break up the union, break it up, and they have done it, and done it, and done it, until we got sick and finally the people of this state and the country as a whole woke up in 1934 and gave us some protection.

As Mr. Tompkins says, we are progressing nicely, the employers and the employes are getting along very well. Let us keep it that way by passing this bill, and let the men have a hearing before you convict them.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to ask all the Members of this House to support this bill.

Before the 1937 Act was passed we certainly were in an awful condition in Pennsylvania. We had all kinds of disputes—labor disputes, management disputes, and under the 1937 Act it gave both sides the right to ask for a hearing. This bill does nothing more than give labor a chance to have a hearing. It also gives management a chance to have a hearing. It is not one-sided as the present bill is.

I can remember over the years when they used to use —today they call them State Police—back in the old days, as Mr. Leonard says, they were called the State Militia. When there was a strike all the management had to do was to ask for the State Police and they came in there. They rode into houses. They rode into homes. They rode over people on the streets; they clubbed them. Even the Coal and Iron Police had the power to go outside those plants and pick people up on the streets, regardless of what they were doing or what they were not doing. If they just thought they wanted to pull somebody in, they went out and grabbed them. That power has been taken away. The Coal and Iron Police do not have that power anymore. The local guards in the plant do not have power anymore. The local municipalities have their own police to take care of keeping order, and on very few occasions do we ever have to call our State Police into labor disputes. Since labor has been organized, labor has organized its forces in such a way that they carry on orderly strikes or labor disputes when necessary.

Under this bill the only thing that it does, the only clear thing that it does is give a public hearing, or grant a hearing before a labor injunction can be granted to either side.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I have read this bill very carefully and I have listened with a very great deal of interest to the speakers on both sides.

I sincerely say I am sorry the House did not see fit to adopt the amendments offered by the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, because I believe those amendments were the real crux and the real key to the situation that was designed to be corrected under this bill as offered.

Under the bill as offered, I am very much concerned as to whether or not we are going to do a great deal of harm to the good relationships that now exist between management and labor in this State. Most certainly since 1939, when this bill was passed in its present form, the relationships between management and labor or between industry and labor, if you want to make class distinctions such as that. I represent neither in any way, shape or form, I try to be fair to both parties as much as I can possibly be, certainly those relationships have been very, very excellent. All that occurred previous to 1934, or 1937, does not bear one iota on this particular bill.

I had in mind to vote against it for the reason that I believe the danger inherent in it insofar as relationship between industry and labor is concerned is very plain, and that we may be undoing an awful lot that was done under the Act of 1939.

However, in the hope that after it gets past the House, and in sympathy with the idea under which the bill was offered, I am going to vote for the bill hoping that when it gets over to the Senate, that the gut's that have been taken out of this bill as offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran, will be restored, and all of that part put in which would give labor the relief they ask and to which they may be entitled. It is questionable because of the good relationship that has existed between management and labor since 1939. Experience has proven that. Experience has proven that over the last 14 or 16 years. But in the hope that that can be ironed out in the Senate and in view of my sympathy with the idea involved, I am going to vote "aye" on the bill, but I hope that the real features of the bill will be retained in it because I think if they are still kept out by the Senate, you are going to see a lot of harm fall upon the relationship between management or industry and labor.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. READINGER from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, Senate Resolution Serial No. 116.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 116

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

Serial No. 116. (Not printed).

In the Senate, March 15, 1955.

While the danger is imminent that at the end of the current quarter all unemployment compensation contribution rates may be increased automatically to 2.7% and compensation payments reduced automatically to $20 a week and a total of twenty weeks or $400, whichever is the lesser, there is an extremely wide difference of opinion between the Department of Labor and Industry and employers as to the actual necessity for an increase in the schedule of contribution rates.

In order to resolve this difference accurately and intelligently a careful and time consuming study is necessary before a law removing the danger can be adopted; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That, notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (d) and (e) of section 404 of the Unemployment Compensation Law, as amended, limiting the amount of compensation payable to an employe for a week of unemployment, and the total amount of compensation payable during a calendar quarter, if on March 31, 1955, the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania falls below one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less refunds during any twelve consecutive months, the General Assembly authorizes that compensation shall be paid to each eligible employe in the full amount provided for in the "Tables Specified for the Determination of Rate and Amount of Benefits" set forth in section 404 of the Unemployment Compensation Law as amended September 29, 1951 (P. L. 1580), even though at the end of the calendar quarter the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any consecutive twelve months.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. READINGER, CHARLES C. SMITH and PETROSKY offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 21, 1955.

The Honorable John F. Stank yesterday celebrated his fifty-second birthday.

Born in Coal Township on March 20, 1903, the son of August and Josephine (Goheen) Stank, Representative Stank was educated in the Coal Township schools. He is married to the former Gertrude T. Sacus and is the father of three children.

John F. Stank is in the retail furniture business and is an active member in numerous fraternal organizations. The likeable personality and ability of Representative

Stank are reflected by his continuous re-election to the House as a representative of Northumberland County since 1932; therefore be it

Resolved, That in honor of the fifty-second birthday of the Honorable John F. Stank, and in appreciation of his services to the Commonwealth, the House of Representatives extends to him its sincere birthday greetings; and be it further Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House be instructed to transmit a copy of this resolution, certified under the seal of the House, to one of its most capable members, the Honorable John F. Stank.

Mr. STANK. Mr. Speaker, I really appreciate this fine resolution, I don't know how they ever thought it up. For twenty-four years I got away without this stuff. I did too much celebrating yesterday to continue, I just thank you.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. PRICE asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. FINEMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. WALSH asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MARCH 22, 1955. No. 28.

SENATE

TUESDAY, March 22, 1955.

The Senate met at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. JOHN C. MOORE, Rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Coudersport, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Father of souls, Who hast created man in Thine own image, grant to the Members and officers of this Senate thoughts of Thee as we face the duties of the coming day.

Remember Thy promise that Thou wilt be with us when we call upon Thee. May we be aware of Thy presence with us at this hour. Thou knowest our needs before we ask and our ignorance in asking. Be with us if we falter before the decisions in our hands; help us to solve them in Thy way.

If Thou wilt help us, then shall we be better than we are, wiser than we know, stronger than we hope to be. We are men weighted with responsibility who need Divine Guidance. Send us Thy help and guide our feet into the pathways of truth and righteousness, for Thy Name's Sake.

Father, may Thy will be done through these Thy servants in the strength of Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. PECHAN, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. PROPERT, due to illness.

HOUSE BILL FOR CONCURRENCE

He also presented for concurrence bill of the House, as follows: House Bill No. 429, entitled:

An Act to further amend section four of the act, approved the second day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1198), entitled "Labor Anti-Injunction Act," by removing certain restrictions on the application of the act.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. FLEMING, from the Committee on Highways, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 233, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing, certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," providing for the use and administrative control of uniform summons and information forms prescribed by the Secretary of Revenue for use in cases involving traffic violations.

Mr. McMENAMIN, from the Committee on Highways, reported as committed, House Bill No. 97, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, and of street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," exempting certain vehicles owned by and used exclusively by the Italian-American World War Veterans of the United States Incorporated from the payment of registration fees.

Mr. STEVENSON, from the Committee on Highways, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 93, entitled:

An Act to facilitate traffic in the central section of the Commonwealth by providing for the construction, operation and maintenance of a turnpike from a point on the western border of Pennsylvania to a point on the eastern border of Pennsylvania, at such points as the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission may decide are the most feasible and practicable for the further extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, from or near the City of Sharon in Mercer County to or near the Borough of Stroudsburg, in Monroe County; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission; authorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue bonds of the Commonwealth payable solely from tolls to pay the cost of such turnpike and to issue notes or other evidences of indebtedness; providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act; providing for the collection of tolls for the payment of such bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness and for the cost of maintenance, operation and repair of the turnpike; making such turnpike bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness exempt from taxation; constituting such bonds legal investments in certain instances; requiring suits against the commission to be brought in Dauphin County; prescribing conditions on which such turnpike shall become free; providing for grade separations, grade changes, relocations, restoration and vacation of public roads and State highways affected by the turnpike; providing for the purchasing or condemnation of land and procedure for determining damages in condemnation; granting certain powers and authority to municipal subdivisions and agencies of the Commonwealth to cooperate with the commission; and authorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue refunding bonds.

Mr. SCOTT, from the Committee on Highways, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 217, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justice of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," providing for suspension of operator's licenses and learner's permits by the Secretary of Revenue on a point system based on offenses and violations.

REPORT FROM THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION DEALING WITH SELECTED EMPLOYE BENEFIT PLANS

Mr. McPHERSON, JR., on behalf of the Joint State Government Commission, submitted the following report which was read by the Clerk as follows:

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

P. O. BOX 61

ROOM 450—CAPITOL BUILDING

HARRISBURG

March 22, 1955.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

On behalf of the Joint State Government Commission, I have the honor to transmit herewith A Report of the Joint State Government Commission, Session of 1955, dealing with Selected Employe Benefit Plans.

Copies of this report for members of the Senate have been placed in their post office boxes.

Respectfully submitted,

(s) BAKER ROYER, Chairman.

The PRESIDENT. The Report will be noted in the Journal.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Messrs. BARR and WADE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 250, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 905) entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles tractors street cars trackless trolley omnibuses bicycles pedestrians and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth providing for the titling including liens encumbrances and legal claims registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highways peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles and garage keepers providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles imposing penalties imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds" by changing the penalty as to speed.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, the bill that I am about to present establishes in Pennsylvania a Business Development Corporation.

Mr. President, this bill is co-sponsored by Senator McMenamin and Senator Scott. We feel that this legislation will have a far-reaching affect upon the economic development of our great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I would like the Membership to know, too, that this legislation is copied after legislation which is now in effect in the State of New York. Therefore, when the bill is in the pink copy, I would appreciate it if you would examine it very closely, bring it back to us and if you have any criticism or comments, we would like to her from you.

Mr. President, I am presenting this bill on behalf of Senator McMenamin, Senator Scott and myself.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. LANE, McMENAMIN and SCOTT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 251, entitled:

An Act establishing the Pennsylvania Business Development Corporation; prescribing its powers and duties, and providing for its operation.

Which was committed to the Committee on Corporations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, sometime ago I introduced in this body a bill providing for a Southwestern Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike. At that time, the interest was derived solely from a desire on the part of vesting in the Turnpike Commision the necessary authority to build a Southwestern Extension, in order that they might, in the interest of arriving at some determinative decision, decide upon a place where that turnpike might meet with the West Virginia Extension coming northward.

Mr. President, the facts in the case, briefly, are that the West Virginia Turnpike has now reached to the point in West Virginia known as Princeton. They are trying to make a decision at this time as to whether they will extend their turnpike northward, through Parkersburg to Wheeling, or whether it will come somewhere in the neighborhood of Morgantown, West Virginia.

It is, therefore, essential, Mr. President, because this is an intrastate problem, that our Turnpike Commission be given authority to negotiate with the West Virginia Turnpike Commission in order that they might attempt to arrive at some decision as to where the turnpikes might connect.

Mr. President, after the introduction of that bill, Washington and Greene Counties decided that they would like to have it go through their counties. Of course, we, from Fayette and Westmoreland Counties, were likewise interested in that determination. Mr. President, it also now develops that Cambria County is also interested.

Therefore, Mr. President, in the interest of harmony and to give the Turnpike Commisison authority at least to negotiate with the West Virginia Turnpike, I have prepared a bill which provides only that the Turnpike Commission shall have the necessary authority to build the Southwestern Extension at the place where they find it to be most feasible and most practical.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. BANE, DENT, LANE and HALUSKA read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 252, entitled:

An Act to facilitate vehicular traffic in the southwestern section of the Commonwealth by providing for the construction, operation and maintenance of a turnpike from a point west of or east of the City of Pittsburgh as the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commisison may decide is most feasible and practicable, thence in a general southerly direction to the West Virginia border to connect with the West Virginia Turnpike or any extension thereof at such point as the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission may decide is the most feasible and practicable; and conferring powers and imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission; authorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue bonds of the Commonwealth payable solely from tolls to pay the cost of the turnpike, providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act; providing for the collection of tolls for the payment of the bonds and for the cost of maintenance, operation and repair of the turnpike; making the turnpike bonds exempt from taxation; constituting the bonds legal investments in certain instances; requiring suits against the commisison to be brought in Dauphin County; prescribing conditions on which the turnpike shall become free; providing for grade separations, grade changes and relocations and restoration of public roads and State highways affected by the turnpike; providing for condemnation; granting certain powers and authority to municipal subdivisions and agencies of the Commonwealth to cooperate with the commission and authorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue refunding bonds.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS FROM LANCASTER COUNTY PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, I would like to present to the Senate forty-two high school students from Lancaster County. They are celebrating "Youth in Government Day," and are sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, under the leadership of Stanley Albright, of Columbia, and Charles W. Briggs, Jr., of Manheim. They are now in the balcony.

The PRESIDENT. May I say, for the other Members of the Senate, that we are very glad to have you with us, the constituents of the Senator from Lancaster, Mr. Kessler?

STUDENTS OF NORTHERN LEBANON JOINT HIGH SCHOOL, FREDERICKSBURG, LEBANON COUNTY, PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, I further take pleasure in presenting to the Senate, a group of twenty-five pupils from the Northern Lebanon Joint High School, Fredricksburg, Lebanon County, under the leadership of Mrs. W. E. Black. They are now in the balcony.

The PRESIDENT. May I also say that we are glad to have the constituents of the Senator from Lancaster, Mr. Kessler, here with us this morning?

RECESS

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 1:00 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of holding Republican and Democratic Caucuses.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it just so happens that I am the Democratic Caucus Chairman, and I have no knowledge of a Caucus being called or of any prearrangements being made.

Mr. President, I would like for the Senate to be at ease for a few minutes in order to discuss this with my colleagues before having a recess until 1:00 o'clock.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I now withdraw my objection to a recess.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

APPROVED AND SIGNED SENATE BILL No. 17, PRINTER'S No. 15

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 21, 1955.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 17, Printer's No. 15, entitled "A Supplement to the act approved the 7th day of March one thousand nine hundred and one (P. L. 20) entitled 'An act for the government of cities of the second class' establishing a department of water in said cities providing for its officers and employees and defining the powers duties and jurisdiction of said department."

GEORGE M. LEADER.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The chair hears none.

Mr. BLASS, from the Committee on Highways, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 59, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees, prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," providing for special permits for certain vehicles of non-residents.

WOMEN'S CLUB OF BOYERTOWN PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, in the balcony we have with us today, and I would like to introduce them to the Senate, a group of members of the Boyertown Women's Club. They are thirty-eight in number, under the leadership of Mrs. Calvin Yoh.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair, on behalf of the other Members of the Senate, wishes to welcome the constituents of Doctor Ruth.

CHARLES W. ETTINGER WELCOMED TO SENATE

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I want to make an observation. I am sure that during the past several weeks those of us who know one of the gentlemen of the Press, who I see is back with us, have missed him. He was seriously ill, and I am certainly glad to see him back and I am sure that everyone here feels the same way.

Mr. President, I am referring to a good friend of everybody here, as well as the members of the Press, Charlie Ettinger.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DiSILVESTRO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, the good old American way and the Democratic way is to be a good sport. I congratulate those who voted their conscience, or those who voted because they had to vote, and those who did not know what they were doing.

However, Mr. President, I want the whole world to know that I knew this would happen. It is no surprise. My fight shall continue on, and God bless Reverend Forney and God bless all those who will use their own minds and who will employ better methods rather than those of intimidation, those of forcing and those that are un-Democratic. Congratulations to the winners.

Also, Mr. President, I publicly ask my good friend, Senator Pechan, to withdraw my reservation for the Kentucky Derby because I have very important business to do. I must do a lot of camgpaigning.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WATKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I am in a pretty rough spot, and I want to ask all the Senators to pray for me because the ministers are mad at me and the Catholics think I sold out.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 192, Printer's No. 45, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

HOUSE BILL No. 120 CALLED UP

Mr. MAHANY. I call up from the Third Reading Calendar at this time, Mr. President, House Bill No. 120, which was passed over in its order temporarily.

PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE TO APPOINT SENATE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON HOUSE BILL No. 120

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, there is some indication that amendments will be offered to House Bill No. 120, Printer's No. 129, not only by the Democrats but also by the Republicans.

Mr. President, some of these amendments may be agreed to between the Republicans and the Democrats and, perhaps, some will be controversial. Perhaps we can narrow down the area of non-controversy if a committee would be appointed to see if we cannot work out the differences which may exist between the Democrats and the Republicans.

Personally, Mr. President, I feel that the Committee on Labor and Industry should be the committee to do that However, inasmuch as it has been alleged by Senator Dent that the committee of the Senate have many more Republicans than Democrats on them and, therefore, they may not have the advantage that they should have, I am now going to move that the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint a committe of four Republican and four Democrats, the Democratic Members being recommended to the President pro tempore by the Democratic Floor Leader. I suggest that that committee try to work out any differences which may exist in connection with these amendments, and to be given until nine o'clock tonight.

Mr. President, if this motion succeeds in passing, I will then request that we recess until nine o'clock tonight, when we can come back again to consider House Bill No. 120.

Mr. President, I also move that this committee, to be named by the President pro tempore of the Senate, be named the Senate Conference Committee on House Bill No. 120.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. Prsident, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE CONFERENCE COMMITTEE APPOINTED ON HOUSE BILL No. 120

The PRESIDENT. The Chair, on behalf of the President pro tempore of the Senate, wishes to announce the appointment of the following Senate Conference Committee on House Bill No. 120: Senator Dent, Senator McMenamin, Senator Lane, Senator Weiner, Senator Mahany, Senator Berger, Senator Kessler and Senator Fleming.

BILL OVER IN ORDER TEMPORARILY

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 120, Printer's No. 129, on third reading, go over in its order temporarily.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, before we recess, I have sent to the desk of every Senator an analysis of House Bill No. 120, which was handed out by the opposition to House Bill No. 120. I have had it reprinted for purposes of comparison, and I have also sent to the Members' desks answers to this analysis of House Bill No. 120, submitted to the Senate by the opposition to House Bill No. 120, which takes up in chronological order all of the claims made in the opposition analysis.

Mr. President, the Department of Labor and Industry has worked out in detail and has placed its interpretation of the various features of the bill into this answer to the opposition analysis.

Mr. President, I believe that if every Member if this Senate will take the time between now and nine o'clock tonight, they will be better informed as to the real facts concerning House Bill No. 120. There appears to be a vast difference between the figures which have been submitted on the part of the opposition, and the figures which the Department of Labor and Industry has given as the official computations in the bill.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would like to submit to the Chair, for inclusion in the Appendix of the Journal of the Senate, both the analysis by the opposition and the answer by the Department of Labor and Industry.

The PRESIDENT. As requested by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, "Analysis of House Bill 120 by the Opposition" and "Answers to Analysis of H. 120 Submitted to Senate by Opposition to H. 120" will be included in the Appendix of the Legislative Journal.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now recess until 9:00 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of allowing the Senate Conference Committee on House Bill No. 120, Printer's No. 129, an opportunity to get on with its work.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE BILL No. 83

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 83, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 13, 1925 (P. L. 644), entitled "An act relating to and regulating the solicitation of moneys and property for charitable, religious, benevolent, humane and patriotic purposes," exempting organizations composed of mothers of men or women who have died while in the Armed Services of the United States from the provisions of the act.

with the information that the House has passed the same without amendments.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE BILL No. 108

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 108, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872), entitled "An act to consolidate, amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth," prohibiting the abandonment of refrigerators and iceboxes from which doors have not not been removed.

with the information that the House has passed the same without amendments.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 114

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

ESTABLISHING THE "BENJAMIN FRANKLIN SESQUI-BICENTENNIAL COMMISSION OF PENNSYLVANIA"

In the Senate, March 7, 1955.

Benjamin Franklin in his long service to the peoples of the world, made outstanding contributions to better understanding among nations; working tirelessly in the field of diplomacy, public service, science and the arts.

Benjamin Franklin was a member of many of the world's foremost societies of his day, which do now plan with other societies associations and institutions to honor the 250th Anniversary of his birth in 1956, with an International Celebration dedicated to the furtherance of better understanding among all peoples.

In addition to his national and international services. Benjamin Franklin was also a pioneer public servant of the Colony and State of Pennsylvania — as clerk of the Pennsylvania Assembly, member from Philadelphia, deputy postmaster, representative from Pennsylvania and other Colonies to the Court of Great Britain and later at the Court of France, delegate of the Assembly of Pennsylvania to the Second Continental Congres, assisting in the draft of the Declaration of Independence, President of the Convention which framed the Constitution for the State of Pennsylvania, and State President for three years; therefore be it Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in grateful memory of the services of Benjamin Franklin, join with those who would honor the 250th Anniversary of his birth; and that a commission, to be known as the "Benjamin Franklin Sesqui Bicentennial Commission of Pennsylvania" be established, to consist of the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, five members of the House of Representatives, who shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House, five members of the Senate, who shall be appointed by the President pro tempore of the Senate, and five citizens who shall be appointed by the Governor. This commission shall coperate with the Franklin Institute of the State of Pennsylvania in extending the warm and cordial hospitality of this State to all who are working for better international understanding in memory of Benjamin Franklin. It shall also be the task of the commission to sponsor the production and distribution of editorial material on Benjamin Franklin that may be sent to the newspapers, magazines, radio and television stations of all cooperating countries, so that they may have adequate information on the many phases of Benjamin Franklin's life and teachings.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 32 REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics:

NATIONAL AMATEUR RADIO WEEK

In the House of Representatives, March 1, 1955.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Governor of this Commonwealth is hereby requested and authorized to proclaim the week of June 19, this year, and the third full week in June annually thereafter, as "National Amateur Radio Week," in appreciation by the people of this Commonwealth for the services performed by amateur radio communication hobbyists in times of national and local disasters.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 41 REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations:

CONGRESS MEMORIALIZED TO ENACT LEGISLATION TO CARRY ON CONSTRUCTION OF THE NEW CUMBERLAND DAM

In the House of Representatives, March 15, 1955.

The New Cumberland Dam authorized by Congress to replace existing locks and dams, numbers 7, 8 and 9 on the Ohio River, is an emergency project.

The existing locks and dams, especially lock and dam number 7, are in such deplorable condition that failure is imminent. Due to extreme pressure from a hillside, the land lock wall at lock number 7 is gradually moving riverward. The situation is so very critical that it is feared the wall will collapse before the new dam can be built, even if the building program proceeds on schedule. If this happens, it will be a real catastrophe. Traffic will be stopped on the river for a period of a few months to a year or more, depending upon the seriousness of the failure.

When it is realized that more than 60 million tons of traffic moved over the Ohio River last year and that over a million freight cars would be required to handle this traffic, it becomes apparent that this is one of the world's most vital traffic arteries. If one of the locks were to fail, the result would be immediate shutdown of many mills and factories along the Ohio River. There are not sufficient existing rail or truck facilities to handle the tonnage now moving over the Ohio River. Many of the plants are entirely dependent upon the river for the transportation of raw materials such as coal, petroleum and other bulk material, to the plants, as well as for the movement of their finished products to market. A failure in this system of river transportation would cause immediate unemployment of 30,000 persons in addition to the loss of production.

The estimated cost of the entire project is 46 million dollars spread over five-year construction period. The present appropriation of one million dollars will be sufficient to relocate a highway and purchase property in the project area. The amount required to carry on the actual construction program for the next fiscal year is about 13 million dollars. This money must be appropriated by the Congress of the United States before July 1, 1955 to continue construction.

It is estimated that the huge tonnage moved on the Ohio River last year saved shippers some 80 million dollars. This is nearly twice the amount required to build New Cumberland Dam. The ratio of benefit over cost is nearly 6 to 1 in benefit to the public, since the savings on this traffic is passed on directly to the consumer.

The project is vital to the economy of the United States and to the National defense. One of the heaviest concentrations of traffic in the world moves through the project area. Materials such as coal, coke, iron, steel, fluorspar, sulphur, oil, gasoline, sand, gravel, glass, stone, acids, solvents, benzol scrap slag, ore, and general freight comprise the tonnage through the project area. During World War II, actually billions of gallons of gasoline and oil which could not be moved by sea because of the submarine menace, came up the Ohio River to the North and East for both military and domestic use. Right in the Pittsburgh district there were literally hundreds of war vessels built and moved down the Ohio River for our armed forces. If we were to experience a failure of one of the locks or dams during such a war emergency, it would be a terrible disaster. The unsettled international situation today makes it imperative that construction of New Cumberland Dam be started at once and brought to completion with all possible haste.

When canalization of the Ohio River was begun, it was estimated that when the tonnage moved over it reached the figure of 15 million tons per year it would then be a self-liquidating proposition. This figure was passed before canalization was complete and today that much tonnage moves through just one of locks 7, 8 and 9. This traffic comes from many points. In the Pittsburgh District, which includes the three rivers as far South as mile 109 on the Ohio River, there are 47 terminals on the Allegheny River, 136 terminals on the Monongahela River, and 123 terminals on the Ohio River, including 9 river-rail terminals. It can be seen from these statistics that industry makes intensive use of the rivers. It is also noteworthy that, in spite of the fact that all of the locks and dams on the Ohio River were designed for downstream tonnage only, the upstream tonnage now equals that which moves downstream. There is a fine reciprocity of trade between Pittsburgh and lower river points.

It was not happenstance that industry located along the river banks. There are many advantages to industry and the public from a canalized river in addition to low-cost transportation. Water is a vital necessity to many industries. It requires about 30 tons of water to make a ton of steel. The City of Pittsburgh is a tremendous user of water for drinking purposes and sanitation, yet one plant such as Kobuta on the Ohio River uses more water each day than this great metropolis. The assurance of a stable and insured harbor for transportation and landings is a real advantage, but equally important is an assured supply of water for municipal and industrial purposes. All of these uses of water will be considerably enhanced by the construction of New Cumberland Dam.

The existing structures (Locks 7, 8 and 9) are completely worn out; they have paid for themselves in savings to the public many times over; they are incapable of handling modern transportation and unsuited to modern methods and traffic; their replacement is vital to the economy of the United States and to the National defense; their failure will put undue hardship on industry and the public and cause unemployment; whereas construction of a new dam will increase employment and further the prosperity of the entire valley. Congress was infinitely wise in canalizing the Ohio River. The investment has paid off in savings to the public and in the development of the entire river valley as a great industrial empire. The welfare of the Nation demands that Congress now invest once more in a replacement program on the Ohio River beginning with New Cumberland locks and dam.

The so-called New Cumberland Dam will consist of one entirely new structure consisting of a roller-gate dam and two sets of locks impounding a pool some 22.7 miles in length. The larger lock will measure 1200 feet in length and 110 feet in width and the smaller lock will be 600 feet long and 110 feet wide. They will accommodate a towboat and 22 barges carrying a cargo of some 22,000 tons at a draft of 8.5 feet; therefore be it

Resolved (The Senate concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact into legislation the necessary appropriation measure or measures for the next fiscal year to carry on the actual construction of the so-called New Cumberland Dam; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each house of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

HOUSE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE

He also presented for concurrence bills of the House, as follows:

House Bill No. 61, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872), entitled "The Penal Code," prohibiting the coloration or adding of any ingredients to potatoes or yams.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want to take just a half a minute to say that in all of the deliberations on this very important bill, there were moments when we were very far apart. There were moments when it appeared that it was hopeless to even dream of getting somewhere near an agreement.

However, Mr. President, this afternoon, under the direction of the President pro tempore, a committee was named, made up of equal membership on both the Democratic and Republican sides. I might say that during the seven hours of discussion in that committee, there were times when some of us did not particularly like each other. However, in the final analysis, all of us I believe worked toward a common end to create in Pennsylvania a piece of legislation designed to do the greatest good for the greatest number.

Personally, I want to thank the Members who served from both the Republican and the Democratic sides on that committee, unselfishly, all afternoon, without hope of glory and with the sure knowledge that there would be some condemnation. I am sure that all of us realize that in those moments, when the common good is at stake, both Republicans and Democrats try to arise to the occasion to give this State of ours the outstanding piece of legislation written in the United States dealing wih unemployment compensation.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, when I settle an insurance company case, especially one of these automobile liability cases, I usually try to get some kind of a compromise between the insurance adjuster and the client and we argue back and forth. I usually know when I hit a pretty good compromise, because neither the insurance adjuster nor my client is absolutely satisfied and happy. Then I know I must have done a good job:.

Mr. President, It seems by that test, with neither side being completely happy, we must have gotten a pretty good compromise on this bill.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for fifteen minutes for the purpose of having House Bill No. 120 printed finally so that we may vote on it under the Constitutional provisions.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

HOUSE BILL No. 120, PRINTER'S No. 149 CALLED UP

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I now call up House Bill No. 120, Printer's No. 149, which is on Final Passage, for consideration at this time.

As used in the foregoing table the term "Employer Percentage" means the ratio of the balance in an employer's reserve account to his average annual payroll and the term "Fund Balance" means the balance in the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Fund at the end of any calendar [quarter] year as recorded on the records of the department

(B) An employer's rate of contribution on wages paid during each calendar [quarter] year shall be the rate specified in the column beneath his "Employer Percentage" which is on the horizontal line opposite

(1) Fund Balance (A) if the balance at the end of the immediately preceding calendar [quarter] year was not less than [four hundred twenty million dollars ($420,000,000)] four hundred fifty million dollars ($450,000,000) or

(2) Fund Balance (B) if the balance at the end of the immediately preceding calendar [quarter] year was not less than [three hundred forty million dollars ($340,000,000)] three hundred fifty million dollars ($350,000,000) or

(3) Fund Balance (C) if the balance at the end of the immediately preceding calendar [quarter] year was not less than [two hundred fifty million dollars ($250,000,000)] three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000) Provided That if the balance at the end of the immediately preceding calendar [quarter] year was less than [two hundred fifty million dollars ($250,000,000)] three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000) [or one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during the twelve (12) consecutive months within the last one hundred twenty (120) consecutive months whichever amount is greater then] all employers' rates of contribution on wages paid during the next calendar [quarter] year shall be two and seven-tenths per centum [And provided further That if the balance at the end of the immediately preceding calendar quarter was equal to or in excess of six hundred seventy million dollars ($670,000.000) then the rate of contribution on wages paid during the next calendar quarter for any employer having an "Employer Percentage" of four per centum or more shall be two-tenths of one per centum less than the rate of contribution specified in the column beneath his "Employer Percentage" which is on the horizontal line opposite Fund Balance (A) in the foregoing table And provided further however That in no case shall the rate of any employer exceed two and seventenths per centum or be less than three-tenths of one per centum]

Section 4 Subsection (d) of section 401 of the act amended August twenty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 1397) is amended to read

Section 401 Qualifications Required to Secure Compensation Compensation shall be payable to any employe who is or becomes unemployed and who

(d) Is able to work and available for suitable work [Provided That a claimant shall be conclusively presumed to be unavailable for work with respect to any week of unemployment attributable to pregnancy and in any event after the sixth month of pregnancy and until after one month of confinement]

Section 5 Subsection (b) of Section 402 of the act amended August twenty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 1397) is amended to read

Section 402 Ineligibility for Compensation An employe shall be ineligible for compensation for any week

(b) In which his unemployment is due to voluntarily leaving work without good cause of a necessitous and compelling nature irrespective of whether or not such work is in "employment" as defined in this act Provided That no employe shall be deemed to be ineligible under this subsection where as a condition of continuing in employment such employe would be required to join or remain a member of a company union or to resign from or refrain from joining any bona fide labor organization or to accept wages hours or conditions of employment not desired by a majority of the employes in the establishment or the occupation or would be denied the right of collective bargaining under generally prevailing conditions and that in determining whether or not an employe has left his work voluntarily without good cause the department shall give consideration to the same factors insofar as they are applicable provided with respect to the determination of suitable work under section four (t) [martial filial and domestic circumstances and obligations shall not be deemed good cause within the meaning of this act] And provided further That the provisions of this subesction shall not apply in the event of a stoppage of work which exists because of a labor dispute within the meaning of subsection (d)

Section 6 The first paragraph and subsections (a) (d) (e) and the tables specified for the determination of rate and amount of benefits of section 404 of the act the first paragraph amended August twenty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 1397) subsection (a) amended May twenty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 717) subsection (d) amended August twenty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 1397) subsection (e) amended September twenty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 1580) and said tables amended September twenty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 1580) are amended and a new subsection (c) is added to read

Section 404 Rate and Amount of Compensation Compensation shall be paid to each eligible employe in accordance with the following provisions of this section except that compensation payable with respect to weeks ending in benefit years which begin prior to the [first day of October one thousand nine hundred fifty-one] first day of the second calendar month following enactment of this amendment shall be paid on the basis of the provisions of this section in effect at the beginning of such benefit years provided that the amendments to subsections (d) and (e) removing the limitations on the amount and duration of compensation shall take effect immediately

(a) The employe's weekly benefit rate shall be [that rate which appears in "Part B" and which is on the same horizontal line in "Part A" as the interval which includes his "highest quarterly wage"] computed as (1) one twenty-fifth of his "highest quarterly wage" in accordance with Part of the Table Specified for the Determination of Rate and Amount of Benefits or (2) fifty per centum (50%) of his full-time weekly wage whichever is greater or if his base year wages are insufficient to qualify him for compensation by either of these methods of his weekly benefit rate shall be determined as (3) that rate appearing in Part B of the table on the line on which in Part C appears the amount of qualifying wages which most nearly approximates but does not exceed his base year wages

(c) Any otherwise eligible employe shall be entitled during his benefit year to the amount appearing in Part d of the Table Specified for the Determination of Rate and Amount of Benefits on the line on which in Part b appears his weekly benefit rate provided he has sufficient qualifying wages in Part c and provided further that an employe whose weekly benefit rate has been determined under clause (3) of subsection (a) of this section shall be entitled to compensation only if his base year wages are at least thirty times the weekly benefit rate as computed under clause (1) of subsection (a)

(d) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section each eligible employe who is unemployed with respect to any week ending subsequent to the effective date of this act shall be paid with respect to such week compensation in an amount equal to his weekly benefit rate less that part of the remuneration if any paid or payable to him with respect to such week which is in excess of six dollars ($6.00) Such compensation if not multiple of one dollar ($1.00) shall be computed to the next higher multiple of one dollar ($1.00) [Provided That if at the end of any calendar quarter the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvana is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any twelve consecutive months the maximum amount of compensation payable to any employe for a week of unemployment ending during the next calendar quarter shall not be in excess of twenty dollars ($20)]

(e) [Any otherwise eligible employe shall be entitled during his benefit year to an amount equal to his weekly benefit rate multiplied by the number which appears at the top of a column under "Part C" to be ascertained by locating on the same horizontal line on which his weekly benefit rate appears the maximum amount which does not exceed the total wages paid to him during his base year Provided That if at the end of any calendar quarter the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any twelve consecutive months no employe shall be paid compensation with respect to weeks of unemployment ending during the next calendar quarter in an amount which together with any amounts previously paid with respect to the same benefit year would be in excess of twenty times the employe's weekly benefit rate or four hundred dollars ($400) whichever is the lesser]

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, the resolution which I am about to introduce is related to the horse racing bill, defeated this afternoon.

Mr. President, I do not want anyone to construe my action as that of a hard loser. If the proposal defeated this afternoon was of the type that forced or prevented someone from doing something, I would have accepted the verdict of the majority for that is democracy. However, the proposal defeated this afternoon was different in that it deprived the citizens of Pennsylvania of the right to decide an issue. Since that is true, I shall continue to exert my efforts to extend that privilege to our citizens.

Mr. President, when the proposal was defeated this afternoon, I touched upon a factor that was related to the horse racing bill. It involved gambling on a local level.

Mr. President, the resolution I am about to present touches upon that subject. In presenting this resolution, I want it understood that I have no desire to put anybody on the spot.

I say to you frankly, Mr. President, that the purpose of this resolution is to find out definitely, and with a clarity that cannot be misunderstood, whether those who voted to defeat the race referendum bill really are for or against gambling.

Mr. President, by the vote in this Senate this afternoon, a majority of the Members indicated that they are against gambling. At least, they voted against the proposition of submitting to the people the question of whether they do or do not favor the legalizing of parimutuel betting at race tracks in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, it seems to me that there has been far too much hypocrisy on the question. It is common knowledge that some Members of this Senate, who voted against giving the people the right to decide the issue of horse race betting, frequently go to the race tracks. I do not know whether they bet on the horses or whether they do not, but I do know that by their vote they deprived the people of this State the right to exercise the same privilege in Pennsylvania as these Senators exercised in other States.

Now, of course, Mr. President, there are other forms of gambling than betting on the horses, and I think they are far more vicious. To mention some, there are slot machines, there are numbers' writers, there are lotteries, there are bookies and there are gambling joints.

Mr. President, it is reliably reported that in hundreds of communities of this state, gambling is rampant, and very little or nothing is being done about it. I call your attention to the fact, in support of that statement, that when the Kefauver Committee sat in Pennsylvania and took testimony on rackets which existed in Pennsylvania, on gambling which existed in Pennsylvania, a member of the State Police appeared before that committee and testified that in the Treasury Balance racket alone, more than $30,000,000 was milked from Pennsylvania citizens each year. Millions of dollars are milked from Pennsylvania citizens from the numbers' racket, from slot machines and from other forms of gambling. Therefore, gambling does exist on a local level.

Mr. President, I have made repeated efforts in this Senate to have the Legislature set up a proper investigation of gambling at the local level, because that is where the gambling is. Since this incident happened this afternoon, I propose to reintroduce the measures which I introduced in the past.

In view of the sentiment expressed on the question in this Chamber today, Mr. President, I think this is the right time to present a resolution calling for an investigation of gambling at the local level. If we are going to pretend to be lily white, let us take steps to actually be lily white. I want an end to hypocrisy.

Mr. President, before I present this resolution, I want to pay tribute to a gentleman in this Senate, one of our colleagues, Senator Ruth. Senator Ruth, as you know, is a member of the clergy. I know him and I am sure that everybody else here knows him as an honest, conscientious legislator, citizen and a member of the clergy.

In our Caucus, we had asked him what he thought about this bill having to do with giving the people the right to decide whether or not we shall have legalized horse racing in Pennsylvania. He told us that he would vote for the bill. He told us that he never voted against a referendum proposal since he has been a Member of the Senate. He thought that that was the democratic way to settle and answer questions which confront the people of Pennsylvania. He said he voted for Sunday baseball; he said he voted for Sunday movies and other forms of Sunday entertainment that helped to amend the so-called blue laws in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, on the moral issue which was injected into this subject of horse racing by members of the clergy, Senator Ruth very definitely reminded us that it has been an accepted rule in this Country that the church shall be separated from the state, and that it was not the business of the clergy to tell the Legislature what to do just as much as it was not the business of the Legislature to tell the clergy what to do. If the clergy was interested in the subject that was confronting the people, it had the right to talk about it to its parishoners from he pulpit, and we, here in the Legislature, should not be disturbed by them.

Mr. President, insofar as funds from gambling might be concerned, Senator Ruth, who, as I said before is a respected member of the clergy, said he saw no difference between money derived from gambling as compared with money derived from liquor sold in Pennsylvania to help finance the obligations of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, for his courageous statement, I salute him, I respect him, and I am sure that everybody else in here should feel likewise.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

JOINT COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE GAMBLING ON LOCAL LEVEL

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. YOSKO offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Law and Order:

In the Senate, March 22, 1955.

Many persons contend that they are the arch enemies of gambling in any form, even if it is systematically conducted by an agency of the Commonwealth. Yet gambling, racketeering and vice operations continue to exist on a local level in many parts of our Commonwealth, and little or no action has been taken to put a stop to these activities. For the Commonwealth to represent itself as being so morally upright that it will not even permit its citizens to decide the issue of legal wagering on horse races under the strict supervision of the state, and at the same time to allow gambling and vice on a local level to continue either unhampered or without opposition is, to say the least, a dire inconsistency in policy; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring) That the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint five members of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint five members of the House, who together shall constitue a joint committee, to make an investigation of gambling on a local level and be it further

Resolved, That the committee may meet, hold hearings and take testimony. It may issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman commanding any person to appear before it and to answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books papers records and documents as the committe deems necessary. Any person who wilfully neglects or refuses to testify before this committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases. Each member of the committe shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee; and be it further

Resolved, That the committe make a report of its findings, together with its recommendations for appropriate legislation to this session of the General Assembly as soon as the investigation has been completed.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. McGINNIS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I was hopeful this afternoon that I could come to the rescue of a few church people who have come to this Senate and objected to this bill. I am sure in my own mind that there are very few of all of the churches in Pennsylvania—I would say only five per cent of the church groups have come here to object to this bill. I would say that ninety-five per cent of the churches of this State are not here tonight, and were not here today on this bill. Now, the Chaplain is not here.

Mr. President, I had in mind today that if we had a Grand Circuit in Harrisburg—I am not sure whether we would have it in Senator Taylor's County or Senator Wade's County, but I would have been happy this afternoon when this bill was up if, within two hours, we would have had a Grand Circuit in Harrisburg. I would say this, that there would not be a soul left in this Senate had that happened today.

Mr. President, I live in Pittsburgh, near Ohio. I want to say to you people here that if you would go to the Grand Circuit in Ohio and see those horses race, it would do you good, and, if we had the Grand Circuit here today in Harrisburg, every farmer in every county around here would bring their families and their children to see it.

Mr. President, it is not my intent to take up any more time of the Senate this evening, as I feel that my position on this subject has previously been clearly stated for the purposes of the record.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WAGNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, since we just heard the debate on a bill that was defeated twelve hours ago, I thought it might be in order to talk about a resolution that has been referred to committee. Incidentally, I have said within the past two hours that I always love to hear Senator McGinnis speak on the floor. I am wating for the day when he is on the same side as I am and makes a speech, but I would like to suggest to Senator Yosko, and I say this part seriously, that now that I am at the Minority Leader's desk, I would support his resolution when, as and if I get the opportunity. I think it is very pertinent.

I am a little surprised at the need for it because it isn't so awfully long ago that slot machines were a vice in Pennsylvania and the recent Governor, Governor John Fine, clamped down on slot machies, and so far as I was able to observe, in my own county and many others, he did clamp down on them. I think Governor Fine did a better job at suppressing slot machines than any Governor in my time has done, and I can hardly believe, since Governor Leader has only taken over such a brief time, that this thing has become an epidemic. However, if it has, let us be diligent about seeing to it that this and any other forms of gambling are suppressed as far as possible. and that the laws are observed in Pennsylvania.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, from the remarks of the gentleman from Schuylkill, I would assume that he intended to convey the impression that since Governor Leader took office there might be slot machines in Pennsylvania, and with that I don't agree. If there are slot machines in Pennsylvania, there are slot machines in Pennsylvania because they were there before Governor Leader took office, but it is for us to find out whether or not there are slot machines in any of the counties of the State.

Just because a few slot machines were cleaned up in Dauphin County, and Northumberland County, and Schuylkill County and perhaps a few others, does not necessarily say that they disappeared in their entirety. However, I did not hear Senator Wagner say anything about the numbers, I did not hear him say anything about the lottery tickets, the Treasury Balance Lottery and other forms of gambling that I know existed during the term of Governor Fine and his predecessors and which still exist. It is nothing more than a carry-on.

For anybody to say that there is no gambling today on a local level is just plain silly. We can find out very easily by the adoption of that resolution, and I do not think it is fair to attempt to reflect discredit upon Governor Leader insofar as any slot machines being in operation today.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, March 22, 1955.

The House met at 2:00 p. m.
The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, offered the following prayer:

Eternal and Everliving God, with gratitude we acknowledge Thy goodness toward us and to all the children of men. Humbly we thank Thee for all we are and have. At this moment we would share the quiet mind of those whose ways are committed to Thee.

O God, our help in ages past, our hope today and forever, deliver us from lust of power, from vanity of spirit, envy, and ill-will. Thou, who hast granted to our age to discover such wonders of Thy mind and such mysteries of Thy handiwork, as to give man such vast power for good or ill, let us not use Thy beautiful power for cruel and unworthy ends. Stay our hands and lead us as a nation in the way of justice, peace and brotherly kindness.

Be with Thy servants in this place. Guide and direct their thinking in this day's work. Bless their loved ones and their families and make thir homes sanctuaries of love and peace where they may find spiritual resources for the strain and pressure of their duties here. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections, the approval of the Journal for Monday, March 21, 1955 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

"No House bill shall have more than six sponsors, and no sponsor shall be added after a bill has been introduced."

Resolved, That House Rule 84, Paragraph one, be amended by striking out the last sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"No House resolution shall have more than six sponsors and no sponsor shall be added after a resolution has been introduced."

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. MILLS, JOHN J. MURRAY, and JENKINS. RESOLUTION No. 45.

In the House of Representatives, March 21, 1955.

The field of hospitalization insurance is rapidly expanding in Pennsylvania. There are many reputable companies which give adequate protection for a small price. There are, however, many other companies which are purportedly milking their policy holders of exorbitant premiums and affording little or very restricted benefits in return; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Committee on Insurance of the House of Representatives make a thorough investigation of the hospitalization insurance companies now doing business within this Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee may meet, hold hearings, take testimony and make investigations. It may issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman commanding any person to appear before it and to answer questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records, and documents as the committee deems necessary. Any person who wilfully neglects or refuses to testify before this committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee shall make reports to the House of Representatives from time to time as the work progresses.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair might at this time call attention to Rule 91 of this House. The Chair has not enforced this rule and will not enforce it as long as visitors are mindful of the dignity of this Assembly.

Rule 91 provides that no one, no one can remain standing in the Hall of the House, that if there are no seats available in the Hall of the House visitors must needs retire to the gallery.

As the Chair has said this rule has not been enforced, will not be enforced, as long as visitors are as courteous to the Members of this House as we expect Members of this House to be courteous to visitors.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. KENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the Members of the House who were here during the 1953 session, I am sure, will recall the rather controversial House Bill 1240 which became variously known as the "Kent Bill," and the "Anti-Gas Bill," and I became variously known as "Smokey Joe" and other names which I will not bother mentioning at this time.

It gives me a great deal of pleasure today to inform the House that Dr. Sarraf of Allegheny County and myself have just introduced House Bill 700 which again deals with the regulation of underground storage of gas in the vicinity of coal mines. It also has to do with the regulation of drilling and plugging of wells.

A companion bill, HB 701, proposes to change the name of the Department of Mines to the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries. The main bill (HB 700) would establish an Oil & Gas Division within the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries with a deputy secretary to administer the act.

The first Pennsylvania legislative proposals on gas storage to carry the full support of the coal and gas industries, plus that of the United Mine Workers of America, the bills reflect the efforts of technical specialists in both industries over the past 1½ years to develop the basis for such joint support.

The coal and gas industries, and the United Mine Workers of America, are to be complimented for their cooperation in developing the basis of this legislation. During the inter-industry disagreement on the 1953 bill, I suggested that the two industries get together and reconcile out their differences. Well, they have done it and I know it took lots of work, with unselfish motivation.

As a result of their endeavors, we can enact a method of regulation that insures maximum safety from the hazards of underground gas storage without restricting the opportunities of the gas and coal industries for progress and growth. Moreover, there will be benefits from uniform regulation of the drilling and plugging of wells, and from public recording of the exact location of all future oil and gas wells drilled in Pennsylvania and of the boundaries of coal mining and gas storage operations.

Unique feature of the legislation is its emphasis upon the conference method for reaching agreement between conflicting interests. The soundness of this approach to the solution of the safety problem is attested by the fact that it was the basis for similar legislation already enacted by West Virginia and expected to be introduced soon in Ohio, and in Kentucky when that legislature meets in 1956. Pennsylvania has pioneered a model solution of a modern problem.

The new bills establish the responsibility of storage operators to prevent the escape of stored gas into coal mines. While not responsible for acts of God or third persons, storage operators assume responsibility for leakage from uncharted wells. Thus, a primary requirement is that storage operators, if operating under or within 2,000 feet of active coal mining operations, must satisfy the Oil & Gas Division that adequate measures were taken to locate unchartered wells and that all wells were properly checked and re-conditioned.

One of the more dangerous aspects of storage—the testing of a depleted gas sand to see if it is suitable for storage—is given the special protection of detailed control by the state regulatory division.

Benefits granted to storage operators include the right of eminent domain to acquire wells for storage pool development, provided the storage operator has acquired rights to at least 75 per cent of a gas sand that is at least 80 per cent depleted. Also, storage operators under unmined coal reserves get a long period of warning before coal mining can begin and the storage operation is placed under the provisions of the act. The 1953 attempt to set limits on gas pressures allowable in storage pools was abandoned, except as might be set to govern testing operations.

House Bill No. 700, Mr. Speaker, is very lengthy and it is very technical and I do not want to bore the House with an explanation of all its various provisions at this time. However, I hope to be able to have an opportunity to do that later on.

However, Pennsylvania has pioneered a model solution of a very modern and a very serious problem which exists and has existed in Pennsylvania. I hope, Mr. Speaker, that the Committee to which these bills are referred will, without too much delay, give them due consideration.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. MIHM asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a resolution to be introduced by him.

Mrs. VARALLO asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by her.

Mr. BELL asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him

Mr. BRENNINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. SNIDER asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. TOLL asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. ERB asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bil No. 61, as follows:

An Act amending the act of June twenty-four one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" prohibiting the coloration or adding of any ingredients to potatoes or yams

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Article VI act of June twenty-four one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 872) known as "The Penal Code" is amended by adding after section 635 thereof a new section to read

Section 635.1 Coloring of Potatoes and Yams Whoever knowingly produces imports ships sells consigns offers for sale exposes for sale or has in his possession with intent to sell any potato yam or similar product or substance to which any coloration or ingredient is added to change the original color or real character of the potato yam or similar product or substance shall upon summary conviction be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) or undergo imprisonment not exceeding thirty (30) days or both

Section 2 This act shall take effect in ten days.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STONER. Mr. SPEAKER, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Maxwell, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAXWELL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know just what prompted this piece of legislation?

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, for the gentleman's information I introduced this bill at the request of a grocery keeper in my district. He sold some potatoes to one of his customers and the lady came back in very much of a huff. She said when she boiled the potatoes she got a pot full of colored water. I do not think this practice of coloring potatoes happens so much in the larger stores where they buy, say carload lots. I think this practice happens with the smaller grocery keepers or hucksters and smaller dealers. They buy up a cheap grade of potato and they color them a reddish color to make them look like a new potato.

The bill was simply introduced to try to protect the grocery keepers and the buying public from misrepresentation and fraud.

If there is anything that the gentleman would like to do to this bill I would be glad to go along. The bill does not mean anything to me.

Mr. STONER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know, my second question, whether the gentleman has cleared this bill with the Department of Agriculture, under the FOOD and DRUG ACT which does mention the coloring of food items?

Mr. MAXWELL. In answer to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, I did not clear this bill with the Department of Agriculture or any other department. I simply introduced the bill because as far as I am concerned I am against any adulteration or coloring of any of the food that is offered for sale to the public in Pennsylvania where it will misrepresent the original product.

Mr. STONER. My plight is this; you know we have oranges, Mr. Speaker, coming in from Florida and other states in interstate commerce, which have been colored. I am wondering if we are interfering with legislation here which we possibly should have no business to interfere with.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, not to prolong this debate, but there is nothing in the bill which mentions oranges. It has nothing to do with oranges, it is strictly potatoes.

Mr. BANKER. Mr. Speaker, I reported this bill from Committee, and before so doing did clear it with Agriculture, the Bureau of Foods and Chemistry.

I have here a memo from Mr. Hagar, or I believe it is from Deputy Secretary Bull, a memo out of Mr. Hagar's files. This is the answer:

> "The application of non-toxin polishing or coating materials to apples, citrus fruits, potatoes or shell nuts, when such use does not conceal damage or inferiority, will not be a matter of objection at the present, providing such polishing or coating materials do not contain coloring agents.
> "Second, when any polishing or coating material containing coloring is used, each individual item shall be marked, 'color added,' unless such product shall be offered for sale only in packages. In such cases each package shall be adequately and clearly labled as to the presence of the polishing or coating material and the presence of added color, which color shall only be a certified food color, such use of added color shall not conceal damage or inferiority, make the product appear of better or greater value than it is or mark varietal characteristics."

The bill is agreeable to the Department.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the years and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 125, Printer's No. 113, and

House Bill No. 126, Printer's No. 114,

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 162, as follows:

An Act amending the act of March ten one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" increasing rental charge allowed for use of receiving district's school plant in calculating tuition charge per high school pupil to be paid by sending district

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Clause (3) of section 2561 act of March ten one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) known as the "Public School Code of one thousand nine hundred forty-nine" amended August nineteenth one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 1169) is amended to read

Section 2561 Tuition Charges for Pupils of Other Districts A school district or vocational school district receiving elementary or high school pupils or vocational or other extension education pupils who are residents of another school district or another vocational school district shall compute the tuition charges as follows

(3) High School Tuition Charge Add the salaries of supervisors principals clerks assistants and teachers employed in the receiving district's high schools the district's contribution to the retirement fund on behalf of teachers supervisors and principals employed in the district's high schools the cost of textbooks and supplies of the second class used in the district's high schools and divide the sum so obtained by the total number of pupils in average dailv membership in the receiving district's high schools The quotient so obtained shall be designated as the "instruction cost per high school pupil" Add to the instruction cost per high school pupil the overhead cost per pupil and a rental charge of [ten dollars ($10)] eighteen dollars ($18) per pupil for the use of the receiving district's school plant For the school years one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and one thousand nine hundred fifty-three one thousand nine hundred fifty-four only but not thereafter deduct from the amount so obtained the per pupil State appropriation on account of high school teaching units The cost so determined shall be the "tuition charge per high school pupil"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FILO. Mr. Speaker, I want to say I am not opposing this measure. However, I want it in the record so that the people of my borough know what I am voting for. This bill I am told would cost my school district in the neighborhood of $7,000.

Knowing well that these students from my district, from my home town, are being taught in surrounding areas and in surrounding high school districts, I feel that the money contributed toward these school districts will eventually benefit the students who are getting their education there.

Therefore, I am supporting the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 354, Printer's No. 123,

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 404, as follows:

An Act amending the act of May 1 1833 (P L 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" making optional the charge or assessment against accommodated or benefitted properties the cost for storm sewers or drains

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 1507 act of May 1 1933 (P L 103) known as "The Second Class Township Code" reenacted revised and amended July 10 1947 (P L 1481) is amended to read

Section 1507 Cost of Construction How Paid The cost of construction of any such system of sewers or drains constructed by the authority of this subdivision in so far as it relates to sanitary sewers or drains shall and in so far as it relates to storm sewers or drains may be charged upon the properties accommodated or benefited thereby to the extent of such benefits in the manner hereinafter provided

The township supervisors may finance the cost of construction of any such system of sewers or drains by the issuance of general obligation bonds of the township within the constitutional and statutory limitations for the incurring or increasing of indebtedness and pursuant to the provisions of law relating to the borrowing of money by political subdivision Where general obligation bonds are so issued the supervisors in the case of construction of sanitary sewers or drains shall and in the case of construction of storm sewers or drains may nevertheless be required to assess the cost of the construction of such sewers or drains to the extent permitted by law against the properties accommodated or benefited by such improvements as hereinafter provided and to deposit the praceeds of such assessments in the sinking fund established for the purpose of retiring such general obligation bonds

Nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the financing of the cost of such construction under the provisions of the "Municipal Authorities Act of 1945" and any amendments thereto

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 461, as follows:

An Act amending the act of June 22 1931 (P L 594) entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways authorizing their construction maintenance and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities persons associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act" changing a route in Beaver County by abandoning part thereof

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follaws

Section 1 The following route established by the act of June 22 1931 (P L 594) entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways authorizing their construction maintenance and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities persons associations and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act" is amended to read

Route 04070 Beginning at a point on [the Gringo Road] Route 445 about .25 of a mile west of Route 76 thence in a westerly direction to a point near Independence thence in a westerly direction to [a point on the Raccoon-Independence line near Service Creek thence along Service Creek to an intersection with Route 115] the southern terminus of Route 04050 in Beaver County a distance of about [7.0] 4.0 miles

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask permission to interrogate the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. William B. Smith or Mr. Robert K. Hamilton, either one of the sponsors, it makes no difference.

I would like one of the gentlemen to explain to the House why this road is being abandoned, and just what is acutally going to happen to the road, whether it is going to be a short-cut or whether a new road is going to be built?

Mr. ROBERT K. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, the road under consideration here runs up through the Service Creek area of Beaver County. This particular area of around four miles will be inundated and flooded, as an impounding dam is to be constructed on Service Creek. The road will be flooded from fifty feet down to a disappearing proposition for a distance of over four miles.

For that reason, this being an unusual and unique situation for a road, this particular bill was introduced for the purpose of abandoning it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 590, as follows:

An Act amending the act of July 29 1953 (Appropriation Acts 19 No 24-A) entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Mines for the sealing and dewatering of and extinguishment of fires in abandoned coal mines" authorizing the use of the funds for flushing mine voids in certain cases

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 1 act of July 29 1953 (Appropriation Acts 19 No 24-A) entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Mines for the sealing and dewatering of and extinguishment of fires in abandoned coal mines" is amended to read

Section 1 The sum of one million five hundred thousaind dollars ($1,500,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to the Department of Mines for the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-three for the purpose of purchasing and maintaining equipment paying salaries wages postage printing and other necessary expenses incurred in the sealing or dewatering of or extinguishment of fires in abandoned coal mines and for the flushing mine voids in abandoned mines where danger of subsidence may be imminent

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. Musto. Mr. Speaker, the amendment to this bill is only to transfer some funds to continue a flushing project that the previous administration started in the City of Pittston. The city has been in danger of subsidence for a good many years and the funds have run out. It is only to continue what the previous administration had started.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

RESOLUTIONS

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 24.

Mr. OGILVIE. Mr. Speaker, I call up Resolution No. 24.

The Resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 22, 1955.

Before our Pilgrim Fathers set foot on American soil they entered into a religious covenant with one another which began, "In the name of God, Amen." These ancestors will stand as eternal sentinels guarding the liberties of our Nation and those principles upon which we have achieved world leadership. Our ancestors were the product of man's alliance with God. There was no other way of beginning for them, and there is no other way of continuing for us.

So true is the axiom that it is not material wealth but moral worth, not broad acres but great principles, not gold but Godly men and the things of God coupled with a steadfast trust in Him, which makes a nation great and keeps it strong. Well lies our Nation's hope in the slogan engraved upon our currency, heard in every inaugural prayer and voiced in the halls of great decisions, "In God We Trust." As long as we trust in God and look to Him for wisdom upon which to build and for Divine guidance in national affairs, we may be assured of increasing honor, prosperity and human happiness.

The future of our Nation, what shall it be? Shall we forget God and lean upon our own understanding? God forbid. Let us hasten to retrace our steps and regain the road which leads to peace, liberty and security. A nation which forgets God is certainly doomed to destruction.

Seeing then that trust in Almighty God was the secret of our forefathers' power and the only basis of all true progress, let us maintain our trust in God, for a Godless order is a menace to life and a peril to our democracy. America was founded by men of great religious convictions, and no one can understand America today without recognition of this basic fact. Unfortunately some are prone to lose sight of these convictions about God, the dignity of man and our democratic processes. Herein lies our greatest National peril; thence the call for spiritual rebirth and a moral rearmament; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives declares the "Back to God" movement to be timely and imperative to our National progress and security, and calls upon our leaders and educators to remove any advocacy or teaching of a breakdown of the spiritual life that has made this the greatest nation in the history of the world. Blessed is that nation whose God is the Lord.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 32.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I call up Resolution No. 32.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 28, 1955.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Governor of this Commonwealth is hereby requested and authorized to proclaim the week of June 19, this year, and the third full week in June annually thereafter, as "National Amateur Radio Week," in appreciation by the people of this Commonwealth for the services performed by amateur radio communication hobbyists in times of national and local disasters.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 40.

Mr. FLINT. Mr. Speaker, I call up Resolution No. 40.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows.

In the House of Representatives, March 8, 1955.

The Pennsylvania U. S. Highway No. 6 extends across the northern part of Pennsylvania from east to west and comprises an integral part of a transcontinental highway important to the commercial and economic life of State and Nation.

The Pennsylvania U. S. Highway No. 6 is also a military road, being one of two of such vital east-west highways in the Commonwealth.

The Pennsylvania U. S. Highway No. 6 passes through one of the most scenic areas of our Commonwealth and is the access route for thousands of visitors who come from all parts of the Nation and State to enjoy the hunting, fishing, and natural grandeur of the area.

The widening, straightening and complete renovation of said Pennsylvania U. S. Highway No. 6 would provide the shortest and most attractive highway from Chicago, Cleveland, Erie, and other large industrial and population centers to the urban industrial centers of the east, and as such is included in the proposed Federal Interstate Highway Program; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Secretary of Highways of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be requested to advance plans to make Pennsylvania U. S. Highway No. 6 a four lane, toll-free highway to the end that said highway may form a real part of the vital defense system of transcontinental military highways, and to the additional purpose of further opening a vast area of the potential industrial and existing recreational resources of Pennsylvania; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of Highways of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania communicate such plans to the Director of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, to the end that the plans may be integrated and the reconstruction and improvement of Pennsylvania U. S. Highway No. 6 be commenced with all the celerity consistent with proper highway improvement practices.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 41

Mr. STONE. Mr. Speaker, I call up Resolution No. 41.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 14, 1955.

The New Cumberland Dam authorized by Congress to replace existing locks and dams, numbers 7, 8 and 9 on the Ohio River, is an emergency project.

The existing locks and dams, especially lock and dam number 7, are in such deplorable condition that failure is imminent. Due to extreme pressure from a hillside, the land lock wall at lock number 7 is gradually moving riverward. The situation is so very critical that it is feared the wall will collapse before the new dam can be built, even if the building program proceeds on schedule. If this happens, it will be a real catastrophe. Traffic will be stopped on the river for a period of a few months to a year or more, depending upon the seriousness of the failure.

When it is realized that more than 60 million tons of traffic moved over the Ohio River last year and that over a million freight cars would be required to handle this traffic, it becomes apparent that this is one of the world's most vital traffic arteries. If one of the locks were to fail, the result would be immediate shut-down of many mills and factories along the Ohio River. There are not sufficient existing rail or track facilities to handle the tonnage now moving over the Ohio River. Many of the plants are entirely dependent upon the river for the transportation of raw materials such as coal, petroleum and other bulk material, to the plants, as well as for the movement of their finished products to market. A failure in this system of river transportation would cause immediate unemployment of 30,000 persons in addition to the loss of production.

The estimated cost of the entire project is 46 million dollars spread over five-year construction period. The present appropriation of one million dollars will be sufficient to relocate a highway and purchase property in the project area. The amount required to carry on the actual construction program for the next fiscal year is about 13 million dollars. This money must be appropriated by the Congress of the United States before July 1, 1955 to continue construction.

It is estimated that the huge tonnage moved on the Ohio River last year saved shippers some 80 million dollars. This is nearly twice the amount required to build New Cumberland Dam. The ratio of benefit over cost is nearly 6 to 1 in benefit to the public, since the savings on this traffic is passed on directly to the consumer.

The project is vital to the economy of the United States and to the National defense. One of the heaviest concentrations of traffic in the world moves through the project area. Materials such as coal, coke, iron, steel, fluorspar, sulphur, oil, gasoline, sand, gravel, glass, stone, acids, solvents, benzol, scrap, slag, ore, and general freight comprise the tonnage through the project area. During World War II, actually billions of gallons of gasoline and oil which could not be moved by sea because of the submarine menace, came up the Ohio River to the North and East for both military and domestic use. Right in the Pittsburgh district there were literally hundreds of war vessels built and moved down the Ohio River for our armed forces. If we were to experience a failure of one of the locks or dams during such a war emergency, it would be a terrible disaster. The unsettled international situation today makes it imperative that construction of New Cumberland Dam be started at once and brought to completion with all possible haste.

When canalization of the Ohio River was begun, it was estimated that when the tonnage moved over it reached the figure of 15 million tons per year it would then be a self-liquidating proposition. This figure was passed before canalization was complete and today that much tonnage moves through just one of locks 7, 8 and 9. This traffic comes from many points. In the Pittsburgh District, which includes the three rivers as far South as mile 109 on the Ohio River, there are 47 terminals on the Allegheny River, 136 terminals on the Monongahela River, and 123 terminals on the Ohio River, including 9 river-rail terminals. It can be seen from these statistics that industry makes intensive use of the rivers. It is also noteworthy that, in spite of the fact that all of the locks and dams on the Ohio River were designed for downstream tonnage only, the upstream tonnage now equals that which moves downstream. There is a fine reciprocity of trade between Pittsburgh and lower river points.

It was not happenstance that industry located along the river banks. There are many advantages to industry and the public from a canalized river in addition to low-cost transportation. Water is a vital necessity to many industries. It requires about 30 tons of water to make a ton of steel. The City of Pittsburgh is a tremendous user of water for drinking purposes and sanitation, yet one plant such as Kobuta on the Ohio River uses more water each day than this great metropolis. The assurance of a stable and insured harbor for transportation and landings is a real advantage, but equally important is an assured supply of water for municipal and industrial purposes. All of these uses of water will be considerably enhanced by the construction of New Cumberland Dam.

The existing structures (Locks 7, 8 and 9) are completely worn out; they have paid for themselves in savings to the public many times over; they are incapable of handling modern transportation and unsuited to modern methods and traffic; their replacement is vital to the economy of the United States and to the National defense; their failure will put undue hardship on industry and the public and cause unemployment; whereas construction of a new dam will increase employment and further the prosperity of the entire valley. Congress was infinitely wise in canalizing the Ohio River. The investment has paid off in savings to the public and in the development of the entire river valley as a great industrial empire. The welfare of the Nation demands that Congress now invest once more in a replacement program on the Ohio River beginning with New Cumberland locks and dam.

The so-called New Cumberland Dam will consist of one entirely new structure consisting of a roller-gate dam and two sets of locks impounding a pool some 22.7 miles in length. The larger lock will measure 1200 feet in length and 110 feet in width and the smaller lock will be 600 feet long and 110 feet wide. They will accommodate a towboat and 22 barges carrying a cargo of some 22,000 tons at a draft of 8.5 feet; therefore be it

Resolved (The Senate concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact into legislation the necessary appropriation measure or measures for the next fiscal year to carry on the actual construction of the so-called New Cumberland Dam; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each House of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

SENATE RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 114

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows·

In the Senate, March 7, 1955.

Benjamin Franklin in his long service to the peoples of the world, made outstanding contributions to better understanding among nations; working tirelessly in the field of diplomacy, public service, science and the arts.

Benjamin Franklin was a member of many of the world's foremost societies of his day, which do now plan with other societies, associations and institutions to honor the 250th Anniversary of his birth in 1956, with an International Celebration dedicated to the furtherance of better understanding among all peoples.

In addition to his national and international services, Benjamin Franklin was also a pioneer public servant of the Colony and State of Pennsylvania—as clerk of the Pennsylvania Assembly, member from Philadelphia, deputy postmaster, representative from Pennsylvania and other Colonies to the Court of Great Britain and later at the Court of France, delegate of the Assembly of Pennsylvania to the Second Continental Congress, assisting in the draft of the Declaration of Independence, President of the Convention which framed the Constitution for the State of Pennsylvania, and State President for three years; therefore be it Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in grateful memory of the services of Benjamin Franklin, join with those who would honor the 250th Anniversary of his birth; and that a commission, to be known as the "Benjamin Franklin Sesqui Bicentennial Commission of Pennsylvania" be established, to consist of the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, five members of the House of Representatives, who shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House, five members of the Senate, who shall be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and five citizens who shall be appointed by the Governor. This commission shall cooperate with the Franklin Institute of the State of Pennsylvania in extending the warm and cordial hospitality of this State to all who are working for better international understanding in memory of Benjamin Franklin. It shall also be the task of the commission to sponsor the production and distribution of editorial material on Benjamin Franklin that may be sent to the newspapers, magazines, radio and television stations of all cooperating countries, so that they may have adequate information on the many phases of Benjamin Franklin's life and teachings.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair recently noted the presence in the House of the Hon. Joseph Skale, a former Member from Philadelphia.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. READINGER from the Committee on Rules, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 236, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 27, 1923 (P. Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23, 1955. No. 29.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, March 23, 1955.

The House met at 10:00 a. m.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Revenrend Harold J. Crouse, offered the following prayer:

Our Father, we come into Thy presence with confidence, knowing that Thou wilt take us by Thy hand and help us to see things from Thy viewpoint. Teach us all that there is a time to speak and a time to keep silence. When we should speak give us the courage of our convictions.

Lord, Thou art the way, the truth and the life. If we seek Thee Thou wilt show us the way that is right, the truth that shall make us free, and the life that is full and abundant. We pray that these Thy servants, the members of this body will do what is right, that Thy blessing can rest upon their labors.

May the love of God, which is broader than the measure of man's mind; the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, which is sufficient for all our needs; and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit, who shall lead us into all truth, be with us all this day. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, March 22, 1955 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

FORMER CHIEF CLERK WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chairm notes the presence in the House of the former Chief Clerk, the gentleman from Dauphin, Hon. William E. Habbyshaw. I have not seen him in this Hall since early in the year, and it is a pleasure to see that one of the best, if not the best, Chief Clerk this House has had in the present century feels called upon now and even to pay a passing visit.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. McLAUGHLIN, OLSEN, LUTTY, WALSH, VERONA, SCHUSTER, FILO, BOIES, GIBB, EWING, DONALDSON, SARRAF, MIHM, KAMYK, MATT S. ANDERSON, THOMAS, GOLDSTEIN, JOHN J. MURRAY, AGNEW, HAUDENSHIELD, THOMPSON and COOPER.

RESOLUTION (Not Printed)

In the House of Representatives, March 22, 1955.

The "Iron Dukes" of Duquesne University emerged as the champions in the final of the eighteenth National Invitation Basketball Tournament which was held March 19th at Madison Square Garden.

Duquesne University is certainly to be congratulated on its outstanding basketball squad. The Dukes, who had been fourth, third, and runner-up in succession in three previous years, this year gained national recognition and acclaim by their clean sportsmanship, competitive spirit, and sagacity in the execution of the numerous skills necessary to the development of a championship team. Inspired by the high scoring Dick Ricketts and Si Green, and under the expert guidance of coach Dudey Moore, the "Iron Dukes" have proven themselves worthy of our highest regard; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extends its congratulations to Dudey Moore, the coach of Duquesne University's basketball team, and to each of the players of the team; and be it further

Resolved, That the congratulations of this House are likewise extended to Duquesne University upon its having a championship basketball team; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House send copies of this resolution to Dudey Moore, each of the Duquesne Basketball Team, and to Reverend Vernon Gallagher, President of Duquesne University.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

STUDENTS FROM LAWRENCE PARK HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House a delegation of students from the Lawrence Park High School of Lawrence Park, Erie County, under the supervision of their Principal, Dan V. Skala. They are the guests of the gentlemen from Erie, Messrs. Polaski, Waterhouse, Blair and Joseph J Brennan. Present in the group are two exchange students from Europe: Felix Rama from Madrid, Spain, and Theresa De Loratis from Ravenna, Italy.

STUDENTS FROM HERSHEY HIGH SCHOOL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House a delegation of sudents from the Hershey High School, Hershey. They are the guests of the gentlemen from Dauphin, Messrs. Moody and Hocker.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WATERHOUSE asked and abtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, on behalf of the other Members of the House from Erie County, I want to welcome the students here, with regret that they could not have been here yesterday inasmuch as today we are operating strictly on a consent calendar, which I hope we can explain to them at lunchtime.

I assure them that the seats were well filled yesterday and the day before, and due to the fact that we have gotten into such long sessions in the state and the fact the Members all have many other interests at home, jobs, and so forth, for that reason we try to let the people who should be back for some reason or other leave as early in the week as possible.

We want to assure the students that what they will see here today is no indication of how the House of Representatives operates as a rule. I hope they can get some idea of how things are done here, and we are going to send them some phamplets which will state the life of a bill, and so forth, I hope that will give them some idea. It is a pleasure to have them here, as I say, and I am sorry they could not have been here yesterday.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. POLASKI asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the students who are present here today from the two high schools, that is Hershey, Dauphin County and Lawrence Park, Erie County, will meet the Governor this afternoon at three-thirty.

I would also like to say that the Principal of Lawrence Park High School, Dan V. Skala, also happens to be the President of the State PSEA.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication from the Senate together with the bill be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. KNECHT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, March 28, 1955 at 4:30 p.m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 10:50 a.m.) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, MARCH 28, 1955. No. 30.

SENATE

MONDAY, March 28, 1955

The Senate met at 3:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. WILLIAM McCLELLAND, Rector of Prince of Peace Episcopal Church, Dallas, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, the high and mighty Ruler of the universe, Who dost from Thy throne behold all the dwellers of the earth; we ask Thy blessing upon the people of this State, and especially upon their Senators here assembled. May Thy presence be known and Thy spirit rule in all their meetings.

May the Members of this Senate plan and act with an eye single to the permanent welfare of this State. Direct and prosper all their consultations to the advancement of Thy glory and the safety, honor and welfare of the people they represent; and grant that all things that shall come up for their consideration may be so ordered and settled upon the best and surest foundations, that peace and happiness, truth and justice, religion and piety, may be established among us for all generations.

These things and whatsoever else Thou shalt see necessary and convenient for us, we humbly beg through the merits and mediation of Jesus Christ our Savior. Amend.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. BERGER, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. VAN SANT, due to illness.

He also asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. PROPERT, due to illness.

An Act making an appropriation ot the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission for the restoration and repair of certain memorials heretofore erected in France in honor of the citizens of Pennsylvania who served on the battlefields of France and Belgium and to perpetuate the memories of those who fell in World War I; and imposing duties on the commission.

Which was committed to the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics.

Messrs. WATKINS and DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 254, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties, imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," by further regulating the maximum length of truck tractor and semitrailer combinations carrying motor vehicles.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SILVERT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, about a year or so ago a sad situation developed in the State of Pennsylvania, to the extent that in Philadelphia the Legal Aid Society, of which Judge Goodrich is President, was called upon to help hundreds of people who were faced with certain levies, executions and visits by the sheriff.

This situation arose as follows. During the depression, and some time later, when men went into the service, automobile finance companies repossessed a great number of automobiles.

Now, Mr. President, as the lawyer members of this Senate know, with every leasing of an automobile there is a lease executed which contains a confession of judgment for the entire amount due under the lease. After these automobiles were repossessed, and this goes back as far as seventeen and eighteen years ago, the leases containing these judgments were on record and the finance companies forgot about them, the people whose automobiles were repossessed forgot about them until about a year ago when a finance company from another State came in and thought it was good business to buy up these judgments and, Mr. President, they bought them at a few pennies on the dollar. They then proceeded to make levies through the sheriff's office, and the sheriff went out and seized automobiles, that is new automobiles, since acquired by these people. The people didn't realize what was happening. They had long forgotten about their old automobiles being repossessed, and they thought that the repossession of the automobiles ended their problem during the depression.

As I said, Mr. President, the Legal Aid Society had to step in and help out.

Mr. President, the bill which I am about to introduce is similar to the act that was introduced in 1941 to help out on mortgage foreclosures, which took place during the depression. Prior to this act of 1941, when a house was foreclosed, a judgment obtained under bond accompanying the mortgage remained a record and the obligor was never discharged. This created a great hardship, and in 1941 we passed what is now known as the Deficiency Judgment Act. This is a similar bill to apply to automobiles. That is, it provides that where an automobile is seized, the finance company within ninety days must sell the automobile and then thirty days thereafter if they are not satisfied with what they obtained out of the automobile, if it is insufficient to clear up that debt, they must come into court and file what is known as a petition for deficiency judgment. A notice is served on the former automobile owner to come in and contest their statement of values as they present it in court.

Mr. President, this will remedy a bad situation, and I wish to publicly acknowledge that in the preparation of this bill I received advice and help from Robert D. Abrahams, Chief Counsel for the Legal Aid Bureau, as well as David H. Kubert, also an attorney in the Legal Aid Bureau in Philadelphia.

Mr. President, I might also add that this situation was forcibly brought to light by a series of articles in the Philadelphia Inquirer, by Ken Symansky, and the public was apprised of what was going on through these articles.

I also wish to mention, Mr. President, that on February 12, 1954, the Pennsylvania Industrial Bankers Association, representing ninety per cent of the finance companies of Pennsylvaia, adopted a resolution approving, in principle the provisions of this act.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. SILVERT, DONOLOW and BLASS read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 255, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 28, 1947 (P. L. 1110), entitled "An act defining and regulating certain installment sales of motor vehicles; prescribing the conditions under which such sales may be made and regulating the financing thereof; regulating and licensing persons engaged in the business of making or financing such sales; prescribing the form, contents and effect of instruments used in connection with such sales and the financing thereof; prescribing certain rights and obligations of buyers, sellers, persons financing such sales and others; limiting incidental charges in connection with such instruments and fixing maximum interest rates for delinquencies, extensions and loans; regulating insurance in connection with such sales; regulating repossessions, redemptions, resale and deficiency judgment and the rights of parties with respect thereto; authorizing extensions, loans and forbearances related to such sales; authorizing investigations and examinations of persons engaged in the business of making or financing such sales; prescribing penalties and repealing certain acts," prescribing the method of fixing the fair market value of certain motor vehicles purchased under installment sales contracts and regulating the rights and duties of the parties thereto.

An Act amending the act of June 2, 1915 (P. L. 736), entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment; establishing an elective schedule of compensation; and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder," further regulating additional compensation paid illegally employed minors.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 260, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 13, 1915 (P. L. 286), entitled "An act to provide for the health, safety, and welfare of minors; By forbidding their employment or work in certain establishments and occupations, and under certain specified ages; by restricting their hour of labor, and regulating certain conditions of their employment; by requiring employment certificates for certain minors, and prescribing the kinds thereof, and the rules for the issuance, reissuance, filing, return, and recording of the same; by providing that the Industrial Board shall, under certain conditions, determine and declare whether certain occupations are within the prohibitions of this act; requiring that certain minors shall, during the period of their employment attend certain schools, to be established as therein provided, and to be approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and regulating the conditions of such attendance; authorizing the State Board of Education, certain cases, to appoint attendance officers to aid in enforcing the provisions of this act, and creating the salary and expenses of such officers a charge against the school districts wherein they are employed; requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted; providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioner of Labor and Industry, the attendance officers of school districts, and police officers; and defining the procedure in prosecutions thereunder, and establishing certain presumptions in relation thereto; providing penalties for the violation of the provisions thereof; and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith," further prescribing work in which minors may engage; regulating minor's working hours, minor's work certificates and proof of age; changing penalties, and further regulating prosecutions.

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

Mr. RUTH, on behalf of Mr. DENT, (By request) read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 261, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 2, 1929 (P. L. 1278), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto," changing the qualifications for the office of district attorney in counties of the sixth class; and deleting provision heretofore supplied.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

Messrs. BERGER and DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 262, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 26, 1949 (P. L. 1828), entitled "An act concerning the investment powers and duties of guardians, committees, trustees, and other fiduciaries, except personal representatives, and prescribing the nature and kind of investments which may be made and retained by such fiduciaries," authorizing fiduciaries to invest in bonds, notes or other obligations issued, assumed or guaranteed by International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Messrs. BARR and McGINNIS read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 263, entitled:

Which was committed to the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 28, 1955.

To the Honorable, the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Today, I come before the General Assembly to discuss with you the fundamental basis of our life together in Pennsylvania—the economic processes which support our ten and one-half millions of people, and which alone give us the promise of material security and a rising living standard against the future.

My theme is the Commonwealth's part in those economic processes.

Our objective is to use every reasonable power of the State itself, every resource of our dynamic people, every ounce of leadership which we possess in our national councils, to the purpose that our economy in Pennsylvania gear itself once more to an economy of full employment.

We are today declaring war against the shameful waste of human energy and human ability and human capacity to produce, which comes about when men and women find no work when they seek work; when marvelous energy sources like our Pennsylvania coals lie unmined in the ground; when whole communities and regions are seemingly condemned to chronic unemployment, deterioration, and hopelessly prolonged distress.

We are not proposing a magic formula—a single panacea—a cure-all.

We are proposing a new sense of dedication, a new flow of purpose, that will be applied throughout Pennsylvania to give us expanded industries, new industries, more job opportunities, better and happier communities.

This Administration, this Legislature, are properly concerned with improving our standards of public health, public welfare, public education. We want a good State Government, efficient, economical useful to our people. We want recreation as a part of life—parks, hunting, fishing, clean water, unspoiled landscapes.

For all these things, our people rightly look to their Commonwealth.

And we—Governor and Legislature—recognize our responsibilities.

But all such things, desirable as they are, can only come as the return we gather from a productive society. They are the good fruit born by a functioning economy. They are the payment we make mutually to our community from the proceeds of our individual initiative and labor.

Our basic job, our most pressing job, therefore, is to protect the economy of Pennsylvania. We must maintain it where it is strong; shore it up where it is weakened; protect it, build it, strengthen it, expand it.

I regard that effort as the primary task before us.

Today, I will outline to you the things which we believe the State may properly do to meet its task, and some of the things that we must be ready to call upon others to do in partnership with us.

The State Government, of course, does not dominate—nor will it ever dominate, I trust—our economy. The National Government has a far greater impact; local governments have an impact equal to our own; but all government is subordinate in our system of economic freedom to the work of our citizens, each striving to improve himself.

But our economy has become so complex that public action, even in the restricted area of State operations, has a vital part, a key position. We can loose and we can bind. We can stolidly accept stagnation, or we can add our contribution, a critical contribution, to a dynamic course of action.

If I know this Legislature, if I know this Administration, if I know the people of Pennsylvania, I am certain of the choice. We will act.

This is a very great State, traditionally the heartland of American industry, the keystone of our Nation's economy in the machine age as it was the keystone of our National independence. With so much to be proud of, we are very sensitive indeed if we do not now admit, classify, and correct our shortcomings. The quickest way to community disaster is to pretend that all is for the best in the best of all possible states.

Currently, according to the latest classification list of the United States Department of Labor, not one single area in Pennsylvania is an area of balanced labor supply. In plain language, we have some measurable unemployment everywhere. Five areas in Pennsylvania are recorded as areas of moderate labor surplus. Eight Pennsylvania areas are areas of substantial labor surplus, which means that from six to 11.9 per cent of their labor force is out of work. Twelve Pennsylvania areas are classified as areas of very substantial labor surplus, which means that twelve per cent or more of their workingmen and women seeking employment cannot secure jobs.

The areas of moderate labor surplus (I hate that designation of human beings as surplus, like a commodity) the only such areas were Allentown-Bethlehem-Easton, Harrisburg, Lancaster, Sharon-Farrell, and York. Every other classified center of population in the State has six per cent or more of its people out of work.

We know that our coal districts and railroad towns have been particularly hard hit.

In all the Nation, there are only nine large areas where more than twelve per cent of the working force is unemployed. Four of those nine areas are in Pennsylvania. There are 45 smaller areas of very substantial unemployment in the Nation. Eight of those 45 areas are in Pennsylvania.

We know that while we have had substantial industrial growth in Pennsylvania, we have not kept our old lead over the rest of the Nation.

We know that throughout the Nation, communities, states, and regions are in fierce competition for industrial expansion.

We know that energy sources are changing rapidly in our technology; that there is great pressure to close obsolescent plants and integrate operations in modern and efficient structures; that an old town, grimy and unattractive, has less chance to attract a new industry than a community which understands and exhibits the art of pleasant living.

None of these facts, I scarcely need to tell you, acts automatically in Pennsylvania's favor.

We know, too, while industrial production in the Nation is up five per cent from a year ago, the number of workers in manufacturing plants is down four per cent. We are constantly able to produce more goods with fewer man hours.

This, then, is the face of the problem.

What is our obligation, mine as Governor, yours as legislators, as we confront it?

Our worst error has been our failure to plan against this day; to understand and thus meet our potential troubles before they have us in their grasp.

I recommend to the Legislature that we create a State Planning Agency that is capable, in structure and in personnel, of interpreting our future, and recommending to us the steps we should take for our protection and our growth as we move into that future.

Some subjects for their study should be:

The effect on Pennsylvania of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The effect on Pennsylvania of atomic energy for peacetime use.

The effect on Pennsylvania of changes in iron ore supply.

Coal's future place in the Nation's energy pattern.

The multi-purpose development of our principal river valleys—Delaware, Susquehanna-Juniata, the Allegheny, Monongahela, and Ohio.

A functioning State Planning Agency will, of course, review and make estimates of the State's capital improvements, analyzing their effect on the general economy, their value in relation to population trends, and their proper scheduling in relation to the State's available finances.

If the General Assembly will pass the Reorganization Bill (House Bill One) in workable and useful form, I will promptly submit a reorganization plan which will establish a State Planning Board that is free to function. Substantially, that means a Board that is independent of departmental control, reporting directly to the Governor; free of political control, being non-partisan in Board membership and staff; and relieved of minor administrative burdens that can do nothing except distract it from its high purpose. If the Reorganization Bill is not to be passed, separate legislation on State planning will be submitted.

Our immediate operating agency in the State's economic program—our line outfit—will be the Department of Commerce, which we conceive to be in fact a Department of Economic Development. As we all know, the potential value of such a department has for many years been lost in the morass of a third-rate publicity operation. That is being changed. The Secretary is submittting a reorganization plan to the Executive Board which will give a sense of direction to the Department's work. It will have four divisions: Industrial Development; Community Development; Travel and Vacation Development; and Reference and Research. It will have five field offices: in Philadelphia, Scranton, Erie, Pittsburgh, and Washington, D. C.

The Department of Commerce and the State Planning Board will be able ti carry out their duties, as re-vamped and re-vitalized, without increasing their combined budget over the amount given them for an ineffective program in the 1953-55 biennium.

We are able to do this because we are discarding frivolities in favor of the essential.

No State-paid advertising will be bought, no clipping services maintained, no lavish State expenditures for self-congratulations will be made.

With a sense of direction, it is our hope that the Department will have, and will communicate, a sense of mission. This is dedicated work for dedicated people.

We expect to awaken and to maintain a sense of civic responsibility and enlightened self-interest which will buy for the State and its areas a promotional advertising program, privately financed, which will be far more effective than anything the State could do itself.

To aid the work of the Department of Commerce in the special field of industrial development we will introduce legislation officially creating an Economic Development Advisory Board. It is our hope that the membership of this Board will be men who are themselves pre-eminent in industry and finance, and whose counsel and support will be invaluable to our program and its acceptance across the Nation. This Board will require no appropriation. Its expenses will be met from the Departmental budget.

An economic program for Pennsylvania obviously must go far beyond the departmental responsibilities of one agency of the State. The work of the Commerce Department must be supported by an inventory of the State's resources, by a program of enabling legislation; by a concentration—in our communities, here in Harrisburg, and in the National capital at Washington—of all the ingenuity, high purpose, and dogged, everlasting persistence of which we are capable.

As to resources, our best resource is people—the skilled, ambitious, progressive people of Pennsylvania. I find them keenly aware of our common problems, anxious for leadership, ready to participate, already banded together in community organizations of great strength and vigor.

The people themselves, working in their own areas, can do far more than any conceivable staff of State employes.

Consequently, I am recommending to the General Assembly legislation which will strengthen the citizens' organizations already concerned with our economic and community problems, and encourage the formation of such citizens' groups in every county in Pennsylvania. In brief, our proposal will call for State aid to citizens' organizations working for industrial expansion and community development—the funds to be paid on a matching basis up to fifty per cent of operational costs.

Our estimate of the cost of this program to the State is $1,000,000 a biennium.

It will be seed money in the truest sense, bringing a rich harvest in economic and community return for every dollar spent.

Among the physical resources of Pennsylvania water is perhaps our finest gift. We have taken it for granted, and all too often we have misused it. We know that water is as essential to our lives as air itself; we find now that it is an essential raw material of industry.

This Administration will permit no weakening, no slowdown, in our State's program to purify its streams. Indeed, we must do more than prevent pollution; we must act positively to develop and augment our water supplies.

I urge the Legislature to approve the bill before you that will align us with New Jersey in a mutual usage of the Delaware, and I urge that we promptly agree upon a dam and reservoir project at Wallpack on the Delaware which will maintain a proper all-year flow of water in that vital river.

I urge the Legislature to bring Pennsylvania into a mutual pact with our sister states and the provinces of Canada which border the Great Lakes. We should adhere to the Great Lakes Compact, an instrument drawn to protect the waters which will make our Lake Erie shoreline a seaport with its windows on the oceans of the world.

I urge the Legislature to join with me in pressing upon Congress the need for a dam and reservoir on the Upper Allegheny, at Warren, as a flood control and low-flow augmentation structure.

Water is not alone a raw material; it is a highway.

It is vital to the economy of Western Pennsylvania that the Ohio be maintained and improved as a great artery for the transportation of coal and steel; it is vital to the economy of the Delaware Valley and its newly established steel industry that the channel of that river be deepened to 40 feet; it is vital to a great section of the electrical industry that the small stream of Turtle Creek be made proof against destructive floods.

This Administration will speak for Pennsylvania in these matters—speak vigorously and proudly. We do not come as beggars to the Federal establishment; Pennsylvania pays onto the Federal Treasury far more than it receives. We will not accept the withdrawal of the Federal Government's responsibility for our inland waterways; that issue was threshed out a century ago.

The State will do its share, perhaps more than its share, to develop the ports of the Philadelphia area, of Erie, and of Pittsburgh.

The economy of Pennsylvania historically has found its chief support in our mineral resources—first among them, coal.

Here again, we took a great resource for granted.

We have taken more than 13 billion tons of coal out of the Pennsylvania earth. In the last 62 years, we have marketed 31 billion dollars worth of Pennsylvania coal. No wonder we all are hurt when coal is hurt.

Our error was the common human one—when all was well and times were piping times, we did not plan for a future in which the coal industry could no longer support the jobs of hundreds of thousands of Pennsylvanians. We did not diversify our economic base in time.

Now, the problem is upon us in full force. It does not mean that we should write off coal, or the coal areas. It is altogether likely that the slump in coal is temporary; that the future will demand, greedily demand, the energy that is in our many billions of tons of remaining coal reserves and find economical ways, competitive ways, of utilizing that energy.

Meanwhile, we must guard our anthracite mining operations against the flooding danger that imperils the employment that remains in them. I strongly urge the Legislature to approve the expenditure by Pennsylvania of $8,500,000, matching dollar for dollar a Federal contribution, for the control of flooding in the hard coal mines.

With equal urgency, I suggest that it is time that Pennsylvania support a program of research in the technology and economics of Pennsylvania coal. As a State, we have been most neglectful of the natural resource which was so generously given us.

We will submit legislation creating a non-political expert coal research board, which will receive applications for research projects in Pennsylvania coal to be carried on in Pennsylvania laboratories. Again, we will apply the seed money principle. We believe that an appropriation of $500,000 for coal research by the State will develop research projects that will expend several times that amount, with the additional funds coming from industry, foundations, and educational institutions.

I shall have more to say, in a few minutes, about developing new industry and additional employment opportunities in the coal areas.

Continuing in the economics of our mineral resource, I urge, as did your Joint State Government Commission, that we go out as prospectors to make a new reconnaissance of the minerals of Pennsylvania. Only one-third of Pennsylvania has been geologically mapped. We may have the potential for new industries, new wealth, new employment, under our feet and not know it. Therefore, I request the Legislature to give sympathetic consideration to the preparation of a mineral deposit inventory, and I suggest that the Department of Internal Affairs be granted sufficient additional funds, estimated at $700,000, for this purpose.

Further, the Administration will consider sympathetically any proper changes in our pattern of law regulating the exploitation of oil and gas deposits which will prevent waste and increase production in Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania, which has been fortunate in its mineral deposits, has also been fortunate in the forests which covered so much of our terrain. The Secretary of Forests and Waters advises me that our recovery of timber resources on our State Forest lands alone is now sufficient to permit us to market, on a sustained yield basis, 100,000,000 board feet of timber each year. We are going to do our part in reviving the forest industries in Pennsylvania. While the timber industry can never be such a massive employer as steel, it can provide many job opportunities—vital job opportunities—in sparsely settled regions where every job counts.

In its highway system, Pennsylvania has a great resource that men created.

Under this Administration, the economic effects of this resource, as represented by new highway construction, will be an important consideration. Limited-access highways—expressways, parkways, or turnpikes as they are variously called—are a very important location factor for industry.

I urge that the Turnpike Commission expand its network of express highways just as quickly as its revenue prospects permit. Specifically, I urge a prompt decision as to the route of the Turnpike from the Pittsburgh district to Erie, with due consideration for the Pennsylvania economics involved. I urge a decision to build, if engineering studies will support a revenue prospectus, the so-called Shortway from Sharon to Stroudsburg, and an extension of the Turnpike south, through the bituminous coal area, to the West Virginia border.

I fully agree with the basic philosophy that is embodied in the report of the Clay Commission which stated that the Nation could not wait much longer for the completion of its interstate highway system; that we need the highways now, before traffic stops in its tracks.

In my judgement, neither Pennsylvania nor the Nation can afford to let our construction program for major highways fall behind the pressure of traffic and of population. Here in Pennsylvania, no matter what the rest of the Nation does, we must make ourselves competent to carry forward an accelerated program of highway building.

We need free-flowing traffic on roads engineered for the demands of the present and the still greater pressure of the future.

We need the highways and the economic growth they induce.

An extensive State and National highway building program will be a direct economic benefit to Pennsylvania.

It is our cement, our steel, and our labor which will build much of the highway system; it is Pennsylvania steel which goes into the bodies of America's cars and Pennsylvania fabrics which go into their interiors.

The State's highway system also plays a part in maintaining and developing its travel and vacation industry. While the State may justifiably take some part in tourist travel promotion campaigns, in my judgment it can best serve our economic interests in travel by doing the things that are its own direct obligation, rather than talking generalities and printing pretty pictures. By that I mean that we need strong highway zoning legislation to protect our highways and beautiful countryside from the squalid ugliness that mars so many of our roads. We need to construct pleasant roadside stopping places and picnic grounds, and should act at once to lift the ridiculous restriction that limits such roadside parks to one to a county.

We should understand, take pride in, and preserve the historic points, the regional ways of life, the good traditions of Pennsylvania.

The beauty of this State, where man has not despoiled it, is one of the great assets of Pennsylvania. We are not being unduly materialistic when we count it with our potential economic assets.

Industrial locations today are not determined by strict dollars and cents balances alone. The community with good housing, good public services, recreational opportunities, good schools, fine churches, starts off with a lead in the competition for industrial expansion.

To aid our communities in the work of redevelopment I will recommend that the Legislature appropriate $5,000,000 for the next biennium to be distributed as grants-in-aid for redevelopment projects. This again will be seed money. Each dollar of the State can be used to match two dollars provided by the Federal Government in its urban renewal program. With equal contributions by the participating municipalities, it means that $30,000,000 will be available for public aid to redevelopment projects in the next two years.

The Housing Assistance Law of 1949 should be revised, so as to permit State grants-in-aid to redevelopment to be used for broadened purposes. The redevelopment process can be used—should be used—to modernize our communities, provide new areas for public use, new commercial districts, new and well-planned industrial sites. The restriction to residential use should be eliminated.

We must also be vigorous in our support of the increased authorization of $500,000,000 in Federal urban renewal aid which has been recommended to the Congress. Unless this increase is adopted, or a limiting clause in the existing Federal Act is removed, Pennsylvania cities will soon be deprived of an opportunity to share in the National program.

Finally, we must recognize the tragic problem of the areas in Pennsylvania which have become victims of chronic unemployment—recognize it with a new bold series of actions which admittedly contain a calculated risk.

Each of us in Pennsylvania, no matter where we live, has a material interest in such areas.

They drain our unemployment compensation fund.

They draw upon millions of dollars from our public assistance appropriations.

They cannot pay their way in the public economics or the private industrial enterprise of this State.

More important still, we have an interest as the fellow-citizens of the people in the areas affected. We owe it to them, we owe it to our belief in this society, that we not stand by unmoved and unconcerned while hardship is visited upon several hundred thousand Pennsylvania homes, while whole communities deteriorate and decay, while we develop "ghost areas" in whole counties and regions of our State.

Consequently, we will present legislation to the General Assembly which, in our belief, will make it possible to attract more than $150,000,000 in new industrial development to our areas of economic distress—and this to begin this year and carry forward through a five-year period.

We will ask you to create a State Industrial Development Authority, and appropriate to it $20,000,000 in State funds this biennium.

We would schedule similar approprations for 1957-1959.

The Authority will make a finding of public purpose and necessity as to chronic economic distress in those regions of the State which are suffering from continued and severe unemployment. Its operations will be restricted to those areas where such a finding can be factually supported.

It will purchase or receive in gift industrial sites in such areas, develop them for use, and construct industrial buildings. It will lease these buildings on a long-term basis to companies of good credit standing and high employment potential, on terms that will provide an incentive for the companies to locate in the designated areas.

This is in no sense a give-away program.

Over a period of time the State will get all its money back, plus interest. The Industrial Development Authority will be able to augment the funds voted to it by borrowing against the security of its properties and leases. Lease payments will begin to flow back in several years, again putting more money in the pot. Local contributions will be encouraged. There will be no local tax exemption sought.

Once again, we use the seed money principle.

With the value of equipment to be installed by the manufacturing lessees, the State's $60,000,000 investment will predictably double and nearly triple itself.

Such a program is a new approach in Pennsylvania, although other states—competitive states—have used various methods akin to it.

Its justification lies in necessity.

Its termination will come forthwith if normal economic proceses show that they are doing the job.

Gradually, slowly, painfully, the Nation is beginning to realize that these areas of economic decline in a period of national prosperity are a national problem too.

We have properly been concerned with shoring up the economy of such far places as West Berlin, Japan, the Arab countries, South Viet Nam.

But we seem all too unconcerned with the economy and the employment potential of Pennsylvania's coal fields.

The current Federal program for American areas of economic distress is sadly feeble. It has no impetus, no drive, no spokesman in the National Government.

I suggest that we need a Point Four program within the United States—a program with punch, a program with vigor, a program that will complement what we are prepared to do in Pennsylvania. We have heard a good deal lately about the "partnership concept" as between the Federal Government and the states. We in Pennsylvania are waiting for the senior partner, the Government of the United States, to put in his chips.

There are some signs of an awakening.

On March 14th, two weeks ago, the Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report had this to say:

"We are very concerned with distressed conditions which persist in certain industries and regions, even in an expanding economy. We believe that action is required now and that much can be done through public works to assist these communities. The Federal Government should recognize its responsibility to those areas and industries by promoting research to discover new products and new processes. Consideration should be given to the possibility of modifying the employment compensation programs to meet the special problems of retraining and readjusting facing those areas. Loans, technical assistance, and, as The President recommends an expanded area development program should be provided those to help them adapt to changed economic conditions."

Those are the words of a Joint Committee of Congress.

They are good words, to which we can subscribe.

But the National Government, the Congress, can do more.

We suggest that in the national interest the Federal Government use the enormous leverage of its tax system to restore the economy of our areas of chronic unemployment.

When the national interest requires new investment for defense purposes, the Federal Government will grant a certificate of national necessity to the company that is prepared to undertake the investment. Such a certificate permits an accelerated rate of amortization for tax purposes; the enterprise can, if it prospers, pay for its new plant out of profits in five years.

We believe the national interest is now vitally involved in finding a new economic base for many areas in our Commonwealth and elsewhere in this country. We, therefore, suggest that the same certificate of national necessity, the same privilege of rapid depreciation for tax purposes, be granted to every new industrial investment made in areas of substantial unemployment, regardless of whether the industry has a connection with defense or not.

Such a provision in the tax laws might well bring a stream of new investment into our areas of depressed economy that would be more effective than any other thing that we can do.

I urge the Legislature to adopt a Resolution so memorializing Congress.

As Governor, I will press it to the fullest strength of my office.

It is entirely justifiable on the basis of compensation for the reciprocal trade policy; it is justifiable on the basis of the national interest in maintaining a labor force in the coal areas in the event of national emergency; it is justified because these same areas were denied, during the war, an opportunity to expand their economic base because they were then considered areas of labor scarcity.

Our whole effort is to utilize the full value of our public processes so that we can all gain a greater return from our economic system of individual enterprise. We are creating a climate, furnishing some tools, meeting some common responsiblities, removing some road blocks, developing new channels.

Our success will come only if we are able to mobilize the full strength of the people of Pennsylvania.

That necessarily means the cooperation of labor.

It means the cooperation of management.

It means the cooperation between the parties; the good will of every person in authority.

That is what I ask today.

This Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has no reason to be laggard. We are far to the front in technical skills, in industrial research, in the number and depth of our educational institutions, in the home offices of great corporations, in the tradition of productivity. We have huge reserves of capital; we are not owned by absentees.

If we have faltered, it is because we did not see the obstacles in time.

Now that we see them, we can surmount them and resume our forward march.

I am not asking this Legislature, our people, to support a Leader Plan or a Democratic Plan.

I am asking you to support full-heartedly a Pennsylvania Plan.

As Governor of Pennsylvania, I seek the help of the General Assembly for a community agreement that will correct the present and protect the future of Pennsylvania and its people.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. McGINNIS, from the Committee on Highways, reported as committed Senate Bill No. 252, entitled:

An Act to facilitate vehicular traffic in the southwestern section of the Commonwealth by providing for the construction, operation and maintenance of a turnpike from a point west of or east of the City of Pittsburgh as the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commisison may decide is most feasible and practicable, thence in a general southerly direction to the West Virginia border to connect with the West Virginia Turnpike or any extension thereof at such point as the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission may decide is the most feasible and practicable; and conferring powers and imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission; authorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue bonds of the Commonwealth payable solely from tolls to pay the cost of the turnpike, providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act; providing for the collection of tolls for the payment of the bonds and for the cost of maintenance, operation and repair of the turnpike; making the turnpike bonds exempt from taxation; constituting the bonds legal investments in certain instances; requiring suits against the commisison to be brought in Dauphin County; prescribing conditions on which the turnpike shall become free; providing for grade separations, grade changes and relocations and restoration of public roads and State highways affected by the turnpike; providing for condemnation; granting certain powers and authority to municipal subdivisions and agencies of the Commonwealth to cooperate with the commission and authorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue refunding bonds.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CHAPMAN, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed House Bill No. 506, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-second day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Appropriation Acts page 54) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three" by changing the amount appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction.

He also, from the Committe on Appropriations, reported as committed House Bill No. 317, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for payments to school districts on account of rentals payable to municipal authorities and nonprofit corporations.

He also, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed House Bill No. 318, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the twenty-second day of August, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Appropriations Acts, page 54), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three, and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three," providing for deficiencies in certain appropriations made by the act for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-five.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, throughout the week-end every paper in these great United States carried the story about the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic, the raid made upon it by Federal Agents and about my connection with this clinic.

Mr. President, I want to state that the clinic is open today. We have more patients today than we ever had. I should say thanks to the press for a job well done. We will stay open, Mr. President, for a long, long time if the Lord spares me.

Mr. President, I took the occasion to bring this action taken to the attention of our President because there must be some recourse, recourse from this powerful monopoly of the American Medical Association which endeavors to crush any God fearing man who they believe might be right. I have issued this challenge to our great President, which I hope my colleagues will listen to, and I shall await patiently his answer concerning the various therapies and the treatment for this great killer.

"March 25, 1955
"The President, Dwight D. Eisenhower
"White House
"Washington, D. C.

"My dear Mr. President:

"As a public official for the past twenty-one years in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I deem it my duty to bring to your attention some of the irregularities that are taking place by various men of your cabinet who, in addition to being paid by public funds, apparently are under the control of an outside monopoly and their actions are such that the constitutional rights of individuals of these United States are being threatened by these public officials who are endeavoring to serve two masters.

"In this instance I speak of your acting Secretary of the Pure Foods and Drug Laws, Dr. Gordon Granger, who already has brought more disgrace to the government than any other person that I know of that has ever been employed under any administration. I refer, Mr. President, to that great American institution known as the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic in Dallas, Texas, and also the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic in Portage," Cambria County, "Pennsylvania, the former institution for years has been treating successfully those innocent victims who have been afflicted with cancer, one of the nation's greatest killers.

"Dr. Granger, your acting Secretary of the Pure Food and Drugs, has gumshoed throughout the country endeavoring to discredit the Hoxsey therapy of treating cancer and only last week this same man, with two other governmental parasites, came to the Hoxsey Clinic at Portage, Cambria County, Pennsylvania, at a time when the clinic was full of people, and insisted from the doctor in charge namely, Newton C. Allen, that they wanted to examine his degrees from various colleges, his authority to practice medicine, then insisted upon Dr. Allen selling them a handful of tablets, and then went about without any authority" whatsoever "using a pen knife and commenced cutting off labels of medication that was properly stored in our warehouse. Results, Mr. President, were that these three stooges of the American Medical Association were politely escorted out of the clinic by nurses of our institution.

"The Hoxsey Cancer Clinic in Portage, Pennsylvania, is properly manned by registered doctors, technicians, and nurses under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and I personally see no reason why these men should be permitted to walk into such an institution and disturb the personnel, the patients, and the medications without a warrant or proper information sent in advance that they wished to inspect our facilities, etc.

"Mr. President, you know full well that some of the nation's greatest statesmen namely, Senators Bilbo, Wherry, McMahon, Vandenberg, and Taft, have gone to the 'great beyond' when organized medicine found it impossible to cure these men who were afflicted with cancer. Only a few days ago another great statesman was called by his Maker because of a throat cancer that was incurable in so far as the American Medical Association was concerned and he is Paul McNutt, former Governor of the State of Indiana and Ambassador to the Philippines. These men died, Mr. President, because it would have been disgraceful to them and their associates to submit themselves to the Hoxsey Method or they had no knowledge of the Hoxsey therapy; but such people as the Metzgers, Allisons, Haluskas, and Mitchells are still living because they were poor people, humble, and were not afraid to submit themselves to the Hoxsey therapy.

"Mr. President, for a great many years, Dr. Harry M. Hoxsey, of Dallas, Texas, has claimed that he is treating and curing cancer sufferers successfully. For many years he has begged the American Cancer Society, the Damon Runyan Fund, the American Medical Association, and your own United States Public Health Service to come to Texas with the best doctors and pathologists at their command to impartially investigate the Hoxsey treatment. He even offered huge sums of money which he would give to charity if, after an impartial investigation, he failed to prove without any shadow of a doubt that he has found if not all at least a partial answer to combat this great killer. However, organized medicine has taken the position that the only method known to combat this great disease is surgery, radium, X-ray, and deep therapy treatments and, Mr. President, some of the nation's greatest physicians have gone on record that the above mentioned therapies never have cured one case of cancer but only arrested this great disease for a short period of time.

"Dr. Hoxsey has in his files pathological proof of people who have submitted themselves to the methods of organized medicine and who were told that nothing further could be done for them and then were treated and cured by the Hoxsey Method, many of them still living thirty years after the treatment was given to them. Mr. President, if one life can be saved by the Hoxsey Method, it gives hopes to millions in the same manner when that Lone Eagle, Mr. Lindbergh, spanned the great Atlantic and made it possible for millions to follow. So it is with the Hoxsey treatment. How long can we stand back and permit agencies of our government to intimidate, coerce, and threaten people who devote themselves in research work to treat and heal suffering humanity. Therefore, Mr. President, rather than having such a worthwhile institution heckled and suppressed, don't you think they should be encouraged to do continued research even if it would require public and governmental funds to do so? Surely, we can count on you, Mr. President, as our Commander in Chief, to bring this controversial issue to a close before life will be endangered because we have in America an aroused public who definitely believe in the Hoxsey Method and one of the great crusaders in this movement is that great man of the Gospel, Dr. Gerald B. Winrod of Wichita, Kansas, who broadcasts nightly and prints the Defender Magazine, telling America of the Hoxsey therapy. Dr. Gerald B. Winrod, a great Christian leader, is interested only because in his own words, 'at the age of nine the father of the present Dr. Hoxsey spared me from an early grave when I was afflicted with cancer.'

"Mr. President, my own sister close to three years ago was told by organized medicine that she had to go to an early grave because nothing could be done to prolong her life, and then I personally had her flown to Dallas, Texas, and she submitted herself to the Hoxsey treatment and today she is working in the pharmacy of the Hoxsey Clinic at Portage, Pennsylvania, and was one of the girls intimidated by Dr. Granger and company last week. Incidentally, this young lady is still under treatment and, if, through the excitement and intimidation created by Dr. Granger, she should have a recurrence of her former condition, I, as her brother, will have only one alternative, and that is to hold Dr. Granger responsible for that condition and take what recourse may be necessary by law.

"So, Mr. President, in conclusion, I ask you in the name of suffering humanity, to call upon that great big arm of the government that is most highly respected by all and that is the F. B. I. to investigate the activities of Dr. Gordon B. Granger of the Pure Food Department and also investigate impartially the activities of the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic both at Dallas, Texas, and Portage, Pennsylvania, to determine whether or not they are supplying or prescribing medication that may be injurious to the health of humanity; to investigate the many patients who definitely have stated on record that they have been treated by the Hoxsey Method and have been cured; to investigate that great monopoly, the American Medical Association, in endeavoring to crush anyone who fails to belong to their powerful association, and, Mr. President, if the findings are such, that the Hoxsey therapy is injurious or their activities are un-American, then I beg of you as a public official of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to use your powers in abolishing their practice and close down their establishments; but, if, on the other hand, you find that a conspiracy does exist and that certain men of the government are being used by outside forces to crush God fearing Americans, then I know that you, as President of these great United States, will take the proper action to assure each individual that he may live and earn a livelihood and be permitted to choose his own type of medication within his constitutional rights.

"Further, Mr. President, after a long conversation with Dr. Hoxsey at Dallas, Texas, he has asked me to make this one final challenge—that if the American Cancer Society, the American Medical Association, or any other licensed group wishes to pick ten, twenty, thirty or more patients that they themselves have diagnosed as being cancerous and have been given up to die, that they give Dr. Hoxsey hospital privileges in any hospital in these United States, and the American Medical Association take half of these patients and place them in a hospital ward under the care of their own doctors, and the other half of these patients placed in the same hospital but under the care of Dr. Hoxsey and staff, he will treat his patients without any charge, apply his therapy, and then take a human count after a six month period and see how many of the Hoxsey patients are still upon earth and how many have been saved by the American Medical Association. Let that, Mr. President, be the answer to future America in so far as cancer therapies are concerned."

Now, Mr. President, I received thousands upon thousands of pieces of mail from people who are aroused over the action taken. One that I opened up a minute ago — I shall not read all of it, but this is how the people feel in America right now. The letter is from W. D. Thomas, and the second paragraph reads:

"Personally, I feel that the American Medical Association ought to be prosecuted under the laws of the land for misrepresentation and murder. In their ignorance and stupidity and greed and arrogance, they have killed thousands of people with their remedies that they knew from the start were no good. I wonder if this could be done? I would sign my name at the head of the list, if hundreds and thousands signed with me asking for their preosecution under the law.

"May God bless and guide you in the responsibilities you now carry."

Mr. President, I shall never stand by idly and let any monopoly cruch men who are honest and fearless.

Mr. President, it would be asinine on my part to crusade for this great therapy, to try to promote it, if I thought for one minute that I had no proof, that I was only talking into thin air. I will show you how small they are.

Last week when Federal Agents came to Cambria County, they came in automobiles, full of photographers and newspaper men to put on a show. They should do their duty officially and not by putting on a show. They confiscated 2,000 men,s magazines and 1,500 magazines printed by that great Christian leader, Dr. Winrod, which have nothing to do whatsoever with cancer. They confiscated these magazines only because these two magazines had the courage to reprint my speech that I made here on this floor on February 7. They confiscated over 250,000 tablets, which will cost that clinic upwards of $25,000. I shall have them back; they shall return them, I promise you. The American people are not standing by idly. Right tonight, the American Legions throughout the middle part of Pennsylvania are meeting, and they are going to hire seven attorneys to help fight my case at their expense. The American Legion is very much aroused over this un-American activity.

Mr. President, they didn't close our clinic. They said that the packages were mislabeled. Well, Mr. President, I have proof in my pocket from the drug company which sent me the bills that these pills are labeled according to the Pure Foods and Drug Laws, as prescribed by the Federal Government. However, the American Medical Association knows full well that the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic has now blossomed out; that people throughout the width and breadth of Pennsylvania, and the Eastern Seaboard, are coming to Portage as a last hope.

So they have put on a show, Mr. President, just like little school children. They thought that by putting on this raid, they would scare people away and make them believe that the Hoxsey Clinic no longer exists. Mr. President, it does exist. It is open right this minute, it will be open tomorrow and it will be open next year. I still believe there is a God above us, and he will guide me in this great crusade to help obliterate pain and save suffering humanity.

If, Mr. President, the American Medical Association is honest and has any courage, what have they to lose when I make this challenge that they take thirty patients who they say have cancer, and place half of them in their hospital and half in another hospital, or place them all in the same hospital. We will take fifteen and they take fifteen and then let us take a count six months from now and see who has saved these peaple. What is their answer? Why it is silly. They say I give them a pep talk, they say I give them hope, that I play a major part. Well, Mr. President, if I am possessed with such powers that I can encourage people to live ten or fifteen years longer after the American Medical Association says they are going to die, then I am happy. However, I have no powers. If my kindness is in any way responsible for these people living ten or fifteen years longer, I say fine. Let's have more of it. However, I say that the American Medical Association are cowards; they will not face the truth. Let them take up my challenge. Let them treat half and I will treat half with our therapy, with our doctors, and then those who are living can be counted. Let America know who has found the answer to this great killer, cancer.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. WHALLEY offered the following resolution. which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 28, 1955.

Resolved, if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Wednesday, April 13, 1955, at three-thirty o'clock p. m., E. S. T.; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Wednesday, April 13, 1955, at four-thirty o'clock p. m., E. S. T.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATING THE DUQUESNE UNIVERSITY BASKETBALL TEAM

Mr. McGINNIS offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 28, 1955.

The basketball team of Duquesne University has demonstrated its outstanding athletic ability by winning the National Invitation Basketball Tournament.

It is truly a commendable achievement in the world of sports to win the N. I. T. championship. The victory of Duquesne University is well deserved and the honor well placed, as the "Dukes" have established not only an enviable reputation for skill and determination, but also a reputation for clean playing, fairness and good sportsmanship. The basketball team of Duquesne University has for years consistently displayed that same modesty and dedication to sportsmanship which has established sports as one of our best citizen builders and firmly implants in the minds of young and old alike the desire to be a generous winner and a good loser; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania extend its heartiest congratulations to the members of the Duquesne University Basketball Team for its brilliant achievements on the court; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate express its sincere appreciation of the skillful instruction imparted by Coach Dudley Moore in organizing a winning team and inspiring it with the spirit of determined, fair and coordinated play which it has so successfully displayed; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of Duquesne University, the Reverend Vernon Gallagher.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

EXTENDING TIME OF LAURELTON STATE VILLAGE INVESTIGATION

Mr. PECHAN offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, March 28, 1955.

Senate Concurrent Resolution, serial number 111, adopted by the Senate February 28, 1955, adopted with amendments by the House, March 7, 1955, and the amendments concurred in by the Senate March 8, 1955, provided for the appointment of a joint committee to investigate Laurelton State Village. The committee was directed to make its report to the respective branches of the General Assembly within thirty days.

The committee was appointed and has been and still is diligently performing the duties imposed upon it and finds that to complete the investigation in a thorough and satisfactory manner, additional time is required; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the last resolved clause of Senate Concurrent Resolution, serial number 111, be amended to read:

Resolved, That said joint committee shall make its report to the respective branches of the General Assembly within a period not to exceed [thirty] sixty days.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "no" on that resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes to advise the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner, that there was no roll call on the adoption of that resolution.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, then I would like to have unanimous consent to make a brief statement.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like at this time to advise the Members of the Senate that the original resolution called for a report within thirty days after the investigation was started.

Mr. President, we are now coming close to that thirty days and we now are being told we need sixty more days. Now this can go on ad infinitum until the end of the Session.

Mr. President, if the purpose is to use this investigation as a forum for the persons who are engaged in this investigation, I do not believe that any real purpose will be served by the investigation. My understanding of the resolution was that we were to look into the malpractices that were going on in this institution, and to make a report to the General Assembly so that we could take active steps, either in the form of resolutions or in the form of an act of the Legislature, to correct these wrongs.

Now, Mr. President, if we are going to continue every thirty days or sixty days, as the time runs out, to ask for a new extension of time, I do not think that the purpose of the original resolution will be served, and I believe that all we will do is continue to keep this institution in the headlines and to cause the people, with members of their families in these institutions, further concern.

INTERROGATION

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Senator Pechan, could you tell the Members of the Senate why you wish additional time?

Mr. PECHAN. The resolution was concurred in, I believe, on March 9. We were not able to have our hearings until last week. We had hearings on Wednesday and Thursday; Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. We are not even half through and we are planning on having hearings beginning tomorrow, Wednesday and Thursday, at which time I hope we can conclude with the hearings.

There is a lot of testimony to be transcribed. We are not going to be back here by April 8. The resolution, as I presented it awhile ago, asks for but thirty additional days and not sixty days.

Mr. President, the Senator also made a statement that we were investigating the mode of treatment at Laurelton State Village. That is not the scope of that resolution.

I would just like to read from the resolution, as it was presented on February 22. It says this:

"Harry Shapiro, the Secretary of Welfare—

Mr. WEINER. Excuse me, Senator. I merely wished to ask the question. I do not mean to be rude to the Senator from Armstrong, but I believe he has answered the question. I do not believe that we should go further into a speech on this problem.

Mr. PECHAN. Well, do you withdraw your objections?

Mr. WEINER. I withdraw my objections, Senator.

Mr. PECHAN. Thank you very much, Senator.

SENATE BILL No. 15, PRINTER'S No. 5, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I call up from the table at this time, Senate Bill No. 15, Printer's No. 5, which was recalled from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, for the purpose of amendment.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 15

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 15, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 5, 1947 (P. L. 1335), entitled "An act to provide for an inventory of existing hospitals for a survey of the need for additional hospital facilities and for the development and administration of a hospital construction program which will in conjunction with existing facilities afford hospitals adequate to serve all people of the State and appropriating money establishing methods of administration and control providing for compliance with the requirements of the Federal Hospital Survey and Construction Act and regulations thereunder authorizing the acceptance and expenditure of Federal funds in accordance with such requirements and placing additional duties upon the Department of Welfare" bringing the act within the scope of the federal Medical Facilities Survey and Construction Act of 1954 and making an appropriation.

passed finally.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I voted with the majority.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I voted with the majority.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President. I voted with the majority.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I voted with the majority.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is their objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 8), page 5, line 15, by striking out "eservice" and inserting in lieu thereof: "service." Amend Bill, page 7, by inserting after line 8: "Section 3. This act shall take effect immediately."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

AMENDMENTS ADOPTED

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I move that the amendments to Senate Bill No. 15 be adopted.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 15, Printer's No. 5, on third reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, March 28, 1955.

The House met at 4:30 p. m.
The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, the Creator and Preserver of all things, visible and invisible, without whose help we cannot exist, and without whose favor we cannot be happy; we come before Thee this day to give Thee thanks for Thy many benefits, both temporal and spiritual, which Thou hast so plentifully bestowed upon us.

Bless, O God, every devout purpose and every sincere decision of these Representatives in this free and democratic assembly. We pray that Thy special grace may be upon the Governor of this Commonwealth. Grant that all those responsible for good government may seek Thy way, Thy wisdom and Thy eternal rules of justice and righteousness. Ordain that this government of men may truly know Thee, the Almighty God, as their friend, and that they may place Thy will first in their lives as well as in their prayers.

Help us, our Father, to lay aside every disguise we wear before the face of man and find peace in being what we are and nothing more. Enable us to put off all sham and pretense so that living our inside out we may prove our sincerity. Let us never be afraid to give honest cooperation even with those whom we differ, if it is in the interest of a stronger and a freer people. Help us to always put principle before political expediency and that which is morally right rather than socially correct. These things we ask by the grace and mercy of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journals of Monday, March 21, Tuesday, March 22 and Wednesday, March 23, 1955? If not, and without objection, the Journals are approved.

The SPEAKER laid before the House a petition signed by members of Belsano Methodist Church, Cambria County, protesting the enactment of legislation legalizing all forms of gambling.

Referred to the Committee on Law and Order.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WORLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the consent of the House of Representatives to have the contents of a letter from the President of the United States entered upon the Legislative Journal.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

March 21, 1955

Dear Mr. Worley:

My secretary has brought to my attention the Joint Rseolution passed by the Pennsylvania Legislature welcoming Mrs. Eisenhower and me to become voting residents of Adams County, Pennsylvania.

Needless to say, both of us will receive much satisfaction from this very generous gesture on the part of the Pennsylvania Legislature, and we also appreciate very much your willingness to come to Washington with Mrs. Worley to deliver the official copy to me.

I shall look forward to seeing you both and will have Mr. Shanley contact you in order to fix an agreeable time.

Sincerely,

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

The Honorable Francis Worley
House of Representatives
Harrisburg
Pennsylvania

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Kolankiewicz for Mr. TAYLOR for the remainder of the week because of illness.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

Mr. BOIS. Mr. Speaker, your Committee appointed to escort the Senate to the Hall of the House has performed that duty and the Senate is now in attendance.

The SPEAKER. The committee is discharged with the thanks of the House.

The Lieutenant-Governor, the Honorable Roy E. Furman is invited to preside over the Joint Session of the General Assembly.

The President pro tempore, Honorable M Harvey Taylor and the Secretary of the Senate, Honorable G. Harold Watkins, are invited to a seat in the rostrum.

The Members of the Senate are requested to be seated.

JOINT SESSION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY

THE LIEUTENANT-GOVEROR PRESIDING

The LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR. The Chair recognizes the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate.

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS. Mr. President, a Committee on the part of the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I have the honor to present His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Honorable George M. Leader.

The LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR. The Chair has the honor and the privilege of presenting his Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Honorable George M. Leader, who will now address you.

ADDRESS OF GOVERNOR GEORGE M. LEADER

GOVERNOR LEADER. Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Today, I come before the General Assembly to discuss with you the fundamental basis of our life together in Pennsylvania—the economic processes which support our ten and one-half millions of people, and which alone give us the promise of material security and a rising living standard against the future.

My theme is the Commonwealth's part in those economic processes.

Our objective is to use every reasonable power of the State itself, every resource of our dynamic people, every ounce of leadership which we possess in our national councils, to the purpose that our economy in Pennsylvania gear itself once more to an economy of full employment.

We are today declaring war against the shameful waste of human energy and human ability and human capacity to produce, which comes about when men and women find no work when they seek work; when marvelous energy sources like our Pennsylvania coal lie unmined in the ground; when whole communities and regions are seemingly condemned to chronic unsmployment, deterioration, and hopelessly prolonged distress.

We are not proposing a magic formula—a single panacea—a cure-all.

We are proposing a new sense of dedication, a new flow of purposes, that will be applied throughout Pennsylvania to give us expanded industries, new industries, more job opportunities, better and happier communities.

This Administration, this Legislature, are properly concerned with improving our standards of public health, public welfare, public education. We want a good State Government, efficient, economical, useful to our people. We want recreation as a part of life—parks, hunting, fishing, clean waters, unspoiled landscapes.

For all these things, our people rightly look to their Commonwealth.

And we—Governor and Legislature—recognize our responsibilities.

But all such things, desirable as they are, can only come as the return we gather from a productive society. They are the good fruit born by a functioning economy. They are the payment we make to our community from the proceeds of our individual initiative and labor.

Our basic job, our most pressing job, therefore, is to protect the economy of Pennsylvania. We must maintain it where is is strong; shore it up where is is weakened; protect it, build it, strengthen it, expand it.

I regard that effort as the primary task before us.

Today, I will outline to you the things which we believe the State may properly do to meet its task, and some of the things that we must be ready to call upon others to do in partnership with us.

The State Government, of course, does not dominate—nor will it ever dominate, I trust—our economy. The National Government has a far greater impact; local governments have an impact equal to our own; but all government is subordinate in our system of economic freedom to the work of our citizens, each striving to improve himself.

But our economy has become so complex that public action, even in the restricted area of State operations, has a vital part, a key position. We can loose and we can bind. We can stolidly accept stagnation, or we can add our contribution, a critical contribution, to a dynamic course of action.

If I know this Legislature, if I know this Administration, if I know the people of Pennsylvania, I am certain of the choice. We will act.

This is a very great State, traditionally the heartland of American industry, the keystone of our Nation's economy in the machine age as it was the keystone of our National independence. With so much to be proud of, we are very sensitive indeed if we do not now admit, classify, and correct our shortcomings. The quickest way to community disaster is to pretend that all is for the best in the best of all possible states.

Currently, according to the latest classification list of the United States Department of Labor, not one single area in Pennsylvania is an area of balanced labor supply. In plain language, we have some measurable unemployment everywhere. Five areas in Pennsylvania are recorded as areas of moderate labor surplus. Eight Pennsylvania areas are areas of substantial labor surplus, which means that from six to 11.9 per cent of their labor force is out of work. Twelve Pennsylvania areas are classified as areas of very substantial labor surplus, which means that twelve per cent or more of their workingmen and women seeking employment cannot secure jobs.

The areas of moderate labor surplus (I hate that designation of human beings as surplus, like a commodity) the only such areas were Allentown-Bethlehem-Easton, Harrisburg, Lancaster, Sharon-Farrell, and York. Every other classified center of population in the State has six per cent or more of its people out of work.

We know that our coal districts and railroad towns have been particularly hard hit.

In all the Nation, there are only nine large areas where more than twelve per cent of the working force is unemployed. Four of those nine areas are in Pennsylvania. There are 45 smaller areas of very substantial unemployment in the Nation. Eight of those 45 areas are in Pennsylvania.

We know that while we have had substantial industrial growth in Pennsylvania, we have not kept our old lead over the rest of the Nation.

We know that throughout the Nation, communities, states, and regions are in fierce competition for industrial expansion.

We know that energy sources are changing rapidly in our technology; that there is great pressure to close obsolescent plants and integrate operations in modern and efficient structures; that an old town, grimy and unattractive, has less chance to attract a new industry than a communiy which understands and exhibits the art of pleasant living.

None of these facts, I scarcely need to tell you, acts automatically in Pensylvania's favor.

We know, too, while industrial production in the Nation is up five per cent from a year ago, the number of workers in manufacturing plants is down four per cent. We are constantly able to produce more goods with fewer man hours.

This, then, is the face of the problem.

What is our obligation, mine as Governor, yours as legislators, as we confront it?

Our worst error has been our failure to plan against this day; to understand and thus meet our potential troubles before they have us in their grasp.

I recommend to the Legislature that we create a State Planning Agency that is capable, in structure and in personnel, of interpreting our future, and recommending to us the steps we should take for our protection and our growth as we move into that future.

Some subjects for their study should be:

The effect on Pennsylvania of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The effect on Pennsylvania of atomic energy for peacetime use.

The effect on Pennsylvania of changes in iron ore supply.

Coal's future place in the Nation's energy pattern.

The multi-purpose development of our principal river valleys—Delaware, Susquehanna-Juniata, the Allegheny, Monongahela, and Ohio.

A functioning State Planning Agency will, of course, review and make estimates of the State's capital improvements, analyzing their effect on the general economy, their value in relation to population trends, and their proper scheduling in relation to the State's available finances.

If the General Assembly will pass the Reorganization Bill (House Bill One) in workable and useful form, I will promptly submit a reorganization plan which will establish a State Planning Board that is free to function. Substantially, that means a Board that is independent of departmental control, reporting directly to the Governor: free of political control, being non-partisan in Board membership and staff; and relieved of minor administrative burdens that can do nothing except distract it from its high purpose. If the Reorganization Bill is not to be passed, separate legislation on State planning will be submitted.

Our immediate operating agency in the State's economic program—our line outfit—will be the Department of Commerce, which we conceive to be in fact a Department of Economic Development. As we all know, the potential value of such a department has for many years been lost in the morass of a third-rate publicity operation. That is being changed. The Secretary is submitting a reorganization plan to the Executive Board which will give a sense of direction to the Department's work. It will have four divisions: Industrial Development; Community Development; Travel and Vacation Development; and Reference and Research. It will have five field offices: in Philadelphia, Scranton, Erie, Pittsburgh, and Washington, D. C.

The Department of Commerce and the State Planning Board will be able to carry out their duties, as re-vamped and re-vitalized, without increasing their combined budget over the amount given them for an ineffective program in the 1953-55 biennium.

We are able to do this because we are discarding frivolities in favor of the essential.

No State-paid advertising will be bought, no clipping services maintained, no lavish State expenditures for self-conratulations will be made.

With a sense of direction, it is our hope that the Department will have, and will communicate, a sense of mission. This is dedicated work for dedicated people.

We expect to awaken and to maintain a sense of civic responsibility and enlightened self-interest which will buy for the State and its areas a promotional advertising program, privately financed, which will be far more effective than anything the State could do itself.

To aid the work of the Department of Commerce in the special field of industrial development we will introduce legislation officially creating an Economic Development Advisory Board. It is our hope that the membership of this Board will be men who are themselves preeminent in industry and finance, and whose counsel and support will be invaluable to our program and its acceptance across the Nation. This Board will require no appropriation. Its expenses will be met from the Departmental budget.

An economic program for Pennsylvania obviously must go far beyond the departmental responsibilities of one agency of the State. The work of the Commerce Department must be supported by an inventory of the State's resources; by a program of enabling legislation; by a concentration—in our communities, here in Harrisburg, and in the National capital at Washington—of all the ingenuity, high purpose, and dogged, everlasting persistence of which we are capable.

As to resources, our best resource is people—the skilled, ambitious, progressive people of Pennsylvania. I find them keenly aware of our common problems, anxious for leadership, ready to participate, already banded together in community organizations of great strength and vigor.

The people themselves, working in their own areas, can do far more than any conceivable staff of State employes.

Consequently, I am recommending to the General Assembly legislation which will strengthen the citizens' organizations already concerned with our economic and community problems, and encourage the formation of such citizens' groups in every county in Pennsylvania. In brief, our proposal will call for State aid to citizens' organizations working for industrial expansion and community development—the funds to be paid on a matching basis up to fifty per cent of operational costs.

Our estimate of the cost of this program to the State is $1,000,000 a biennium.

It will be seed money in the truest sense, bringing a rich harvest in economic and community return for every dollar spent.

Among the physical resources of Pennsylvania water is perhaps our finest gift. We have taken it for granted, and all too often we have misused it. We know that water is as essential to our lives as air itself; we find now that it is an essential raw material of industry.

This Administration will permit no weakening, no slowdown, in our State's program to purify its streams. Indeed, we must do more than prevent pollution; we must act positively to develop and augment our water supplies.

I urge the Legislature to approve the bill before you that will align us with New Jersey in a mutual usage of the Delaware, and I urge that we promptly agree upon a dam and reservoir project at Wallpack on the Delaware which will maintain a proper all-year flow of water in that vital river.

I urge the Legislature to bring Pennsylvania into a mutual pact with our sister states and the provinces of Canada which border the Great Lakes. We should adhere to the Great Lakes Compact, an instrument drawn to protect the waters which will make our Lake Erie shoreline a seaport with its windows on the oceans of the world.

I urge the Legislature to join with me in pressing upon Congress the need for a dam and reservoir on the Upper Allegheny, at Warren, as a flood control and low-flow augmentation structure.

Water is not alone a raw material; it is a highway.

It is vital to the economy of Western Pennsylvania that the Ohio be maintained and improved as a great artery for the transportation of coal and steel; it is vital to the economy of the Delaware Valley and its newly established steel industry that the channel of that river be deepened to 40 feet; it is vital to a great section of the electrical industry that the small stream of Turtle Creek be made proof against destructive floods.

This Administration will speak for Pennsylvania in these matters—speak vigorously and proudly. We do not come as beggars to the Federal establishment; Pennsylvania pays into the Federal Treasury far more than it receives. We will not accept the withdrawal of the Federal Government's responsibility for our inland waterways; that issue was threshed out a century ago.

The State will do its share, perhaps more than its share, to develop the ports of the Philadelphia area, of Erie, and of Pittsburgh.

The economy of Pennsylvania historically has found its chief support in our mineral resources—first among them, coal.

Here again, we took a great resource for granted.

We have taken more than 13 billion tons of coal out of the Pennsylvania earth. In the last 62 years, we have marketed 31 billion dollars worth of Pennsylvania coal. No wonder we all are hurt when coal is hurt.

Our error was the common human one—when all was well and times were piping times, we did not plan for a future in which the coal industry could no longer support the jobs of hundreds of thousands of Pennsylvanians. We did not diversify our economic base in time.

Now, the problem is upon us in full force. It does not mean that we should write off coal, or the coal areas. It is altogether likely that the slump in coal is temporary; that the future will demand, greedily demand, the energy that is in our many billions of tons of remaining coal reserves and find economical ways, competitive ways, of utilizing that energy.

Meanwhile, we must guard our anthracite mining operations against the flooding danger that imperils the employment that remains in them. I strongly urge the Legislature to approve the expenditure by Pennsylvania of $8,500,000, matching dollar for dollar a Federal contribution, for the control of flooding in the hard coal mines.

With equal urgency, I suggest that it is time that Pennsylvania support a program of research in the technology and economics of Pennsylvania coal. As a State, we have been most neglectful of the natural resource which was so generously given us.

We will submit legislation creating a non-political expert coal research board, which will receive applications for research projects in Pennsylvania coal to be carried on in Pennsylvania laboratories. Again, we will apply the seed money principle. We believe that an appropriation of $500,000 for coal research by the State will develop research projects that will expend several times that amount, with the additional funds coming from industry, foundations, and educational institutions.

I shall have more to say, in a few minutes, about developing new industry and additional employment opportunities in the coal areas.

Continuing in the economics of our mineral resource, I urge, as did your Joint State Government Commission, that we go out as prospectors to make a new reconnaissance of the minerals of Pennsylvania. Only one- third of Pennsylvania has been geologically mapped. We may have the potential for new industries, new wealth, new employment, under our feet and not know it. Therefore, I request the Legislature to give sympathetic consideration to the preparation of a mineral deposit inventory, and I suggest that the Department of Internal Affairs be granted sufficient additional funds, estimated at $700,000, for this purpose.

Further, the Administration will consider sympathetically any proper changes in our pattern of law regulating the exploitation of oil and gas deposits which will prevent waste and increase production in Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania, which has been fortunate in its mineral deposits, has also been fortunate in the forests which covered so much of our terrain. The Secretary of Forests and Waters advises me that our recovery of timber resources on our State Forest lands alone is now sufficient to permit us to market, on a sustained yield basis, 100,000,000 board feet of timber each year. We are going to do our part in reviving the forest industries in Pennsylvania. While the timber industry can never be such a massive employer as steel, it can provide many job opportunities—vital job opportunities—in sparsely settled regions where every job counts.

In its highway system, Pennsylvania has a great resource that men created.

Under this Administration, the economic effects of this resource, as represented by new highway construction, will be an important consideration. Limited-access highways—expressways, parkways, or turnpikes as they are variously called—are a very important location factor for industry.

I urge that the Turnpike Commission expand its network of express highways just as quickly as its revenue propects permit. Specifically, I urge a prompt decision as to the route of the Turnpike from the Pittsburgh district to Erie, with due consideration for the Pennsylvania economics involved. I urge a decision to build, if engineering studies will support a revenue propectus, the so-called Shortway from Sharon to Stroudsburg, and an extension of the Turnpike south, through the bituminous coal area, to the West Virginia border.

I fully agree with the basic philosophy that is embodied in the report of the Clay Commission which stated that the Nation could not wait much longer for the completion of its interstate highway system; that we need the highways now, before traffic stops in its tracks.

In my judgment, neither Pennsylvania nor the Nation can afford to let our construction program for major highways fall behind the pressure of traffic and of population. Here in Pennsylvania, no matter what the rest of the Nation does, we must make ourselves competent to carry forward an accelerated program of highway building.

We need free-flowing traffic on roads engineered for the demands of the present and the still greater pressure of the future.

We need the highways and the economic growth they induce.

An extensive State and National highway building program will be a direct economic benefit to Pennsylvania.

It is our cement, our steel, and our labor which will build much of the highway system; it is Pennsylvania steel which goes into the bodies of America's cars and Pennsylvania fabrics which go into their interiors.

The State's highway system also plays a part in maintaining and developing its travel and vacation industry. While the State may justifiably take some part in tourist travel promotion campaigns, in my judgment it can best serve our economic interests in travel by doing the things that are its own direct obligation, rather than talking generalities and printing pretty pictures. By that I mean that we need strong highway zoning legislation to protect our highways and beautiful countryside from the squalid ugliness that mars so many of our roads. We need to construct pleasant roadside stopping places and picnic grounds, and should act at once to lift the ridiculous restriction that limits such roadside parks to one to a county.

We should understand, take pride in, and preserve the historic points, the regional ways of life, the good traditions of Pennsylvania.

The beauty of this State, where man has not despoiled it, is one of the great assets of Pennsylvania. We are not being unduly materialistic when we count it with our potential economic assets.

Industrial locations today are not determined by strict dollars and cents balances alone. The community with good housing, good public services, recreational opportunities, good schools, fine churches, starts off with a lead in the competition for industrial expansion.

To aid our communities in the work of redevelopment I will recommend that the Legislature appropriate $5,000,000 for the next biennium to be distributed as grants-in-aid for redevelopment projects. This again will be seed money. Each dollar of the State can be used to match two dollars provided by the Federal Government in its urban renewal program. With equal contributions by the participating municipalities, it means that $30,000,000 will be available for public aid to redevelopment projects in the next two years.

The Housing Assistance Law of 1949 should be revised, so as to permit State grants-in-aid to redevelopment to be used for broadened purposes. The redevelopment process can be used—should be used—to modernize our communities, provide new areas for picnic use, new commercial districts, new and well-planned industrial sites. The restriction to residential use should be eliminated.

We must also be vigorous in our support of the increased authorization of $500,000,000 in Federal urban renewal aid which has been recommended to the Congress. Unless this increase is adopted, or a limiting clause in the existing Federal Act is removed, Pennsylvania cities will soon be deprived of an opportunity to share in the National program.

Finally, we must recognize the tragic problem of the areas in Pennsylvania which have become victims of chronic unemployment—recognize it with a new bold series of actions which admittedly contain a calculated risk.

Each of us in Pennsylvania, no matter where we live, has a material interest in such areas.

They drain our unemployment compensation fund.

They draw upon millions of dollars from our public assistance appropriations.

They cannot pay their way in the public economics or the private industrial enterprise of this State.

More important still, we have an interest as the fellow-citizens of the people in the areas affected. We owe it to them, we owe it to our belief in this society, that we not stand by unmoved and unconcerned while hardship is visited upon several hundred thousand Pennsylvania homes, while whole communities deteriorate and decay, while we develop "ghost areas" in whole counties and regions of our State.

Consequently, we will present legislation to the General Assembly which, in our belief, will make it possible to attract more than $150,000,000 in new industrial development to our areas of economic distress—and this to begin this year and carry forward through a five-year period.

We will ask you to create a State Industrial Development Authority, and appropriate to it $20,000,000 in State funds this biennium.

We would schedule similar appropriations for 1957-1959.

The Authority will make a finding of public purpose and necessity as to chronic economic distress in those regions of the State which are suffering from continued and severe unemployment. Its operations will be restricted to those areas where such a finding can be factually supported.

It will purchase or receive in gift industrial sites in such areas, develop them for use, and construct industrial buildings. It will lease these buildings on a long-term basis to companies of good credit standing and high employment potential, on terms that will provide an incentive for the companies to locate in the designated areas.

This is in no sense a give-away program.

Over a period of time the State will get all its money back, plus interest. The Industrial Development Authority will be able to augment the funds voted to it by borrowing against the security of its properties and leases. Lease payments will begin to flow back in several years, again putting more money in the pot. Local contributions will be encouraged. There will be no local tax exemption sought.

Once again, we use the seed money principle.

With the value of equipment to be installed by the manufacturing leasees, the State's $60,000,000 investment will predictably double and nearly triple itself.

Such a program is a new approach in Pennsylvania, although other states—competive states—have used various methods akin to it.

Its justification lies in necessity.

Its termination will come forthwith if normal economic processes show that they are doing the job.

Gradually, slowly, painfully, the Nation is beginning to realize that these areas of economic decline in a period of national prosperity are a national problem too.

We have properly been concerned with shoring up the economy of such far places as West Berlin, Japan, the Arab countries, South Viet Nam.

But we seem all to unconcerned with the economy and the employment potential of Pennsylvania's coal fields.

The current Federal program for American areas of economic distress is sadly feeble. It has no impetus, no drive, no spokesman in the National Government.

I suggest that we need a Point Four program within the United States—a program with punch, a program with vigor, a program that will complement what we are prepared to do in Pennsylvania. We have heard a good deal lately about the "partnership concept" as between the Federal Government and the states. We in Pennsylvania are waiting for the senior partner, the Government of the United States, to put in his chips.

There are some signs of an awakening.

On March 14th, two weeks ago, the Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report had this to say:

"We are very concerned with distressed conditions which persist in certain industries and regions, even in an expanding economy. We believe that action is required now and that much can be done through public works to assist these communities. The Federal Government should recognize its responsibility to those areas and industries by promoting research to discover new products and new processes. Consideration should be given to the possibility of modifying the employment compensation programs to meet the special problems of restraining and readjusting facing those areas. Loans, technical assistance, and, as The President recommends an expanded area development program should be provided those to help them adapt to changed economic conditions."

Those are the words of a Joint Committee of Congress.

They are good words, to which we can subscribe.

But the National Government, the Congress, can do more.

We suggest that in the national interest the Federal Government use the enormous leverage of its tax system to restore the economy of our areas of chronic unemployment.

When the national interest requires new investment for defense purposes, the Federal Government will grant a crtificate of national necessity to the company that is prepared to undertake the investment. Such a certificate permits an accelerated rate of amortization for tax purposes; the enterprise can, if it prospers, pay for its new plant out of profits in five years.

We believe the national interest is now vitally involved in finding a new economic base for many areas in our Commonwealth and elsewhere in this country. We, therefore, suggest that the same certificate of national necessity, the same privilege of rapid depreciation for tax purposes, be granted to every new industrial investment made in areas of substantial unemployment, regardless of whether the industry has a connection with defense or not.

Such a provision in the tax laws might well bring a stream of new investment into our areas of depressed economy that would be more effective than any other thing that we can do.

I urge the Legislature to adopt a Resolution so memorializing Congress.

As Governor, I will press it to the fullest strength of my office.

It is entirely justifiable on the basis of compensation for the reciprocal trade policy; it is justifiable on the basis of the national interest in maintaining a labor force in the coal areas in the event of national emergency; it is justified because these same areas were denied during the war, an opportunity to expand their economic base because they were then considered areas of labor scarcity.

Our whole effort is to utilize the full value of our public processes so that we can all gain a greater return from our economic system of individual enterprise. We are creating a climate, furnishing some tools, meeting some common responsibilities, removing some road blocks, developing new channels.

Our success will come only if we are able to mobilize the full strength of the people of Pennsylvania.

That necessarily means the cooperation of labor.

It means the cooperation of management.

It means cooperation between the parties; the good will of every person in authority.

That is what I ask today.

This Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has no reason to be laggard. We are far to the front in technical skills, in industrial research, in the number and depth of our educational institutions, in the home offices of great corporations, in the tradition of productivity. We have huge reserves of capital; we are not owned by absentees.

If we have faltered, it is because we did not see the obstacles in time.

Now that we see them, we surmount them and resume our forward march.

I am not asking this Legislature, our people, to support a Leader Plan or a Democratic Plan.

I am asking you to support full-heartedly a Pennsylvania Plan.

As Governor of Pennsylvania, I seek the help of the General Assembly for a community agreement that will correct the present and protect the future of Pennsylvania and its people.

The LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR. Governor Leader, on behalf of the Members of the General Assembly, I want to thank you for your splendid message and to assure you that all phases of that message will receive our utmost consideration.

The Committee on the part of the Senate and the House will now escort his Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth to his chambers.

The purpose for which the Joint Session of the General Assembly was convened having been accomplished, the Chair now declares the Session adjourned.

The Senators will please re-assemble in the Senate Chamber.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 150, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," providing for payments by the Commonwealth to school districts on account of sinking fund charges for school buildings or educational equipment.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill re recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 307, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," further regulating the election of directors to boards of union or merged districts and validating certain elections and appointments.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 362, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," clarifying the duties of the vice-president and providing for the signing of checks and vouchers by the vice-president in certain cases.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 382, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellanous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," further regulating passing school buses and granting the magistrates power to recommend suspension of operating privileges for violations.

The first section was read and agreed to.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. JOHN J. MURRAY offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 2, (Sec. 1017.1) page 5, lines 3 to 8 by striking out all of said lines.

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. JOHN J. MURRAY offered the following amendment:

Amend Title, page 2, last two lines of Title, by striking out "and granting to magistrates power to recom-" in next to last line and all of last line, of Title.

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 504, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by providing for the payment of salaries of professional and temporary professional employes in cases of sickness or accidental injury

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 561, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1 1929 (P. L. 905) entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles tractors street cars trackless trolley omnibuses bicycles pedestrians and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth providing for titling including liens encumbrances and legal claims registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highways peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles and garage keepers providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds" providing for issuance of special registration plates to licensed operators of amateur radio stations requiring the secretary to furnish to sheriffs lists of special registrations and requiring sheriffs to maintain these lists

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 620, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1 1929 (P. L. 905) entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles tractors street cars trackless trolley omnibuses bicycles pedestrians and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth providing for titling including liens encumbrances and legal claims registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highways peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles and garage keepers providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds" further regulating speed designating a traffic court further prescribing enforcement and penal provisions and imposing duties on certain pedestrians

The first, second and third sections were separately read and agreed to.

The fourth section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. LAFORE offered the following amendment:

Amend page 9, line 1, by inserting after the words "shall be brought" the following: "the duties of the traffic court shall be rotated or divided equally between the Justices of the Peace or Aldermen in such subdivisions as may establish a traffic court."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to amended.

The fifth and sixth sections and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 34, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 11, 1889 (P. L. 188) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to establish a board of wardens for the Port of Philadelphia and for the regulation of pilots and pilotage and for other purposes' approved March twenty-ninth one thousand eight hundred and three and for regulating the rates of pilotage and number of pilots" further regulating the rates of pilotage.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 153, entitled:

An Act amending the act of July 7, 1947 (P. L. 1368), entitled "An act amending, revising and consolidating the laws relating to delinquent county, city, except of the first and second class and second class A, borough, town, township, school district, except of the first class and school districts within cities of the second class A, and institution district taxes, providing when, how and upon what property, and to what extent liens shall be allowed for such taxes, the return and entering of claims therefor; the collection and adjudication of such claims, sales of real property, including seated and unseated lands, subject to the lien of such tax claims; the disposition of the proceeds thereof, including State taxes and municipal claims recovered and the redemption of property; providing for the discharge and divestiture by certain tax sales of all estates in property and of mortgages and liens on such property, and the proceedings therefor; creating a Tax Claim Bureau in each county, except a county of the first class, to act as agent for taxing districts; defining its powers and duties, including sales of property, the management of property taken in sequestration, and the management, sale and disposition of property heretofore sold to the county commissioners, taxing districts and trustees at tax sales; providing a method for the service of process and notices; imposing duties on taxing districts and their officers and on tax collectors, and certain expenses on counties and for their reimbursement by taxing districts; and repealing existing laws," making the act effective as to all cities of the third class located within counties operating under the act, and to the school districts within the cities, after January 31, 1957.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 155, Printer's No. 29 and

Senate Bill No. 236, Printer's No. 44

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 107, Printer's No. 148

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 125, Printer's No. 113 and

House Bill No. 126, Printer's No. 114

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 173, entitled:

An Act providing for the establishment of police pension funds or pension annuities in boroughs, towns and townships, and the regulation and maintenance thereof; providing for continuance of existing funds or transfer thereof to funds herein established; prescribing rights of beneficiaries; and repealing certain acts.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Corporations.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 295, as follows:

An Act fixing the compensation and mileage of county auditors in counties of the sixth class

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, last line of title, by striking out "class" and inserting in lieu thereof "and seventh classes."
Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 1, by striking out "class" and inserting in lieu thereof "and seventh classes."
Amend Sec. 2, page 2, lines 2, 3 and 4, by striking out "in so far as it fixed the" in line 2, all of line 3, and "class" in line 4.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection. The Chair hears none.
On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendments?
They were agreed to.
On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?
It was agreed to.
Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 354, as follows:

An Act amending the act of June 14 1923 (P L 710) entitled "An act allowing and regulating boxing sparring and wrestling matches and exhibitions establishing a State Athletic Commission making an appropriation therefor and appropriating moneys received for monument and memorial purposes and prescribing penalties" clarifying its provisions relative to women wrestlers

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 4 act of June 14 1923 (P L 710) entitled "An act allowing and regulating boxing sparring and wrestling matches and exhibitions establishing a State Athletic Commission making an appropriation therefor and appropriating moneys received for monument and memorial purposes and prescribing penalties" amended May 18 1945 (P L 634) is amended to read

Section 4 Boxing and Wrestling Exhibitions Authorized Jurisdiction of Commission Permits to Persons and Corporations (a) Boxing sparring and wrestling matches or exhibitions are hereby allowed except on Sundays The commission shall have and herey is vested with the sole direction management control and jurisdiction over all such boxing sparring and wrestling matches or exhibitions to be conducted held or given within this Commonwealth and it is hereby authorized to issue licenses and permits therefor No such boxing sparring or wrestling match or exhibition shall be conducted held or given within the Commonwealth except in accordance with the provisions of this act The commission shall issue under its hand and seal annual permits in writing for holding such boxing sparring or wrestling matches or exhibitions but only to persons or corporations duly licensed as hereinafter provided by said commission which permits may be revoked or suspended after hearing upon violation of any of the provisions of this act or any rule regulation or order of the commission However the commission in its discretion may fix a fine or fines which if paid can be accepted in lieu of any revocation or suspension of permit The commission is hereby further given the sole control authority and jurisdiction over all licenses and permits to hold boxing sparring or wrestling matches or exhibitions and over all licenses to any and all persons who participate in such boxing sparring or wrestling matches or exhibitions as hereinafter provided The commission in its discretion is authorized to make and promulgate rules and regulations not inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act as amended

(b) Nothing in this or any other act shall be construed to authorize the commission to prohibit wrestling matches or exhibitions in which women are participants

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?
Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, March 28, 1955.

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Wednesday, April 13, 1955, at three-thirty o'clock p. m., and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene on Wednesday, April 13, 1955, at four-thirty o'clock p. m.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I submit the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order Senate Bill No. 236 on page 10 of today's calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 236, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 27 1923 (P. L. 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" defining annual salary and providing for superannuation retirement of members of the General Assembly

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. READINGER offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 1 by striking out "Subsection (5) of section 7" and inserting in lieu thereof "Clause 17 of section 1."

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 10 by inserting after "penalties" amended July 29, 1953 (P. L. 993) is amended to read:

Section 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the following words and phrases as used in this act, unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context, shall have the following meanings:

17. "Final Salary" shall mean the highest average annual salary earnable by a contributor as a State employe during any five years of service preceding retirement, [except, that at the member's option, the salary earnable by a contributor as a State employe for the years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three and June first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-four, shall not be included in determining such "final salary."] In the case of a member of the General Assembly, "final salary" shall mean his compensation for his last two year period of service plus expenses for the two year period allowed by section 1, act of June 24, 1919 (P. L. 579) as now or hereafter amended or renacted.

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. READINGER offered the following amendments:

Section 2. Subsection (5) of section 7 of the act

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 7) page 3, line 19 by striking out "the allowance for clerical assistance and other."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 7) page 4, lines 1 and 2 by striking out all of line 1 and "office" in line 2 and inserting in lieu thereof "expenses allowed by section 1, act of Pune 24, 1919 (P. L. 579) as now or hereinafter amended or reenacted."

Amend Sec. 2, page 4, line 12 by striking out "2" and inserting in lieu thereof "3."

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 7) page 5, lines 1 and 2 by striking out all of line 1 and "ing his term in connection with the duties of his office" in line 2 and inserting in lieu thereof "expenses allowed by section 1, act of June 24, 1919 (P. L. 579) as now or hereinafter amended or reenacted."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The third section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. READINGER offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 3 (Sec. 13) page 6, lines 1 to 19 and page 7, lines 1 and 2 by striking out all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof a new section:

Section 4. Section 11 of the act is amended by adding after subsection (3) thereof a new subsection to read:

Section 11. * * *

(3.1) Should a member of the General Assembly discontinue his service as a member voluntarily or involuntarily after having served twenty years or more as a member, he or she, regardless of age shall receive a retirement allowance which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his or her accumulated deductions and a State annuity equal to one-half of his or her final salary.

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The fourth section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. READINGER offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 4, page 7, line 3 by striking out "4" and inserting in lieu thereof "5."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. READINGER offered the following amendment:

Amend Title, page 2, line 2 of Title, by inserting after "defining" final salary and Amend Title, page 2, line 3 of Title by striking out "superannuation."

They were agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading as amended?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, may I at this time say just a word about the amendments which have been submitted to Senate Bill 236.

They are mainly correctional and clarifying amendments. Some sections of the bill as originally drawn were not clear and did not clearly set forth what the Members had in mind.

These amendments do nothing more than clarify what was originally intended to be in the bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 83.

An Act amending the act of May 13, 1925 (P. L. 644) entitled "An act relating to and regulating the solicitation of moneys and property for charitable religious benevolent humane and patriotic purposes" exempting organizations composed of mothers of men or women who have died while in the Armed Services of the United States from the provisions of the act.

SENATE BILL No. 108.

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872), entitled "An act to consolidate, amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth," prohibiting abandonment of refrigerators and iceboxes from which doors have not been removed.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 120, Printer's No. 149, together with communication from the Senate be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate and that a Committee of Conference be appointed.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, before the Members vote on this motion to non-concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate to House Bill 120 they should know that the only purpose for non-concurring and asking that a Committee of Conference be appointed is to make a correction of an error relating to some of the tables and some of the numbers set forth in the bill.

The amendments which will have to be made are purely correctional. They do not change the meaning in any way, shape or form of the bill as it has been rewritten by the Senate.

In printing the last Printer's number, some of the letters and some of the numbers got out of place and, while there is a statute on the books allowing the Secretary of the Commonwealth to make editorial corrections, and so forth, it was thought to be so important that it should be corrected by us. That is the reason we are asking that this procedure be followed.

No part of the bill is going to be changed in substance in any way, shape or form. They are purely a correctional amendments and will carry out exactly what the Senate intended when it passed House Bill 120.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 120

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints as a Committee of Conference on said bill, Messrs. READINGER, LOPRESTI and JOHNSON.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RESOLUTION

SENATE RESOLUTION No. 116

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I call up Senate Resolution No. 116 on page 12 of today's calendar.

In the Senate, March 15, 1955.

Pledging the General Assembly that it will enact certain unemployment compensation legislation at its present session.

While the danger is imminent that at the end of the current quarter all unemployment compensation contribution rates may be increased automatically to 2.7% and compensation payments reduced automatically to $20 a week and a total of twenty weeks or $400, whichever is the lesser, there is an extremely wide difference of opinion between the Department of Labor and Industry and employers as to the actual necessity for an increase in the schedule of contribution rates.

In order to resolve this difference accurately and intelligently a careful and time consuming study is necessary before a law removing the danger can be adopted; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That, notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (d) and (e) of section 404 of the Unemployment Compensation Law, as amended, limiting the amount of compensation payable to an employe for a week of unemployment, and the total amount of compensation payable during a calendar quarter, if on March 31, 1955, the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania falls below one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less refunds during any twelve consecutive months, the General Assembly authorizes that compensation shall be paid to each eligible employe in the full amount provided for in the "Tables Specified for the Determination of Rate and Amount of Benefits" set forth in section 404 of the Unemployment Compensation Law as amended September 29, 1951 (P. L. 1580), even though at the end of the calendar quarter the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any consecutive twelve months.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution?

RESOLUTION RECOMMITTED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that Senate Resolution No. 116, Printer's No. 47, be recommitted to the Committee on Rules.

The motion was agreed to.

JOINT SESSION PROCEEDINGS PRINTED IN LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the proceedings of the Joint Session of the Senate and House of Representatives held this day be printed in full in the Legislative Journal.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ISAACS. Mr. Speaker, on March 21st in the Legislative Journal, page 814, on House Bill 429, I am recorded as "not voting." I was in my seat and voted "aye" on this bill in what I thought was a rather audible tone.

SENATE RESOLUTION REFERRED

Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 111.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. SARRAF asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MARCH 29, 1955. No. 31.

SENATE

TUESDAY, March 29, 1955.

The Senate met at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. WILLIAM McCLELLAND, Rector of Prince of Peach Episcopal Church, Dallas, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Almighty God, Who art as a strong tower to all those who put their trust in Thee, be now and every more our defense. Be gracious unto this Commonwealth, into which for its wise upbuilding our lot is cast. Grant that every citizen of the same, in his special vocation, may serve Thee faithfully.

Bless all who are charged with any authority, and so rule their hearts and strengthen their hands that their deliberations and labors may tend to the maintenance of private and official integrity, true religion and virtue. And, above all, keep in our minds a lively remembrance of that great day in which we must give a strict account of our thoughts, words and actions to him whom Thou hast appointed Judge of the quick and the dead, Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. DiSILVESTRO, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare for the maintenance of the Union Home for Old Ladies, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, over the many years that I have been a Member of the General Assembly, I have presented bills to have the lobbyists register and give a report of their expenditures during the Sessions.

Mr. President, I have in this Session introduced a bill but, in speaking to a number of the Senators, they thought it was too extreme. They thought that some of the information that was asked for in the bill was not necessary.

So, in order to get a bill that I think the Republicans and the Members of the Senate will agree with me on, I have had copied a Republican bill, introduced in the Congress of the United States, compelling the lobbyists to register and give an accounting in a certain period of time. I feel that since their party was in favor of this bill in Washington, they should be in favor of it in Harrisburg.

I also think that a bill of this type is necessary to kill the rumors that are always spreading on many bills that are presented in the Senate. We just had an occasion here when a lot of rumors were presented on a bill which was defeated last week. It seems that every time any bill comes up, these rumors again rear their ugly heads, that money is being spent illegally. I believe my bill will protect the Members of the Senate and also will protect the lobbyists. The public should be given a complete report of what is going on here when bills are up and when men who represent certain interests are working to inform the Senators of what the bill contains.

Therefore, Mr. President, I feel assured that the twenty-six Members of the Republican Party in the Senate will agree with me on this bill, because it is their brain child in Washington and I know they are very proud of the President who is now in the White House and I feel that they would like to follow in his footsteps in Harrisburg.

So, Mr. President, I am presenting this bill, asking that the lobbyists in Pennsylvania register and give an accounting of their expenditures in the future.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. HOLLAND and LANE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 273, entitled:

An Act relating to the regulation of lobbying; requiring registration of all lobbyists, keeping of accounts of contributions, expenditures and receipts thereof; requiring reports and statements under oath; defining persons affected; and providing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I do not want to make it a habit to keep on talking about cancer because my colleagues have been so kind and courteous, but I do feel somewhat of an imposition. I mean that sincerely.

Mr. President, when the papers carry headlines attacking me and the clinic, naturally, I have no alternative but to put my remarks on record so that the public can read the truth.

Mr. President, for the last twenty years the Pure Food and Drug Administration, along with parasites of the American Medical Association, have been telling the American public that the Hoxsey therapy is worthless, it is cough syrup, that there are no drugs whatsover within the contents of these tablets, that it is just sugar water, and yet I know it has been curing cancer.

You know, Mr. President, something happened last Friday. For the first time, they confiscated 250,000 tablets, and I am wondering whether there is not a little cheating going on. Maybe they used a penknife and opened a hole in the box, because now they find out that they have been wrong for twenty years. They say now it is no longer cough syrup, it is no longer an innocent tablet—look at that headline, Mr. President, from the Pittsburgh Post Gazette. My, oh my, "Danger Seen In Hoxsey Pill." After twenty years of saying they are cough tables, they now say, "Danger, beware Americans," because a United States agency feels one ingredient, potassium iodide, is dangerous. Get your dictionary, Mr. President, and see what that means. Every good doctor in this land, every druggist, says that it is a blood purifier and there is more truth in that than poetry, I assure you.

You know, Mr. President, they finally found out that one of the ingerdients in this Hoxsey tablet is potassium iodide, and let me tell you; yes, it contains seventy-five milligrams. If they want to known and I would be glad to tell them individually that milligrams do not have ingredients but, apparently, that penknife only brought one tablet out.

Mr. President, now they know how to treat cancer but they say, "Danger, it may cause malignancy." Now, just how foolish or how silly can these men get? For twenty years the Hoxsey tablets were valueless, worthless, and now they are too powerful. Sometimes you wonder what type of men the Federal Government employs. They need not fear the Hoxsey tablet, Mr. President. What they have to fear is the double-edge knife they have; the double-edge knife where they cut, cut and cut. They must carry that with them, together with radium, a burning hell, an electric chair on earth to humanity. They must fear deep therapy treatments because they have actually been proven to create cancer. I can prove to them that the application of deep therapy creates cancer, not diminishes cancer.

Mr. President, now the poor fellows have finally found out that we have something, and I would be happy, since they have our secret, that they place this in every hospital in the land and give poor people the chance to live. Again, I repeat and I shall keep on repeating until death do me part, if the American Medical Association has any courage, has any sincerity and is interested in humanity, then let them take those thirty patients I speak of, which they say are cancerous—any thirty people in America—and give Hoxsey half of them and they take half of them. We will treat ours free, and after six months we will count our fifteen and we will count their fifteen. If they are honest, if they are courageous, if they are sincere, that will be the acid test. That way, and only that way, can the people of America know who is treating cancer.

Mr. President, they roam around in the Senate while we all talk freely, but only when it strikes home, when it strikes your own family, Mr. President, your wife, your son or your daughter, then you begin to realize what I have been talking about and what I have been fighting for. However, up until then, you are nonchalant about it. I hope it does not strike home; it struck my home on three occasions and I pray to God that you do not learn the hard way.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for five minutes, for the purpose of holding a meeting of the Committee on Highways.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. FLEMING, from the Committee on Highways, reported as amended House Bill No. 461, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 22, 1931 (P. L. 594), entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways; authorizing their construction, maintenance, and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions; limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways; conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities, persons, associations, and corporations for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways; and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act," changing a route in Beaver County by abandoning part thereof.

BIRTHDAY FELICITATIONS EXTENDED TO JOHN GABRIEL, SERGEANT-AT-ARMS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I have been informed that one of our valued Senate employees is today celebrating his birthday. I do not know which number it is, but I want to point out to the Members of the Senate that we have a good employee with us. He is always on the job, he sees that we get the bills, and he sees to it that the many things which we have to do are done promptly. He has been a great aid to us over the many years.

Mr. President, he is presently here with us and I want to extend to him, on behalf of the Members of the Senate, our felicitations on this, his thirty-ninth birthday. I refer to John Gabriel, our Sergeant-at-Arms.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FLEMING read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 274, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 3, 1937 (P. L. 1333), entitled "An act concerning elections, including general, municipal, special and primary elections, the nomination of candidates, primary and election expenses and election contests; creating and defining membership of county boards of elections; imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, courts, county boards of elections, county commissioners; imposing penalties for violation of the act, and codifying, revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections," increasing the terms of office of judges and inspectors of elections.

Which was committed to the Committee on Elections.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE INSISTS UPON ITS NON-CONCURRENCE IN AMENDMENTS TO HOUSE BILL No. 120, AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House insists on its non-concurrence in Senate amendments to House Bill No. 120, entitled:

An Act amending the Act of December 5, 1936 (1937, P. L. 2897), entitled "Unemployment Compensation Law," by redefining certain terms increasing minimum contributions providing for modification of the manner in which contribution rates are determined and redetermined shortening the period necessary to obtain a reduced contribution rate providing for modification of the manner in which eligibility for compensation is determined increasing the amounts and duration of compensation payments removing certain limitations on the amount and duration of compensation and extending the penal and related provisions of the act.

and has appointed Messrs. READINGER, LOPRESTI and JOHNSON as a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (if the Senate shall appoint such committee) to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

HOUSE BILL No. 120 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table House Bill No. 120, and move a committee of conference on the part of the Senate be appointed.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE APPOINTED ON HOUSE BILL No. 120

The PRESIDENT. The Chair announces, on behalf of the President pro tempore, the appointment of Messrs. BERGER, KESSLER and LANE as a committee of conference on the part of the Senate to confer with a similar committee of the House (already appointed) to consider the difference existing between the two houses in relation to House Bill No. 120.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for twenty minutes, for the purpose of holding a Republican Caucus.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

THIRTIETH BIENNIAL DINNER AND GRIDIRON SHOW OF THE PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATIVE CORRESPONDENT'S ASSOCIATION

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, on behalf of my genial colleague from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, and myself, I am about to present this resolution. I hope that the Members present will lend their ears, because they are supposed to laugh at the appropriate places.

This is Concurrent Resolution, No. 1955, Serial No. U, Printer's Nos. XYZ, and is entitled "Loose in the Roost."

"In the Senate, March 29, 1955.

"To the members of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, Legislative Engineers, Politicians, et al

"Whereas, unseemly squawking noises have been emanating from the Harrisburg Roost, and

"Whereas, sundry, plump Republican chickens have disappeared from said roost, and

"Whereas, a number of Democratic fat cats have been seen clawing feathers from their teeth, and

"Whereas, the eternal question of which came first, the chicken or the egg-head, is also involved, therefore be it

"Resolved, that all hands in the Roost who can dig up ten dollars ($10), be admitted to the thirtieth biennial dinner and gridiron show to be held by the Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondent's Association in the Penn Harris Hotel on Wednesday, May 11, 1955, at 7:30 o'clock (daylight saving time), to hear the real lowdown on who raided the roost and why and how and when and for what; and

"Be it further resolved, that all roosters, (Note: all hens are barred), who love the more robust forms of entertainment, and who have ten dollars or can borrow same, are hereby directed to obtain tickets for said expose at the News Room in the State Capitol on strictly a first come, first served basis."

RESOLUTION UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move the immediate adoption of this resolution.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, there is one portion of that resolution which could be corrected. I believe the Democrats are referred to as "fat cats," but I believe our people are a little thin and they are hoping to get fat within the next four to eight years.

The PRESIDENT. Does the gentleman wish to amend the resolution?

Mr. MAHANY. No, Mr. President, but I hope the Democratic Senators can dig up $10.00 for seats.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was unanimously agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, next week, as we all know, we are going to observe Holy Week and we will not be in Session. However, there was scheduled by the Tax Institute a meeting here in Harrisburg, to be held at the Penn-Harris Hotel, to which all of us received invitations to attend.

Mr. President, the Tax Institute, through their representative, asked me to announce that any of you who are in Harrisburg at the time will certainly be most welcome as guests of the Institute. You will be guests at the luncheon and also at the dinner. The Tax Institute would like you to return the post card which has been sent to you, stating whether you do or do not intend to attend so that they will know how many to expect for this meeting.

SENATE RESOLUTION

EXTENDING CONGRATULATIONS TO THE McKEESPORT HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL TEAM AND COACH NEENIE CAMPBELL

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. SCHMIDT, KOPRIVER, JR. and PECHAN offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, March 29, 1955.

On Saturday, March 26, 1955, at the University of Pennsylvania Palestra in Philadelphia, McKeesport High School Basketball Team of the City of McKeesport, Allegheny County defeated Chester High School by a score of 54-48 to win the P.I.A.A. Class "A" Championship.

For McKeesport High School, W.P.I.A.A. and Western Regional Champions, the State Title is a goal attained after thirty-four years when in 1921 the McKeesport Tigers as they were then known, reached the championship after winning 24-21 over Williamsport.

For the Season, the McKeesport record is 26 wins and 3 losses. The "Tigers" knocked over defending State Champion Farrell 76-71 for the W.P.I.A.L. Crown, then took both Johnstown and Pittsburgh South by 76-54 scores.

The victory was a great accomplishment for "Tiger" Coach Neenie Campbell and a glorious, triumphant tribute to the great team composed of All-State Forward Gene Danko, Dave Rankin, Stu Heller, Tom Narkovich and Glenn Shample. In addition the team was supported by able reserves, namely Krajack, Kuremsky, Ikovich, Ziobro, Robinson, Gibbons, Falis, Protz and Pryor.

The "Tigers" had demonstrated an amazing, skillful exhibition of ball handling, of zone defense, of speed and quick execution of their plays and throughout had shown excellent coaching.

Most of all, the "Tigers" in their championship game, as well as in other contests, have shown to the youth of our Commonwealth, courage, confidence, moral character, good clean sportsmanship and fair play, the virtues of solid Americanism; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate extend hearty congratulations to the McKeesport High School Basketball Team and its great coach, Neenie Campbell, for capturing the P.I.A.A. Class "A" Championship; and be it further Resolved, That the copies of this resolution be sent forthwith to Coach Neenie Campbell, each of the above named players of the McKeesport High School Basketball Team and to Dr. Leo Travin, Superintendent of McKeesport Schools.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, this basketball game, which I had the great pleasure of witnessing over television, was certainly a most enjoyable game up until the end of the third period. Of course, it is just like life, you know. You live, you die; you win, you lose. Things just happen and there must be a loser.

Mr. President, I certainly would like to add to this resolution by complimenting the coaches of the McKeesport Team, the players and I would also like to make an inquiry of the Senator.

Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Schmidt.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. SCHMIDT, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHMIDT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WATKINS. Senator, I would like to know whether there is a spring factory up around McKeesport?

Mr. SCHMIDT. We have one known as the Spang-Chalfant Company, but it is not in that district.

Mr. WATKINS. I noticed in the first, second and third quarters that we were on an even keel. Then, it seemed that the boys went back in a huddle; they changed shoes and when they came up, I noticed over television that one fellow was three feet higher. He did not do a thing except run up to the basket and toss it in.

I would like to know, Senator, do you think that he had springs in his shoes?

Mr. SCHMIDT. No, he is the son of a very good Democrat.

Mr. WATKINS. Well, Senator, I wish you would personally convey my congratulations to the coaches and to the members of the team. You have a fine team; you won a clean, nice, honest victory and I say on behalf of the boys from Delaware County, that we wish your team well and we hope next year that we will get in and be able to reverse this decision.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Thank you very much, Senator Watkins, and I hope that the next time, should we be the loser, I will be able to stand up here and say the nice things such as you have said about Chester High School.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STEVENSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, the bill which I am about to introduce is of modest proportions. This bill is a codification of the County Code, as sponsored by the Members of the Local Government Commission.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. STEVENSON, MALLERY, BANE, FLACK, KOPRIVER, JR., HALUSKA and LANE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 275, entitled:

An Act relating to counties of the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth classes; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MALLERY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, prior to introducing this bill, I would like to make a brief statement.

Mr. President, the bill that I am privileged to introduce creates the State Industrial Development Authority for alleviating unemployment in those areas of the Commonwealth in which conditions of critical unemployment exist by the development of commercial, industrial and manufacturing enterprises in such areas.

Mr. President, the bill forms an important part of the Pennsylvania Plan, as announced by Governor Leader in his address to the General Assembly in Joint Session on March 28, 1955. This bill carries an appropriation of $20,000,000.

Mr. President, I am presenting this bill on behalf of my colleagues Senator Lane, Senator McMenamin, Senator Holland, Senator Scott, Senator Haluska, Senator Wagner, Senator Whalley, Senator Stevenson, Senator Yosko and myself.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. MALLERY, LANE, McMENAMIN, HOLLAND, SCOTT, HALUSKA, WAGNER, WHALLEY, STEVEN-

SON and YOSKO read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 276, entitled:

An Act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth by the reduction of unemployment in certain areas of the Commonwealth determined to be critical economic areas; providing for the establishment of industrial development projects in such areas; creating The State Industrial Development Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to acquire, construct, enlarge, extend and improve industrial development projects, and to lease the same, and to fix rates, rentals and charges for the use thereof; authorizing the allocation and appropriation of Authority funds to the establishment of industrial development projects; authorizing and regulating the issuance of bonds for said Authority, and providing for the payment of such bonds, and the rights of the holders thereof; authorizing the Authority to enter into agreements with the Government of the United States or any Federal agency or industrial development agency; granting the right of eminent domain; empowering the State Industrial Development Authority to sell and convey industrial development projects and other property; providing that no debt of the Commonwealth, its municipalities or political subdivisions shall be incurred in the exercise of any powers granted by the act; and providing for the examination of the accounts and affairs of the Authority; and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. LANE, MALLERY, STEVENSON, BANE, FLACK, HALUSKA and KOPRIVER, JR. read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 277, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1937 (P. L. 2017), entitled "An act creating in each county (except of the first class) as a separate corporation, and in each city of the first and second class as a part of the city government, an institution district for the care and maintenance of certain indigent persons and children; prescribing the powers and duties of county commissioners, county treasurers, city departments of public welfare, the State Department of Welfare and the State Department of Public Assistance in respect thereto; abolishing certain poor districts and terminating the terms of directors, overseers, guardians and managers of the poor and poor districts auditors, and providing for the temporary employment of certain of them; providing for the transfer, vesting, sale and disposition of the property of poor districts and the payment of their obligations; imposing certain existing obligations on institution districts and on the Commonwealth; regulating the affairs of poor districts until abolished; revising, amending, changing and consolidating the laws relating to the care of the poor; and repealing existing laws," further providing for the administration of the fiscal affairs of the county institution districts in counties of the third to eighth classes, regulating the making of contracts and purchases authorizing such districts to take by gift, grant, devise or bequest money and property and conferring powers and imposing duties on county commissioners, county treasurers, county controllers, and county auditors.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. FLACK. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. FLACK and SEYLER (By request) read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 278, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 19, 1931 (P. L. 589), entitled as amended "An act to promote the public health and safety, by providing for the examination and licensure of those who desire to engage in the occupation of barbering; regulating barber shops and barber schools, and apprentices and students therein; regulating compensation for service rendered; conferring certain powers and duties on the Department of Public Instruction; and providing penalties," changing the qualifications and fees required of applicants for licensure, and of barbers having supervision of barber shops, changing and adding new penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on second reading, go over in their order:

Senate Bill No. 93, Printer's No. 49;

Senate Bill No. 192, Printer's No. 45.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 219, entitled:

An Act amending the act of January 21, 1947 (P. L. 3), entitled "An act relating to officers and employes of the General Assembly; fixing the number, qualifications, compensation, mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the Senate and of the House of Representatives; providing for their election or appointment, term of office, or of service, removal, and manner of filling vacancies; and making appropriations to the Senate, House of Representatives and Legislative Reference Bureau," changing the compensation of certain officers and employes; and making appropriations.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 252, Printer's No. 55, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 317, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for payments to school districts on account of rentals payable to municipal authorities and nonprofit corporations.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, House Bill No. 317, Printer's No. 75, provides for an appropriation to pay certain municipal authorities rentals of $11,711,000. I have received a list of these from Andrew Bradley, the Budget Director, and according to the list—I believe the Governor also published this same list—only $5,000,000 is now needed for this purpose.

Mr. President, the sum of $6,711,000 was an accrued item and would not have to be paid until after the start of the next biennium.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am presenting these amendments to cut down the amount from $11,711,000 to $5,000,000, which is the amount that is now needed.

In connection with that, Mr. President, and also in connection with the next bill, I want to put into the record the statement which I have received from Andrew Bradley, the Budget Director, which is as follows:

"When the deficiency bills were made up early in this Session, they were made up to include all the amounts that we could anticipate belonging in this current biennium. However, there were amounts not payable in this biennium which were included in the over-all total.

"It is agreeable to us that these amounts be cut to the actual amount that will be paid in this biennium, but we would urge that the deficiency bill be passed in the present amount without amendment and we will ask that they be cut to the actual amount payable in this biennium.

"The reason for requesting passage in the full amount is to save time so that persons receiving payments for occupational disease compensation may receive their checks as promptly as possible. They have already passed two payment dates, and we would hate to see them withheld further. We fear that that would happen if it were necessary to amend the bill and then send it back to the House for a Conference Committee. In other words, we are asking that you pass them without amendment in order to save time and assure payment to these people."

Mr. President, the above is signed by Andrew Bradley.

Mr. President, in a conference with Mr. Bradley and Senator Barr, we have agreed that these amendments shall be presented. We understand that the House will concur in the amendments, because that is all of the amount of money that is now necessary. We do not figure that there will be any Conference Committee necessary and this will not hold up in any way the final passage of these bills if we put the amendments in today.

Mr. President, it would also make a much clearer picture to the people of the Commonwealth if we put into these bills now the amount which is actually needed instead of putting in a much larger amount and then having the Governor explain why he is cutting it down. We feel it will make a much clearer picture to the people, through the press, if we do it in this manner.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. MAHANY offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 1, lines 1 and 2, by striking out the words "eleven million seven hundred eleven thousand dollars ($11,711,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof: "five million dollars ($5,000,000)."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 318, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the twenty-second day of August, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Appropriations Acts, page 54), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three, and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three," providing for deficiencies in certain appropriations made by the act for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-five.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. MAHANY offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 1, page 3, by striking out all of lines 19 and 20; Amend Section 1, page 4, by striking out all of lines 1 to 15 inclusive.

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 506, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-second day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Appropriation Acts page 54) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three" by changing the amount appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, House Bill No. 506, Printer's No. 99, is commonly known as the deferral bill. It defers certain appropriations to school districts of the first and second class. The amount by which it reduces these appropriations is $25,000,000, in the original bill. We have cut down the amount of these deficiency appropriations, under House Bill No. 318 and House Bill No. 319. Therefore, we do not need $25,000,000 deferred from these school districts, and we only need about $7,000,000. However, we have added $3,000,000 to that so that in the event there are any other contingencies there will be that extra amount available to take care of the same.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agreeto the section?

Mr. MAHANY offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 1 (Sec. 2), page 3, line 10 by striking out "three hundred twenty-three million dollars ($323,000,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof: "three hundred thirty-eight million dollars ($338,000,000)."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second and third sections and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of the bill reported from committee for the first time at today's session.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 461, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 22 1931 (P. L. 594) entitled "An act establishing certain township roads as State highways authorizing their construction maintenance and improvement under certain conditions and restrictions limiting the obligation of the Commonwealth in the construction of certain structures located on such highways conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities persons associations and corporation for sharing the cost of the maintenance and construction of such highways and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of said act" changing a route in Beaver County by abandoning part thereof

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

NINTH GRADE CLASS OF RADNOR HIGH SCHOOL PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, in the gallery, headed by Mr. Paul Teel, is the Ninth Grade of Radnor High School, in Radnor Township, Delaware County. I take great pleasure in introducing this class, together with Mr. Paul Teel. They have been around the Capitol all day and from what I can understand, they have enjoyed their visit and they have also acquired quite a little additional knowledge in reference to our State Capitol.

Mr. President, they also were very gracious to their Senator. I shook hands with several of them and was kissed by about thirty of them. I certainly am proud of them, and I wish they would please stand up. We are happy to have them here today.

The PRESIDENT. We are certainly very glad to welcome the constituents of the Senator from Delaware. We are glad to have them with us, and we hope they enjoy their visit to the State Capitol.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. MAHANY. For the information of the Senate, we expect to recess now until five o'clock. At five o'clock, we are going to take up the Conference Committee Reports which will be sent over from the House at that time.

Tomorrow we expect to convene at ten o'clock, in the morning.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until five o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of awaiting messages from the House.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

L. 858), entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system, and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof; establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes, defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom, and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds; imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve; excepting annuities, allowances, returns, benefits, and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" defining final salary and annual salary and providing for retirement of members of the General Assembly with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

RULE 21 SUSPENDED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21, which requires amended bills to be noted on the Calendar, be in this case dispensed with, and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House of Representatives to the foregoing bill.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 236, as follows:

An Act amending the act of June 27 1923 (P L 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" defining final salary and annual salary and providing for retirement of members of the General Assembly

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Clause 17 of Section 1 act of June 27 1923 (P L 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" amended July 29 1953 (P L 993) is amended to read

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That the following words and phrases as used in this act unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context shall have the following meanings

17 "final salary" shall mean the highest average annual salary earnable by a contributor as a state employe during any five years of service preceding retirement [except that at the member's option the salary earnable by a contributor as a state employe for the years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred thirty three and June first one thousand nine hundred thirty-four shall not be included in determining such "final salary"] in the case of a member of the General Assembly "final salary" shall mean his compensation for his last two year period of service plus expenses for the two year period allowed by section 1 act of June 24 1919 (P L 579) as now or hereafter amended or reenacted

Duties of Heads of Departments

Section 7 * * *

(5) The head of each department shall cause to be deducted on each and every payroll of a contributor for each and every payroll period subsequent to December thirty-first nineteen hundred twenty-three such per centum of the total amount of salary earnable by the contributor in such payroll period as shall be certified to the head of each department by the retirement board as proper in accordance with the provisions of this act In determining the amount earnable by a contributor the retirement board may consider the rate of salary payable to such contributor on the first day of each regular payroll period as continuing throughout such payroll period and it may omit salary deductions for any period less than a full payroll period in cases where the member was not a contributor on the first day of the regular payroll period and to facilitate the making of the deductions it may modify the deduction required to any contributor by such amount as shall not exceed one-tenth of one per centum of the salary upon the basis of which the deduction is to be made In the case of members of the General Assembly as a class for the purposes of this act the compensation received for each [regular and special session if any of the Assembly] two year period of service plus expenses allowed by Section 1 Act of June 24, 1919 (P. L. 579) as now or hereafter amended or reenacted for each two year period of service shall be construed to be the annual salary or annual earnable salary or final salary of each member The deduction provided herein shall be made notwithstanding that minimum salaries or other compensation provided for by the laws rules or regulations of the Commonwealth shall be thereby reduced The head of each department shall certify to the Treasurer of the Commonwealth on account of each and every payroll of the contributor a statement as voucher for the amounts so deducted and shall send a duplicate of such statement to the secretary of the retirement board

Section 3 Section 7 of the act as amended by adding at the end thereof a new subsection to read

Section 7 * * *

(7) A member of the General Assembly may pay to the retirement association a sum equal to the difference between the sum of the amounts that would have been deducted from his payroll each payroll period since he became a member if he had contributed on the basis of his compensation received for each two year period of service plus expenses allowed by Section 1 Act of June 24 1919 (P. L. 579) as now or hereafter amended or reenacted for each two year period of service and the sum of the amounts actually deducted or in lieu of the payment of a lump sum a member of the General Assembly may pay such sum in installments through payroll deductions Such back payments may be spread over a period of years by having such regular payroll deductions of such persons increased by not less than one-third of the amount thereof which deduction increase shall be credited to such back payments owing and shall be continued until the amount thereof shall be paid in full unless such member is retired under the provisions of this act before such back payments have been completed Any such deduction increase may be anticipated in full by the member at any time and shall be anticipated in full at the time of retirement before a retirement allowance is granted and if not so anticipated then the member's annuity shall be calculated on the total accumulated deductions standing to his credit and his State annuity shall be reduced by an amount equivalent to the reduction which occurs in the member's annuity due to the amount of the back payments not so anticipated

Section 4 Section 11 of the act is amended by adding after subsection (3) thereof a new subsection to read

Section 11 * * *

(3.1) Should a member of the General Assembly discontinue his service as a member voluntarily or involuntarily after having served twenty years or more as a member he or she regardless of age shall receive a retirement allowance which shall be the acturial equivalent of his or her accumulated deductions and a State annuity equivalent to one-half of his or her final salary

Section 5 This act shall take effect immediately

which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

Said amendments having been twice read, and printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 34, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 11, 1889 (P. L. 188), entitled "A further supplement to an act, entitled 'An act to establish a board of wardens for the Port of Philadelphia, and for the regulation of pilots and pilotage, and for other purposes,' approved March twenty-ninth, one thousand eight hundred and three, and for regulating the rates of pilotage and number of pilots," further regulating the rates of pilotage.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

The PRESIDENT. The bill as amended will be laid on the table.

HOUSE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1

He also informed the Senate that the House has adopted the report of Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act providing for reorganizations of agencies and functions of the State Government by the Governor subject to disapproval by the General Assembly; and authorizing the transfer, abolition, consoldiation and coordination of agencies and functions and the authorization of State officers to delegate functions.

RULE 21 SUSPENDED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21, which requires Reports of Committees of Conference to be noted on the Calendar, be in this case dispensed with, and that the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing Report of Committee of Conference.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the report of Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1, as follows:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 1, entitled: "An act providing for reorganization of agencies and functions of the State Government by the Governor subject to approval or disapproval by the General Assembly and authorizing the transfer abolition consolidation and coordination of agencies and functions and the authorization of State officers to delegate functions."

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

JOHN H. DENT,
ROWLAND B. MAHANY,
ROBERT D. FLEMING,
(Committee on the part of the Senate.)

ALBERT S. READINGER,
JOHN F. STANK,
CHARLES C. SMITH,
(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act providing for reorganization of agencies and functions of the State Government by the Governor subject to approval or disapproval by the General Assembly and authorizing the transfer abolition consolidation and coordination of agencies and functions and the authorization of State officers to delegate functions

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Reorganization Act of 1955"

Section 2 Definitions As used in this act

(1) "Agency" means any executive or administrative department commission council board bureau division service officer officer administration or other establishment in the executive or administrative branch of the State Government The term does not include the Auditor General State Treasurer or Secretary of Internal Affairs or the departments of which they are the heads or any agency within any of those departments nor does the term include any independent administrative board or commission

(2) "Reorganization" means (i) the transfer of the whole or any part of any agency or of the whole or any part of the functions thereof to the jurisdiction and control of any other agency or (ii) the abolition of all or any part of the functions of any agency or (iii) the consolidation or coordination of the whole or any part of any agency or of the whole or any part of the functions thereof with the whole or any part of any other agency or the functions thereof or (iv) the consolidation or coordination of any part of any agency or the functions thereof with any other part of the same agency or the functions thereof or (v) the authorization of any officer to delegate any of his functions or (vi) the abolition of the whole or any part of any agency which agency or part does not have or upon the taking effect of a reorganization plan will not have any functions

Section 3 Declaration of Objectives and Purposes of Reorganization Plans

(a) The Governor shall examine and from time to time reexamine the organization of all agencies of the State Government and shall determine what changes therein are necessary to accomplish the following purposes

(1) To promote the better execution of the laws the more effective management of the exectuive and administrative branch of the Government and of its agencies and functions and the expeditious administration of the public business

(2) To reduce expenditures and promote economy to the fullest extent consistent with the efficient operation of the Government

(3) To increase the efficiency of the operations of the Government to the fullest extent practicable

(4) To group coordinate and consolidate agencies and functions of the Government as nearly as may be according to major purposes

(5) To reduce the number of agencies by consolidating those having similar functions under a single head and to abolish such agencies or functions thereof as may not be necessary for the efficient conduct of the Government and

(6)To eliminate overlapping and duplication of effort

(b) The General Assembly declares that the public interest demands the carrying out of the purposes herein specified and that these purposes may be accomplished in great measure by proceeding under the provisions of this act and can be accomplished more speedily thereby than by the enactment of specific legislation

Section 4 Powers and Duties of Governor Preparation and Contents of Reorganization Plan Submissive to General Assembly

When the Governor after investigation finds that

(1) the transfer of the whole or any part of any agency or of the whole or any part of the functions thereof to the jurisdiction and control of any other agency or

(2) the abolition of all or any part of the functions of any agency or

(3) the consolidation or coordination of the whole or any part of any agency or of the whole or any part of the functions thereof with the whole or any part of any other agency or the functions thereof or

(4) the consolidation or coordination of any part of any agency or the functions thereof with any other part of the same agency or the functions thereof or

(5) the authorization of any officer to delegate any of his functions or

(6) the abolition of the whole or any part of any agency which agency or part does not have or upon the taking effect of the organization plan will not have any functions is necessary to accomplish one or more of the purposes of this act he shall prepare a reorganization plan for the making of the reorganizations as to which he has made findings and which he includes in the plan and transmit the plan (bearing an identifying number) to the General Assembly together with a declaration that with respect to each reorganization included in the plan he has found that the reorganization is necessary to accomplish one or more of the purposes of this act The delivery to both Houses shall be on the same day and shall be made to each House while it is in session The Governor in his message transmitting a reorganization plan shall specify with respect to each abolition of a function included in the plan the statutory authority for he exercise of the function and shall specify the reduction of expenditures (itemized so far as practicable) which it is probable will be brought about by the taking effect of the reorganizations included in the plan

Section 5 Additional Contents of Plans

And reorganization plan transmitted by the Governor under this act

(1) Shall change in cases he deems necessary the name of any agency affected by a reorganization and the title of its head and shall designate the name of any agency resulting from a reorganization and the title of its head

Senate Bill No. 236, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 27 1923 (P. L. 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" defining annual salary and providing for superannuation retirement of members of the General Assembly.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. RUTH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, in the United Nations, in Congress in Washington and in a number of our hospitals we have meditation and prayer rooms, where visitors or employees may enter for prayer and meditation. We feel that we should have that in our Capitol at Harrisburg and, therefore, on behalf of several of my colleagues and myself, I am presenting this resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

URGING ESTABLISHMENT OF A ROOM IN THE CAPITOL FOR MEDITATION AND PRAYER

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. RUTH, DiSILVESTRO, SILVERT and HAYS offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on State Government:

In the Senate, March 29, 1955.

The one great secret to the success of the American people, which has made them the envy of all peoples of the world, is their firm belief that God is the creator of all good things and that only through Him are we enabled to maintain the heighth of success which we now enjoy and to achieve even greater success in the future.

Realizing our continued need for inner strength and a wisdom greater than our own and for communion with the invisible and the omnipotent, a channel is needed where, in solitude and silence, we may meet with God and draw upon the never ceasing springs of strength through the medium of prayer; therefore be it

Resolved, That a centrally located room in the Capitol be set aside for the purpose of providing legislators and State employes with a place of meditation and prayer, so that they may look to God for strength and guidance to better their lives and to better conduct the affairs of our Commonwealth.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until six o'clock, p.m.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

(3) Fund Balance (C) if the balance at the end of the immediately preceding calendar [quarter] year was not less than [two hundred fifty million dollars ($250,000,000)] three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000) Provided That if the balance at the end of the immediately preceding calendar [quarter] year was less than [two hundred fifty million dollars ($250,000,000)] three hundred million dollars ($300,000,000) [or one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any twelve (12) consecutive months within the last one hundred twenty (120) consecutive months whichever amount is greater then] all employers' rates of contribution on wages paid during the next calendar [quarter] year shall be two and seven-tenths per centum [And provided further That if the balance at the end of the immediately preceding calendar quarter was equal to or in excess of six hundred seventy million dollars ($670,000,000) then the rate of contribution on wages paid during the next calendar quarter for any employer having an "Employer Percentage" of four per centum or more shall be two-tenths of one per centum less than the rate of contribution specified in the column beneath his "Employer Percentage" which is on the horizontal line opposite Fund Balance (A) in the foregoing table And provided further however That in no case shall the rate of any employer exceed two and seven-tenths per centum or be less than three-tenths of one per centum]

Section 4 Subsection (d) of Section 401 of the act amended August twenty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 1397) is amended to read

Section 401 Qualifications Required to Secure Compensation Compensation shall be payable to any employe who is or becomes unemployed and who

(d) Is able to work and available for suitable work Provided That a claimant shall be conclusively presumed to be unavailable for work with respect to any week of unemployment [attributable to pregnancy and in any event after the sixth month] after seven and one-half months of pregnancy and until after [one month] thirty days of confinement

Section 5 Subsection (b) of Section 402 of the act amended August twenty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 1397 is amended to read

Section 402 Ineligibility for Compensation An employe shall be ineligible for compensation for any week

(b) In which his unemployment is due to voluntarily leaving work without [good] cause of a necessitous and compelling nature irrespective of whether or not such work is in "employment" as defined in this act Provided That no employe shall be deemed to be ineligible under this subsection where as a condition of continuing in employment such employe would be required to join or remain a member of a company union or to resign from or refrain from joining any bona fide labor organization or to accept wages hours or conditions of employment not desired by a majority of the employes in the establishment or the occupation or would be denied the right of collective bargaining under generally prevailing conditions and that in determining whether or not an employe has left his work voluntarily without good cause the department shall give consideration to the same factors insofar as they are applicable provided with respect to the determination of suitable work under section four (t) [marital filial and domestic circumstances and obligations shall not be deemed good cause within the meaning of this act] And provided further That the provisions of this subsection shall not apply in the event of a stoppage of work which exists because of a labor dispute within the meaning of subsection (d)

Section 6 The first paragraph and subsections (a) (d) (e) and the Tables Specified for the Determination of Rate and Amount of Benefits of section 404 of the act the first paragraph amended August twenty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 1397) subsection (a) amended May twenty-seven one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 717) subsection (d) amended August twenty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 1397) subsection (e) amended September twenty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 1580) and said tables amended September twenty-nine one thousand nine hundred fifty-one (P. L. 1580) are amended and a new subsection (c) is added to read

Section 404 Rate and Amount of Compensation Compensation shall be paid to each eligible employe in accordance with the following provisions in this section except that compensation payable with respect to weeks ending in benefit years which begin prior to the [first day of October one thousand nine hundred fifty-one] first day of the second calendar month following enactment of this amendment shall be paid on the basis of the provisions of this section in effect at the beginning of such benefit year Provided That the amendments to subsections (d) and (e) removing the limitations on the amount and duration of compensation shall take effect immediately

(a) The employe's weekly benefit rate shall be [that rate which appears in "Part B" and which is on the same horizontal line in "Part A" as the interval which includes his "highest quarterly wage"] computed as (1) one twenty-fifth of his "highest quarterly wage" in accordance with Part A of the Table Specified for the Determination of Rate and Amount of Benefits or (2) fifty per centum (50%) of his full-time weekly wage whichever is greater or if his base year wages are insufficient to qualify him for compensation by either of these methods his weekly benefit rate shall be determined as (3) that rate appearing in Part B of the table on the line on which in Part C appears the amount of qualifying wages which most nearly approximates but does not exceed his base year wages

(c) Any otherwise eligible employe shall be entitled during his benefit year to the amount appearing in Part D of the Table Specified for the Determination of Rate and Amount of Benefits on the line on which in Part B appears his weekly benefit rate Provided he has sufficient qualifying wages in Part C and provided further that an employe whose weekly benefit rate has been determined under clause (3) of subsection (a) of this section shall be entitled to compensation only if his base year wages are at least thirty times the weekly benefit rate as computed under clause (1) of subsection (a)

(d) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section each eligible employe who is unemployed with respect to any week ending subsequent to the effective date of this act shall be paid with respect to such week compensation in an amount equal to his weekly benefit rate less that part of the remuneration if any paid or payable to him with respect to such week which is in excess of six dollars ($6.00) Such compensation if not a multiple of one dollars ($1.00) shall be computed to the next higher multiple of one dollar ($1.00) [Provided That if at the end of any calendar quarter the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any twelve consecutive months the maximum amount of compensation payable to any employe for a week of unemployment ending during the next calendar quarter shall not be in excess of twenty dollars ($20)]

(e) [Any otherwise eligible employe shall be entitled during his benefit year to an amount equal to his weekly benefit rate multiplied by the number which appears at the top of a column under "Part C" to be ascertained by locating on the same horizontal line on which his weekly benefit rate appears the maximum amount which does not exceed the total wages paid to him during his base year Provided That if at the end of any calendar quarter the balance in the Unemployment Trust Fund to the credit of Pennsylvania is less than one and one-half times the highest amount paid out for compensation less any refunds during any twelve consecutive months no employe shall be paid compensation with respect to weeks of unemployment ending during the next calendar quarter in an amount which together with any amounts previously paid with respect to the same benefit year would be in excess of twenty times the employes' weekly benefit rate or four hundred dollars ($400) whichever is the lesser]

Section 7 Section 801 of the act amended September twenty-nine nineteen hundred fifty-one (P. L. 1580) is amended to read

Section 801 False Statements and Representations to Obtain or Increase Compensation Whoever makes a false statement or representation knowing it to be false or knowingly fails to disclose a material fact to obtain or increase any compensation or other payment under this act or under an employment security law of any other state or of the Federal Government or of a foreign government either for himself or for any other person shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than [twenty] thirty nor more than [fifty] two hundred dollars or shall be sentenced to imprisonment for not longer than thirty days or both and each such false statement or representation or failure to disclose a material fact shall constitute a separate offense Whoever makes a false statement knowing it to be false or knowingly fails to disclose a material fact to obtain or increase any compensation or other payment under this act or under an employment security law of any other state or of the Federal Government or of a foreign government may be disqualified within the one year period immediately following the departmental determination of such offense for such week or weeks of improper payments plus a penalty period of two weeks and for not more than one additional week for each such week of improper payment Provided That no additional weeks of disqualification shall be imposed under this section if prosecution proceedings have been instituted against the claimant because of such misrepresentation or non-disclosure

Section 8 Section 802 of the act is amended to read

Section 802 False Statements and Representations to Prevent or Reduce Compensation Any employer (whether or not liable for the payment of contributions under this act) or any officer or agent of such employer or any other person who makes a false statement or representation knowing it to be false or who knowingly fails to disclose a material fact to prevent or reduce the payment of compensation to any employe entitled thereto or to avoid becoming or remaining subject hereto or to avoid or reduce any contribution or other payment required from an employer under this act or who wilfully fails or refuses to make any such contribution or other payment or to furnish any reports required hereunder or who wilfully fails or refuses to produce or permit the inspection or copying of records as required hereunder shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than [twenty] fifty dollars nor more than [two] five hundred dollars and in default of the payment of such fine and costs shall be sentenced to imprisonment for not longer than thirty days and each such false statement or representation or failure to disclose a material fact and each day of such failure or refusal shall constitute a separate offense

Section 9 Subsection (b) of section 804 of the act amended August twenty-four one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 1397) is amended to read

Section 804 Recovery and Recoupment of Compensation

(b) Any person who other than by reason of his fault has received with respect to a benefit year any sum as compensation under this act to which he was not entitled shall not be liable to repay such sum but shall be liable to have such sum deducted from any future compensation payable to him with respect to such benefit year or the three-year period immediately following such benefit year Provided That with respect to overpayments of one hundred dollars or more recoupment from such future compensation shall not exceed one-third of the maximum benefits amount to which such person is entitled during any such subsequent benefit year nor one-third of the weekly benefit amount to which such person may be entitled for any particular week In the absence of misrepresentation or non-disclosure of a material fact no recoupment shall be had if such overpayment is created by reason of (1) a subsequent reversal of a decision of eligibility under the provisions of section five hundred one (e) of this act or (2) a retroactive allocation of wages pursuant to an award of a labor relations board arbitrator or the like unless such award provides for the repayment of unemployment compensation benefits received during the period to which such wages are allocated or (3) the subsequent receipt of holiday pay vacation pay or the like of which the person had no knowledge or (4) a subsequent determination that the person's base year wages were not earned in employment as defined in this act No provision of this subsection shall be construed to prevent or prohibit the voluntary repayment of compensation by such person or the maintenance of records of overpayments by the department [In determining whether or not recoupment from future compensation would be inequitable or unconscionable the claimant's financial worth shall not be considered]

The claimant and other affected parties shall be notified in writing of the department's determination to deduct any sum from future compensation under this section and such determination shall be subject to appeal in the manner provided in this act for appeals from determinations of compensation

Section 10 This act shall take effect immediately

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, March 29, 1955

The House met at 2:00 p.m.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, York, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Father, look with divine pity upon us because we are so slow to understand that what Thou speakest unto us is far more important than what anyone else has to say—"Thus saith the Lord" is still God's voice for liberty, freedom and peace.

Eternal God, enable us by Thy spirit to be still so that we may hear with our ears and obey with our hearts the longing, wistful whisperings of the Eternal and everlasting Father.

We pray, most Gracious God for Thy divine blessing to rest upon a member of this body, Representative Martin Taylor who is absent and confined in the hospital because of illness. Let Thy special grace be upon him and all his loved ones. May Thy peace be upon him. Bless all those who in this hour of sickness minister unto him.

O Christ our Lord and God, as Thou hast enlightened us, so may we give light unto others. Let Thy light shine through us in all that we say and think and do so that the number may be increased of those who love Thy righteous will. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections, the approval of the Journal for Monday, March 28, 1955 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. BULLER. RESOLUTION No. 47.

In the House of Representatives, March 28, 1955.

The Philadelphia Inquirer has disclosed in its news column that a number of offices of the Bureau of Employment Security in Philadelphia were leased under unusual circumstances.

The disclosures indicate that at least in one instance a building was leased before it had been constructed.

The disclosure also indicated that officers of the Bureau of Employment Security of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania either participated in or directed the negotiations for the lease of office space.

The Administrative Code provides that the Department of Property and Supplies is responsible for all real estate transactions of the Commonwealth, including leases; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives investigate the activities of the Bureau of Employment Security in the leasing of office space to determine whether the present laws on leases are adequate or should be amended; and be it further

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint a special committee of three to make the investigation and report to the House of Representatives during the present Session of the General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. BELL and MURPHY.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 48.

In the House of Representatives, March 28, 1955.

Since the earliest Colonial times, the Delaware River has proven to be an artery of transportation for seaborne commerce of the United States.

Since earliest times, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has proven to be the arsenal of democracy in times of peace and in times of war. A large portion of the products of this Commonwealth have been transported upon the Delaware River.

All of the Middle Atlantic and Central States have been aided, to some degree, in their growth, in agriculture and in industry, through the natural resources of this traffic artery.

Since the early days of the development of the Republic, the cost of the maintenance and the improvement of the channel of the mighty Delaware has been borne at the sole cost and expense of the Federal Government.

At the present time, the mighty Delaware River Valley continues to serve as the keystone of the Eastern seaboard and is vital to the defense of the United States and its democratic institutions.

During the wars of our country, the Philadelphia Navy Yard located on the banks of the Delaware and its supporting shipyards, have been instrumental in providing tremendous support to our Navy at sea.

During recent years, insufficient funds have been allocated for the maintenance and improvement of the channel of the Delaware River to service present and future industries of the great Delaware River Valley.

At present, for the first time in the history of the Delaware River, local industries and municipalities have been requested to supplement Federal funds for the maintenance and improvement of the channel of the Delaware River; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact appropriate legislation to deepen the channel of the Delaware River at the sole cost of the Federal Government and to make an appropriation sufficient therefor; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this Resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the presiding officer of each House of the Congress of the United States, and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. TOMPKINS, RENWICK and Mrs. DONAHUE. RESOLUTION No. 49.

In the House of Representatives, March 28, 1955.

Highway Route 220 runs west to Lock Haven; and thence by Route 120 leads northwest through Renovo, Emporium and Saint Marys; and thence by Route 225 leads into Johnsonburg to connect with Route 219;

The proposed Saint Lawrence Seaway will result in a greatly increased volume of commercial traffic to and from the Erie and Buffalo area through Pennsylvania to points east and south.

The above routes pass mainly through the Bucktail State Park; and one of the most scenic areas of our Commonwealth and are the access routes for thousands of visitors who come from all parts of the Nation, State and Canada to enjoy hunting, fishing, recreation and National Grandeur of the area.

The terrain, and density of population in the area serviced by the above routes make it ideal as an evacuation area.

A great program of Federal Interstate highway improvement and construction is presently contemplated under the Federal Bureau of Public Roads; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Secretary of Highways of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be requested to communicate to the Director of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, the desirability of including the above routes in the interstate highway classification for Federal aid under the proposed construction program; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Secretary of Highways.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. OLSEN, LUTTY, LEONARD and THOMAS.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION (Not Printed).

In the House of Representatives, March 28, 1955.

John M. Phillips of Pittsburgh, the outstanding figure in the preservation of wild life in this Commonwealth and on this continent, devoted a lifetime of energy and devotion to a cause that was richly benefited through his untiring efforts. Among his outstanding achievements were the founding of the American Game Association, now the American Wild Life Institute, the organization of the game refuge system of Pennsylvania and its introduction in Canada for the preservation of the elk and antelope herd, and the bringing about of the adoption of migratory bird treaties with foreign countries, now embodied in the Lacey Act of Congress.

Mr. Phillips was a member of the State Board of Game Commissioners from 1905 to 1923, and its vice-president for a number of years. He was the father of the Pennsylvania resident hunter's license law. He was interested and influential in securing the construction of the Pymatuning Dam as a sanctuary for migratory water fowl and as a means of flood control in the Shenango and Ohio River Valley. This man, whose accomplishments have converted the dreams of millions of sportsmen and lovers of nature into reality, is indeed worthy of any act that may be done in his commemoration; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the 84th Congress of the United States to support House Bill No. 3592, authorizing and directing the Postmaster General to issue a special postage stamp in honor of John M. Phillips; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each House of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mrs. MUNLEY, Messrs. NEEDHAM, WARGO and REIDENBACH. RESOLUTION (Not Printed).

In the House of Representatives, March 28, 1955.

St. Rose High School of Carbondale, Pennsylvania, has shown its stamina, teamwork, spirit, and superiority in winning the Pennsylvania State Catholic Interscholastic Athletic Association, State basketball championship.

Its team victory over a favored school with a larger enrollment has won the acclaim of its supporters and its opponents as well.

The St. Rose victory has centered Statewide attention on the school and its surrounding area, particularly Carbondale and the Scranton Roman Catholic Diocese, as areas which produce not only fine sportsmen and clean competitors as well as spirited opponents in the field of athletics, but as areas which after many years of hard competition can produce a winner and a champion, therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby extends its hearty congratulations to the St. Rose High School, to its fine basketball team; to the team's coach Mr. Ed. Kassler, and to the administration of the school and to the faculty and student body, thereof on their fine achievement; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the St. Rose High School, Carbondale, Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. WALSH and THOMAS.

RESOLUTION (Not Printed).

In the House of Representatives, March 28, 1955.

On Saturday, March 26, 1955, at the University of Pennsylvania Palestra in Philadelphia, McKeesport High School Basketball Team of the City of McKeesport, Allegheny County defeated Chester High School by a score of 54-48 to win the P. I. A. A. Class "A" Championship.

For McKeesport High School, W. P. I. A. L. and Western Regional Champion, the State Title is a goal attained after thirty-four years when in 1921 the McKeesport Tigers as they were then known, reached the championship after winning 24-21 over Williamsport.

For the Season, the McKeesport record is 26 wins and 3 losses. The "Tigers" knocked over defending State Champion Farrell 76-71 for the W. P. I. A. L. Crown, then took both Johnstown and Pittsburgh South by 76-54 scores.

The victory was a great accomplishment for "Tiger" Coach Neenie Campbell and a glorious, triumphant tribute to the great team composed of All-State Forward Gene Danko, Dave Rankin, Stu Heller, Tom Markovich and Glenn Shample. In addition the team was supported by able reserves, namely Krajack, Kuremsky, Ivkovich, Ziobro, Robinson, Gibbons, Falis, Protz and Pryor.

The "Tigers" had demonstrated an amazing, skillful exhibition of ball handling, of zone defense, of speed and quick execution of their plays and throughout had shown excellent coaching.

Most of all, the "Tigers" in their championship game, as well as in other contests, have shown to the youth of our Commonwealth, courage, confidenece, moral character, good clean sportsmanship and fair play, the virtues of solid Americanism; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives extend hearty congratulations to the McKeesport High School Basketball Team and its great coach, Neenie Campbell, for capturing the P. I. A. A. Class "A" Championship; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent forthwith to Coach Nennie Campbell, each of the above named players of the McKeesport High School Basketball Team and to Dr. Leo Travis, Superintendent of McKeesport Schools.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

March 28, 1955.

Senate Concurrent Resolution, serial number 111, adopted by the Senate February 28, 1955, adopted with amendments by the House, March 7, 1955 and the amendments concurred in by the Senate March 8, 1955, provided for the appointment of a joint committee to investigate Laurelton State Village. The committee was directed to make its report to the respective branches of the General Assembly within thirty days.

The committee was appointed and has been and still is diligently performing the duties imposed upon it and finds that to complete the investigation in a thorough and satisfactory manner, additional time is required, therefore be it

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring), That the last resolved clause of Senate Concurrent Resolution, serial number 111, be amended to read:

Resolved, That said joint committee shall make its report to the respective branches of the General Assembly within a period not to exceed (thirty) sixty days.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE INSISTS ON AMENDMENTS NON-CONCURRED IN BY HOUSE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has insisted upon its amendments, non-concurred in by the House of Representatives, to House Bill No. 120, entitled:

And has appointed Messrs. Berger, Kessler and Lane a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives, (already appointed) on the subject of the differences between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

SENATE MESSAGE

HOUSE BILL CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bills from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 97.

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, and of street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," exempting certain vehicles owned by and used exclusively by the Italian-American World War Veterans of the United States Incorporated from the payment of registration fees.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

TAX INSTITUTE CONFERENCE

The SPEAKER. The Chair has been requested to call the attention of the Members of the House to the two-day conference on Pennsylvania Taxation scheduled for April 5th and 6th in this city at the Penn Harris Hotel.

All the Members of this House have received invitations to attend this Conference on Taxation. If they cannot attend, the Members are asked to return the post cards saying they cannot attend, so those in charge of the Conference may make their seating arrangements. Of course, if you can attend you will want to reply to the post cards.

Incidentally, there are two luncheons and I think a dinner meeting. You will be the guests of the Tax Institute of Princeton, New Jersey, under whose auspices the conference is being held. In other words, you can eat "for free" if you attend.

The Conference will be well worthwhile. The Governors of various states and tax authorities of various states will lead the discussion. It is a non-partisan conference, and Pennsylvania's tax problems, together with the tax problems in various other states, will be discussed. If you find it convenient to attend, you will find it well worthwhile to do so, and, in any event, please answer the post card.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 120

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I submit the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 120.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 125, Printer's No. 113, and

House Bill No. 126, Printer's No. 114

were passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 307, as follows:

An Act amending the act of March 10 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" further regulating the election of directors to boards of union or merged districts and validating certain elections and appointments

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Subsection (b) of section 312 act of March 10 1949 (P. L. 30) known as the "Public School Code of 1949" amended January 18 1952 (P. L. 2125) is amended to read

Section 312 Union and Merged Districts * * *

(b) When two or more school districts are formed into a union district or are merged the directors then in office in each district shall until the end of their respective terms be directors of the union or merged district At the first municipal election after the union or merger in the case of newly formed districts and at the municipal election in one thousand nine hundred fifty-three in the case of existing union or merged districts and in both cases at each subsequent municipal election directors shall be elected to the board of directors of union or merged districts in a number of the component municipalities equal to the number of directors to be elected at that election in districts of the class to which the union or merged district belongs or to which the district is entitled under subsection (a) of this section. The order of priority of component municipalities in electing directors shall be in accordance with the population of the component municipalities according to the United States decennial census last preceding the union or merger or in the case of existing districts the one thousand nine hundred fifty census Directors to be elected at large shall be elected after all component municipalities have elected a director

The elections shall be held notwithstanding that the elections will temporarily increase the number of directors of the union or merged districts above the number of directors provided by law for the district of the same class until the expiration of the terms of the directors comprising the districts being consolidated under the provisions of section 310 of this act

Section 2 In all cases where directors have been elected to the boards of directors of union or merged school districts in the 1953 municipal elections or directors have been appointed by reason of vacancies existing where directors have not been elected at the 1953 municipal elections the elections and appointments are hereby ratified and made valid to the same extent as if this act had been in force prior to the 1953 municipal elections

Section 3 This act shall take effect immediately

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—1

Taylor,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 561, as follows:

An Act amending the act of May 1 1929 (P. L. 905) entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety regulating the use of highways and the operation of vehicles tractors street cars trackless trolley omnibuses bicycles pedestrians and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth providing for the titling including liens encumbrances and legal claims registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof upon payment of prescribed fees prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue the Department of Highway peace officers mayors burgesses magistrates aldermen justices of the peace the courts and the clerks thereof owners of vehicles and garage keepers providing that records are admissible as evidence imposing upon owners counties cities boroughs incorporated towns townships within the Commonwealth liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles imposing penalties imposing certain costs upon counties providing for the disposition of fines forfeitures fees and miscellaneous receipts making an appropriation and providing for refunds" providing for issuance of special registration plates to licensed operators of amateur radio stations requiring the secretary to furnish to sheriffs lists of special registrations and requiring sheriffs to maintain these lists

From the melting snows of California through the flooded valley of the Mississippi to the hurricane lashed shores of Florida and in the mountainous terrain of Pennsylvania the amateur radio operator has proven his worth in time of disaster and wide-spread danger to the people

He has been directly instrumental by the dissemination of information in saving life and property at times when regular communication facilities were disrupted

His services in locating travelers and persons whose whereabouts are unknown and in numerous instances when disaster hurricanes and storms have threatened he has been a boon to mankind

There are many licensed amateur radio stations in Pennsylvania ready and alert equipped at their own expense and prepared in any emergency

A distinctive automobile tag would prove of great aid in locating and identifying these amateur radio operators to the State Police sheriffs Red Cross municipal police officers and the National Guard in time of public or private need therefor

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 414 act of May 1 1929 (P. L. 905) known as "The Vehicle Code" is amended to read

Section 414 Police Departments and Sheriffs to Have Registration Bulletins

The secretary shall issue bulletins giving the registration number name and address of the owner of each vehicle registered to such police departments as he deems necessary and such police departments are hereby prohibited from disposing of such bulletins or parts of such bulletins for other than information as to violations of the motor vehicle laws

The secretary shall on or before the first day of May of each year furnish to the sheriff of each county in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania an alphabetically arranged list of the names addresses and license tag letters of each person to whom a license tag is issued under the provisions of subsection (e) of section 501 of this act It shall be the duty of the sheriffs of the State to maintain and to keep current these lists for public information and inquiry

Penalty Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof in a court of quarter sessions be sentenced to pay a fine of two hundred ($200) dollars and costs of prosecution or undergo imprisonment for not more than three (3) years or suffer both such fine and imprisonment

Section 2 Section 501 of the act amended August 24 1951 (P. L. 1368) is amended by adding after subsection (d) thereof a new subsection to read

Section 501 Registration Plates to be Furnished by Department

(e) Upon application to the department any owner of a motor vehicle designed for passenger travel and not used for commercial purposes residing in Pennsylvania and holding an unrevoked and unexpired General Advanced or Extra Class amateur radio station license issued by the Federal Communications Commission shall be issued a registration plate as prescribed by subsection (a) of this section on which shall be inscribed in lieu of the registration number prescribed by subsection (b) of this section the official amateur radio call letters assigned to the applicant by the Federal Communications Commission The applicant shall comply with all laws pertaining to registration and licensing of motor vehicles and the application for registration as prescribed by this subsection shall be accompanied by proof of ownership of the aforesaid amateur radio station license and the sum of three ($3) dollars in addition to the fees otherwise prescribed by law for annual registration of motor vehicles

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NOT VOTING—1

Taylor,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 153, as follows:

An Act amending the act of July 7, 1947 (P. L. 1368), entitled "An act amending, revising and consolidating the laws relating to delinquent county, city, except of the first and second class and second class A, borough, town, township, school district, except of the first class and school districts within cities of the second class A, and institution district taxes, providing when, how and upon what property, and to what extent liens shall be allowed for such taxes, the return and entering of claims therefor; the collection and adjudication of such claims, sales of real property, including seated and unseated lands, subject to the lien of such tax claims; the disposition of the proceeds thereof, including State taxes and municipal claims recovered and the redemption of property; providing for the discharge and divestiture by certain tax sales of all estates in property and of mortgages and liens on such property, and the proceedings therefor; creating a Tax Claim Bureau in each county, except a county of the first class, to act as agent for taxing districts; defining its powers and duties, including sales of property, the management of property taken in sequestration, and the management, sale and disposition of property heretofore sold to the county commissioners, taxing districts and trustees at tax sales; providing a method for the service of process and notices; imposing duties on taxing districts and their officers and on tax collectors, and certain expenses on counties and for their reimbursement by taxing districts; and repealing existing laws," making the act effective as to all cities of the third class located within counties operating under the act, and to the school districts within the cities, after January 31, 1957.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, in regard to Senate Bill 153, Printer's No. 28, on page 11 of the calendar which we are considering at the moment, the motion I am about to make I am making for the purpose of having all Members from the third class cities and the school districts which are situated in the third class cities take this bill home and submit it to their school districts and to their cities. It very vitally affects some third class cities and the school districts in those cities.

At the present time, for instance, taking my home county of Blair, the tax delinquency board that is now set up is so far behind in their work that they haven't yet any method of collecting taxes on delinquent property, that is, on tax delinquent properties, or any method of making sales, they are so far behind in their work in trying to devise a system and bring the system up to date. Therefore, to make the school districts and cities come under that particular tax delinquency board and do away with the present method that they have now of collecting delinquent taxes on properties would be a very serious handicap and work a very serious hardship.

For that reason I am making a motion to have this bill be placed on the third reading postponed calendar so as to give the Members from the school districts affected, and from the third class cities time to take it up with their respective taxing bodies in those cities. This motion has been cleared with both the Majority Floor Leader and the Minority Floor Leader, and I ask the membership of the House to vote for the motion.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the third reading postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 236, as follows:

An Act amending the act of June 27 1923 (P. L. 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" defining final salary and annual salary and providing for retirement of members of the General Assembly

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Clause 17 of Section 1 act of June 27 1923 (P. L. 858) entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" amended July 29 1953 (P. L. 993) is amended to read

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That the following words and phrases as used in this act unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context shall have the following meanings

17 "Final salary" shall mean the highest average annual salary earnable by a contributor as a state employe during any five years of service preceding retirement [except that at the member's option the salary earnable by a contributor as a state employe for the years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred thirty-three and June first one thousand nine hundred thirty-four shall not be included in determining such "final salary"] In the case of a member of the General Assembly "final salary" shall mean his compensation for his last two year period of service plus expenses for the two year period allowed by Section 1 Act of June 24 1919 (P. L. 579) as now or hereafter amended or reenacted

Section 2 Subsection (5) of Section 7 of this act amended May 20 1949 (P. L. 1641) is amended to read

Duties of Heads of Departments

Section 7 * * *

(5) The head of each department shall cause to be deducted on each and every payroll of a contributor for each and every payroll period subsequent to December thirty-first nineteen hundred twenty-three such per centum of the total amount of salary earnable by the contributor in such payroll period as shall be certified to the head of each department by the retirement board as proper in accordance with the provisions of this act In determining the amount earnable by a contributor the retirement board may consider the rate of salary payable to such contributor on the first day of each regular payroll period as continuing throughout such payroll period and it may omit salary deductions for any period less than a full payroll period in cases where the member was not a contributor on the first day of the regular payroll period and to facilitate the making of the deductions it may modify the deduction required of any contributor by such amount as shall not exceed one-tenth of one per centum of the salary upon the basis of which the deduction is to be made In the case of members of the General Assembly as a class for the purposes of this act the compensation received for each [regular and special session if any of the Assembly] two year period of service plus expenses allowed by Section 1 Act of June 24 1919 (P. L. 579) as now or hereafter amended or reenacted for each two year period of service shall be construed to be the annual salary or annual earnable salary or final salary of each member The deduction provided herein shall be made notwithstanding that minimum salaries or other compensation provided for by the laws rules or regulations of the Commonwealth shall be thereby reduced The head of each department shall certify to the Treasurer of the Commonwealth on account of each and every payroll of the contributor a statement as voucher for the amounts so deducted and shall send a duplicate of such statement to the secretary of the retirement board

* * *

Section 3 Section 7 of the act is amended by adding at the end thereof a new subsection to read

Section 7 * * *

(7) A member of the General Assembly may pay to the retirement association a sum equal to the difference between the sum of the amounts that would have been deducted from his payroll each payroll period since he became a member if he had contributed on the basis of his compensation received for each two year period of service plus expenses allowed by Section 1 Act of June 24, 1919 (P. L. 579) as now or hereafter amended or reenacted for each two year period of service and the sum of the amount actually deducted or in lieu of the payment of a lump sum a member of the General Assembly may pay such sum in installments through payroll deductions Such back payments may be spread over a period of years by having such regular payroll deductions of such persons increased by not less than one-third of the amount thereof which deduction increase shall be credited to such back payments owing and shall be continued until the amount thereof shall be paid in full unless such member is retired under the provisions of this act before such back payments have been completed Any such deduction increase may be anticipated in full by the member at any time and shall be anticipated in full at the time of retirement before a retirement allowance is granted and if not so anticipated then the member's annuity shall be calculated on the total accumulated deductions standing to his credit and his State annuity shall be reduced by an amount equivalent to the reduction which occurs in the member's annuity due to the amount of the back payments not so anticipated

Section 4 Section 11 of the act is amended by adding after subsection (3) thereof a new subsection to read

Section 11 * * *

(3.1) Should a Member of the General Assembly discontinue his service as a member voluntarily or involuntarily after having served twenty years or more as a member he or she regardless of age shall receive a retirement allowance which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his or her accumulated deductions and a state annuity equal to one-half of his or her final salary

Section 5 This act shall take effect immediately

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1.

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 1, entitled: "An act providing for reorganizations of agencies and functions of the State Government by the Governor subject to approval or disapproval by the General Assembly and authorizing the transfer abolition consolidation and coordination of agencies and functions and the authorization of State officers to delegate functions."

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

JOHN H. DENT,
ROWLAND B. MAHANY,
ROBERT D. FLEMING,
(Committee on the part of the Senate.)
ALBERT S. READINGER,
JOHN F. STANK,
CHARLES C. SMITH,
(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act providing for reorganization of agencies and functions of the State Government by the Governor subject to approval or disapproval by the General Assembly and authorizing the transfer abolition consolidation and coordination of agencies and functions and the authorization of State officers to delegate functions

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known as and may be cited as the "Reorganization Act of 1955"

Section 2 Definitions As used in this act

(1) "Agency" means any executive or administrative department coumission council board bureau division service office offiler administration or other establishment in the executive or administrative branch of the State Government The term does not include the Auditor

General State Treasurer or Secretary of Internal Affairs or the departments of which they are the heads or any agencf within any of those departments nor does the term include any independent administrative board or commission

(2) "Reorganization" means (i) the transfer of the whole or any part of any agency or of the whole or any part of the functions thereof to the jurisdiction and control of any other agency or (ii) the abolition of all or any part of the functions of any agency or (iii) the consolidation or coordination of the whole or any part of any agency or of the whole or any part of the functions thereof with the whole or any part of any other agency or the functions thereof or (iv) the consolidation or coordination of any part of any agency or the functions thereof with any other part of the same agency or the functions thereof or (v) the authorization of any officer to delegate any of his functions or (vi) the abolition of the whole or any part of any agency which agency or part does not have or upon the taking effect of a reorganization plan will not have any functions

(a) The Governor shall examine and from time to time reexamine the organization of all agencies of the State Government and shall determine what changes therein are necessary to accomplish the following purposes

(1) To promote the better execution of the laws the more effective management of the executive and administrative branch of the Government and of its agencies and functions and the expeditious administration of the public business

(2) To reduce expenditures and promote economy to the fullest extent consistent with the efficient operation of the Government

(3) To increase the efficiency of the operations of the Government to the fullest extent practicable

(4) To group coordinate and consolidate agencies and functions of the Government as nearly as may be according to major purposes

(5) To reduce the number of agencies by consilidating those having similar functions under a single head and to abolish such agencies or functions thereof as may not be necessary for the efficient conduct of the Government and

(6) To eliminate overlapping and duplication of effort

(b) The General Assembly declares that the public interest demands the carrying out of the purposes herein specified and that these purposes may be accomplished in great measure by proceeding under the provisions of this act and can be accomplished more speedily thereby than by the enactment of specific legislation

Section 4 Powers and Duties of Governor Preparation and Contents of Reorganization Plan Submission to General Assembly

When the Governor after investigation finds that

(1) the transfer of the whole or any part of any agency or of the whole or any part of the functions thereof to the jurisdiction and control of any other agency or

(2) the abolition of all or any part of the functions of any agency or

(3) the consolidation or coordination of the whole or any part of any agency or of the whole or any part of the functions thereof with the whole or any part of any other agency or the functions thereof or

(4) the consolidation or coordination of any part of any agency or the functions thereof with any other part of the same agency or the functions thereof or

(5) the authorization of any officer to delegate any of his functions or

(6) the abolition of the whole or any part of any agency which agency or part does not have or upon the taking effect of the reorganization plan will not have any functions

is necessary to accomplish one or more of the purposes of this act he shall prepare a reorganization plan for the making of the reorganizations as to which he has made findings and which he includes in the plan and transmit the plan (bearing an identifying number) to the General Assembly together with a declaration that with respect to each reorganization included in the plan he has found that the reorganization is necessary to accomplish one or more of the purposes of this act The delivery to both Houses shall be on the same day and shall be made to each House while it is in session The Governor in his message transmitting a reorganization plan shall specify with respect to each abolition of a function included in the plan the statutory authority for the exercise of the function and shall specify the reduction of expenditures (itemized so far as practicable) which it is probable will be brought about by the taking effect of the reorganizations included in the plan

Section 5 Additional Contents of Plans

Any reorganization plan transmitted by the Governor under this act

(1) Shall change in case he deems necessary the name of any agency affected by a reorganization and the title of its head and shall designate the name of any agency resulting from a reorganization and the title of its head

(2) May include provisions for the appointment and compensation of the head and one or more other officers of any agency (including an agency resulting from a consolidation or other type of reorganization) if the Governor finds and in his message transmitting the plan declares that by reason of a reorganization made by the plan such provisions are necessary The head so provided for may be an individual or may be a commission or board with two or more members The term of office of any appointee shall not be fixed at more than four years The compensation shall not be at a rate in excess of that found by the Governor to prevail in respect of comparable officers in the executive and administrative branch If the appointment is not under the classified civil service it shall be by the Governor by and with the advice and consent of the Senate

(3) Shall make provision for the transfer or other disposition of the records property and personnel affected by any reorganization

(4) Shall make provision for the transfer of such unexpended galances of appropriations and of other funds available for use in connection with any function or agency affected by a reorganization as he deems necessary by reason of the reorganization for use in connection with the functions affected by the reorganization or for the use of the agency which has such functions after the reorganization plan is effective Unexpended balances so transferred shall be used only for the purposes for which the appropriation was originally made

(5) Shall make provision for terminating the affairs of any agency abolished

(6) Shall enumerate all acts of the General Assembly which may be suspended if the reorganization plan becomes effective

Section 6 Limitations on Powers Respecting Reorganizations

No reorganization plan shall provide for and no reorganization under this act shall have the effect of

(1) Abolishing or transferring an executive or administrative department or all the functions thereof or consolidating any two or more executive or administrative departments or all the functions thereof or

(2) Continuing any agency beyond the period authorized by law for its existence or beyond the time when it would have terminated if the reorganization had not been made or

(3) Continuing any function beyond the period authorized by law for its exercise or beyond the time when it would have terminated if the reorganization had not been made or

(4) Authorizing any agency to exercise any function which is not expressly authorizer by law at the time the plan is transmitted to the General Assembly or

(5) Increasing the term of any office beyond that provided by law for the office

Section 7 Consideration by General Assembly Effective Date of Reorganization Specified in Plan

(a) Each reorganization plan transmitted to the General Assembly shall be proposed as a resolution and shall be placed on the calendar of each House for the next legislative day following its receipt and shall be considered by each House within thirty calendar days of continuous session of the General Assembly (b) Each reorganization plan shall take effect if it is approved by a majority vote of the duly elected membership of each house during such thirty-day period or (c) may be disapproved by either house during that period by a majority vote of the duly elected membership of each house No resolution shall be effective (1) unless it designates the number of the reorganization plan and the date on which it was transmitted to the General Assembly or (2) if it specifies more than one reorganization plan except as otherwise provided by subsection (e) of this section The effective date of each reorganization plan shall be the date of approval of the last of the two houses to act upon the expiration of the thirty-day period after the delivery of the plan to the two houses of the General Assembly and the failure to act as provided in subsection (b) or (c) of this section each reorganization plan shall become effective

(d) For the purposes of subsection (a) of this section

(1) Continuity of session shall be considered as broken only by an adjournment of the General Assembly sine die but

(2) In the computation of the thirty-day period there shall be excluded the days on which either House is not in session because of an adjournment of more than ten days to a day certain

(e) Any provision of the plan may under provisions contained in the plan be made operative at a time later than the date on which the plan otherwise takes effect

Section 8 Effect of Reorganization on Statutes and Regulations or Other Actions

Any statute enacted and any regulation or other aition made presrribed issued granted or performed in respect of or by any agency or function affected by a reorganization under the provisions of this act before the effective date of the reorganization shall except to the extent rescinded modified superseded or made inapplicable by or under authority of law or by the abolition of a function have the same effect as if the reorganization had not been made If any such statute regulation or other action has vested the function in the agency from which it is removed under the plan the function shall insofar as it is to be exercised after the plan becomes effective be considered as vested in the agency under which the function is placed by the plan

As used in this section "regulation or other action' means any regulation rule order policy determination directive authorization permit privilege requirement designation or other action

Section 9 Effect of Reorganization on Pending Legal Proceedings

NAYS—2

Davis, Moscrip,

NOT VOTING—1

Taylor,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the report of the Committee of Conference was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to file the following reasons for my vote on House Bill No. 1.

I urge, Mr. Speaker, the rejection of the House-Senate conferee's report on House Bill No. 1, to the end that this measure may not reach the statute books in any form during this 1955 session.

Regardless of how this bill may have been softened, and presumably made more palatable to those of us who have more than a passing regard for the American Constitutional philosophy of government, still the end-product remains unacceptable.

It is unacceptable, Mr. Speaker, no matter how disguised, no matter how innocuously capsuled this latest version of House Bill No. 1 may be. It is unacceptable because its central plan, to my mind, violates the fundamental proposition of our way of government: a division of power, three ways, equal and independent.

Now, one of these three ways of the exercise of governmental power is the legislative way, and it is the legislative branch which shall formulate and enact the laws, and it is the executive branch which shall exercise the veto powers. Patently, the Constitutional balance of powers is inescapably upset when the executive takes on some, or all, of the task of formulating the laws, and when the legislative branch retires to a much weaker position: the mere exercise of the veto power.

Much has already been said, Mr. Speaker, within this chamber by those who consider the basic plan of House Bill No. 1 unconstitutional for other reasons. I shall, therefore, not burden this assemblage with a repetition of these various other objections: that it violates the Pennsylvania Constitutional requirement that each legislative matter be read upon three different days, and so on; that it delegates law-making powers beyond these legislative chambers, despite the U. S. Supreme Court's unanimous decision invalidating NRA and AAA for this very reason; and that it inclines towards a blank-check tender to the executive.

But, I do want to say a word, Mr. Speaker, pointing to my own belief that House Bill No. 1 is a proposal cast in the mold of the knd of highly stressed, personalized, revolutionary leadership which has moved into power so often in Europe, when parliaments have atrophied and grown too weak to do their job.

With this thought in mind, I wish to speak out once again, Mr. Speaker, pointing to my belief that this bill would nullify much of the Constitutional, democratic way of legislating. Above all, I believe that it would add to the power of the executive at the expense of the legislative.

Truly, I regard it as a potentially dangerous breach of the spirit of our Constitution—potentially dangerous because of the precedent involved. Clearly, if enacted, this measure will serve as a blazed trail for more ambitious and more sinisterly inclined expeditions against the essential restraints of the Constitution at some future and really compelling crisis in the affairs of this Commonwealth.

If enacted, this legislation, generating a bad precedent, can only tend to weaken the fiber of the people when faced with unpleasant trials to preserve their Constitutional guarantees. For in future crisis, Mr. Speaker, people may instinctively seek to justify their surrender to easier, unconstitutional courses by telling themselves: "Well, even back in 1955 they were beginning to suspect that the Constitution was too highly regarded." And this is the path along which double-talk begins to take the place of honest, meaningful language.

But it is not in contemplation of the future alone that I come to my final point. I submit, Mr. Speaker, that even now when faced with a possible invasion by executive encroachment of our legislative powers, it seems abundantly clear that this General Assembly, certainly for several generations past, and perhaps for much longer, has not functioned as an equal and entirely independent part of this Commonwealth government. The powers of this honorable assemblage have too long been under partial eclipse by the executive.

Among the various areas of eclipse by the executive, I further submit, Mr. Speaker, that our principal loss in this chamber is, to a surprising extent, the power of the purse, the traditional weapon of parliaments from their earliest advent.

How was our power of the purse invaded? Well, at the risk of some over-simplification, the story runs along these lines. A half century ago, the problem was a relatively rudimentary one for the General Assembly to know rather intimately the appropriation needs, and to keep abreast of how funds were utilized by the then small and closely integrated agencies of State government. There were few governmental offices outside of Harrisburg in those days. The blueprint needed few, if any, guide lines.

And even in the Congress in Washington at the turn of the century, the problem of handling fiscal matters was one well within the capacity of Congressmen and U. S. Senators, aided by the merest handful of purely clerical, run-of-the-mine assistants. But as the costs and problems of national government mushroomed into the fantastic figures of the present era, the Houses of Congress, unlike this General Assembly, kept step with their obligations by setting up and expanding permanent staffs of brilliantly capable analysts, investigators and legal advisors attached to the various standing committees.

Clearly then, through its strong committee organizations, the legislative branch in Washington has preserved its Constitutional powers, unimpaired, beginning with the great power of the purse.

But we, and most other state legislatures, have not kept step with Congress, Mr. Speaker. We in Pennsylvania, and in many other great states, have not yet set up adequate legislative staff organizations. These staff aids need not necessarily be tied to individual committees; there are other workable forms of staff assistance. However, any scheme that we should adopt should enable us to function vigorously to the limits of our Constitutionally decreed powers.

And I am sure that I need not remind those who have served in this House in years before this current session, that no one has more eloquently and more cogently inveighed against this body's inability to gain fiscal insight into State government affairs than you, Mr. Speaker, during your long and distinguished service in the past as Minority Leader.

Although couched in somewhat different terms, Mr. Speaker, you seem to have been calling us to equip our legislative agencies to meet these difficult challenges of the mid-twentieth century.

Now it may be asked, what has the need for strengthening the legislative effectiveness of this General Assembly got to do with House Bill No. 1?

Well, for one thing, the central thought of House Bill No. 1 seems built upon the assumption that the General Assembly may be considered a corral of thumb-twiddlers, confused and vacuous.

In fact, to me, Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 1 is in the way of an affront to this legislative branch. It is a call to abdicate in the matter of legislation of highest import. Those advisors of the Governor, who have spawned this iniquitous scheme to muzzle the powers of these chambers, must have been carried away by the urgings of expediency. Their approach, in the beginning, was a hurried, frenzied one. Anything to get on with the job.

Yet, Mr. Speaker, is not far-reaching reorganization legislation the job of the Legislature? Surely, the more important the legislation, the more important that it be handled correctly and constitutionally.

Moreover, is it not clear, Mr. Speaker that this problem of the need for reorganization involves the workings of this General Assembly itself, as well as the executive?

Then too, is it not logical that we, the proper and Constitutional agency for formulating an denacting improved organizational statutes, should first set our own house in order? That we should equip these chambers to handle such problems in stride, incidentally regaining fully the power of the purse?

There is time to strengthen our own legislative machine. The wild, frenzied dash to do over the State government in ten minutes has passed. Both the Governor and Senator Barr now talk of no significant reorganizational changes being in order before 1957.

Once we have developed the capacity of these chambers to cope with the spiralling problems of the twentieth century, by setting up adequate staff services, then let us proceed to do a good job in improving the State government in all of its branches.

But for the moment, let us not shamefully surrender our power to legislate, which proposition is implicit in House Bill No. 1. May I therefore, Mr. Speaker, urge the members to vote against the Conferee's report before us.

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, we are awaiting the printing of the Committee of Conference report on House Bill 120. It is the only important matter left for disposition today. Although there are other matters which may come up, this is the only one of importance.

As it may take several hours to complete the printing of it, I am requesting that the House recess for a reasonable length of time, and when we return we can dispose of House Bill No. 120.

The only changes which have been made therein by the Committee of Conference have been ,as explained yesterday, correctional amendments. No substantive clause of the bill as written by the Senate has been changed in any way. There was an error in the bill which we deemed important enough to correct by a Committee of Conference and that is the only change made in the bill.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. EHRGOOD asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. WALLACE asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mr. GELFAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by him.

Mrs. DONAHUE asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill to be introduced by her.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. READINGER. Before the recess is declared I would like to inform the Members of the House that the session tomorrow will be a consent calendar day, but that there has been no decision to make Wednesday, April 13th, a consent calendar day. To all intents and purposes that will be a full business day.

The SPEAKER. The Majority Leader requests a recess until what time?

Mr. READINGER. Until 4:30.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair notes the presence in the House of a former Member, from Philadelphia, Mr. O'Brien, who has not visited us lately. The Chair welcomes him in the Hall of the House.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the Members, when we adjourn tomorrow we are going to adjourn until April 13th, which is a Wednesday, at 11:00 o'clock in the morning, and not as was specified before at 4:30. We are going to meet at 11:00 o'clock that day.

RESOLUTION

LEGISLATIVE CORRESPONDENT'S DINNER

The SPEAKER. We have a very, very important resolution which managed in some way to get into the hands of the Minority Leader. The Chair recognizes the Minority Leader for the purpose of presenting this very momentous and important resolution. This resolution is accorded top priority and extreme privilege.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I believe the Speaker might be a bit prejudiced when he states that it is so important because of being an old newspaper man himself. But I do believe that it is an important resolution to every Member herein the House. I am quite sure that immediately upon hearing the title, you will realize its importance and I certainly wish you would listen to this resolution as it is being read because I know all of you are going to want to enjoy part of it and that you will enjoy some part of it.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 1955

Serial No. U Printer's No. XYZ.
By Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondents Association

"LOOSE IN THE ROOST"

To the members of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania, Legislative Engineers, Politicians, et al

Whereas, unseemly squawking noises have been emanating from the Harrisburg Roost, and

Whereas, sundry, plump Republican chickens have disappeared from said roost, and

Whereas, a number of Democratic fat cats have been seen clawing feathers from their teeth, and

Whereas, the eternal question of which came first, the chicken or the egg-head, is also involved; therefore be it

Resolved, That all hands in the Roost who can dig up ten dollars ($10), be admitted to the thirtieth biennial dinner and gridiron show to be held by the Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondents' Association in the Penn Harris Hotel on Wednesday, May 11, 1955, at 7:30 o'clock (daylight saving time) to hear the real lowdown on who raided the roost and why and how and when and for what; and be it further

Resolved, That all roosters (NOTE-all hens are barred), who love the more robust forms of entertainment, and who have ten dollars or can borrow same, are hereby directed to obtain tickets for said expose at the News Room in the State Capitol on strictly a first come, first served basis.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the Chair will declare a recess for one hour. The Chair hears none and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. MILLS and STANK. HOUSE BILL No. 776.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. FRANK and MULDOWNEY. RESOLUTION No. 50.

In the House of Representatives, March 28, 1955.

There have been complaints from time to time about the unsatisfactory manner in which school athletics are governed and dictortorial methods used by the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association.

James Neely used distatorial powers to stop the Allen town and Reading High School bands from playing between the halves of the regional preliminary Class A playoff, because he claimed to believe they made too much noise.

The standards of high school athletic program administration in Pennsylvania are far below that of other states and some schools in Pennsylvania do not participate.

Why should an independent organization control the athletic activities of Pennsylvania public schools, and especially when it is dependent upon admission to basketball playoffs and other games and activities for its existence; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint a committee of six members of the House of Representatives to study and investigate the PIAA for the purpose of eliminating its dictatorial activities and to seek means of strengthening the high school athletic programs, and to consider the advisability of bringing the high school athletic and sports program under the Department of Public Instruction, or of creating a State Board of Recreation by appropriate legislation for the purpose of governing the high school athletic and sports program.

By Mrs. REIBMAN, Messrs. GAFFNEY, PACCHIOLI, BUCCHIN, YETTER and A. PATRICK BREEAN. RESOLUTION No. 51.

REQUESTING THE SECRETARY OF HIGHWAYS TO DETERMINE THE COST OF REPAIRING THE DELAWARE UPPER MOUNT BETHEL BRIDGE AND ASKING DELAWARE RIVER JOINT TOLL BRIDGE COMMISSION TO RECONSIDER THE CLOSING OF THE BRIDGE.

In the House of Representatives.

The Delaware Upper Mount Bethel Bridge, built in 1890 as a railroad bridge, was purchased by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in 1932 at a cost of Two Hundred Seventy-five Thousand ($275,000.00) Dollars, and established as a free highway bridge. Since that time the bridge has been heavily traveled, and in 1952 over two million vehicles made use of it.

The Delaware Upper Mount Bethel Bridge, an east-west roadway 733½ feet long supported by five through truss spans, is still strong and capable of rendering many more years of service.

The Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission recently constructed two new bridges, and in order to finance this construction a $29,500,000 bond issue was floated, with all of the toll bridges pledged as security. It was agreed that the Delaware Upper Mount Bethel Bridge would be closed and demolished in order to remove competition from the new bridges, and litigation is now pending in the United States Supreme Court to determine the propriety of this agreement. In the meantime the bridge has been closed, but demolition has been temporarily enjoined.

The closing of this bridge is a great economic waste to our Commonwealth. Many residents of the area, and particularly farmers, are being deprived of a reasonable means of egress to nearby communities and markets. Furthermore, the Delaware Upper Mount Bethel Bridge is a facility which would be of invaluable usefulness in case of a national emergency; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania direct the Secretary of Highways to determine the cost of repairing the Delaware Upper Mount Bethel Bridge and restoring it to its former utility; and to make a report of his findings to the House of Representatives within sixty days; and be it further Resloved, That the House of Representatives sincerely request the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission to reconsider its action in closing the bridge and permit the Delaware Upper Bethel Bridge to remain intact.

And Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the parties involved.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. YOUNG. RESOLUTION No. 52.

In the House of Representatives, March 29, 1955.

It has always been necessary for the proper functioning of the General Assembly that bills, resolutions, calendars, journals and other legislative documents, papers and pamphlets be speedily printed and distributed in such manner that a sufficient number of copies thereof shall at all times be available for the use of the General Assembly, its officers and members and agencies of the State government.

No survey of legislative printing and the distribution thereof has been made for a considerable period, during which many changes in the agencies and functions of the State government have taken place, and the cost of the printing has increased many times its former cost; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint a committee of three House members to investigate the costs of legislative printing, the prevalence of errors therein, the allocation and distribution of printed legislative documents, pamphlets, and papers, and all other matters pertaining to all printing necessary for the conduct of legislation.

RESOLUTION (Not Printed).

In the House of Representatives, March 29, 1955.

Karen Anderson, a sixteen-year-old Lansdowne-Aldan High School junior, recently set the Pan-American Games javelin record.

With a perfectly executed throw of one hundred sixty-one feet, three inches, this vivacious young beauty brought sporting fame not only to herself, but to all American youth, whom she so admirably and successfully represented

Karen, an Honor Society student, offers refreshing evidence that the stern business of acquiring a formal education can be tempered with the self-discipline and courage that are so essential to the achievement of success in competitive athletic contests; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania extends to Miss Karen Anderson, its most hearty congratulations for her brilliant achievement as an athlete and as an ambassador of good will; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives transmits a copy of this resolution to Miss Karen Anderson.

In the House of Representatives, March 28, 1955.

Mrs. Lulu Hall Pratt of Coatesville, Pennsylvania has been selected to hold the title and honor of State Mother of Pennsylvania for the year of 1955, by the Pennsylvania Mother of the Year Committee.

Mrs. Pratt's exemplary participation in and leadership of civic and community affairs, in addition to her chosen career as a mother and housewife, has not only earned her the richly deserved honor which she has recently received, but the love and admiration of her community.

Examples of her community activities include membership on the Board of Directors of the local Y. W. C. A., lifelong membership in the W C. T. U., membership in the Coatesville Century Club since 1908, having served as president of that Club from 1926 to 1929, the sponsorship of classwork in dressmaking, public speaking, interior decorating, parlimentary practice, painting and French, sponsorship of a lecture course for mothers which was given in the public schools, promotion of three free public art exhibits, founding of the Junior Century Club of Coatesville in 1928, service as President of the Chester County Federation of Women's Clubs from 1929 to 1933 concurrent with service on the Board of County Welfare Associations, assisting in setting up and operation of a mobile library, and intensive Red Cross and hospital work, as well as public library and Parent-Teacher Association activity; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby extends its hearty congratulations to Mrs Lulu Hall Pratt on the great honor which has been bestowed upon her, and wishes her many more years of continued usefulness to her community and further realization of the joy to be had from a feeling of accomplishment and public spirited activities; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to Mrs. Lulu Hall Pratt at her home at 313 East Chestnut Street, Coatesville, Pennsylvania.

In the House of Representative, March, 1955.

At a meeting of the New Bethlehem Chamber of Commerce, W. C. Martin, President of the Area Development Company, announced that the Crawford Furniture Manufacturing Corporation's new plant would be dedicated and officially opened on April 29, 1955, a date that should live long in the memories of Redbank Valley citizens.

A complete program is being planned for the dedication ceremony and a "Crawford Week" celebration is also being arranged to help make the dedication an event to remember.

The spanking-new brick and aluminum building, modern in every respect and to contain the latest in woodworking, machinery and tools will be an asset to the community.

Crawford-trained men are moving into the valley with four families already established and others coming soon to handle the organization and training duties.

Practically all of the labor force will be comprised of local men and employment details will soon be announced by the Crawford concern.

"Furniture World," a large and important trade publication, will feature the new Crawford plant and the story of its coming to the New Bethlehem community; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives hereby extends its congratulations to Clyne Crawford, President of the Crawford Furniture Manufacturing Corporation, on the dedication and official opening of the new plant and to the borough of New Bethlehem and its residents for continued progress, prosperity, success and happiness on the road to industrial development and the promotion of good government for the benefit of the community at large; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to Clyne Crawford, President of the Crawford Furniture Manufacturing Corporation, to the President of the New Bethlehem Borough Council and to W. C. Martin, President of the Area Development Company of New Bethlehem Borough, Clarion County, Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committe on Rules.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Mr. FROST asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 29, 1955.

John H. Wallin, the former representative to the House of Representatives from Centre County, passed away on Wednesday, March 23, 1955.

The Honorable John H. Wallin was born in Clearfield County on July 21, 1887, the son of Henry and Augusta Wallin, and educated in the public schools there. He moved to Philipsburg, Centre County, in 1908, married the former Laura Byron and was blessed with one daughter, Patricia. Engaged in the lumber and coal business, Mr. Wallin also owned and operated an attractive Centre County farm.

John H. Wallin was an ardent sports fan and took a great interest in all sporting activities of the area. He also contributed much of his time to civic matters. Mr. Wallin served as a borough councilman from 1925 to 1936, and as chief burgess of Philipsburg for six years before being elected to the House of Representatives in 1942.

To those of us who served with Representative Wallin and to all who were privileged to know this fine gentleman, his death is indeed a heartfelt loss; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives extend their deepest and most sincere sympathy to the widow of the Honorable John H. Wallin; and be it further Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the House be requested to forward a copy of this resolution to Mrs. Laura Byron Wallin in Philipsburg.

Section 804 Recovery and Recoupment of Compensation

(b) Any person who other than by reason of his fault has received with respect to a benefit year any sum as compensation under this act to which he was not entitled shall not be liable to repay such sum but shall be liable to have such sum deducted from any future compensation payable to him with respect to such benefit year or the three-year period immediately following such benefit year Provided That with respect to overpayments of one hundred dollars or more recoupment from such future compensation shall not exceed one-third of the maximum benefit amount to which such person is entitled during any such subsequent benefit year nor one-third of the weekly benefit amount to which such person may be entitled for any particular week In the absence of misrepresentation or non-disclosure of a material fact no recoupment shall be had if such overpayment is created by reason of (1) a subsequent reversal of a decision of eligibility under the provisions of section five hundred one (e) of this act or (2) a retroactive allocation of wages pursuant to an award of a labor relations board arbitrator or the like unless such award provides for the repayment of unemployment compensation benefits received during the period to which such wages are allocated or (3) the subsequent receipt of holiday pay vacation pay or the like of which the person had no knowledge or (4) a subsequent determination that the person's base year wages were not earned in employment as defined in this act No provision of this subsection shall be construed to prevent or prohibit the voluntary repayment of compensation by such person or the maintenance of records of overpayments by the department [In determining whether or not recoupment from future compensation would be inequitable or unconscionable the claimant's financial worth shall not be considered]

The claimant and other affected parties shall be notified in writing of the department's determination to deduct any sum from future compensation under this section and such determination shall be subject to appeal in the manner provided in this act for appeals from determinations of compensation

Section 10 This act shall take effect immediately

On the question,

Will the House adopt the Report of the Committee on Conference?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, and fellow Members, I had hoped that in the Senate this bill would be corrected in certain respects so that such meritorious features as raising maximum weekly benefits from $30 to $35, a flat 30 week eligibilty for benefits, removal of the peril point, and the like; that all these features could be enacted into law.

However, those provisions of the bill which opened wide the gate to fringe benefits are still in the bill before us today.

Some of these fringe benefits in themselves are of a worthy and humanitarian cut. But you cannot have everything in life. Not even Americans, Mr. Speaker, for example, you cannot circumvent arithmetic. And that is just what House Bill No. 120, which lies upon our desks today, would attempt to do.

This bill would atempt to encompass this very full and enormously costly array of fringe benefits into the State Unemployment Compensation system. How costly these fringe benefits would be is a matter of difference between the State Chamber of Commerce and the bill's sponsors.

As to which estimate is right, neither I nor any other uninitiated member of this House can judge.

But several broad facts do remain clear. The fringe benefits would quickly drain the present fund. A new tax table, revised upward, has to be invoked to raise the potential of the fund.

And let no one labor under the illusion that these new rates are not permanent. True, Mr. Speaker, the new table has its lines A, B and C. But the logic of an upward rate climb seems inescapable. For the fringe benefits would breach the dam of reasonable safeguards for the fund. The rush can well be something in the nature of the earlier history of hospitals, doctor's and dentist's offices engulfed by clamoring hypochondiacs during the earlier days of socialized medicine in England.

If the fears of the State Chamber of Commerce should reach optimum fulfillment, the fund would be drained to the point where the employer's taxes will all rise to the top figure of 2.7 per cent.

What an incentive that would be for attracting new businesses to Pennsylvania, Mr. Speaker? Or for encouraging present enterprises to remain within our borders?

But supposing that the employer's rate of contribution does not rise to 2.7 per cent? Still what will be the effect upon developing fresh business enterprise in Pennsylvania?

Now our manufacturers compete in the nation's markets with the manufacturers of other states. The bipartisan Tax Study Committee headed by Professor Buehler announced some interesting facts last January. For example, a tax study of 54 small corporations in Pennsylvania showed that they labor under a heavy handicap when standing up to out-of-state manufacturers. Had these Pennsylvania plants been operating in Ohio, Mr. Speaker, their taxes would have been only 38 per cent of the taxes they paid to Harrisburg. If in Illinois, only 41 per cent; Indiana, 60 per cent and Michigan, 67 per cent.

And speaking of handicaps, Pennsylvania's present unemployment compensation law itself carries with it elements of handicap. I cite the example recently mentioned in the State Chamber of Commerce letter to the Governor. In the case of one Pennsylvania major employer whose U. C. tax rate in this state was 0.7 per cent. The rate in Ohio and Indiana was 0.1 per cent and in Illinois 0.25 per cent.

For one thing, Mr. Speaker, these states are reported to operate their unemployment compensation systems under much stricter standards of eligibility than Pennsylvania.

But as I see it, this is not the principal underlying reason why Pennsylvania manufacturers are penalized when competing against producers in these three other states, plus Michigan.

Their advantage, I believe, Mr. Speaker, lies in their tax structure. They rely heavily upon a broad-base tax to run their governments. Pennsylvania relys heavily on a heavy tax upon business—upon a business structure which is beginning to show too many spots that are static at best, and at worst, receding.

And so now today, with a bill before us like House Bill No. 120, I say "Here we go again"—compounding the cancerous inroads of an over-concentrated exposure of business to taxes.

I am aware, Mr. Speaker, that thousands of our citizens are unemployed, that they face grim problems of survival, of groping for peace of mind, of painfully reaching for some avenue wherein may be found hope for retnrning to a sense of economic well being. No one could help but be deeply touched by so much misery within our borders.

And it is in a mood of solemn contemplation of the plight of those whose immediate future is fraught with so little promise that I come to view this bill—No. 120.

Had the bill's provisions been confined to increased benefits in money and time and removal of the peril point, I believe that it would have been a workable change, Mr. Speaker.

But the danger of a flash flood of fringe benefits claims leaving in their wake a financial vacuum, whose space once was occupied by the unemployment compensation fund, seems an irresponsible gamble with the fate of those who have already drunk deep from the cup of misery.

After all, Mr. Speaker, their one real, permanent hope is the creation of new jobs. And new jobs come from new enterprises. And new enterprises locate where they can make a profit. Certainly they don't locate where they are going to wear some handicapping mill stone—taxes, freight rates, climate and the like.

Chamber-of-commerce like promotional methods can hardly off set the forbidding qualities of such business deterrents as heavy taxes, high freight rates, cold climate, and the like. These are the cardinal factors, Mr. Speaker, and chamber-of-commerce inducements deal generally with but secondary factors, and less.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I intend to vote gainst House Bill No. 120 because I believe that for the long pull—and quite possibly not such a long pull at that—this bill contains the potentialities—in fact I could well say the probabilities—that it can be the means of increasing unemployment in Pennsylvania—that a drained unemployment fund would place an additional burden upon business which would mean fewer jobs, rather than more jobs.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the Report of the Committee of Conference?

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 120

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has adopted the report of the Committee of Conference on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses on House Bill numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 120.

An Act amending the Act of December five one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven P. L. 2897) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis requiring employers to keep records and make reports and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" by redefining certain terms increasing minimum contributions providing for modification of the manner in which contribution rates are determined and redetermined shortening the period necessary to obtain a reduced contribution rate providing for modification of the manner in which eligibility for compensation is determined increasing the amounts and duration of compensation payments removing certain limitations on the amount and duration of compensation and extending the penal and related provisions of the act

BILL SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 120.

An Act amending the Act of December five one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven P. L. 2897) entitled "An act establishing a system of unemployment compensation to be administered by the Department of Labor and Industry and its existing and newly created agencies with personnel (with certain exceptions) selected on a civil service basis requiring employers to keep records and make reports and certain employers to pay contributions based on payrolls to provide moneys for the payment of compensation to certain unemployed persons providing procedure and administrative details for the determination payment and collection of such contributions and the payment of such compensation providing for cooperation with the Federal Government and its agencies creating certain special funds in the custody of the State Treasurer and prescribing penalties" by redefining certain terms increasing minimum contributions providing for modification of the manner in which contribution rates are determined and redetermined shortening the period necessary to obtain a reduced contribution rate providing for modification of the manner in which eligibility for compensation is determined increasing the amounts and duration of compensation payments removing certain limitations on the amount and duration of compensation and extending the penal and related provisions of the act.

SENATE BILL No. 15.

An Act amending the act of July 5, 1947 (P. L. 1335), entitled "An act to provide for an inventory of existing hospitals; for a survey of the need for additional hospital facilities; and for the development and administration of a hospital construction program, which will in conjunction with existing facilities, afford hospitals adequate to serve all people of the State; and appropriating money; establishing methods of administration and control; providing for compliance with the requirements of the Federal Hospital Survey and Construction Act and regulations thereunder authorizing the acceptance and expenditure of Federal funds in accordance with such requirements; and placing additional duties upon the Department of Welfare," bringing the act within the scope of the federal Medical Facilities Survey and Construction Act of 1954; and making an appropriation.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. HARVEY P. MURRAY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Wednesday, March 30, 1955, at 10:00 a. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 6:43 p. m.) the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 30, 1955. No. 32.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, March 30, 1955.

The Senate met at 10:00 o'clock, a.m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the following Prayer was offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH:

Our dear Father in heaven, we come to Thee this morning and we thank Thee that Thou hast given us health and strength during the night as we start a new day to us, full of opportunities. We pray, as we go back to our homes and go through these Holy Days ahead, that we may be spiritually enriched so that when we come back, we may be stronger to do the work which Thou hast given us to do.

We pray Thy blessing upon our fellow Members who are indisposed, and that it is Thy will that they may be strengthened and renewed to renew their work with us when we come back.

Keep us loyal and true so that each day somewhere, somehow we may render a service to Thee through serving our fellow men.

We ask it in Thy holy name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. HAYS, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. VAN SANT, due to illness.

He also asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. PROPERT, due to illness

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, back in 1949, right after the Donora disaster, a resolution was introduced in the Senate to investigate smoke and dust control in Pennsylvania. The job was turned over to the Joint State Government Commission and I, for one, want to compliment that Commission for the splendid job it did in the preparation of a report and for the submission of suggestions to cope with the problem.

However, in spite of the splendid report that was filed by the Joint State Government Commission, legislation on the subject was never sponsored by the Administration then in power.

Mr. President, because the problem is a serious one in the District I represent, I introduced bills in the 1951 and 1953 Sessions to carry out the recommendations of the Joint State Government Commission. Unfortunately, the bills died in committee. I am now making a third attempt to have a smoke and dust control bill pass by the Legislature of Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, when I introduced a bill similar to the one that I am about to introduce in the 1951 and 1953 Sessions, one of the lobbyists who hangs around here came to me and said, "That bill will never see the light of day." Frankly, it never did see the light of days because, as I said before, it died in committee.

Frankly, Mr. President, I think we should give not only those who oppose this type of legislation, the railroads and industry, consideration, but we ought to give consideration to the rank and file of the people who are affected by the smoke and the dust and soot that rains upon the homes and the streets and the property, generally, of the residents in the areas involved.

Mr. President, we have just that kind of an area, fortunately, and I am certainly happy and glad that the industries which I am going to mention are in our county. It is the cement industry. However, from what I am able to learn, that industry is doing very, very little to control the dust that pours upon the towns and villages in the area involved. As a result, there are thousands and thousands of dollars in property damage in the area. Because the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania does not have an effective control law on its books, a group from the boroughs of Northampton, from Bath, from Nazareth, from Martins-Creek and that whole area, a short time ago went to Washington and appeared before a Senate Committee and, from the newspaper accounts of that hearing, the Senators in Washington were amazed to learn of the tons and tons of dust that rain upon those communities every day in the week.

Mr. President, to say that the cement industry could not do something about it is an error, because I understand from an expert who made a survey in the area a short time ago that there is a contraption which the cement industry could use effectively to reduce the pouring of this dust on these villages to a minimum. I turned over this bill, or the study report made by the Joint State Government Commission, to this expert from Penn State. He is a professor there. I asked him to examine it and make such amendments as he thought were proper and necessary. This was done and those amendments are incorporated in this bill.

Mr. President, I certainly hope that the committee to which this bill will be referred will extend the courtesy of a hearing to the residents in the area, so that they could also show the Senate just how important it is that we pass some sort of smoke and dust control legislation at this Session of the Legislature.

Mr. President, under this bill it is not mandatory that it be effective in every county in the State. It is a local option proposition, and action would have to be taken by the county commissioners in those areas affected in order to make the provisions of this bill effective. I think it is only fair that, on a local option basis, we pass this bill or else give it serious consideration so that the condition complained of, at least in my District, can be cured.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. YOSKO read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 279, entitled:

An Act regulating the emission of smoke, dust and fumes into the atmosphere; establishing a State Air Pollution Control Commission in the Department of Health and fixing its powers and duties; providing for the organization of the various counties into air pollution control districts, the appointment of their various officers and employes, and prescribing their powers and duties; providing financial assistance to such air pollution control districts; authorizing the county commissioners to make appropriations thereto; and fixing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, in line with this bill which has just been introduced, I want to make a suggestion to the Senator from Northampton, that if they elect vigorous leaders in their communities, they can do a lot to clean up smoke and dust.

Mr. President, I remember when I first went into Pittsburgh, forty-six years ago. I was born in Potter County where the air is pure and full of sunshine. The first ten days I was in Pittsburgh, I never saw the top of a building, There was not a light on the streets or on street cars for ten solid days. Today the city of Pittsburgh, which has been known throughout the world as the "Smoky City," is one of the cleanest if not the cleanest city in the United States.

Mr. President, that is mainly due because we had a Mayor who was not afraid to tackle anything. He tackled that problem seven or eight years ago, and today Pittsburgh is the cleanest city in the United States.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I want to say to the distinguished gentleman from Allegheny, Senator McGinnis, that the officials in the area involved are of the type that the distinguished Senator talked about. They are properly organized in the area. They took this matter to court; they obtained a consent decree, which is difficult of enforcement. However, Mr. President, there is one thing lacking down in our area that was not lacking in the city of Pittsburgh; that is, cooperation from those who are responsible for nuisance.

Mr. President, I understand that Mayor Lawrence, because of his splendid personality and his vigor and his forthright demand for action, got that action from the industries which were responsible for emitting this smoke in the city of Pittsburgh, that gave Pittsburgh the reputation of being the "Smoky City," which today I agree with the Senator has been eliminated and the city of Pittsburgh has been praised in national magazines all over the Country. As a matter of fact, the air is so pure out there now and the smoke has gone to such an extent that Pittsburgh is becoming a convention city. That certainly is a credit not only to Mayor Lawrence and the officials of the city of Pittsburgh, but to the cooperation of the industry in the area as well. If we could get that same cooperation from the cement mills, and the steel mills and all of the other mills that emit this dust and smoke in our area, perhaps this bill would not be necessary.

While I am at it, Mr. President, I might say that we introduced a bill yesterday for industrial expansion and rehabilitation here in the State of Pennsylvania. We want to encourage industry to come into the State.

I can prove to you that at least two or three industries wanted to settle in this area, which would have employed anywhere from 600 to 1,000 people. However, after making a survey of the tons and tons of dust that pour upon these communities, every day in the week, these industries decided this was not the place for them to settle. As a result, some other portion of the State got those industries and not the area involved.

I say to you that when industry will not cooperate, we must have some kind of a tool to compel them to cooperate. This is it, in the form of this bill, if this Legislature will pass it.

BILLS SIGNED

The President (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 219, entitled:

An Act amending the act of January 21, 1947 (P. L. 3), entitled "An act relating to officers and employes of the General Assembly; fixing the number, qualifications, compensation, mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the Senate and of the House of Representatives; providing for their election or appointment, term of office, or of service removal, and manner of filling vacancies; and making appropriations to the Senate, House of Representatives and Legislative Reference Bureau," changing the compensation of certain officers and employes; and making appropriations.

House Bill No. 317, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for payments to school districts on account of rentals payable to municipal authorities and nonprofit corporations.

House Bill No. 318, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the twenty-second day of August, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Appropriation Acts, page 54), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three, and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three," providing for deficiencies in certain appropriations made by the act for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-five.

House Bill No. 506, entitled:

An Act to amend an act, approved the twenty-second day of August, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Appropriation Acts, page 54), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three, and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three," by changing the amount appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction.

Whereupon,

The President (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, the State Industrial Authority, which is proposed by the Leader Administration and, I believe, supported by a great many Members of this Senate, is in my opinion the most important piece of legislation which was proposed at this Session of the Legislature.

Mr. President, I feel sure that from my contacts with Members of the Senate, on both sides of the aisle, this legislation will be passed without too much opposition.

Mr. President, the Members of the Senate and the Administration have explored this particular field since the November election and have been in contact with the States of New York, Ohio, Michigan and all the New England States. For your information, Mr. President, the State of New York and all of the New England States now have similar legislation on their statute books. I feel that the legislation which was sponsored yesterday contains a number of good features of the legislation which is in effect in the New England States, in New York and in Michigan.

This legislation, Mr. President, does not in my opinion authorize a give away program. The legislation is solid in principle. It is nothing more than the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania investing moneys in areas where they have surplus labor. This legislation, in my opinion, will be of great assistance to western Pennsylvania and especially to our bituminous coal areas where involuntary unemployment and its resultant burden of indigency falls with a crushing force upon the unemployed worker who is ambitious, ready and willing to work to provide for his family.

It is my opinion, Mr. President, that the prospective health, safety, morals and right to gainful employment, and the general welfare of the people of this Commonwealth, requires a program of promotion and development within the areas of critical unemployment in commercial, industrial and manufacturing enterprises. I might also add that I, for one, plan to boost this legislation with every means at my command. There is no question in my mind that all of these industrial development agencies throughout our Commonwealth will be more than willing to cooperate one hundred per cent with the provisions of this legislation.

Mr. President, I have reviewed the legislation which is on our statute books in surrounding States and I might say that in Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Conecticut they have this type of legislation. It has passed and it is functioning today. New York State has an industrial development corporation which is similar in part to the legislation which we sponsored.

I have heard remarks that probably some of the opposition might feel that we are giving something away. I say to you that this $20,000,000 appropriation is money which will be well spent and I, for one, will support taxes to create this $20,000,000. We, in Pennsylvania, today are confronted with a critical unemployment crisis. If we cannot have a public works program with the help of the Federal Government, we should adopt this legislation because our people want the right to work. They want the right to be gainfully employed.

I note in the newspapers, Mr. President, that the Federal Government has a subcommittee up in Blair County reviewing the critical unemployment conditions that exist in that particular area.

So I feel, Mr. President, that we should all forget our Party politics when it comes to legislation of this type. If anyone has any opposition to it, let us sit down and work it out. Let us not try to kill the bill. Let us work it out and I feel sure that on our side we will accept any reasonable amendment, but we should pass this legislation as early as possible because we are getting into the summer months now and things are going to shut down over our way. We will have to have something started. I, for one, ask your cooperation and if there is anything we do this Session, let us pass this legislation and help our people to go to work.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, fifteen years or more ago some far sighted men, realizing the importance of an adequate water supply along the Delaware River for the purposes of industrial agricultural expansion, as well as an adequate water supply for public consumption, organized to devise plans and ways and means of harnessing the water in the Delaware River during the wet seasons so that there would be a steady flow of water during the dry seasons.

For that purpose, Mr. President, the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin was organized. It has representation from the States of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware. This group, after exhaustive research by reputable engineers, including Army Engineers, devised a plan for the construction of a series of dams along the Delaware to carry out the purpose of the project. The INCODEL Plan was submitted to each of the States involved. It was approved by New Jersey, New York and Delaware. However, when the time came to approve the plan in Pennsylvania, it was objected to by former Governor Fine and he appointed a committee to investigate the INCODEL Plan.

This committee, after a study, recommended rejection of INCODEL and the establishment of an authority and also recommended that the State go into the Lehigh River watershed for a water supply into the Philadelphia area. Of course, to that I would object because I live there. Whatever water is available in the Lehigh River area is needed for the Lehigh Valley area where we have considerable industry and agriculture, and expanding community life.

Mr. President, because Pennsylvania rejected the INCODEL Plan and there was nothing done about the plan recommended by Governor Fine's committee, the State of New York filed a petition with the Supreme Court for an additional water supply. The Supreme Court had previously allocated 440,000,000 gallons a day tothe State of New York. The State of New York came in for 360 additional million gallons a day. Pennsylvania, through Mr. Schnader, filed a petition to intervene, and in that petition contended that New York was not entitled to another drop of water from the Delaware.

As a result, New York and New Jersey joined together to build proper dams that would give each of those two States the water they needed, which would leave Pennsylvania out in the cold. When Mr. Schnader, as I understand it, realized this development there was an agreement negotiated which became a part of the proceedings and the order of the Supreme Court. Under this agreement, the State of New York was to get its additional 360,000,000 gallons of water a day and for that purpose was to build a dam at Canonsville, New York. New Jersey was to get 100,000,000 gallons of water a day, to flow through the Raritan Canal which would remove the cloud on its legal right to the use of the Raritan Canal, and Pennsylvania was given the right to build a dam at Walpack-Bend. To do that, a compact between Pennsylvania and New Jersey had to be amended to authorize Pennsylvania to build that dam.

I also understand, Mr. President, that as a part of the agreement, the State of New Jersey was to pass a bill carrying out the provisions of the agreement as well as the order of the Supreme Court. New Jersey passed that bill, and in it there is a provision that Pennsylvania must concur on or before July 1, 1955. Such a bill has been introduced in the Pennsylvania Senate, after discussions between members of the Pennsylvania and New Jersey Legislatures as well as the Governors of the two States. As a result, there is now pending before the House and the Senate a bill, as I said before, to concur in the provisions of the bill passed by the State of New Jersey.

Mr. President, I understand now that there is some objection to that bill by members of the Pennsylvania Legislature, because they are not satisfied that it is the proper thing for Pennsylvania to do at this time. In that connection, Mr. President, I believe the time has come for a legislative committee to be formed to go into this water problem along the Delaware, because it is important. New Jersey set up such a committee and New York set up such a committee. I understand that today the New Jersey and New York committees are conferring up in Albany. We have until July 1 to take action. I think we ought to look into this matter further. I think it should be a legislative committee which looks into it because the Legislature, unfortunately, has been disregarded in the past in these conferences and in these studies.

Therefore, Mr. President, with the co-sponsorship of Senator Scott, who has an interest in this problem in his Senatorial District, I am presenting this resolution.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

JOINT COMMITTEE TO STUDY AND EXAMINE VARIOUS PLANS DEVELOPED FOR THE DISTRIBUTION OF WATER FROM THE DELAWARE RIVER

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. YOSKO and SCOTT offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, March 30, 1955.

The equitable distribution of the waters of the Delaware River among the states of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Delaware that abut the river has been a subject of controversy for years.

The Interstate Commission on the Delaware River a few years ago made a study and presented a plan for the diversion and use of the waters of the Delaware, which plan was ratified and adopted by the states of New York, New Jersey and Delaware, but has not been ratified by Pennsylvania.

Pursuant to litigation before it, the Supreme Court of the United States has entered an order defining the rights in the Delaware River water.

In the light of this order and in an effort to proceed thereunder the state of New Jersey has adopted legislation intended to form a basis of a compact with Pennsylvania for the building of dams and reservoirs and the diversion, storage and use of water therefrom. The law adopted by New Jersey by its terms is contingent upon the acceptance of its provisions by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on or before the first day of July, 1955.

A bill is now pending in the Senate of Pennsylvania, the purpose of which is to accept the proposal of the state of New Jersey for the allocation of water rights between these two states.

Question has been raised whether or not the proposal made by New Jersey is advantageous to this Commonwealth and whether the members of Pennsylvania's General Assembly are sufficiently acquainted with the facts involved to pass judgement at this time, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That a Study Commission be created consisting of seven members, three of whom shall be Senators appointed by the President pro tempore, three of whom shall be Members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker, and one of whom shall be a citizen of Pennsylvania, not a member of the General Assembly appointed by the Governor of the Commonwealth, and that it shall be the duty of the committee to study and examine the various plans developed for the distribution of water from the Delaware River and the effect of the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States thereon, as well as the effect of the legislation adopted by the State of New Jersey and the proposed acceptance thereof by Pennsylvania. The committee shall confer with the legislative committee and other proper persons in the states of New Jersey, New York and Delaware and shall resolve the problem equitably and impartially to all of the states affected, and be it further

Resolved, That the commission make a report with its recommendation to the Governor and to each house of the General Assembly on or before the first day of June, 1955.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read be adopted.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I am happy to agree with my two colleagues, Senator Yosko and Senator Scott, that a committee such as this is neded to study the problem and enlighten the Legislature on the true facts.

Mr. President, about three weeks ago, Senator Yosko, Senator Scott, and myself and others met with a committee representing the State of New Jersey. Senator DuMont, the Majority Leader of the Senate of New Jersey, was there with others and they tried to present their side of the problem. We also had our representatives who presented our side. There was some question as to the amount of damage that would be done to Pike County, in Pennsylvania, if this dam were constructed, and there were various and sundry other questions involved in this matter. We tried to work out our differences at that meeting, but after the meeting was over there were a lot of questions which were left unanswered.

Therefore, Mr. President, I think this resolution is a very good one, and I think we need to have our representatives meet with their representatives along the lines suggested by this resolution and therefore, I wish to second the motion that this resolution be adopted.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, April 18, 1955, at 3:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. DIEHM. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11:54 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Monday, April 18, 1955, at 3:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, March 30, 1955

The House met at 10:00 a. m.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, York, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God and our ever loving Father, we come to Thee this day in the name of Jesus Christ who is the lover of our souls and the Saviour of all mankind.

O God, we look with pride upon the history which our fathers have written by their heroic deeds. We accept with gratitude the inheritance which they have bequeathed to us. We, today, before Thy throne of grace highly resolve to preserve this inheritance unimpaired and to pass it on to our descendants enlarged and enriched. To this end we pray, that Thou wouldst strengthen the faith, give sane perspective, and the highest motives and courage to these leaders and representatives of our beloved State. Bless and keep in Thy everlasing care and watchfulness the members of this body, its officers and its servants. In the midst of their many responsibilities grant them Thy guidance and peace.

O Lord, as we remember again this Lenten tide all the pain, all the loneliness Thou didst feel and the spiritual blindness that broke Thy heart, give us grace that we may not crucify Thee afresh but, loving Thee, keep Thy commandments. In Thy name we pray it. Amen.

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair has no desire at any time to interfere with the management of House personnel. The Chair, however, desires to state that if we come to any session where we do not have any Sergeant-at-Arms present, the Chair will insist on a roll call of House employes before we proceed.

The Chair would ask the gentleman from Erie to cease his conference with the gentleman from Clearfield and preside during this session. The gentleman from Erie, Mr. Polaski.

Mr. POLASKI IN THE CHAIR.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, March 29, 1955 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. CHARLES C. SMITH and JOHNSON.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 53.

In the House of Representatives, March 30, 1955.

Whereas, The Unemployment Compensation Act directly or indirectly affects the economic life of every citizen of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, Each year since its first enactment in 1936, the Unemployment Compensation Law and its application has become more and more complex; and

Whereas, The General Assembly has just completed extensive amendments of the Unemployment Compensation Act about which there has been a great deal of controversy; and

Whereas, House Bill No. 120, which amended the Unemployment Compensation Act, was introduced in the House of Representatives on February 7, referred to the Workmen's Compensation Committee on February 7, reported from Committee on February 7 and read for the first time in the House of Representatives on February 7, read for the second time on February 8 and read for the third time and passed finally on February 9, 1955; and

Whereas, The House of Representatives, at the time it acted on House Bill No. 120, was told an emergency existed in the Unemployment Compensation Fund; and

Whereas, The House of Representatives was informed by His Excellency, the Governor, that the changes in the benefits would increase the cost by less than $30,000,000 and increase the contributions of employers to $140,000,000; and

Whereas, Spokesmen of industry, subsequent to the passage of House Bill No. 120, by the House of Representatives, estimated that the changes in the benefits would increase the cost by more than $100,000,000 and the changes in rates, would increase the contributions of employers to more than $160,000,000; and

Whereas, It is obvious that the estimates supplied by the Governor and those made by industry cannot both be right; and

Whereas, The House of Representatives does not possess independent and impartial experts to determine the effect of the various changes in benefits and rates; and

Whereas, If the estimates of industry are even approximately correct, it is very evident the General Assembly will be faced with another emergency in the Unemployment Compensation Fund in 1956; and

Whereas, The General Assembly should have accurate information on the effect of the amendments made in the information on the effect on payrolls of the amendments to the Unemployment Compensation Act made by House Bill 120; therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be diretced, to make a continuing study of the effect of the amendments to the Unemployment Compensation Act of 1936, contained in House Bill 120, as well as other factors bearing on the future stability of the Unemployment Compensation Fund, and make a preliminary report to the House of Representatives before the end of this regular session, and a final report to the next session of the General Assembly; and be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Labor and Industry, and the Bureau of Employment Security, and all other government departments, boards and commissions with information on this subject, cooperate with the Joint State Government Commission in the study.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. A. PATRICK BRENNAN.

RESOLUTION No. 54.

In the House of Representatives, March 29, 1955.

It is highly desirable that all our churches and schools, both public and parochial be given consideration by electric companies; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House designate a standing committee of the House to investigate rates charged churches, public schools and parochial schools by public utility companies for electricity; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee may meet, hold hearings and take testimony. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the commission; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee make reports of its findings, together with its recommendations for appropriate legislation to this session of the Legislature from time to time as their work progresses.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. LOVETT and McWHERTER.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 55.

In the House of Representatives, February 21, 1955.

Whereas, Under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code, it is permissible to amortize more rapidly certain expenditures made for emergency facilities, and

Whereas, The President of the United States if he so finds may declare any area in the United States an acute distress area because of unemployment, surplus of labor or other economic cause, therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to support and enact into legislation amendments to the Internal Revenue Code so that capital expenditures in any area in the United States declared by the President to be an acute distress area because of unemployment, surplus of labor or other economic cause, may receive the same treatment with regard to depreciation allowances as emergency facilities receive under Section 168 of the Internal Revenue Code, and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each House of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PETITION—MINERAL POINT METHODIST CHURCH

The SPEAKER laid before the House a petition signed by members of the Mineral Point Methodist Church, Cambria County, protesting enactment of legislation legalizing all forms of gambling.

Referred to the Committee on Law and Order.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 506.

An Act to amend an act, approved the twenty-second day of August, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Appropriation Acts, page 54), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three, and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three," by changing the amount appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 2, page 3, line 10, by striking out after the brackets the following: "three hundred twenty-three million dollars ($323,000,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "three hundred thirty-eight million dollars ($338,000,000)".

Mr. READINGER. I request that the House concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate to House Bill No. 506, Printer's No. 159.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

NOT VOTING—1

Taylor,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I know it is not polite to say that we told you so, but I just can't resist reminding the Majority Leader that we went through quite a debate and told him he actually did not need the $25 million. He stood on the floor of the House, and we have a saying, that he bled and died for it. He said we are going to put this $25 million into this biennium because it was incurred in this biennium.

When he said "we," I, of course, took it for granted, and so did all of us on this side of the House, that he spoke for the Governor, that he spoke for the Budget Director and that he spoke for the Senate. But I find that has dwindled down to just the majority on the other side of the House, because I have a letter here from the Budget Director that was addressed to the Senate, saying that they only needed the $8 million like the Republicans told them they needed, and saying that the Governor himself would be willing to cut it down. However, rather than do that the Senate cut it down to the amount that we told them they needed, and that is just what we have done today.

I do not like to advise and because I am bald and grey, I don't feel that I am an old sage, but I do think that the majority should consider that we Republicans who have been in power for sixteen years know a little bit concerning what we are talking about. I just cannot resist saying Mr. Speaker, that we told you so, you didn't need the money.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would be less than human if I did not make some reply to the gentleman from Philadelphia. We admit that he told us so, but we also assert that we told you so.

We admitted when these deficiency appropriation bills passed the House because we had the votes to pass them, that we did not have to spend this money during this biennium, but we felt that the deficiency appropriation bill should be drawn in the matter it was and passed in that way because the deficiency arose under your administration and we wanted to allocate it to its proper place.

However, when the bill passed the Senate you had the power over there, so your party passed the deficiencies with the cuts in them and we are now compelled to accept them.

If you will remember, I regretfully requested a while ago that we do concur in some of the Senate amendments or all of them, and when I said regretfully I meant it, because that is the way it has to be or we do not get any bills at all.

While we appreciate the wisdom shown by the Minority party in telling us that we did not have to spend this money during the present biennium, we still say we were right the first time.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I agree with the Majority Leader in most of the things he has said, but I would like to inform him that a gentleman by the name of Andrew M. Bradley, who is not even a Republican—I would not know the gentleman if I walked into him—who I understand is the Budget Secretary under the Governor, made the suggestion to the Senate.

Mr. READINGER. Unless the Budget Secretary of the Commonwealth sees fit to advise the Majority Leader of what he is saying to the Senate Majority Leader, I refuse to recognize any of his statements as being authentic until I see them myself.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Speaker return to the rostrum to perform the duties which the Speaker pro tempore cannot perform?

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER. The Speaker has been taking a brief recess. Unable to acquaint the Minority Leader with the facts of life off the floor, one must occasionally sit down with him to advise him as a friend.

The Chair thanks the gentleman from Erie for presiding so ably.

BILLS SIGNED BY SPEAKER

Bills numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 219.

An Act amending the act of January twenty-one one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 3) entitled "An act relating to officers and employes of the General Assembly fixing the number qualifications compensation mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the Senate and of the House of Representatives providing for their election or appointment term of office or of service removal and manner of filling vacancies and making appropriations to the Senate House of Representatives and Legislative References Bureau" changing the compensation of certain officers and employes and making appropriations

HOUSE BILL No. 317.

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for payments to school districts on account of rentals payable to municipal authorities and nonprofit corporations

HOUSE BILL No. 318.

A Supplement to the act approved the twenty-second day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Appropriation Acts page 54) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and firty-three and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and fifty-three" providing for deficiencies in certain appropriations made by the act for the fiscal biennium ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-five

HOUSE BILL No. 506.

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-second day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Appropriation Acts page 54) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three" by changing the amount appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

The SPEAKER. The Chair regrets that the Minority Leader's well of wisdom has so soon dried up.

For what purpose does the gentleman from Erie rise?

Mr. WATERHOUSE. I would like to offer a word of consolation to the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Without objection, those who have tears, prepare to shed them now. The gentleman from Erie desires to offer words of consolation, as he thinks.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WATERHOUSE. asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would just like to advise the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Readinger, that he shouldn't take the remarks of the Minority Leader too seriously. Because had we on this side been as smart as my good friend, Mr. Smith, would like to have him believe, the gentleman from Berks would not be the Majority Leader.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. ASHTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, April 18, 1955 at 4:30 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 11:25 a. m.) the House adjourned.

SENATE

MONDAY, April 18, 1955

The Senate met at 3:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. HERBERT W. STROUP, JR., Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Camp Hill, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Our Heavenly Father, we have learned from history and our own experience that men who must make decisions are often very lonely men.

From the time of the very ancient Hebrew prophets to the modern political figures, there have been moments when each man has been asked to stand alone and to be judged by that stand

Help us then, our Father, to try to discern that which is right; that in being alone with our decision, we may be comfronted by the knowledge that we are doing that which is right as Thou hast given us to see the right.

In the Name of Christ, we pray, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. PECHAN, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. PROPERT, due to illness.

He also asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. WOLFE, due to illness.

Mr. DENT asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. MILLER for the week, due to illness.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communications in writing from His Excelllency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were read as follows:

APPROVED AND SIGNED SENATE BILL No. 108, PRINTER'S No. 21

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 30, 1955.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 108, Printer's No. 21, entitled "An act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872) entitled 'An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth' prohibting the abandonment of refrigerators and iceboxes from which doors have not been removed."

GEORGE M. LEADER.

APPROVED AND SIGNED SENATE BILL No. 15, PRINTER'S No. 54

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 7, 1955.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 15, Printer's No. 54, entitled "An Act amending the act of July 5, 1947 (P. L. 1335) entitled 'An act to provide for an inventory of existing hospitals for a survey of the need for additional hospital facilities and for the development and administration of a hospital construction program which will in conjunction with existing facilities afford hospitals adequate to serve all people of the State and appropriating money establishing methods of administration and control providing for compliance with the requirements of the Federal Hospital Survey and Construction Act and regulations thereunder authorizing the acceptance and expenditure of Federal funds in accordance with such requirements and placing additional duties upon the Department of Welfare' bringing the act within the scope of the federal Medical Facilities Survey and Construction Act of 1954 and making an appropriation."

GEORGE M. LEADER.

APPROVED AND SIGNED SENATE BILL No. 83, PRINTER'S No. 11

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 7, 1955.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 83, Printer's No. 11, entitled "An Act amending the act of May thirteen one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 644) entitled 'An act relating to and regulating the solicitation of moneys and property for charitable religious benevolent humane and patriotic purposes' exempting organizations composed of mothers of men or women who have died while in the Armed Services of the United States from the provisions of the act."

GEORGE M. LEADER.

SENATE BILL No. 236, PRINTER'S No. 53, RETURNED WITHOUT APPROVAL

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 9, 1955.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 236, Printer's No. 53, entitled "An Act amending the act of June 27, 1923 (P. L. 858) entitled 'An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties' defining final salary and annual salary and providing for retirement of members of the General Assembly."

There are a number of objectionable features in this bill which make it undesirable and raise serious doubt as to its constitutionality. Generally, it sets up members of the General Assembly in a special category and gives them special treatment.

While I recognize the special nature of the services rendered by members of the General Assembly and feel that they should be adequately compensated, I feel that the method chosen by this bill is not the solution to the problem. If the General Assembly were in session at the present time, I would ask that it recall the bill in order to correct some of its objectionable features. Because the Assembly is in recess, however, I am compelled to disapprove the bill in its present form.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

He also presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

JOINT SESSION

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor Office, Harrisburg, April 14, 1955.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

If it meets with the approval of the General Assembly, I should like to address the members in Joint Session on Tuesday, April 19, 1955, at three o'clock p. m.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Carl C. Bossler, McAlisterville, Juniata County, for appointment as Prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas, Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, and Clerk of the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Juniata, until the first Monday of January 1956, vice Hon. Samuel J. Bay, resigned.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SCHMIDT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, since we last met here the entire world, of course, has been apprised of the fact that one, Doctor Jonas E. Salk, of the city of Pittsburgh and a resident of the District which I represent, has placed his name alongside that of Curie and of Louis Pastor, in that he has come up with a discovery that from now on will wipe out this blight known as polio.

Mr. President, on behalf of myself and numerous Senators whose names appear upon this resolution, and those who may care to add their names to it, I am offering this resolution.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

INVITING DOCTOR JONAS E. SALK TO ATTEND JOINT SESSION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. SCHMIDT, FLEMING, CHAPMAN, KOP-RIVER, JR. and McGINNIS offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 18, 1955.

Dr. Jonas E. Salk, University of Pittsburgh scientist, has at last attained that pinnacle of success for which we have so long awaited; the discovery of a vaccine against polio. Far too many great minds in the recent past have been directed toward the destruction of mankind. Now one brilliant man has come forth with a discovery which well entitles him to a position of honor in the annals of history as one of the greatest saviors of mankind; a discovery to rid the world of the heartbreak and destruction wrecked by that horrible disease, polio.

Because of this monumental discovery and the deep feeling of gratitude shared by all, we, as the representatives of the people of Pennsylvania, wish to make our feelings known to Dr. Salk; therefore be it

Resolved ,(if the House of Representatives concur) That Dr. Jonas E. Salk be sincerely invited to attend a joint session of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania specially called in his honor, and there to receive the tribute which he has so well earned; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Dr. Jonas E Salk at the University of Pittsburgh.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Mr. SCHMIDT. Mr. President, I move the immediate adoption of the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The resolution was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. FLEMING read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 280, entitled:

An Act requiring the Commonwealth to reimburse school districts receiving pupils from other districts for loss sustained during a period of transition from one system of reimbursement to another.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 281, entitled:

An Act providing for the payment of salary, medical, and hospital expenses of volunteer firemen by counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, villages and townships, who are injured in the performance of their duty.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

Messrs. TAYLOR and DENT read in place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 282, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 23, 1931 (P. L. 932), entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class; and amending, revising, and consolidating the law relating thereto," fixing minimum salaries for paid firemen in certain cities.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. YOSKO read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 283, entitled:

An Act requiring the Department of Health to provide for inoculation with the Salk poliomyelitis vaccine children of parent unable to pay therefor; and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Messrs. WEINER and SCOTT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 284, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177), entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers; fixing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined," creating the State Board of Chiropody Examiners as a departmental administrative board in the Department of Public Instruction.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 285, entitled:

An Act relating to the practice of Chiropody; conferring powers and imposing duties on the State Board of Chiropody Examiners and the Department of Public Instruction; and providing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. WEINER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 286, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Welfare for the maintenance of the Wills Eye Hospital, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Messrs. WEINER, WATKINS, McMENAMIN and SCHMIDT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 287, entitled:

A Supplement to the act of August 22, 1953 (Appropriation Acts, page 54), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three, and for the payment of bills incurred, and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred fifty-three," making a deficiency appropriation for the compentation and expenses of visiting judges.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. DERK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DERK. Mr. President, the bill which I am about to introduce replaces Senate Bill No. 93, Printer's No. 49, which I understand is going to be recommitted to the Committee on Highways. I might mention that the sponsors of this bill are the same as those who previously sponsored Senate Bill No. 93.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. DERK, STEVENSON, CHAPMAN, BLASS, TOOLE, MALLERY, WOLFE, PECHAN, SCOTT, HAYS, FLACK, WADE, MAHANY, McMENAMIN, PEELOR, YOSKO and HALUSKA read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 288, entitled:

An Act to facilitate vehicular traffic in the central section of the Comonwealth by providing for the construction, operation and maintenance of a turnpike from a point on the western border of Pennsylvania to a point on the eastern border of Pennsylvania at such points as the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission may decide are the most feasible and practicable for the further extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike from or near the City of Sharon in Mercer County to or near the Borough of Stroudsburg in Monroe County; conferring powers and imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission; authorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue bonds, notes or other obligations of the Commonwealth payable solely from revenues of the Commission, including tolls or from such funds as may be available to the Commission for that purpose to pay the cost of such turnpike; providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act; providing for the collection of tolls for the payment of such bonds, notes or other obligations and for the cost of maintenance, operation and repair of the turnpike; making such turnpike bonds, notes or other obligations exempt from taxation; constituting the same legal investments in certain instances; requiring suits against the Commission to be brought in Dauphin County; prescribing conditions on which such turnpike shall become free; providing for grade separations, grade changes, relocations, restoration and vacation of public roads and State highways affected by the turnpike; providing for the purchasing or condemnation of land and procedure for determining damages in condemnation; granting certain powers and authority to municipal subdivisions and agencies of the Commonwealth to cooperate with the Commission and authorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue refunding bonds.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BANE. Mr. President, on today's Calendar there appears Senate Bill No. 252, Printer's No. 55, which is the original bill sponsored by myself and my other colleagues in the Senate, providing for the Southwestern Pennsylvania Extension.

Mr. President, due to an error in the language used in the bill, it has been suggested that we re-introduce this measure. The Chairman of the Committee on Highways has agreed to recall Senate Bill No. 252, Printer's No. 55 and in lieu thereof, with the same sponsors, I am presenting this bill.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. BANE, DENT, LANE and HALUSKA read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 289, entitled:

An Act to facilitate vehicular traffic in the southwestern section of the Commonwealth by providing for the construction, operation and maintenance of a turnpike from a connection with the Pennsylvania Turnpike System at or near a point west of, or east of, the City of Pittsburgh as the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission may decide is most feasible and practicable, thence in a general southerly direction to the West Virginia border to connect with the West Virginia Turnpike, or any extension thereof, at such point as the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission may decide is the most feasible and practicable; and conferring powers and imposing duties on the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission; authorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue bonds, notes or other obligations of the Commonwealth payable solely from revenues of the Commission, including tolls, or from such funds as may be available to the Commission for the purpose to pay the cost of the turnpike; providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act; providing for the collection of tolls for the payment of the bonds, notes or other obligations and for the cost of maintenance, operation and repair of the turnpike; making the turnpike bonds, notes or other obligations exempt from taxation; constituting the same legal investments in certain instances; requiring suits against the Commission to be brought in Dauphin County; prescribing conditions on which the turnpike shall become free; providing for grade separations, grade changes, relocations, restoration and vacation of public roads and State highways affected by the turnjike; providing for the purchasing or condemnation of land and procedure for determing damages in condemnation; granting certain powers and authority to municipal subdivisions and agencies of the Commonwealth to cooperate with the Commission; and authorizing the issuance of turnpike revenue refunding bonds.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Messrs. BANE and MADIGAN read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 290, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 12, 1919 (P. L. 466), entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of cooperative agricultural associations not having a capital stock and not conducted for profit, and defining agriculture so as to include persons engaged in agriculture, dairying, livestock raising, poultry raising, beekeeping, and horticulture," changing the required contents of the articles of association; providing for additional methods in electing directors; changing the vote for amendment of articles and dissolution of association; and eliminating auditing committee service in certain cases.

Which was committed to the Committee on Agriculture.

Mr. LANE read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 291, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 7, 1887 (P. L. 365), entitled "An act to encourage and authorize the formation of cooperative associations, productive and distributive, by farmers, mechanics, laborers, or other persons," authorizing perpetual existence for cooperative associations; providing for prospective and retroactive amendments to articles of association; increasing terms of existence or making such terms of existence perpetual.

Which was committed to the Committee on Corporations.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 292, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 4, 1927 (P. L. 519), entitled "An act concerning boroughs, and revising, amending, and consolidating the law relating to boroughs," providing for the election of one councilman-at-large in certain cases.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

Messrs. LANE and BANE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 293, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 9, 1911 (P. L. 756), entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coalmines of Pennsylvania, and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith," changing the provisions relating to the visiting of mines by foremen or their assistants.

Which was committed to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 294, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 31, 1945 (P. L. 1198), entitled "An act providing for the conservation and improvement of land affected in connection with the mining of bituminous coal by the open pit mining method; regulating such mining; and providing penalties," changing bond requirements.

Which was committed to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 295, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 9, 1911 (P. L. 756), entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania, and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith," further regulating the inspection of mines.

Which was committed to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 296, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 9, 1911 (P. L. 756), entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coalmines of Pennsylvania, and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith," requiring motormen and operators of portable mining machines to have an attendant and an assistant and prohibiting the use of the machines unless equipped with standard permissible lighting systems.

Which was committed to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 297, entitled:

An Act amending the act of December 28, 1951 (P. L. 1801), entitled "An act regulating the use of machinery powered by internal combustion engines or motors in coal mines," prohibiting the use of machinery powered by internal combustion engines or Diesel motors in coal mines.

Which was committed to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 298, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1937 (P. L. 551), entitled "An act prohibiting the employment of miners, as herein defined, in the bituminous coal mines, unless certificated by a miners' examining board; providing for the appointment of such boards, and defining their powers and duties; providing penalties; and making an appropriation," redefining the word "miner," changing the provisions relating to the certification and licensing of miners; decreasing the number of apprentices permitted to work with miners.

Which was committed to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 299, entitled:

An Act creating a Bituminous Mine Law Study Commission for the purpose of making a study and investigation of all laws relating to bitmuminous coal mines and the preparation of a modern code relating thereto; and making an appropriation.

Which was committed to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 300, entitled:

An Act relating to agreements, leases and other instruments granting bituminous rights made or joined in by political subdivisions; providing for approval by the Secretary of Mines under certain conditions and rendering them otherwise void; providing for the effect of breach or failure to comply with the provisions and giving remedies to the political subdivision and taxpayers.

Which was committed to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, it is with deep regret that I, a Democrat, must rise in these hallowed halls to call to task a fellow Democrat and Pennsylvanian, but I feel that I would be remiss in my duty, as a servant of all the citizens of the State of Pennsylvania, both native born and foreign born, to remain silent at this time.

Mr. President, approximately three weeks ago, Congressman Francis Walter, the co-sponsor of the infamous Walter-McCarran Act, in a statement to the press, referred to the people of my national origin as "Dagos." The mere utterance of such a word by a public official is incredible. But since it comes at a time when we are trying to convince the world of our tolerance and democratic ideals, it is all the more appalling.

Mr. President, Congressman Walter has become so embittered and embroiled over the controversy around his Walter-McCarran Act that he has apparently lost all his senses of proportion. He not only has called us "Dagos," he has apparently used his high office and his good friends in the State Department to bring about the dismissal of a distinguished public servant, the Honorable Edward Corsi, who was called to Washington to assist in the humane administration of the immigration law.

Mr. President, I believe that this administration should make it clear not only to Pennsylvanians but to the Nation that we do not share Congressman Walter's un-American views. We should make it clear that we favor a just immigration policy and, most of all, that we condemn utterances such as he has made since they are the tools of intolerant bigots, bent upon the destruction of our democratic way of life.

Therefore, Mr. President, I am presenting for consideration and adoption by this august body the following resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

URGING THE IMMEDIATE REPEAL OF THE NATIONAL ORIGIN QUOTA SYSTEM EMBODIED IN THE WALTER-McCARRAN IMMIGRATION AND NATIONALITY ACT OF 1952, AND RECOMMENDING OTHER CHANGES

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, April 18, 1955.

Whereas, America is founded upon the principle that all men are created equal and that no one should be denied equal treatment and opportunity because of race, color, religion, or national origin, and;

Whereas, our national and especially the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has grown through the industry and genius of immigrants of every race whose pursuits of happiness has been the saga of our state and whose brains and brawn have mined our coal, developed our industries and settled our land, and;

Whereas, immigration especially from Southern and Eastern Europe can give us again a Michael Pupin in Electricity, a Charles L. Fleischmann, in Food, a David Sarnoff, in Radio and Electronics, and an Enrico Fermi in Atomic Research, and;

Whereas, the Walter-McCarran Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952 which perpetuates the national origin quota system aimed to keep the peoples of Southern and Eastern Europe from our shores, has been universally condemned by leaders in all walks of political, social and religious life as an anti-immigration law, violating our traditional concepts of equal opportunity and treatment regardless of race, color, creed, or national origin, and;

Whereas, the injustices and deficiencies of the said Walter-McCarran Act were recognized by the Congress of the United States by the passage of the Refugee Relief Act of 1953, and;

Whereas, the enemies of the foreign born, of whom Congressman Walter is the most vociferous and bitter exponent as indicated by his recent reference to Italians as "dagoes", have sought, by all means, to prevent changes in the Walter-McCarran Act and the effective operation of the remedial Refugee Relief Act of 1953, culminating in the summary dismissal from the Department of State of the Honorable Edward Corsi, a sincere American and a capable, experienced and honest public servant.

Now Therefore Be It Resolved that the Senate of Pennsylvania, mindful of the substantial contribution of the citizens of foreign birth to the development, enrichment, progress and well being of this Commonwealth:

1. Condemns all persons who have aided and abetted those in government who continue to foster and perpetuate the National Origins Quota System and sabotage the effective administration of the Refuge Relief Act of 1953.

2. Condemns all derogatory utterances indicating bigotry, intolerance and racial discrimination by public officials.

3.Favors an immediate repeal of the National Origin Quota System embodied in the Walter-McCarran Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952.

4. Strongly urges a humane, liberal and vigorus program to carry out to its fullest, the remedial provisions of the Refugee Relief Act of 1953.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, if that resolution would not have been objected to in so far as immediate consideration is concerned, I would have had to make that objection. I would have had to make that objection because I think, if not directly, indirectly it makes an attack upon the Congressman representing my District, the Honorable Francis E. Walter.

Mr. President, I would consider myself an ingrate if I did not stand here and defend him at least to some extent. Congressman Walter has served in the Congress of the United States I believe for the last twenty-two years. He has been elected and re-elected by the people of his District by overwhelming majorities.

Mr. President, that is a tribute in itself as it reflects upon his character, his reputation, his fairness and his efficiency as a public servant. We have many, many people in Northampton County and in Monroe and Carbon Counties who are of foreign extraction. I am happy to say here that in those areas where the people of foreign extraction live, Congressman Walter has always received an overwhelming vote.

Mr. President, it is not my purpose to stand here and defend or condemn the Walter-McCarran bill as it is today. Frankly, I do not know enough about it to defend it. I do not know just how it has been administered, in order to be able to defend or condemn it. I will say this, however, that in my capacity as State Senator, many many people who make application to get their relatives or members of their families into this Country, under that law, were always given the fullest cooperation by Congressman Walter, provided they were the right people.

Mr. President, I heard Senator DiSilvestro say that the Congressman referred to people of Italian extraction as "Dagos." I do not know whether that is true or not because I did not hear the statement made. However, I want to say that if I hear any references to people of Italian extraction or any others of foreign extraction referred to in a derogatory manner, I will condemn publicly those who make the statements. The people of foreign extraction in this Country have helped to make America what it is and, therefore, are deserving of the same consideration given to all other classes or nationalities.

I will say this, however, Mr. President, that if Congressman Walter made such a statement, I do not believe it was made with malice. It was not made with the spirit of insulting those great people, many many of whom are my friends and friends of the Congressman. I am sure that if Congressman Walter were given the opportunity to defend himself against any charges for any insulting statements that someone might construe as having been made by him, he would satisfactorily defend himself.

Mr. President, Congressman Walter, for the great work that he has done on behalf of the people of this Country, has been elevated to one of the highest positions in the United States Congress. He is the Dean of the Pennsylvania Delegation in Congress. He has been Chairman of the Democratic Caucus in the United States Congress. He has served, and I think still serves, as the Assistant Speaker of the House of Representatives. He is the next ranking member on the very powerful Judiciary Committee in the United States Congress and I might add today, because of his seniority and because of the impartial manner in which he served on the un-American Activities Committee, he is chairman of that committee. Because of his past record and because he is the kind of a people's representative that I know him to be, I just had to stand here and say whatever I could say about him.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I understand very well the position of my colleague from Northampton, Senator Yosko, and I hate to disagree with him on several points.

Mr. President, I have in my folder about fifty clippings from the New York Daily News, the New York Mirror, the New York Times, the Philadelphia Daily News, the Philadelphia Inquirer, the Philadelphia Bulletin and all the different newspapers that I read. In one of the newspapers—I just do not remember which one, I cannot find it—there is an article where Congressman Walter is castigated by one of the newspapers, in an editorial, accusing him of having made the statement and in reply he said, "Well, it wasn't all true; part of it was taken out of context." We know what that means.

Mr. President, as to the people in Congressman Walter's District who have voted for him constantly, I can say, and the good Senator knows, that I have campaigned often enough in Northampton County to know the temper and the pulse of the people. I know that, as a fact, many hundred and hundreds of people who sometimes fear—or what should I say—who come under the influence of weakening or fear, do not properly express themselves at the polls. That is no criterion to establish the fact that being the Dean of the Congressional Delegation—and we know how he became Dean, because he is one of the oldest men down there and, therefore, he is the Dean. The good Senator knows how many Southern reactionaries have become Deans who were not Democrats but were conservatives. I say that the expression made by the Congressman from Northampton is a vile, reckles sand dishonest way of comporting himself.

Mr. President, I understand the position of my colleague from Northampton, Senator Yosko, and I take it accordingly.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, throughout the last several weeks it seems that the little town of Portage, in Cambria County, Pennsylvania, is making world-wide news. Every newspaper, every radio and television program has seen fit to attack me personally because of my crusade in endeavoring to do what I can in my humble way to relieve pain and save the lives of people who are doomed to die with cancer.

Mr. President, every newspaper has seen fit to carry headlines and to discredit this great American institution. Whether or not they are being paid for their services by the A. M. A., I do not know, but it certainly looks very, very suspicious.

Mr. President, the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic at Portage is open as usual. This morning, there was no standing room. I would like a committee from this Chamber to go down any day in the week and see for themselves just what is taking place in that little town in Cambria County. They will see every five minutes an ambulance pull away with a patient, fighting and crying for their last breath of life. We have no standing room, let alone trying to treat the people who are coming to our place to be relieved and hope to be spared.

Mr. President, I have one hope and I pray to my God daily that it may be fulfilled before I pass on to the great beyond, and that is that somebody, sometime will look at the truth and make it possible to put the Hoxsey treatment in practice in every hospital in this great land; give the people of America a chance to live rather than try to discredit what I am trying to do.

I say, Mr. President, without fear of contradiction, the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic in Portage, Pennsylvania, and Dallas, Texas, is definitely and positively curing people after they have been told that they had to die, by the American Medical Association. People who were told they had two months to live, three months, are now walking the streets enjoying life.

Mr. President, it is a tough battle, a game of cat and mouse; 200,000 cats and one mouse and I am the mouse. However, I will mouse them to death before I am through. I have nothing to gain and am only shortening my own life in carrying of this battle.

Mr. President, I am hoping that some day, some place, some men of courage will step to the front and learn the truth. Seizing pills, pulling down electric signs, upsetting our furniture, making raids with a hospital full of people—and this is America which I have always prayed for and thought that it was.

Mr. President and gentlemen, the people no longer care to hear what I have to say. The people in America are no longer interested in what the A. M. A. has to say. I have in my possession over 50,000 letters, over 50,000 pieces of mail, which I will show to any group of Senators, from every State in the Union. They should read them and see what is taking place. I am only asking this group to stand back of me until it is proven or discredited. If what I am doing is wrong, I should be put in jail for the balance of my life. If what I am doing is right, I should at least get a brass medal.

I want to renew my challenge, Mr. President, and prove once and for all that the chemotherapy method in connection with cancer is the only method. My challenge is to have some group of newspaper men, a group of Senators, medical men, pathologists, pick ten, twenty, or thirty or forty patients, who they say must die, must go to an early grave because there is no hope for them. Give us half of those patients and they take half. Let us treat our half our way and let them treat their half the other way and, Mr. President, six months from now let us count, let us take a human count of our twenty and their twenty, and see who is treating cancer successfully. This poppycock should be forgotten.

Mr. President, you have a crackpot down there in Pittsburgh who is posing as the United State District Attorney, a man named McIlvaine. I say a genuine crackpot.

Mr. President, it is too bad that we, in America, must live under a man who makes such decisions. What did he say three weeks ago? That the Hoxsey therapy was nothing but a sugar-coated pill. The papers carried the headlines, "It's A Fraud," and the very next week he said, "It's certainly a good cough remedy." The newspapers carried the headlines again. The Pittsburgh papers and other papers carried headlines again, two weeks ago, that the medication is so powerful that is may be dangerous to humanity. Then, last week, this crackpot went before the Federal Judge and said, "Judge Miller, I want an order to have 2,000 tablets taken in another seizure and have them analyzed and see what is in them." If that is not the action of a crackpot, I do not know what is.

I will say, Mr. President, for the sake of suffering humanity, for the sake of these people who might be next your loved ones or yourselves, do not stand back and laugh at this; do not stand back and be unconcerned. There must be some way of bringing out the truth and the only way I know of is by picking people who are doomed to die and without any charge, without them paying one red cent, I will take it upon myself to assure them that they shall get free treatment and then see once and for all whether or not the Hoxsey method has any therapeutic value or whether or not I am making a crusade in a crackpot way. If what I am doing is wrong, I want every man in this Chamber to impeach me. I have no right giving people hope if it is a fraud. If what I am doing is the work of God, then I ask every person to get back of this movement and let America know once and for all whether or not there is hope for the 32,000,000 people who are now suffering with cancer, who are doomed to an early grave.

Last Tuesday, Mr. President, if you had been in our clinic you would have seen a little lad from Vermont, who was flown into Johnstown. He had a small mole on his forearm; he was ten years old. Up in Vermont they took him to a hospital to make a biospy of this little mole, which was smaller than a dime, and in five days that mole weighed nineteen pounds, nineteen pounds, and the boy weighed forty pounds altogether. His arm, on the scale, weighed nineteen pounds and the mole was exactly twenty-two inches in height and fourteen inches in diameter.

Mr. President, I sat with his mother in the clinic — it was Holy Week — and he said, "Mommy, will I be home for Easter? Is the Easter Bunny coming to our home?" The boy was taking his last breath. Everybody broke down, the entire personnel, to see that little angel fighting for his last breath. They actually hope to save his life.

Mr. President, that could have been your son; it could have been your daughter. Come and see what we are doing. Come and see the suffering people who are pleading for help.

Mr. President, I rise only because I fear the danger that lurks around the corner. I had four people call me, two from Philadelphia and two from my county last week, who threatened by telephone that if they should be denied this treatment they will do some shooting. Now that is no way to settle things. One man told me in my county that after being in five hospitals, where he was told he had to die, after three weeks of treatment in our clinic he now is feeling normal. However, he read the papers and he feared that no one could be served by our clinic. He said, "Senator, I am sixty-five year of age. I have mortgaged my home and my automobile. I have been in five hospitals and now, for the first time in five years, I have hope. I have nothing else to live for. If I am denied this treatment, I am going to kill both my doctors and myself." I pleaded with the man and I drove to his home. Now, I am afraid of actions like that. That is no way to settle things in America. I hope it never happens, but is could happen.

The American people are getting aroused by the tactics employed by the Pure Food and Drugs Administration out of Washington. They are controlled, body and soul, by a powerful monopoly called the A. M. A. who believe that might makes right.

Mr. President, there will be somebody hurt and it could be myself. Mr. President, I hope there is some way, I hope there are enough brains among all of us to bring this to a solution; give it a fair test. If we are wrong, turn the key for we have no right to offer hope, but if we are right, for the sake or these people who are doomed to die, let us find some way of making it possible to know right from wrong.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I promised myself the last time the Senator from Cambria got up to speak about Hoxsey and his cure that I would not get up and make any more statements. However, within me I just cannot sit here and take all of this medicine show and, to me, it is nothing more than using the floor of this Senate to advertise a Hoxsey Clinic in Portage.

Mr. President, I want to say before I read this into the record that Senator Haluska's problem is with the Federal Government and he has no business, and I do not think he has any right, to use the Senate floor as a forum to promote his Hoxsey cure. Whether it is a hoax or whether it is a cure, that is betwen he and the Federal Government. When he talks about a United States Attorney, I do not remember the term that he used, but that is when I became aroused. I do not remember the name be used, but it certainly was not befitting the position that the man holds.

Mr. President, in April 3 issue of the Pittsburgh Press, under the magazine section of This Week, an article was written by a physician, an outstanding man, who has made a study of cancer. I cannot help but think about Senator Schmidt offering a resolution awhile ago about Doctor Salk, who has made this tremendous contribution against polio. In the cancer studies all over the United States by various groups, people who are qualified, who know something about the disease, they would be thrilled to death to know that there is such a cure as the natureopath from Texas claims he has in his Hoxsey pills that they give to the patients in Dallas, Texas and in Portage.

Mr. President, I do not want to keep this thing going because within me I am shaky, believe me, when I think that this floor is being used to promote a medicine show every week. I think we should stop it.

Mr. President, I want to read into the record this statement by Charles S. Cameron, M. D., Medical and Scientific Director of the American Medical Association. Of course, those words, "American Medical Association," do not go down very well with my distinguished colleague, Senator Haluska, from Cambria County. The subhead is:

"New-style cancer quacks are heartlessly peddling fake 'cures' — often to people who are perfectly healthy! An authority exposes their tricks, and tells how you can guard against them.

"In the United States today there are many hundreds of cancer quacks who each year attract and treat thousands of people who are suffering, or fear they are suffering, from cancer.

"There is no scientific basis for claiming that anyone has the remotest chance of being cured of an actual cancer by any of the so-called treatments that these miserable quacks have 'discovered.' They take desperate men and women who are frightened half out of their minds, mulct them of their last pennies, then turn them loose to die."

Incidentally, every Hoxsey patient that I know in my county is under the sod, believe me.

"It's a profitable enterprise. The yearly take of those cancer quacks we actually know about is around $10,000,000. Many of them live like kings. Their ranks are growing. Reliable medical investigators believe they are responsible for many needless deaths each year.

"If aroused, informed public opinion can take the action that is needed to stop them. Yet we doctors know that when faced even by the possibility of cancer, many ordinary sensible people lose their ability to think clearly.

"They turn their backs on the family physician, the reputable specialist, the reliable hospital and throw themselves upon the mercies of a quack whom they would never dream of summoning to treat a sore throat or remove an appendix. These people are the natural prey of cancer quacks. If they are robbed of nothing more important than their life savings, they are fortunate.

"I am often asked, 'Who are the quacks? Where do they get their patients?'

"Many of them are, by background, shady businessmen, phony 'evangelists,' pseudo-scientists and street-corner con men. Most of them claim to be doctors. Some have misleading degrees—one is a 'Dr.' by virtue of a Ph.D. in medieval French history! Others are graduates of 'diploma mills.' I am ashamed to say that some actually possess M.D.'s from respectable universities.

"A small number of those often referred to as cancer quacks are 'honest' do-gooders—they really believe that cancer can be cured by a regime of fresh air and sunshine, changes in the diet or exercises. One such person keeps his victims on a constant diet of raw red cabbage and milk—enough, I should think, to make one temporarily forget the fear of cancer altogether. Still another, a woman, attaches an electric machine to the patient's ankle and sends out 'vibrations'—actually mild shocks.

"These quacks, of course, if they're honestly deluded, are themselves mentally ill. But when you consider how many patients who might have been cured linger in their hands until too late, you can't feel sorry for them!

"By far the most dangerous group of cancer quacks, however, are neither fools nor small-time charlatans. They are big-time operators—rich, influential, persuasive. Beyond a doubt they know precisely what they are doing. They are not primarily concerned with milking the illiterate or the superstitious poor. They are out after you and millions like you—the sophisticated, alert, newspaper-reading, college-going American middle class.

"Don't think you couldn't be fooled. These quacks are master showmen. Their recent victims have included the wife of a leading educator, a wealthy industrial executive, the young child of a famous artist, the daughter of an international figure.

"These top-level quacks do such a convincing job that even after their victims die, the bereaved families rise up in print, on legislative floors and even in court to defend them against all criticism!

"These quacks put up an astonishingly impressive front. They are for the most part respectable-looking, well-spoken men and women. Some have headquarters in handsome buildings surrounded by beautifully landscaped grounds. Others maintain humble-looking 'clinics,' saying that they are not interested in profits. They will, however, charge as much as $50 a day, sometimes only for the privilege of lying on a narrow cot in a darkened hallway. The hopeless sufferers, grateful to be there, are told quite truthfully that there are long waiting lists of other would-be patients.

"The 'profits' go not for any kind of useful medical treatment or research. Instead, the quacks themselves often live in fine homes, surrounded by servants. But still they are not content. They want more money—and they know how to get it.

"Many of these big-time cancer racketeers are moving into the out-patient and mail-order field. They have found a way to beat the tough federal law that regulates interstate drug shipping. The law exempts drugs sold by prescription. The quacks persuade some local 'doctor' to be their confederate. They mail him a stack of prescription blanks. Then they mail you, the victim, a circular advising you to look him up. This 'doctor' writes you a prescription for one hypodermic injection of Quackcure. You mail it to the Quack Drug Company, with your money order or cash. Back comes a hypodermic syringe, a vial and instructions.

"The instructions say that after you have given yourself the injection, you must mail the whole outfit back to the company before you can receive another. This gets rid of all the evidence.

"Of course, we can and do arrest the cancer-quacks. Our state and federal laws on this particular aspect of mal-practice are pretty good. But many of these quacks have been arrested a dozen times or more! Still they carry on. Often a clever lawyer can find a way out.

"Even when they're jailed, their partners on the outside continue to operate, or others spring up by the dozens to take their places. For every reader who remembers the name of a quack exposed in our responsible press, 10 more are roped in by the promise contained in newspapers privately published by the quacks themselves.

"They Are Heartless

"Many quacks have astonishing mailing lists. Often, despite strictest hospital precautions, they learn the names of people who are under treatment for cancer, or those who have merely reported in for a checkup. The quacks are heartless. If your name gets in a newspaper obituary because a relative died of cancer, you are likely to receive a sympathetic letter telling you that your loved one could have claims. Actually, of course, this is the last thing in the world they want. They know it would ruin them. So let's give it to them! I believe that the fastest, most effective way we can break up cancer quackery in this country is to give the quacks all the scientific hearings they ask for—the more public the better.

"California is already doing a good job. We need a State Cancer Commission in every state. This board of medical men will meet willingly with anyone (regardless of his scientific qualifications) who can present evidence of a new technique of cancer treatment. Those who are treating cancer by unrecognized methods should be invited to turn over a record of their methods for investigation. Surely no honest scientist will refuse the offer to share his findings with the world.

"If the Commission, after a suitable investigation, makes an unfavorable report on the operations of a quack or on the ineffectiveness of his treatment, it will be up to the State Board of Medical Licensure to take legal action to see that he is stopped.

"Needless to say the members of the Cancer Commission must be recognized cancer experts, men whose background and training qualifies them to evaluate the work of others.

"Four Rules

"Until these Commissions have been formed and are working, however, the public still needs to know how to protect itself against the cancer quack. Here's how it can be done:

"1. Be suspicious of a doctor who promises a sure cure when other doctors will not.

"2. Beware of the doctor who says he has an exclusive method or who tells you he charges 'just for the injection.'

"3. Be on your guard against the doctor who tells you that organized medicine has ganged up against him.

"4. When in doubt about a man who says he is a cancer specialist ask your family doctor to phone him and determine his status. The American Cancer Society and your local County Medical Society can also furnish information about many known cancer quacks.

"Meanwhile, while respectable physicians and alerted citizens organize to stop the cancer quacks, there is one more thing every responsible doctor must prepare to do. We must train ourselves to give our patients even greater support, faith and hope.

"Some physicians feel that after they have done all they can for a patient and they honestly think all scientific help is at an end, it is their dreadful but inescapable duty to tell the sufferer to prepare to meet his Maker. Perhaps, in some cases, this is indeed so. Certainly it is a question which every attending physician must decide for himself.

"But it is also a fact that hope and faith are eternal, and very few human beings are so constituted that they can bear even a single moment upon this precious earth without those God-given supports. When the legitimate physician gives up the fight, patients naturally seek out the cancer quacks.

"We know that next week, next month or next year may supply the significant missing links in the research chain that will enable us to roll back the cancer mortalities. Then we shall see the predatory quack driven from the countryside.

"Meanwhile there is no doubt that the responsible doctor's place is beside his patient through good times and bad. There is never any need to say to anyone that all hope is gone—for it never is."

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I did not intend to get into the controversy that is raging around us. I only want to pass on to the Senate, and particularly to the Senator from Armstrong County, that this body has had a reputation over the years for being the greatest public forum in the entire United States. With its rules, it surpasses the United States Senate itself.

Mr. President, it has always been the prerogative of a member of this Senate to arise, address the Chair, and upon being granted permission from the Senate, to make a statement pertaining to any subject that he feels is of interest to the Senate and, in his opinion, important to the people.

I believe that the Senator from Armstrong ought to take the counsel and advice of Voltaire, when he stated that he may not believe in what the individual was saying, but he would fight to the death for his right to say it.

Mr. President, Senator Haluska appears to be in the middle of a controversy. He comes before this Senate to lay before the Senate the problem as he understands it to be, and I defend his right to do that. Senator Pechan takes the opposite side of the controversy and I believe that he, too, believes in his position, and I defend his right to take that position and to wear it here properly.

Therefore, Mr. President, I want to say to the Senator from Armstrong that what you say in retaliation or in rebuttal is perfectly all right, but when you say that this man, a Member of this Senate, has no right to the use of this floor, then you are entirely out of your jurisdiction. As a Senator and as an individual you may object to what he says, but as a Senator and as a Member of this Senate you cannot deny him the right to say it.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I read that same article which the gentleman from Armstrong read and when I talk, I talk from the cuff. I do not read. He should get up and speak from his own knowledge on what he knows about cancer.

I want to tell him, and my colleagues here, that the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic in Portage has now been open for six weeks. Up until this morning we had treated 478 patients and, Mr. President, contrary to that story which he read, we have in our files pathological records to show that not one of those 478 were original cases. Each and every one of the 478 were people who already had submitted themselves to surgery, X-ray, radium, etc. It is too bad we do not get them before they do receive that treatment, because down in my humble heart I believe cancer to us is only a bad cold. If a cancer patient comes to the Hoxsey Clinic in the early stages, we have no fear of the results as far as treating that person is concerned. However, when we get them, they come in an ambulance and they have spent their money.

I want to say, for the record, that the average of money spent at our clinic, up until this morning, was fifty-eight dollars per patient which is not sufficient to pay our expenses in the clinic. A few have paid in full, most have paid nothing and the balance have paid some.

Mr. President, I have established a new procedure in America at our clinic, that no patient shall ever get a bill. As long as I live and operate in that clinic, no person shall ever receive a bill through the mail or otherwise. They shall be told what their bill amounts to when they leave the clinic and if they feel that we have helped them, we hope they will pay. If we have not helped them, we do not want them to pay a cent, but they shall never receive a bill for services rendered. Will the A.M.A. do that? Don't tell me, I operated a hospital for fifteen years; I knew my instructions. We are not after money. As I said a while ago, Mr. President, I am only hoping that the day will come when I can turn that key at Portage and say it is a job well done.

Mr. President, every hospital now is using the chemotherapy method. I do not find fault with surgery. There is a place for surgery in cancer; there is a place for deep therapy in some cases. I only say, Mr. President, that if a person is so unfortunate that he is afflicted with cancer, that he or she may have their choice. If they want surgery it is their prerogative; if they want chemotherapy that should be their prerogative. Why should any man say you must take our treatment, you dare not try anybody else's treatment?

Mr. President, I am so convinced in my heart, so help me God, that we are doing a great job for humanity that I hope I die by this microphone if, for one minute, I thought that I was not doing the right thing. I hope I die at this place, Mr. President, because after I see what is happening with the people who are coming in and that we are saving, I know what I am doing. What do they fear? This is the question that Mr. and Mrs. America are asking. Why are they afraid to come down and see what we are doing? They have been invited.

That great cancer expert, Charlie Cameron, who, believe me, in my opinion, I think is as phony as a three dollar bill—I believe that with my whole heart. I have spent time with him; I have been to lunch with him. He is the best money raiser in the Country. You and I have given freely and cheerfully, and we only ask Doctor Cameron to come down to Dallas, Texas or Portage and see what we are doing. Place under observation some of these poor souls that they have failed to save and watch the results.

I say take twenty patients or thirty patients that they, themselves, have diagnosed as being cancer; people who have been told they have to die, and we are willing to take half of them under our care, and free of charge, and they take the other half and then have a human count. What could be fairer, what could be more sincere? How long can we last if we are kidding the public?

No, Mr. President, I shall never stop. I will carry on this battle until I pass out and I hope that somebody else will continue after I am gone, because the United States Public Health told me last November, in Washington, that they have recorded 32,000,000 people who are doomed to die with cancer. Out of every four persons who die, one dies with cancer and every two minutes of our life one life is snuffed out with cancer.

Mr. President, should I talk about baseball? Is that more exciting? Let us face the facts. I only say again, Mr. President, I shall never let up until we have the acid test of taking those people whom they have failed to cure and putting them under our care and then let America decide.

My good friend from Armstrong County does not scare me a bit. He has a right, of course, Mr. President, to disagree with me, as my good friend from Westmoreland said. However I was certainly sorry to hear the reference of the gentleman from Armstrong that I was only promoting the Hoxsey Clinic. We cannot, by any stretch of our imagination, take care of the patients we have now. Why do they come to us from Vermont and New England? One came in from Seattle, Washington this morning; Seattle, Washington, 3,000 miles across the land. Mr. President, he was sent in by a medical doctor, a Doctor Potts, M.D., from Seattle. He said "Senator, this is my nephew. I canot do a thing for him and we are willing to try the Hoxsey method." An M.D. from Seattle, Washington calls you by telephone because it had struck home, and that patient is there now.

Mr. President, this morning we had one of the key men of the Ford Motor Company at our clinic, who was told last week that his voice box must be removed and replaced with a copper tube, cancer of the throat, and it had to be done within ten days. This morning we had one of the greatest men in New York City; a man who has on his staff fifty-five attorneys. He is the head of the greatest export division in this entire world. He is a graduate of Pitt University, a young man forty-five years old. They removed his lung two weeks ago. He has three doctors, M. D.'s, in his own family and his name is Bob Duffy. He told me to use his name. He said, and these are his own words, "Senator, if I am living a year from now, my firm will donate $1,000,000 to the Hoxsey Research Laboratories." He has three doctors in his own family and yet he asked to come to our clinic. Can we be so bad, so fraudulent?

No, Mr. President, I hope it does not strike any of you but if it does, you shall all recall some day after I am out of this Chamber the battle that I led, the battle that I am leading on behalf of suffering humanity.

STATE AND DISTRICT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE OF THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE NURSES ASSOCIATION PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. BANE. Mr. President, passing from the serious to the lighter vein, I should like to call to the attention of this august body that there is assembled in the gallery of this Chamber thirty-six members of the State and District Legislative Committee of the Pennsylvania State Nurses Association, accompanied by their State President, Martha Forett, who is a member of my District.

I should like to present them at this time to the Senate of Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes to say, on behalf of himself and the Members of the Senate, that we welcome the constituents of Senator Bane to the Senate. We hope you enjoy yourselves while you are here.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, if sick call is over, I would like to get back to the subject that we took up a few minutes ago, namely, the remarks made by one of the Congressmen from Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, it seems to me that if he did in fact make slighting remarks about someone's national background or origin, then that, of course, is immoral and un-American. If it was said negligently or in jest, then I think the best that can be said for it is that it was in poor taste. I certainly think that we have reached the point in America when one's country of native extraction is no longer important or even relevent. What we have produced here in America, and are producing, is a new race that is greater than any history has known because it has blended into it the bloodstreams of many nations. So, too, our culture is greater because it has the benefit of many cultures engrafted into it.

Certainly, Mr. President, no group in our modern day America has helped our Country more, and given more to our culture, than those groups who can trace their ancestry to Italy. It seems to me that it does not need much discourse on my part to point out, or convince the Members of the Senate, that in almost every field of human endeavor we can find in the forefront in that particular field men and women of Italian extraction.

Certainly in the field of government, itself, no race has been greater. All of our modern governments and our code of laws are based, in so far as their organization and laws are concerned, on the format of the original Roman Empire. Western civilization owes a great debt to the men who made the Roman Empire what it was in terms of government and the code of laws that they adopted.

Mr. President, the activity of people of Italian extraction in matters of religion and church do not need any further exposition by me. In the field of fine art, what other race can boast of a Michelangelo or a daVinci or a Botticelli? In the fields of serious and fine music and opera, there is just no comparison. Even in our American athletics, daily we read of the DiMaggio's and the Guglielmi. In the field of serious literature, I doubt if there is anyone who can surpass the immortal Dante from the time of recorded history.

So, Mr. President, it seems to me that all of us who are serving here in this General Assembly, with gentlemen both in the House and the Senate, with men of Italian extraction, and the Congressmen who are serving in the Congress of the United States, both in the United States Senate and the House of Representatives, should be proud as Americans that we have fellow Americans whose bloodlines can be traced to Italy.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would just like to get into this act a litle.

Senator McMenamin neglected to state one of the outstanding things which the Italian people are famous for and that is the cooking of spaghetti. If you do not appreciate that, some day I hope Senator Dent will bring Mrs. Dent down here and we will have some of her famous cooking. I think it is outstanding, and I just wanted to add that onto Senator McMenamin's list of the things which the Italians are noted for.

Mr. President, I say that no man in public office, and that includes Congressman Walter, would say maliciously anything about any foreign race. He must have been saying it in joke, and sometimes I have heard certain Italians refer to themselves by that name. It has become just a kind of a joke that people use. I do not believe that the man ever made such a statement. I do not like to get up here and come to the defense of a Democratic Congressman, but I do not believe that anybody in the Congress of the United States would maliciously use any term which would give opprobrium to the famous race to which reference has been made.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes to say to the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, that Senator Dent does not need to bring Mrs. Dent. He can cook spaghetti par excellence himself. I ate with him last night.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE OF SENATE EXTENDED TO FAMILY OF THE LATE EDGAR J. KAUFMAN

Messrs. SCHMIDT, BARR, McGINNIS, HOLLAND, FLEMING and KOPRIVER, Jr., offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 18, 1955.

The recent dealth of Edgar J. Kaufmann, a leading Pittsburgh merchant, philanthropist and civic leader has left a void in the Pittsburgh community which will not be easily filled.

Mr. Kaufmann's many interests included leadership in establishment of the Pittsburgh Light Opera, which has done much to add to the high cultural level of Pittsburgh, and has given many enjoyable hours to residents of the Greater Pittsburgh area.

With other outstanding civic leaders, Mr. Kaufmann has lent his efforts to many of the new developments in the downtown and other areas of Pittsburgh, which have not only resuscitated business in the Pittsburgh area, but have given beauty and charm to this district which was once looked upon as an unattractive industrial community, but now, through the efforts of Mr. Kaufmann and other outstanding Pittsburgers, has come to be known as a modern business center and a beautiful cultural center.

Mr. Kaufmann, through his kindly and generous devotion to the people of his area, has set an example of the way in which modern leaders of business and industry have given freely of time, talents and money to better their communities. His sense of community and civic pride earned the accolades and commendations of the entire citizenry of the Greater Pittsburgh area, and it is with a deep sense of loss and sorrow that his many friends, neighbors and well wishers have noted his passing; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania extends its sympathy to the widow and son of Mr. Edgar J. Kaufmann in their hour of bereavement; and be it further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to Mrs. Edgar Kaufmann and to the son of Mr. Kaufmann at their residences.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO REPEAL THE PROVISIONS OF THE McCARRAN-WALTER IMMIGRATION ACT

Mr. SCHMIDT offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations:

In the Senate, April 18, 1955.

The McCarran-Walter immigration bill, as enacted by Congress over presidential veto, contains many inequitable provisions which are of great concern to the fair minded and thinking citizens of this Nation.

It is of utmost concern to this Nation that a modern immigration system be instituted which reflects the desire of the majority of Americans that many present residents of other areas of the world be admitted to this country on a basis which gives full recognition to the desirability of admitting properly qualified persons to this country without imposition of strict quota limitations to persons from certain areas and without limitation in regard to their racial or national background; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to repeal the provisions of the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the presiding officers of each House of the Congress of the United States, and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. WHALLEY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 18, 1955.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, April 25, 1955, at two-thirty o'clock P. M., E. S. T. and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, April 25, 1955, at a time to be fixed by the House of Representatives.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

JOINT SESSION

Mr. WHALLEY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 18, 1955.

Resolved (if the House Representatives concur), That the Senate and House of Representatives meet in Joint Session, Tuesday, April 19, 1955, at three o'clock P. M. in the Hall of the House of Representatives for the purpose of hearing an address by his Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

COMMITTEE TO ESCORT GOVERNOR TO THE HALL OF THE HOUSE

Mr. WHALLEY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 18, 1955.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That a committee of three on the part of the Senate be appointed to act with a similar committee on the part of the House of Representatives (if the House shall appoint such committee), to escort His Excellency the Governor to the Hall of the House of Representatives to address the Members of the General Assembly in Joint Session.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, this bill is related to the resolution which was just adopted. It has to do with the Salk Vaccine.

Mr. President, I understand that there is a limited supply of it. I understand, too, that because there is a limited supply of it, it can only be administered to children in the first and second grades in the schools of Pennsylvania. I also understand that because there is a limited supply and because of the child category to which it will be administered, expression has been indicated in the newspapers throughout the Country that there is a possibility that it might get into the hands of the bootleggers.

Mr. President, I think we here in Pennsylvania should serve notice on those who have any such intentions by passing this bill, which provides proper punishment for those with any such evil thoughts.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. YOSKO read in place and presented the Chair Senate Bill No. 301, entitled:

An Act relating to the unlawful obtaining, possessing and disposing of Salk polio vaccine.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WHALLEY read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 302, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 31, 1945 (P. L. 1198), entitled "An act providing for the conservation and improvement of land affected in connection with the mining of bituminous coal by the open pit mining method; regulating such mining; and providing penalties," further regulating the mining of bituminous coal by the open pit mining method.

Which was committed to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. WATSON asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nominations reported at today's Session.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. WATKINS,

That the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the nominations reported at today's Session.

Which was agreed to.

The nominations were read as follows:

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 22, 1955.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Robert Lengle, R. 3, Myerstown, Lebanon County, for appointment as Justice of the Peace in and for the township of Jackson, Lebanon County, until the first Monday of January 1956.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 22, 1955.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Vincent F. Sprague, 24 Mill Street, Sheffield, Warren County, for appointment as Justice of the Peace in and for the Township of Sheffield, Warren County, until the first Monday of January 1956, vice Edwin S. Anderson, deceased.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

PROTHONOTARY OF THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS, CLERK OF THE COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS OF THE PEACE AND CLERK OF THE COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, March 22, 1955.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Carl C. Bossler, McAlisterville, Juniata County, for the appointment as Prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas, Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, and Clerk of the Court of Oyer and Terminer in and for the County of Juniata, until the first Monday of January 1956, vice Hon. Samuel J. Bay, resigned.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

A motion was made by Mr. WATSON and Mr. WATKINS,

That the Senate do advise and consent to said nominations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, vis:

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, Pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church, York, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Ruler of Nations, we thank Thee Thou hast attended us with Thy grace and ceaseless benefits, that Thy love and providence has never failed us.

God of all strength and mercy bless the members of this representative body as they think together and work together in this Chamber. Guide them to do what is right. Give them clear vision that they may know what Thy will is for us and for our beloved Commonwealth. Restrain their minds in every thought of political expediency and give them a passion for that which is good and excellent.

Our prayer today is for all who labor for good and just government, the Governor of our Commonwealth, the Speaker of the House, the leaders of the majority and minority parties, the clerks, secretaries, pages and all others. May Thy wisdom and power be with all of these servants. Give them to know that whether their position be high or low in the sight of men, that in the sight of God there is no high or low, just the right to serve and to serve loyally and faithfully.

Hear this our prayer, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journals of Monday, March 28, Tuesday, March 29 and Wednesday, March 30, 1955? If not, and without objection, the Journals are approved.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. BREISCH. I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BREISCH. Mr. Speaker, on March 29, 1955, when we were in session the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Taylor, and myself co-sponsored, with the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Hamilton, House Bills 798 and 799 under a misapprehension that these bills would provide only for the establishment of a cerebral palsy clinic at the Locust Mountain State Hospital at Shenandoah, Schuylkill County.

After reading these bills, which we did not do before we signed them on the basis that that was all they would perform, we found that these bills would abolish the Locust Mountain State Hospital. Now, we could never agree to sponsor bills that would provide for the abolition of the Locust Mountain State Hospital.

We now publicly announce that we are withdrawing our support, although we cannot have our names removed from these bills, and ask that these bills be retained in committee.

REPORT OF JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION

HIGHWAY SAFETY

Mr. GUTHRIE presented the following communication and report from the Joint State Government Commission.

The communication was read by the Clerk as follows:

April 18, 1955.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

On behalf of the Joint State Government Commission, I have the honor to transmit herewith A Report of the Joint State Government Commission, Session of 1955, dealing with Highway Safety.

Copies of this report for members of the House of Representatives have been placed in their post office boxes.

Respectfully submitted,

BAKER ROYER,
Chairman.

BR:djc

The SPEAKER. The report will be noted in the Journal.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mrs. MARKLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, on February 16th I co-sponsored legislation which became known as House Bill 309 or the Ground-Waters Act. I would like to say that this was prompted by a condition which presently exists and has existed for approximately two years in our area in Lehigh County known as Upper Saucon Township.

This condition was created by a pumping operation by the New Jersey Zinc Company who, I understand, have the largest pump in the world with which they pump approximately 40 million gallons of water daily. Due to this pumping operation approximately 300 wells in that area have become dry.

Under our present statutes these people have no recourse, and there are many farms, many dwellings, GI's who have received mortgages and built their own homes, drilled their own wells, who have either been compelled to sell their property or have had to move out of the area and let their mortgages drop.

In an interview with several housewives in that area I find that the Zinc Company furnished tanks, 1,000 gallon tanks, free of charge and then the individuals had to buy the water, which cost them approximately $3.50 every ten days. The water was very unsatisfactory.

Every week someone has called me regarding this situation. Just recently a gentleman who has operated in that area a very large dairy for a number of years, approximately 35 to 40 years, tells me that his two artesian wells in which he drew water at eight feet are now down to 24 feet and they are dropping daily.

Such conditions may exist elsewhere in our state, of that I have no doubt. However, when it is close to home you realize the seriousness of the situation. We in the state are aware of our water table, and it is constantly dropping.

These people have organized, they have a taxpayers' league, and everyone in that area has organized to try do to something to combat this situation because they are fighting for their lives and their homes. The first hope that they have had has been a semblance of legislation which we have co-sponsored here. It is my understanding, Mr. Speaker, the bill was introduced and put into Conservation and Wild Life and then rereferred to Mines and Mining, where it presently rests.

It is my understanding that on March 29th a committee representing that group of citizens in Upper Saucon Township was sent to Harrisburg at the direction of the Secretary of Forests and Waters, who was, I understand, speaking for His Excellency, the Governor. They were informed that this bill, House Bill 309, was not rigid enough and that other legislation would be introduced to clarify the situation and alleviate their condition.

Mr. Speaker, I am very pleased that His Excellency, the Governor, has seen fit to recognize the seriousness of that situation and that legislation will be introduced even more rigid than we have sponsored. To me this is not a political issue; it is a matter of human welfare. And since it would seem that by sponsoring this legislation we have brought it to the attention of the Governor and the Secretary of Forests and Waters, I would like to say that I shall be very pleased to lend my wholehearted support to such legislation when it is introduced by the majority party.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. STECKEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I simply would like to say that as a co-sponsor of House Bill 309 I should like to indicate that I also wish to support any legislation which will be brought out as indicated by Mrs. Markley to alleviate the condition of these people in the lower part of Lehigh County. Therefore, should there be such other legislation, I shall be glad to support it.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I see by the papers—and I think, Mr. Speaker, you had better remind the Majority Leader that perhaps he might want to answer me.

The SPEAKER. The Majority Leader is on notice that the Minority Leader is about to make a pronounciamento which may require an answer. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I say that, Mr. Speaker, because this has a great deal to do with the Majority Leader's statement.

I see by the papers that we Republicans are being accused by the Majority Leader of using "The Big Lie" technique.

Now, if he means that I am telling a "Big Lie" in my statements when I repeat Governor Leader's campaign pledges not to consider a wage or a sales tax, or any substitute tax, then I plead guilty.

If he means that I am telling a "Big Lie" when I say every Democrat voted for appropriations, but refused to vote for taxes necessary to balance the budget, I plead guilty to that, too.

If he means I am telling a "Big Lie" when I say the Governor is trying to kid the people into believing that he needs $500 million in new taxes to pay off a $50 million dollar deficit, I plead guilty to that.

Let's get one thing straight now. After the Governor pays off the deficit, whether it is $50 million, as we say, or $77 million, as you say, after it is paid off every dollar of the $500 million in new taxes and every dollar of the $850 million you will have from present taxes will be spent by the Democrats, not the Republicans, and that is no lie. That is the truth.

Why don't you stop trying at this time to fool the people? I asked you before, "What are you up to?" I ask you again, "What are you up to?" Do you really think that when the working men and the working women dig into their pockets for dollars for George, instead of pennies for Fine, they are going to be happy about it?

Who is telling the big lies? We Republicans when we repeat George Leader's campaign promises? Or you Democrats when you say that you did not mean what you said during the campaign?

For the last two or three weeks Senator Barr, the State Chairman, is starting to backwater and saying he did not mean what he said during the campaign. Things are now different. We are willing to let the people decide who is telling the "Big Lie."

During the campaign last year, when he was trying to get votes, Governor Leader said at Williamsport on September 25th:

> "The fallacy of the Republican position is this. As the party in power they point to the present level of spending and claim, erroneously, that it is the level of future spending, and that if you lop off one tax, you must find another." The Governor said, "My contention is that the Republican level of spending is bloated, false and inaccurate."

What did Governor Leader mean when he said that? Was he talking about the old budget of $1,014 million dollars for 1953? Of course he was. You know it and I know it.

Then at Harrisburg on August 24th, last year, Leader said:

> "I have been challenged to balance Pennsylvania's budget without a sales tax. I accept that challenge."

On September 3rd at Williams Grove Leader said:
